8. District officers it is true have much difficulty to contend with, owing to the inferiority of the pay and status of the lower ranks of sub-inspectors and head-constables, as compared with the responsible duties which they are required to perform. The raising of the status of the lower grades of native officers is, as has been before observed, the most important requirement of the department, and will receive attention on a favorable opportunity. Other requirements, such as those mentioned by Mr. Hankey in his 259th paragraph, and for which he requests the allotment of increased funds, are of a less urgent nature and must stand over for the present.

9. The total expenditure on police during the past year, as shown by the Inspector-General in the 6th paragraph of his report, was Rs. 37,72,741 against a budget grant of Rs. 39,51,294. To the former figures apparently must be added Rs. 14,851, stated in paragraph 46 to have been charged against the budget of the Public Works Department. While the statement submitted includes a contribution of Rs. 37,130 made by Government towards the cost of the police employed in some of the larger municipalities in the interior, it does not, it is to be observed, include the further sums of Rs. 2,34,834 paid by Government, and of Rs. 4,00,000 paid by the Commissioners of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs and of the Port to meet the cost of the police employed at the presidency, as this police is not under the control of the Inspector-General, but of the Commissioner of Police. Similary, the contributions made by the municipalities in the interior and from other local sources towards the cost of their police, and amounting to over Rs. 5,00,000, have been excluded from the statement. But how the figures given in columns 11 to 23 of statement E are to be reconciled with those given in paragraph 6 of the report is not made quite clear. This omission should be remedied in future reports.

10. The total sanctioned strength of the regular police under the control of the Inspector-General during the past year was 86 superior officers and 19,447 inferior officers and men. The distribution of the rank and file of the force during the past two years was as follows:—

	1874.	1875.
General Police duties	15,294	15,519
Jail guards	1,656	1,658
Magazine guards	210	210
Treasury, salt, and opium guards ...	1,430	1,485
Frontier guards	613	635

There is no variation between the figures of the two years calling for any special remarks.

11. To the above must be added the force of Municipal Police employed in the several municipalities in the interior. The exact strength and cost of this force, however, it is difficult to gather from the report. In column 1 of statement H the strength of the Municipal Police is stated to be 6,436, but this number varies slightly from the number shown in statement E, column 30, to be employed on municipal duty, and also from the figures given in paragraph 12 of the report for 1874, and paragraph 11 of the present report. If the Rs. 4,98,520 entered in column 23 of statement E. is meant to represent the cost of the Municipal Police, the discrepancy between these figures and those entered in the Police Budget should be explained.

12. Special instructions have been issued during the past year for the introduction and working of the Chowkidaree law, Act VI of 1870, into a large number of districts. The importance of this measure, which has been undertaken with a view to improving the status of the village police on whom so much depends for the detection and prevention of crime, cannot be over-estimated. The reports which have been received from the Divisional Commissioners, showing the progress which has been made in each district in introducing the measure, have been separately dealt with, and prove that, where the matter has been taken up with interest and energy, it has been accepted by the people, and cannot fail to conduce to the general improvement of the police administration of the province.

13. Dissatisfaction is expressed at the existing police arrangements in the cantonments of Barrackpore and Dum-Dum. This is a matter which will be considered on separate representation. Nothing in the working of the railway, road, and river police appears to call for any present orders. But the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that it is stated by Mr. Hankey that the high roads throughout these provinces, as well as the principal waterways of Southern and Eastern Bengal, are now in a remarkable degree free from crime, and that highway robbery, which was so prevalent in the Manbhoom and Hazareebagh districts, has altogether ceased since the introduction of a more complete system of road patrol. Judging by results, the policy of stationing a large body of police on the Lushai border of the Chittagong Hill Tracts district has been successful. Not a single raid or disturbance is reported to have occurred on the frontier during the past year.

14. Considering the difficulty of putting down the crime of rioting in the Eastern Districts, the Lieutenant-Governor doubts whether sufficient recourse has been had to the preventive measures authorized by law in the quartering of extra police in the disturbed districts. Two parties of such police were during the year entertained in the district of Backergunge, and two also in the district of Tipperah, with the best results. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs a large party of extra police was stationed, but the cost was borne by Government.

15. The number of the regular police returned as able to read and write is given as 8,808, besides 109 in the Government Railway Police, making a total of 8,917 as against 8,776 of the previous year, and it is stated that in addition 2,979 men were under instruction. These figures indicate some improvement. Still, the fact that nearly half the men in the entire force are wholly wanting in education must be very detrimental to efficiency. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, notwithstanding the difficulties mentioned in these reports, the Inspector-General will use his best endeavours to promote education among the men, and will impress all District Superintendents with the importance of this matter.

16. In reviewing the report for the previous year, the Lieutenant-Governor noticed that it was a reproach to the Police Department that any of its members should be concerned in cases of torture at all, even in the slightest degree, and called upon all officers to do their utmost to extirpate the evil. It is satisfactory to notice that the returns for the year now under review show that not a single charge of torture which could bear the test of judicial examination was preferred. It appears, however, that although in as many as 25 districts no charges of extortion or bribery were brought against the police, in others several native officers and men were convicted of these offences. These are grievous faults, and must be equally repressed. The Lieutenant-Governor would again repeat the instructions which have been issued, impressing upon all superior officers the necessity of exercising a vigilant control over their men.

17. As regards the general conduct of the police force, it is satisfactory to observe that there has been a considerable decrease in the number of cases in which it was found necessary to inflict punishment, either judicially or departmentally. The number punished judicially and departmentally has been 600 and 3,973 (including dismissals and excluding Railway Police) respectively, as against 688 and 4,028 during the previous year. The Lieutenant-Governor records with pleasure that as many as 643 native officers and men were specially rewarded for more than common ability, address, and courage exhibited in the execution of their duties. He hopes earnestly that each year's returns will show an increasing number in this happy respect. In all, 4,149 men now wear one or more good-conduct rings, and this number exceeds the number thus decorated at the close of the previous year by 1,063.

18. The relief afforded to the police in the matter of process-serving by the rules lately introduced for the entertainment of special process establishments by Magistrates continues to be very marked. The following figures, taken from the report, would seem to indicate that increased attention is now shown to the instructions which have from time to time been issued on the subject:—

Warrants served by the police	52,072	47,464	32,026	31,549
Summonses	412,290	354,504	181,183	164,726
Other orders	232,805	225,712	216,777	185,085

This table shows that in the course of three years the work of the force in this particular branch has been reduced by nearly one-half. But why it should have been found necessary to serve such a large number of "other orders" through the police has not been explained.

19. The amount of inspection work performed by the superior officers of the department during the year was considerable. In a large number of districts the stations and outposts are said to have been most thoroughly inspected by the District Superintendents. The Lieutenant-Governor is disappointed, however, to observe that the duty of inspection was insufficiently performed in no less than eleven districts, some of them important as regards the amount of crime committed. These omissions have not been explained. In reference to the remarks which were recorded in the Resolution of last year, the Lieutenant-Governor must again draw attention to the importance of these duties, and must remind the District Magistrates, as well as the police officers concerned, of their responsibilities in this particular.

20. COGNIZABLE CRIME—The general result of the figures given below is to show that, as regards cognizable crime, there was a considerable decrease in the number of cases reported, and a proportionate decrease in the number of cases declared false and not enquired into in the past as compared with the previous year.

Number of cognizable cases reported	114,828	126,122	120,838
" declared false	26,823	26,931	26,055
" not enquired into	13,229	14,325	13,439
Balance for enquiry	74,777	84,866	81,344

The decrease in crime is ascribed by the Inspector-General, with justice apparently, to the absence of the exceptional causes which were at work in 1874 and which had their origin in the famine. This conclusion is borne out by the fact that it is in those districts where the famine appeared to have had the effect of increasing petty crime that the decrease is now observable, and notably in the districts of the Patna, Rajshahye, and Bhagulpore Divisions. Apart from this, Mr. Hankey remarks that he cannot understand on what principle a diminution in crime can be expected, seeing that the tendency of petty crime is to increase, while it is only in serious offences that deterrent sentences, coupled with police efficiency, can be expected to have any effect. Without altogether assenting to this view, the Lieutenant-Governor is willing to admit that it is the more serious types of crime which demand the chief attention of the police, and that it is therefore on a comparison of the results of their action in respect to those crimes in successive years that a conclusion as to the efficiency or otherwise of the force must be chiefly based.

21. The following table shows the proportion in which the cognizable crime reported and accepted as true has been distributed under the several recognized heads of crime during the past three years.

Class of Crime.	1873.	1874.	1875.
Class I—Offences against the State, &c.	2,929	2,606	2,755
„ II.—Serious offences against the person, &c.	4,392	3,905	4,184
„ III—Ditto ditto against person or property, &c.	24,531	28,615	23,957
„ IV—Minor offences against the person	4,126	6,495	9,862
„ V.—Ditto ditto property	40,267	43,343	38,093
„ VI—Other offences not specified above	13,765	13,272	15,206
„ VII.—Offences under special laws	872	951	726

From the above, it is apparent that against a large decrease in offences against property, both serious and minor, there has been an increase of 3,367 cases in minor offences against the person, and an increase of 279 cases in serious offences against the person.

22. In his 71st paragraph, the Inspector-General of Police institutes a comparison for the past two years between the amount of crime in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, and in the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab respectively. Accepting the figures given as a test, it would seem that crime, and especially serious crime, was less prevalent in Bengal than in either of the above-named provinces.

23. Passing from the province as a whole to individual districts, it appears from the table given by Mr. Hankey at page 101 of his report that, if the relative criminality of the different districts is judged by the number of true cases to population, the largest proportion of cognizable crime occurred in the districts of Darjeeling, Poorce, Patna, Moorshedabad, Hooghly, and the 24-Pergunnahs, and that within the past three years there has been, according to this test, a very large increase of crime in the two districts last-mentioned. The proportion of true cases to population was, on the other hand, the smallest in the districts of Bhagulpore, Lohardugga, Mymensingh, Cuttack, Rungpore, Sarun, Chumparun, and Purneah. In considering these figures, however, it is material to notice that all the percentages greatly depend on the number of cases which may have been declared to be false, and it is a subject for remark that in no district was there a larger proportion of cases struck off as such during the past year than in Mymensingh; and that in Bhagulpore and Cuttack the increase in the percentage of cases so treated has been very marked.

24. Taking the province as a whole, it is observed that the percentage of cases declared to be false and never to have occurred was precisely the same in the past as in the previous year; and that both these years have exhibited a slight improvement as compared with 1873, as shown in the margin. The constancy of these results has often been remarked. In last year's Resolution the Lieutenant-Governor noticed, however, that the fluctuations in the figures for individual districts in successive years led to the inference that exaggeration was accountable for the rejection of many complaints. The Inspector-General now suggests that many of the cases entered as false would have been more accurately described as "non-cognizable."

	Percentage of cases declared to be false.
1873	23

25. From a consideration of the figures now submitted, which again show the same fluctuations as previously remarked upon, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it necessary again to caution officers against too readily declaring an offence to have been falsely charged and not to have occurred. This should never be done unless distinct grounds can be assigned for the conclusion arrived at; and when it is merely considered that a case is insufficiently proved or possibly false, it would not be correct to strike it out as really false. Although so large a number of cases were declared to be false, the Lieutenant-Governor has again to notice the small number of cases in which prosecutions were instituted against the offenders, and the still smaller number in which convictions were obtained. He must regard these results generally as unsatisfactory, and as showing that cases are too frequently declared to be false without sufficient warrant.

26. The similarity of the results in successive years in respect to the proportion of offences reported and not enquired into is very remarkable, while the discrepancies in the practice as regards different districts continue to be as marked as ever. For the past year the proportion of such cases for the whole province was 11·1 against 11·3 in 1874, and 11·9 in 1873. In Sarun the laxness of practice which was animadverted on last year has been reformed. In Pooree, however, the results of the past year are altogether out of proportion to those of the previous year, the percentage of cases not enquired into having risen from 1·2 in 1874 to 44·1 in 1875. This is a matter which should receive the attention of the Commissioner. The proposal made by the Inspector-General that, with a view to secure uniformity of practice, it should be laid down as a rule that attempts merely should not be enquired into, does not commend itself to the Lieutenant-Governor. The recognition of such a principle might very possibly lead, without necessarily any collusion on the part of the police, to the concealment of crime which would be reported under the head of an attempt merely. The matter is one in which the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that any hard-and-fast rule would be inadvisable, and that a discretion must be left in the hands of the local authorities.

Convicted	...	...	...	59·9	61·7	61·3
Acquitted	...	...	...	41·1	38	38

28. The following table, abstracted from statement B appended to the report, shows the percentage of convictions obtained as regards each class of cognizable crime during the past two years:—

	Percentage of cases in which conviction was obtained in cases decided		Percentage of persons convicted to persons arrested		Percentage of persons convicted to persons brought to trial
	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.
Class I	61·4	56·6	57·6	56·9	59·8	61·4
„ II	50·3	48·5	45·8	42·4	47·5	44·7
„ III	38·1	30·3	46·1	42·2	51·3	49·6
„ IV	30·8	39·3	49·6	51·4	51·5	53·6
„ V	54·1	48·5	54·7	50·3	56·6	54·3
„ VI	84	86·1	83·9	85·5	84·7	86·3
„ VII	80·1	92·8	91·6	89·0	92·5	89·2
Total	58·2	56·3	58·4	57·7	61·7	61·3

From the above, it is shown that the proportion of persons convicted to persons brought to trial was unfavourable in cases coming under classes II and III, i e as regards the more serious offences against person and property. The results are still more unfavourable under these heads, if persons arrested, and not persons brought to trial, are taken as the standard for comparison. On the other hand, it is apparent that, as compared with 1874, there has been some improvement during the past year in classes I, IV, and VI. From the table given at page 29 of the report, it appears that the districts where results have been most unfavourable are Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, Cuttack, Backergunge, Burdwan, and Rungpore, all districts in which the results were also unsatisfactory in the previous year. The districts which are mentioned by Mr. Hankey as continuing to show good results are Howrah, Singbhoom, Darjeeling, Dinagepore, and 24-Pergunnahs.

29. Mr. Hankey draws attention, and with apparent reason, to the unfavourable manner in which the Bengal Police returns contrast in certain particulars with those of other provinces. The following results deserve attention :—

	Bengal	Central Provinces.	Oudh.	Punjab
Number of cases investigated	88,962	25,458	29,306	44,459
Ditto in which conviction was obtained	32,270	13,003	..	26,023
Number of persons arrested ...	94,461	23,770	31,723	51,211
Ditto brought to trial	88,979	20,167	31,054	41,702
Percentage of cases convicted to cases decided ..	56 0	93 0	77·68	93 0
Ditto of persons convicted to persons arrested ...	57 7	76 0	70 14	75 0
Ditto ditto ditto brought to trial	61·2	90	71·72	91

In view of the very marked difference in the percentage of cases successfully dealt with in Bengal, as compared with the other provinces mentioned in the above table, it is impossible not to suspect that there is some difference either in the manner in which complaints of certain classes are dealt with, or in the instructions issued as to the method of preparing the returns in the several provinces. The Lieutenant-Governor has separately requested the Inspector-General to place himself in communication with the police authorities of the provinces noted, with a view to ascertaining definitely whether there are any such considerations to be allowed for previous to drawing deductions from the figures. Taking them as they stand, they certainly show some weak points in the administration of criminal justice in Bengal; for, as Mr. Hankey remarks, they indicate either that arrests are inconsiderately and injudiciously made, or else that offenders are improperly acquitted. On the other hand, it might be said that, owing to the advance in education in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, the people are more alive to their rights and better able to maintain them. Some part of the result may also be due, as suggested by Mr. Hankey, to the acquisition of forensic skill among the upper and middle classes of society.

30. But to whatever cause the difference in the results in Lower Bengal as compared with other provinces may be attributable, the large proportion of presumably innocent persons who are year after year arrested by the police is a matter for grave consideration and regret. Though some improvement in this respect is apparent, if the figures of former years are examined, the present proportion of arrests to convictions must still be held to be unduly large. Sir Richard Temple has previously noticed this fault, and he must now positively insist on such measures being taken immediately by the Magistracy and the Police Department as shall ensure a remedy being applied. He has always considered that the making of arrests on insufficient grounds is one of the worst failings of the police, and that the unfavourable estimation in which the Police Department is held among some sections of the native community, is perhaps more owing to their proceedings in this particular than to any other cause. These unnecessary arrests are chi fly attributable to ignorance, and improvement can only be looked for as the police become better educated and instructed, and are made to understand more clearly their duties and responsibilities. There is much to be done in this respect. If errors of procedure are always carefully pointed out by all District Magistrates and Superintendents of Police, and if proper notice is taken of all instances in which the police exceed their powers, the Lieutenant-Governor is confident that future returns will show a far smaller proportion of arrests to convictions. He must warn every Magistrate and every District Superintendent that in each district from time to time the returns will be jealously scrutinised with this view.

31. The large number of persons acquitted by the Sessions Courts is again very noticeable, and prominent attention has been drawn to the matter by the Inspector-General. For the past three years the percentages of acquittals to persons tried has gradually increased, and has amounted to 43, 45, and 47 per cent. in each year. The results have been most unfavourable in the Pooree, Patna, Noakholly, Hooghly, Burdwan, and Bankoora districts, while the results were very successful in the Manbhoom, Purneah, Chittagong, Rajshahye, Pubna, and Fureedpore districts. The Inspector-General now especially points out the unfavourable results of sessions trials where juries are empannelled. He thinks that the suitability of the jury system for certain districts where it has been introduced has been brought into grave question. It is to be observed, however, that it does not necessarily follow that because a case is thrown out by a jury the jury are wrong; nor even should it so happen that this frequently occurs. The case may have been improperly committed, or the commitments may have been badly made. The whole question is one, however, which will receive separate consideration in the Judicial Department.

32. One of the accepted tests of the efficiency of a police, though often a very fallacious one, is the proportion borne by the value of the stolen property recovered by them to that which has been lost. The amount so recovered in 1875 was Rs. 2,98,907 against Rs. 9,25,681 stolen. The ratio of recovery was thus 32·3 per cent., or slightly better than in 1874, when it was 32 per cent., and considerably better than in 1873, when it was only 25·1 per cent. The districts where results have been conspicuously unfavourable are Dacca, where the ratio of recovery was only 9 per cent., and Bankoora, where it was only 5 per cent. In the 24-Pergunnahs, Howrah, Durbhunga, and Balasore the ratio of success has been very much above the average.

33. Class I—Offences against the State, public tranquillity, and justice.—The number of offences reported and recorded in this class during the past year was 3,538. Of these, 2,755 were accepted as true, or more by 149 than in the previous year, and less by 174 than in 1873. The chief offences under this head, and the only ones calling for remark, are those of rioting and unlawful assembly. The number of true cases appearing under these heads was 2,044 against 1,810 in 1874, and 2,108 in 1873. That a very undue proportion of these offences continues to be contributed by the districts of the Dacca Division is shown by the following table:—

District.	True cases.		Cases detected.		Persons convicted.
	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.
Dacca	131	120	59	57	332	356
Furreedpore	119	151	61	65	261	310
Backergunge	171	178	66	81	276	323
Mymensingh	90	102	24	26	172	183
Tipperah	104	128	76	73	461	506
Total ..	615	679	258	302	1,502	1,678

In Mymensingh, although more than half the complaints made were eliminated as false, convictions were obtained in little more than one-fourth of the remainder. In Backergunge, with a little increase in the crime, and a large decrease in the number of cases struck off as false, there was a great improvement in the number of cases detected. In Tipperah the comparative proportion borne by the large number of persons convicted to true cases is very noteworthy.

34. Outside of the Dacca Division, the district where riots appear to be most frequent is Jessore, where the true cases in 1875 were 137 against 143 in 1874. In Nuddea the number of true cases increased, as compared with the previous year, from 83 to 103; in Pubna from 51 to 98. The two former districts are mentioned by the Inspector-General among those where the results of prosecutions have been satisfactory. In Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Cuttack, and Dinagepore they appear, as pointed out by him, to have been eminently unsatisfactory. From the general tenor of the Inspector-General's remarks respecting the comparative prevalence of rioting in the districts of the several Commissioners' divisions, it is to be inferred that there has been a marked decrease in the number of serious cases, such as even in recent times were of frequent occurrence. The difficulty of obtaining convictions in cases of rioting, owing to the usual conflict of evidence, is an undoubted evil; for, as is observed by the Magistrate of Mozufferpore, every instance in which there is a failure of justice materially diminishes fear of the law. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, apprehends that but few cases of rioting occur where the matter in dispute has not been for some time agitated. A Magistrate who keeps himself acquainted with what is going on in his district should have speedy information of such matters and be able to interfere before the mischief happens. Where the inhabitants of any village are habitually turbulent, the good results to be obtained by quartering extra police on them have been amply proved by experience; and the Lieutenant-Governor doubts, as already noticed, whether Magistrates take sufficient advantage of the provisions of the law on this subject.

35. Class II—Serious offences against the person.—Under this class the offences recorded during the past year amounted to 4,184 against 3,905 in 1874, and 4,392 in 1873. The number of persons convicted of such offences amounted to 3,004 against 2,987 in 1874, and 3,245 in 1873. As may be observed from the table given in paragraph 29 above, the percentages showing the result of the action of the police in regard to crimes of the class indicate that there has been some want of success in dealing with them as compared with the previous year. The details as regards the chief heads of crime in this class are as follow :—

Crimes.	True cases.		Cases detected.		Persons convicted.
	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.
Murder	302	302	125	121	231	243
Culpable homicide	195	216	91	108	148	229
Causing death by rash actions	57	75	43	59	50	75
Rape	218	231	80	48	68	73
Unnatural offence	39	41	11	9	15	10
Administering stupefying drugs	24	29	7	7	13	8
Grievous hurt to cause confession, &c.	4	6	...	2	...	2
Hurt to cause confession, &c.	28	34	8	6	30	28
Kidnapping and abduction	186	216	55	71	116	123

While the number of cases of murder accepted as true was precisely the same as in the previous year, there was a slight falling off in the number of cases in which convictions were obtained. At the same time the number of cases rejected as false was 77 only against 85 in the previous year; while, as in the previous year, every third case of culpable homicide reported was struck off as false. There was an excess of 21 in the residuum of true cases in 1875, as compared with 1874. There was at the same time an increase of 18 in the number of true cases of causing death by a rash or negligent act. How many cases of causing death are included in the cases reported under the head of hurt, or grievous hurt, has not been stated. This information should be given in future.

36. In murder cases, with a somewhat smaller number of cases detected, the number of convictions obtained was slightly in excess of the figure for the previous year. Still, this figure shows a lamentable want of success in tracing out offenders, or in establishing their guilt. In the Behar districts 34 persons only were convicted out of 240 arrested. In Orissa 4 only out of 24. Taking these provinces as a whole, it appears that but one person out of every four charged with murder was convicted. The general percentage would have been much worse but for the comparatively successful results of trials in the Chota Nagpore Division.

37. On an examination of the details given by Mr Hankey in paragraphs 115 to 120 of his report, which contain a classification of the various kinds of murders reported, the most satisfactory feature observable is the rapid decrease since 1872 in the number of murders committed by dacoits. In the past year there were but two cases of this kind, and in both convictions were obtained. As regards murders by robbers, convictions were obtained in eight cases out of 18, against seven out of 19 in the previous year. One such case occurred in each of the districts of Beerbhoom, Dinagepore, Rajshahye, Bogra, Backergunge, and Fureedpore, with the result of a conviction on each. In other districts the results were less favourable, notably Burdwan and Dacca. As regards cases of murder by poison, of which there were 12 accepted as true in the past year, there is nothing noticeable except the want of success in dealing with the crime in the north-eastern districts of the Rajshahye Division, and the fact that of six cases reported in Backergunge, five were reported to be false. As regards other murders, there is the common, though most sad, tale of wives murdered by their husbands, and of husbands murdered by their wives, or their wives' paramours. It is satisfactory to notice the large decrease of men killed in land disputes or other riots as already referred to, and of children killed for their ornaments.

38. In connection with the increase noticed above in the number of cases of culpable homicide, the marked want of success in the matter of obtaining convictions in the Burdwan, Chittagong, and Patna Divisions forms a just subject for observation. The fact that in the Chota Nagpore Division, with 24 true cases, convictions were obtained in 20, may be in part due to the simple nature of the people in the jungle districts. They are easily excited to passion, and not unfrequently acknowledge crimes committed under its influence. As is usual, one-half of the charges of rape made in the course of the year were decided to be false. Such charges are doubtless easily brought and substantiated with difficulty. Of three persons tried, if one is convicted the result is considered good. Judged by this standard, the results obtained in the Dacca, Presidency, and Chota Nagpore Divisions were better than usual. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with regret that a system of what has been called gang rape is reported to exist. In this view, so far as the facts are at present before him, he cannot but notice with dissatisfaction the leniency of some of the sentences passed in Backergunge, the district where the crime in this form has been specially noticed.

39. The comparative impunity with which the crime of drugging continues to be practised is discouraging. In the Patna Division convictions were obtained in 2 cases only against 12 reported, and in the Dacca Division in one only against six reported. The same number of cases of grievous hurt for the purpose of extorting confessions were reported in the past as in the previous year; but in 1875 all six cases reported were accepted as true against 4 only in 1874. Although convictions were obtained in two cases, as against no convictions in the previous year, it is a lamentable result that the crime should have gone wholly unpunished in Howrah, Maldah, Rungpore, and Purneah, in each of which districts one case occurred.

40. Since the close of the year under report the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act has been introduced into most of the districts of Eastern Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor will await with interest reports showing what effect this measure has had in reducing the number of complaints of kidnapping and abduction. At present about one-half of such complaints are rejected as false, while barely one-third of the remainder are proved to conviction—a fact which has long been indicative of a defect in the law.

41. Class III—Serious offences against person and property.—The total number of true cases recorded in this class during the past year was 23,957, or less by 4,658 in the previous year, and by 571 in 1873. Omitting cases of burglary, which it will be convenient to consider separately, along with those offences of the same description recorded in Class V, the results under the chief heads were as follow :—

Crime	True cases.		Cases detected		Persons convicted.
	1874.	1875.	1874	1875	1874.	1875
Dacoity	421	236	141	71	756	347
Robbery	265	171	81	60	171	106
Serious mischief	1,250	1,093	344	300	605	498

The remarkable decrease in the number of cases of dacoity observable from the above figures is, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, the most favourable feature in the report for the year. Not only was there a decrease of 45 per cent. in the number of true cases, but at the same time the number of false cases was 99 only against 160 in the previous year. The proportion borne by cases detected and persons convicted to cases accepted as true was not quite up to the standard of 1874; but, on the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor is prepared to look upon the results obtained as satisfactory, except in Burdwan, where one case only was prosecuted to conviction against seven which were reported and accepted as true; in Dinagepore, where similarly there was only one case as against 18; in Dacca where, with 12 true cases, none were detected, and in Manbhoom where two only were detected out of 15. In Midnapore the figure test is admittedly unfavourable. The number of dacoities has increased from 17 in 1874 to 26 in 1875, while convictions were obtained in only seven cases against 15 in the previous year. It is explained, however, that the arrangements made by Mr. Macaulay, C.S., for detecting this crime while he was Superintendent of Police in the district in 1874, are working admirably and have been productive of the best results, which will be more apparent in the report for the current year. The districts mentioned last year, as those in which the crime of dacoity was specially prevalent, were Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, and Julpigoree. In each and all of them the diminution in the number of cases reported has been very satisfactory. It is not satisfactory, however, that in the district lastnamed, with ten true cases in the past year, not a single one should have been prosecuted to conviction. In Moorshedabad and Beerbhoom the crime has been more successfully dealt with, but there also the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the local officers will perceive that there is much room for improvement.

42. The district, however, in which the most marked improvement is observable is Purneah. There the number of cases reported in 1874 was 42, of which 30 were accepted as true, and the number of persons convicted was 34. In the past year the number of cases reported was 7, of which three only were accepted as true, and the number of dacoits convicted was 13. The measures, says Mr. Hankey, which have led to this very satisfactory result are as follow:— First, the determined and energetic action of the Magistrate of the district against the bad characters and suspected persons of the district; secondly, the apprehension and conviction of two of the most notable dacoits who had long escaped with impunity, and the conviction of an influential and well connected Brahmin who had long been suspected of being a receiver of stolen property, and was at last detected in the attempt to organize a dacoity; thirdly, the encouragement given to villagers to protect themselves against dacoits. Two of the three cases recorded in the past year, it appears, were attempts only; the villagers, on the advent of the dacoits, having turned out and put them to flight.

43 In Pubna and Bogra the results of police action in dacoity cases have been favourable. In the former district the good effect resulting from the punishment of four receivers of stolen property are mentioned. In Mozufferpore the assistance derived from certain ghât ticcadars in the matter of arresting dacoits is prominently acknowledged. In the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, Tipperah, and Backergunge districts also the results were satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor notices the remarks made in the report as to the apparently inadequate sentences which were passed on the dacoits convicted in the last named district. There is nothing calling for remark as regards the cases of robbery and serious mischief recorded, except the satisfactory decrease in the number under each head.

44. Taking together the heads of crime which comprise the offence of burglary, as understood by the Inspector-General of Police, we have the following results:—

Crimes.	True cases.		Cases detected.		Persons convicted.
	1874.	1875	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.
Heading No. 35	26,327	21,899	1,847	1,294	2,743	1,942
Do. „ 36	278	286	98	130	146	222
Do. „ 42	1,629	1,563	237	241	299	300
Total ...	28,234	23,748	2,182	1,665	3,187	2,464

As remarked by the Inspector-General, while there was a satisfactory decrease in the number of cases which occurred, there was no improvement in the matter of detection. Mr. Hankey, in extenuation of these results, calls attention to the fact that it is not in Bengal alone that the police fail to deal effectually with this crime. On the other hand, the nature of the houses in which the people live in Bengal, and the luxuriance of the vegetable growth around every homestead, afford great facilities for the crime and a ready means of escape to the theives. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that one of the first fruits of the improved position which the village police will hold under the operations of the Chowkidaree Act will be the reduction of crimes of this nature.

45. Class IV—Minor offences against the person.—The number of true cases recorded in this class was 9,862 in the past year, compared with 6,495 in 1874 and 3,508 in the previous year; this rapid increase in crime is to a great extent apparent only. It was not till after the commencement of 1874 that hurt was made a cognizable offence, and the fact that in the past year 6,861 cases of this kind are included in the total of 9,862 shown sufficiently accounts for the difference. As regards other offences under this head, the Inspector-General notices a very marked decrease in cases of wrongful confinement and restraint in the Pubna district, where some success was obtained in dealing with a very bad case of the kind.

46. Class V—Minor offences against property.—Under this class there was a decrease of 5,250 true cases as compared with 1874, and of 2,174 true cases as compared with 1873. Out of 38,093, the total number of offences recorded in this class, 1,563 have been included above among burglaries. The remaining chief heads of crime are as follow :—

Crime.	True cases.		Cases detected.		Persons convicted.
	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.	1874.	1875.
Cattle theft	2,795	1,999	1,460	950	2,194	1,435
Ordinary theft	28,434	24,450	10,117	7,348	15,079	10,989
Criminal breach of trust	1,801	1,626	395	298	547	475
Receiving stolen property	2,776	2,277	2,179	1,733	3,796	2,789

In 1874 the enormous number of 12,957 cases of theft of all kinds were rejected as false; in the past year the number was only slightly less, being 12,235. At the same time there was a diminution of 5,502 in the total number of complaints lodged. The net result has been a decrease of 4,780 in the number of true cases. As may be observed from the figures given in the table above, there has been a marked falling off in the number of cases successfully investigated, and in the number of convictions obtained under each of the heads of crime. Cattle theft is said to have increased in the Chittagong Division, and to have decreased in the Chota Nagpore and Bhagulpore Divisions. It continues to be very prevalent in the districts of the Patna Division, especially in Mozufferpore and Durbhunga. In the grazing lands of the Bhagulpore Division, which lie contiguous to the latter district, and between it and the district of Dinagepore, cattle theft has decreased. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the stricter watch to which this result is said to be attributable in Purneah will be extended also to the other parts of this tract of country.

47. Class VI.—Other offences not specified above.—The figures given by the Inspector-General showing the number of cases during the past three years which have been entered under this head with their results are as follow :—

	1873.	1874.	1875.
Cases	13,304	13,272	15,206
Number detected.	10,869	10,968	12,582
Persons punished	13,438	13,775	16,501

The increase shown by the above figures is due to an increased number of vagrancy, excise, and nuisance cases. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the increase in the number of prosecutions for vagrancy and bad livelihood, as indicating that more general effect has been given to the instructions which have been so frequently issued on the subject. During the past year the number of prosecutions under this head increased from 2,459 to 3,387, and 2,480 persons were convicted as against 1,667 in 1874. In seven districts mentioned by the Inspector-General but little action appears to have been taken against bad characters, but it is satisfactory to notice the energetic measures which have been apparently adopted in Manbhoom, Rungpore, Mozufferpore, Jessore, Chumparun, Monghyr, and Purneah.

48. NON-COGNIZABLE CRIME.—The total number of non-cognizable cases instituted by complaint during the year, or taken up by the Magistrates of their own motion, was 95,766, or 1,541 in excess of the number in 1874. The number of cases in which process issued was 70,637 against 70,881. These figures are considerably less than those for 1873—a result due to the transfer of cases of simple hurt from the non-cognizable to the cognizable list. The number of persons convicted during the past year was 42,708, or 777 more than in 1874, although the number of persons who actually appeared in court was 73,471, or 2,058 less than in 1874. These results are considered by the Inspector-General to be satisfactory. In forming an opinion on the subject, it is important to bear in mind that petty cases, when true, are not unusually compromised out of court.

49. The number of non-cognizable cases in which the police were required to make an enquiry was 5,569 only against 6,997 in 1874. This is a marked improvement. With reference to an order passed by the late Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, now Commissioner of the Presidency Division, requiring the submission to him of a special report in all cases where a police enquiry is ordered in non-cognizable cases, Mr. Hankey remarks on the danger of proceeding too far in a contrary direction. In his remarks generally the Lieutenant-Governor concurs. At the same time he would observe that the control to be exercised by a Commissioner in such a matter would depend very much upon the acquaintance he possessed of the officers serving under him, and the amount of confidence he placed in their discretion. As was observed in the Resolution on last year's report, it is essential, with reference to financial considerations, that the police force should be utilised to the fullest extent for its more legitimate duties, and should as far as possible be relieved from miscellaneous work. In this view the Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to interfere with the action taken to secure these ends.

50. At page 110 of his report, Mr. Hankey gives an interesting table showing the relative amount of non-cognizable crime in the several districts of these provinces during the past three years. The ratio of convictions to persons tried is shown to be highest (80 per cent.) in the district of Howrah, where the number of municipal cases is very large. It is also good in Dinagepore (71 per cent.), Pubna (66 per cent.), Gya (65 per cent.), Purneah (63 per cent.), Maldah (62 per cent.), Patna (61 per cent.), Jessore, Pooree, and Backergunge (60 per cent.), and in the districts of the Chota Nagpore Division.

51. In reviewing generally at the close of his report the conduct of the police during the past year, Mr. Hankey remarks as follows :—"On the whole, I think the police are fairly entitled to a good modicum of praise. The verdict of the local officers is decidedly favourable, and, judging from the paucity of complaints that find expression in the public press, the general public are tolerably satisfied with these guardians. The police is nowhere a very popular department, and usually comes in for more than its fair share of stricture. Complaints will of course arise, and it is right and proper that, when made with justice, they should be made public, and opportunity of investigating them afforded. Per contra, however, I frequently receive native petitions praying for the retention of some outpost on the ground of immunity from crime and the general security it has afforded to the inhabitants." In these remarks, based as they are on the opinions of the several Commissioners of Divisions, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to concur generally. He observes that from the abstract given of the remarks made by local officers, that, a few districts excepted where circumstances are against the police, the force is said to be efficient and well behaved. Sir Richard Temple has already recorded his opinion that to a very large extent the character and efficiency of the police depend on the zeal, discretion, and ability of those placed in authority over them, and where a Magistrate and a District Superintendent have been long enough in a district to make their mark on the administration, the Lieutenant-Governor will not fail to hold them responsible for results.

52. The Lieutenant-Governor has but little to add to the observations he placed on record in the Resolution on last year's report regarding the condition and efficiency of the Bengal Police. Although progress is apparent, there is still room for much more rapid and considerable improvement. The most important agents of the police administration are the petty officers of the force, the head-constables and sub-inspectors, by whom all criminal investigations are ordinarily held, and it is amongst this class of officers that there is the widest scope for improvement. The attention of Government has long been devoted to considering the means whereby the status of head-constables especially may be ameliorated, and it is a matter of regret that financial necessities have hitherto rendered it impossible to give effect to any of the proposals that have been made. The Government is fully aware that this is the most urgent need of the department, and that the only certain means of securing a higher order of efficiency is by raising the status and salary of the petty police officers; it is feared that, until this can be done, the undeniable unpopularity and venality of the police must continue: much, however, may be done in the direction of improvement by the Inspectors and District Superintendents of Police, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to say that, owing to the exertions of the superior police officials, both European and Native, the results of the past year's administration do show that upon the whole crime has been creditably repressed and offenders brought to justice. It may be added that the gradual introduction of the new Chowkidaree Act, which is now in force in portions at least of most of the districts in Bengal, has established the village watch as a more valuable auxiliary to the district police administration than was formerly the case. The extension generally throughout Bengal of the provisions of the Village Chowkidaree Act, of the Criminal Tribes' Act, of the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act, and of the Reformatory Schools' Act, will, in many matters of criminal administration, mark as it were a new era. The Lieutenant-Governor entertains a confident hope that through the operation of these provisions the hands of the local executive will be much strengthened, and that, ere long, the beneficial results will be shown by a large diminution of offences recorded under certain heads of crime.

53. The Inspector-General remarks in his report that there is no feature in the department under his control that he regards with more satisfaction than the qualifications and character of the body of its superior officers, and that the exceptions are very few in which both the District and Assistant Superintendents have not been highly spoken of by the district officers and the Commissioners of Divisions. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in acknowledging the services of the several officers recorded by Mr. Hankey as marginally noted, and he desires that his thanks may be separately communicated to them. The thanks of Government are especially due to Colonel Paterson, who has long served in the Department as Deputy Inspector-General, and whose merits have been frequently recognised.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 4th November 1876.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVS. 1	Burdwan, Nov. 6,* '76	·17	The rainfall at Culna has been ·27 and at Cutwa ·65. Beali and kartic sali are being cut. Fever is prevalent.
2	Bankoora, „ 4, „	·44	Slight showers fell on the 30th and 31st October; the rest of the week was dry and cool. The prospects of the rice crop continue as favourable as possible.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 4, „	Nil	Weather—Dry at head-quarters. There was, however, some rain in the interior. State and prospects of the crops continue excellent. The reaping of the early November crops (here called aous) has commenced.
4	Midnapore, „ 4, „	·09	Some rain fell on the 30th and 31st October, over an inch in the south of the district, and the sky was threatening. The high wind, however, did very little harm, and the crop, which is now being reaped, may be considered a bumper one. The prospects of the cold-weather crops are very good. The season is very feverish.
5	Hooghly, „ 4, „	·56	Weather—Cloudy on the 30th October. Drizzling rain on the 31st, with a gale blowing from the north-east. Bright and cool since the 1st instant. About one anna of the aman crop has been damaged by the gale of the 31st. In other respects the prospects of this crop remain good. The reaping of aous is almost over. Fever is on the increase.
	Howrah, „ 4, „	·34	Weather—Cloudy, and there was a tolerably hard gale on the 31st October at night. The gale is believed to have done some slight injury to the crops.
	Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVS. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov. 6,† '76	·40	Weather—Cloudy and stormy on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday; clear and fine during the latter half of the week. The late gale has somewhat damaged the crops in places. Fever still prevails at Satkhira, Baseerhat, and Barripore.
7	Nuddea, „ 4, „	·14	There was a little rain, with high wind, in the early part of the week. Since then the weather has become settled again. The prospects of the rice continue very good, and the weather has been so far very favourable for the cold-weather crops.
8	Jessore, „ 4, „	1·12	Weather—Cloudy, with rain on the 31st October, followed that night by storm. Since clear and dry. In Khoolna and Bagirhat, where the storm of the 31st October was much more violent than in the rest of the district, the aman crops are reported to have sustained some loss.
9	Moorshedabad, „ 4, „	·11	Weather—Cloudy at the beginning of the week. It is getting cold. The present prospects of the crops are as good as can be desired.
RAJSHAHYE DIVS. 10	Dinagepore, „ 3, „	·01	Weather—Getting cold. North wind prevailing. The prospects of rice and sugarcane continue most favourable. Fever continues.
11	Maldah, „ 4, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The mornings and evenings are getting cooler. State and prospects of the crops are excellent.
12	Rajshahye, „ 4, „	·20	There has been very slight rain during the week in all the stations except Tanore, Godagaree, and Bagmara. The standing crops promise well. The sowing of cereals is nearly finished, and that of mustard and rye is going on. Fever is very prevalent, and a few cases of cholera are reported from Beauleah, Poothea, Belmaria, Singrah, Burrigaon, and Nattore.
13	Rungpore, „ 3, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and breezy. The rubbee sowings have commenced. Tobacco and mustard have been sown for the third time with every prospect of success. The prospects of aman are good, except in the north-east of the district.
14	Bogra, „ 4, „	....	The first two days of the week were cloudy, but with very little rain. Only few drops fell, which were not appreciable by the rain-guage. Wind from the east and north-east prevailing. All the winter crops are in a very prosperous condition, the aman being remarkably forward.
15	Pubna, „ 4, „	·51	Weather—Stormy on the 31st October. The cold weather has now fairly set in. ·7 of rain fell in Serajgunge. The prospects of the crops are generally very good, in spite of partial damage to the aman on the higher lands owing to the early fall of the rivers. There is much fever about, as usual at this season. A few sporadic cases of cholera reported from Bera and Handial.

* Telegram of the 6th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

† Report of the 6th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
		Central Districts.—(Continued.)
Cooch Behar Divn.	16	Darjeeling, Nov. 4, '76	Nil.	The cold weather has decidedly set in. All the crops throughout the district are progressing favourably.
	17	Julpigoree, „ 4, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. All the crops are in a highly satisfactory condition. General health is good.
		Cooch Behar, „ 2, „	Nil	The weather is rapidly becoming cool. The last two days of the week were windy with light clouds. The prospects of the dhan crop are everywhere very good. Tobacco and mustard have suffered much from the late rains. Public health is good.
		Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn.	18	Dacca, Nov. 6,* '76	1·68	Weather—Fine since the storm on Tuesday night. The damage done to the crops by the storm will be fully compensated by the good done by the rain.
	19	Furreedpore, „ 4, „	1·09	The rainfall at Goalundo is ·69 and at Madaripore 1·91. The rainfall at Goalundo the week before last was ·61, instead of 3·83, as erroneously reported. There was a cyclone from about 10 P.M. of the 31st October to about 5 A.M. of the 1st instant. It blew very hard between 12 and 3 o'clock at night. The normal point of the barometer here is 30·15, and it fell to 29·46 at the time. The wind did but a little damage A constable was killed in Madaripore. The cyclone was felt like a stiff gale at Goalundo on the night of the 31st, and the steamers had to shift anchorage.
	20	Backergunge, „ 2, „	3·41	Between 11 P.M. of the 31st ultimo and 4½ A.M. of the 1st instant a violent hurricane passed over the district, the wind blowing from the north, north-east, east and south-east, and back again to the north, and some say to the north-west. There has been a great destruction of huts and of fruit and timber trees. About 90 per cent. of the huts in the area affected were blown down. Only one death has been yet reported from Potuakhali, but loss of life upon the rivers is apprehended. The rice crop has of course been damaged, but it is hoped that the damage is slight. The people have been put to distress, which, it is hoped, will be only temporary. Circumstantial reports from the interior have not yet been received. A report has come in that a storm-wave came up the Titulia and Dukhin Shabazpore rivers, and did very great mischief.
	21	Mymensingh, „ 3, „	·26	Weather—Stormy on the 31st ultimo and 1st instant. Since then fine. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable on all sides. The winter crops are being sown, and some have already sprouted.
	22	Tipperah, „ 3, „	3·73	Weather—Still warm in the day time. The crops were promising very well till the storm of the 31st ultimo and 1st instant. This storm has certainly done some damage, but how much is not yet stated.
Chittagong Divn.	23	Chittagong	.....	Return not received.
	24	Noakholly, ...	.....	Return not received.

	34	Bhagulpore, „ 6,[a] „	Nil	All the crops are reported to be very good, and the prospects very satisfactory. The general health is also very good.
	35	Purneah, „ 4, „	Nil	The cold weather has fairly set in. The crops are everything that can be desired. Health of the district is good.
	36	Sonthal Pergha. „ 5, „	Nil	Weather—Dry ; not very cold. All crops are excellent.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn.	37	Cuttack, Nov. 4, '76	·48	Weather—Cloudy and unsettled in the early part of the week ; clear and cold in the latter part. A cyclone visited False Point on Tuesday morning, and its effects were felt slightly as far inland as Kendrapara. It has not done any damage to the crops, but has done some mischief to the huts and trees. The late rice is progressing favourably, and the winter crops are coming on well. Public health is good.
	38	Pooree, „ 2, „	·57	Weather—Fair. Cloudy and stormy on the 30th and 31st October. The rainfall on the 30th was general, and did much good to the crops, which otherwise must have suffered to some extent. There was rain in Khoordah, and the state of the crops is reported to be improving. There have been a few cases of cholera.
	39	Balasore, „ 3, „	24	The weather in the earlier part of the week was cloudy and unsettled, with slight rain and a high wind on the 30th ultimo. It has since become fine and settled again. The crops are very promising, and the general health is good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than	Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but	less than Rs 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but	less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the	deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1875-76, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1877, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 48,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1876.

PART II.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by the Government, situated in the districts of Sonthal Pergunnahs, East Indian Railway, Chord Line, will be put up to sale at the Nawadi Staging Bungalow at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, the 13th December 1876, corresponding with 29th Aughrahan 1283, B. S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions :—

1*st*.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

2*nd*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

3*rd*.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4*th*.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

Bengal Civil Fund.

AT a Special General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held at the Town Hall on Wednesday, the 1st November 1876.

PRESENT:

A. Money, Esq., C.B., the Hon'ble H. Bell, R Taylor, Esq., H. Beveridge, Esq, E. G. Glazier, Esq, J. O'Kinealy, Esq., R. H. Wilson, Esq., W. H. Grimley, Esq., W. M. Souttar, Esq, C. F. Magrath, Esq, J. G Charles, Esq., and C. P. L. Macaulay, Esq

R. Taylor, Esq, in the chair.

Read the notice convening the meeting.

Proposed by Mr. Grimley, and seconded by Mr. Charles, that the members present, having read the note by Mr. O'Kinealy, are of opinion that the facts and quotations he brings forward, and the arguments he uses, afford the basis of a satisfactory answer to the letter of the Government of India, No. 4377, of 28th October 1875, and request the Managers to prepare and forward an answer accordingly.

Carried (Messrs. Beveridge and Magrath not voting).

Proposed by Mr. Bell, and seconded by Mr. Magrath, that this meeting is of opinion that Mr. O'Kinealy deserves the best thanks of the service for his great labor, and for the care and ability displayed, in selecting the papers and preparing the note laid before he meeting.

Carried, Mr. O'Kinealy dissenting.

A vote of thanks to the Chairman was proposed by Mr. Souttar and seconded by Mr. Beveridge and carried unanimously. The meeting then separated.

POSTAL NOTICES.

Reduction of Passenger Fares on the Darjeeling Line.

IT has been determined further to reduce the fares upon this line. On and after the 1st December therefore the rates charged will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For an express or special carriage ...	60	0	0
One inside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	30	0	0
One outside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	10	0	0

The above charges are for the entire journey from Karagola to Silligori or vice versâ.

The mileage charge will be reduced in proportion, i.e. an express carriage will be charged for at the rate of 8 annas a mile, an inside seat in an ordinary, 4 annas a mile, and a seat on the mail-cart 2 annas.

As it has been reported that it was the intension of Government to close this line at once, it is hereby notified that if the monthly returns shew that it is extensively used by the public, it will be kept running until the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 11th November 1876.

No.	District, and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN. 1	Burdwan, Nov 13,* '76	Nil	Prospects of the crops are very good. Fever is prevalent.
2	Bankoora, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Dry and cool. State and prospects of the crops are good. The aous, or the intermediate rice crop, is being reaped.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cool. State and prospects of the crops continue excellent.
4	Midnapore, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and fine, but warmer than before. All cold weather crops except sugarcane are promising well Prices are rising, and husked rice is being exported in large quantities. The prospect of higher prices, combined with a splendid crop, promises a most favourable season to the cultivators.
5	Hooghly, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The rubbee sowings are still going on The aous crop has been gathered with very good outturn. The early amun, (kalay, kartic, &c.,) is being reaped, and the amun proper is in ear Brinjals, radish, and kachu, have turned out well, and are being gathered The fever is very bad at Connagore and in certain villages of the Bondyabatty thana.
	Howrah, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Unusually warm for the time of the year. The injury done by the late high wind is really very slight. The amun crop is above the average.

* Telegram of the 13th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.
Presidency Div. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov. 13,*'76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The damage done to the crops by the storm of the 31st October was slight. Prospects of the amun, or late rice, on the whole continue favourable. Fever still continues at Barripore, Bussirhat, and Satkhira.
Presidency Div. 7	Nuddea, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and seasonable. The late rice promises very well, and the cold-weather crops are flourishing.
Presidency Div. 8	Jessore, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. In the Khoolnah sub-division the loss to the crops caused by the late cyclone has not yet been fully ascertained. In the Bagirhat sub-division, which suffered more, it is stated that the highland rice has been injured to the extent of four annas, but that the low land rice, of which much the greater portion of the crop consists, has not sustained much damage The state and prospects of the crops in the rest of the district continue to be favourable. In Morrelgunge and Molahat great numbers of houses have been levelled to the ground, and many heads of cattle are stated to have died, but no loss to human life has been sustained.
Presidency Div. 9	Moorshedabad, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the crops continue to be good. Prices of rice have slightly risen. Cholera has broken out in the Sudder sub-division.
Rajshahye Div. 10	Dinagepore, „ 10, „	Nil	Weather—Cooler daily. The prospects of all the crops are very good.
Rajshahye Div. 11	Maldah, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. Gleams of cloud and foggy mornings for the last two or three days. State and prospects of the crops are excellent.
Rajshahye Div. 12	Rajshahye, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and clear. The prospect of the standing amun crop is good. The sowing of cereals is nearly finished, and that of mustard and rye is going on. There have been a good many cases of fever in Beauleah, and a few cases of cholera in Nattore, Pooteah, and Bhundaikhara.
Rajshahye Div. 13	Rungpore, „ 10, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable The rubbee sowings are in progress. Tobacco and mustard oil-seed have been sown for the third time with every prospect of success. The prospects of amun are good, except in the north-east of the district.
Rajshahye Div. 14	Bogra, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Cloudy towards the end of the week. All the winter crops are in a very prosperous condition, the amun being remarkably forward.
Rajshahye Div. 15	Pubna, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and fine. The harvest of the early amun has commenced, and the winter crops promise well. Fever is prevalent, and there are sporadic cases of cholera in Faridpore, Bera, and Handial.
Cooch Behar Div. 16	Darjeeling, Nov. 10, '76	Nil.	Weather—Fair and bright; getting very cold. The prospect of the crops throughout the district is very good.
Cooch Behar Div. 17	Julpigoree, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Two cloudy days; otherwise fine and cool. The prospects of all the crops are all that can be desired.
Cooch Behar Div.	Cooch Behar, „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. No rain, and somewhat warmer than past week. There is little to add to the former report. The prospects are generally good. The tobacco seedlings are being planted. Fever is prevalent as usual at this season of the year.
	Eastern Districts
Dacca Div. 18	Dacca, Nov 13,† '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are good. A good deal of cholera prevails in all parts of the district.
Dacca Div. 19	Furreedpore, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are good. Cholera has broken out in several parts of the district.
Dacca Div. 20	Backergunge, „ 9, „	Nil	The state of the district is not so satisfactory as it has been. The cyclone and storm-wave of the 31st ultimo and 1st instant have had a most injurious and in many cases disastrous effect. The whole of Dakhin Shabazpore, Golachipa, and Bowful, and portions of Mendigunge and Mirzagunge (a tract populated by about 60,000 inhabitants), were most calamitously struck by a storm-wave, or rather succession of waves, which has inflicted a loss of human life, and such an amount of misery and disaster that, in order to save the remainder, the Collector has been forced to set on foot relief operations. The crops have been greatly injured. The extent of the disaster cannot yet be ascertained A great deal of sickness prevails The Deputy Collector of Patuakhali reports that on the night of the 31st ultimo there was a furious cyclone attended by a storm-wave which swept over all the islands and the eastern and southern portions of the Bowful and Golachipa thanas. The wave did not penetrate much beyond five or six miles inland The loss of human life in Mirzagunge and Gulsakhali is not considerable, but huts and trees have been blown down, and the loss of cattle is frightful. Wherever the storm wave passed not a third of the population is believed to be surviving, and the islands have barely one-fourth. The stench from the putrifying bodies is insufferable, and a bad and general outbreak of cholera is hourly expected. The aykani crops have been injured to the extent of twelve annas, but the injury done to the panshi dhan is not more than four annas Relief in food, clothing, and medicine, has been despatched to all the distressed parts.

† Telegram of the 13th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
Dacca Divn. 21	Mymensingh, Nov. 10, '76	Nil	Weather—Fine and seasonable The late rice crop is a very fine one on all sides The cold-weather crops are being sown.
Dacca Divn. 22	Tipperah, ,, 10, ,,	Nil	Weather—Cool in the morning and evening. It is still warm in the day time. The damage to amun is probably about three annas, but the outturn will still be fully an average one.
Chittagong Divn 23	Chittagong ,, 10, ,,	Nil	Weather—The days are fine and hot; the evenings and nights are cold. It is too early yet to attempt to form a trustworthy estimate of the damage done by the late cyclone. In Kumeria and Seetacoond the villages along the coast have been swept away, the cattle have been drowned, and the crops totally destroyed. Further south the things are a little better. In Anwara the crop should be from two to four annas, and in Banskhali and Juldi from four to six annas. It cannot be more than eight annas anywhere in the Sudder sub-division, rather less in many places. The damage is less in the south of Satkanea, the centre of the cyclone having probably passed to the north-west, whence the weekly report has not yet been received. Cholera of a bad type has broken out at Seetacoond and in Bakulea and Chandgaon nearer the town.
Chittagong Divn 24	Noakholly, ,, 9, ,,	Nil	Weather—Fair with bright sunshine, and warm for this season. Much of the late rice in the inundated tract on the coast and in the islands has been destroyed by the salt-flood. The crops in the north of the station have not been much damaged Cholera in epidemic form has broken out in the islands and in the inundated tract throughout.
Chittagong Divn 25	Chittagong Hill Tracts. ,, 7, ,,	2 00	A cyclone passed over the station in the morning of the 1st instant. It commenced at about 1 A.M and ceased at about 8 A.M. The weather was cloudy, and slight showers fell on that day, and the day preceding The fall is registered two inches in twenty-four hours. The cyclone has caused much damage to the cotton plants and pods in every joom. The rainfall, however, did some good to the paddy sown by the plough cultivators on the low lands. The cyclone has also damaged the houses, but no loss of life within the district is reported as yet.
Chittagong Divn	Hill Tipperah, ,, 8, ,,	1 92	Occasional showers fell during the week. Between a quarter and a half of the paddy has been blasted and destroyed by the storm of the 31st ultimo, the crop being in ear at the time. There has been, however, no loss of life, and little injury to other properties.
	BEHAR.
Patna Divn. 26	Patna, Nov. 13[a], '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the crops are good; also the health of the district
Patna Divn. 27	Gya, ,, 10, ,,	Nil	Weather—Cool; clear sky. The prospects of both the rubbee and khureef crops are favourable.
Patna Divn. 28	Shahabad, ,, 11, ,,	Nil	Weather—Somewhat cloudy and warm. The rubbee sowing is generally completed, and the aghani crops are being reaped. Public health is good.
Patna Divn. 29	Durbhunga, ,, 11, ,,	Nil	Weather—Clear and cool. The prospects of the winter rice are satisfactory, and the sowings of the rubbee crops are in progress.
Patna Divn. 30	Muzufferpore, ,, 11, ,,	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and cold. The prospects of the aghani crops are excellent throughout the district. The rubbee sowings are progressing Prices of food-grains are favourable. Health of the district is good.
Patna Divn. 31	Sarun, ,, 11, ,,	Nil	Weather—Cool, bright, and clear. The sky was overcast on the 9th instant, and a few drops of rain fell in the night. 09 is registered at Sewan. The wind is blowing from the west, and the cold-weather has set in. The prospects of the aghani rice are generally favourable. The rubbee crops are still being sown, and the early sowings are coming on well. General health is good.
Patna Divn. 32	Chumparun, ,, 10, ,,	Nil	Weather—Very favourable. The prospects of the crops are excellent.
Bhagulpore Divn. 33	Monghyr, Nov. 11, '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The prospects of the crops continue good. The Collector, who has been in the principal rice tract of the district, found the crop to be all that can be desired.
Bhagulpore Divn. 34	Bhagulpore, ,, 13,[a] ,,	Nil	All the crops continue satisfactory. The general health is very good.
Bhagulpore Divn. 35	Purneah, ,, 11, ,,	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and cold. The winter rice is very good. In Arrareah the rubbee sowings have begun.
Bhagulpore Divn. 36	Sonthal Perghs ,, 11, ,,	Nil	Weather—Dry and not very cold All the crops are well above the average, and are estimated to be fourteen annas.

[a] Telegram of the 13th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack Nov. 11, '76	Nil	Weather—Cold and clear The crops are progressing very well. The public health is good; a little cattle disease is reported from the north of the district.
Orissa Divn. 38	Pooree, „ 9, „	Nil	In the Pooree sub-division the laghu crop has begun to ripen and the sarad crop is flowering. But in the higher lands, where the rainfall last week was not sufficient, the people are irrigating the laghu. There are no complaints in the tracts adjoining the Chilka. The sub-divisional officer reports that water is wanted in the fields of certain villages in Khoordah.
Orissa Divn. 39	Balasore, „ 10, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and fair. The early rice is being harvested with a good outturn, and the prospects of the late rice continue excellent. Public health is normal.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-Western Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 10, '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable, cool, and very pleasant. Everything is progressing favourably.
41	Lohardugga, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—The last few days were rather close, as if rain was brewing. All the crops are excellent, and a full outturn is expected.
42	Singbhoom, „ 10, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable, but the last two days were cloudy. Prospects of the crops continue very favourable. Fever is said to be very bad in the district.
43	Manbhoom, „ 11, „	Nil	Weather—Warm but seasonable. The paddy crop on the higher lands is being reaped, and a good outturn is expected. The rubbee crops are promising.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

NOTIFICATION.

Revised application made by the undersigned Municipal Commissioners of Darjeeling for a loan under the Local Public Works Loan Act of 1871.

The loan is required for the following purposes:—

	Rs.
I.—The increase and improvement of water-supply of Darjeeling, which is insufficient for the purposes of the station during the four months of the year, by constructing near the cutcherry a reservoir to contain 55,000 cubic feet of water, according to the revised plan submitted by the Superintending Engineer, Northern Circle, with his letter No. 2814, dated 23rd October 1876, at an estimated cost of	29,293
II.—The extension and improvement of the present drainage, as follows:—
(1) The construction of a covered drain and adjuncts to the Hospital Jhara, as proposed in the first part of Mr. Smith's Appendix E (except last part), at an estimated cost of ...	7,576
(2) The construction of two small drains at the Bazar Jhara, as proposed in the second part of Mr. Smith's Appendix E, at an estimated cost of	500
(3) The improvement of Beechwood Jhara, as proposed in Mr. Smith's Appendix E (third part), at a cost not exceeding ..	2,631

2. The amount of loan now applied for is Rs. 40,000.

3. The security offered for the above loan will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
I.—Proceeds of house-tax, estimated to yield ...	5,784	12	0
II.—Horse and pony-tax	600	0	0
III.—Rent of locations	4,684	0	0
IV.—Bazar rents	13,000	0	0
V.—Native village rent	1,300	0	0
VI.—Pound fines	500	0	0
Total Rs. ...	25,868	12	0

4. The house and horse taxes are levied under Act V of 1876.

The rents of locations with which those of native villages are to be classed were first assigned to the use of the sanitarium in 1838. This was confirmed by orders of Government passed in 1854, again in orders No. 217 of the 14th January 1864, and finally in the resolution of the Government of Bengal, dated 27th June 1873.

The bazar rents are derived from buildings erected by the municipality out of its revenues and situated on land made over to it by Government.

The pound fines were made over to the municipality under orders dated 14th October 1862, contained in letter No 3625, from the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal to the Superintendent of Darjeeling.

5. It is proposed to pay back the loan in 20 years by equal half-yearly instalments of Rs. 1,000, or Rs. 2,000 per annum. In this manner the payments would be made within 20 years, as provided in clause d, Rule X of the Rules of the 15th October 1873.

6. It is not possible to give the details required for the three years last preceding, as the limits of the municipality were much reduced in the beginning of the year 1874-75, and the sources of income as well as the objects of expenditure were so much affected by this change that any attempt at comparison with former years would be deceptive.

The following table shows proceeds of the various sources of municipal income in 1874-75:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
House-tax	5,028	8	4
Horse-tax	579	0	0
Bazar rents	11,732	4	3
Rent of locations	4,484	8	0
Rent of native village	1,231	11	5
Pound fines	229	13	0
All other sources, viz. hospital subscriptions, sale of garden produce, &c.	4,583	2	7
Total ...	27,868	15	7

The expenditure during the year was Rs. 27,494, out of which Rs. 700 consisted of recoverable advances, and Rs. 1,583 was a contribution to a work outside the new limits of the municipality.

7. The value of bazar buildings, &c., is about Rs 1,50,000.

8. There are no existing prior charges upon any of the sources of income above enumerated.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in the Public Works Department, Miscellaneous Public Improvements, under date the 17th November 1876.

WORKS OF PUBLIC UTILITY CONSTRUCTED IN 1874.

Read a statement showing works of public utility constructed by private individuals in the several districts of Bengal during the year 1874.

Read also the statement of works of public utility constructed by private individuals during the year 1873, which was published by the Scarcity and Relief Department, with that Department's Resolution, dated the 4th September 1874, in the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th idem.

REMARKS.—The statement of works of public utility constructed by private individuals during the year 1874 may be classified as follows:—Roads, bridges, embankments, irrigation and drainage channels, tanks and wells, masonry ghats, charitable dispensaries, staging bungalows, and serais.

2. The number and cost of the works done during 1874, as compared with former years, are given below—

Years.	Number of works.	Amount. Rs
1871	46	54,800
1872	69	80,600
1873	163	1,69,715
1874	847	5,00,592

3. The number of works that have cost Rs. 500 and upwards, as compared with former years, are as follows:—

Years.	Number of works.
1872	38
1874	348

4. The number of works that have cost less than Rs. 500 in the year 1874 are 499 in number, which is very large as compared with the three previous years, as shown below :—

Years.	Number of works.
1872	31
1874	499

5. It is remarked that works constructed in the districts of Mozufferpore, Durbhunga, and Chumparun are not included in the returns submitted by the Commissioners, from which it would appear that relief works, or works done at the cost of private individuals during the late scarcity, have been omitted.

6. The following will show the number of works and the aggregate sums of money expended by private individuals in each district :—

Name of district.	Number of works.	Total cost.
		Rs.
Burdwan	2	9,230
Bankoora	1	900
Beerbhoom	9	6,700
Midnapore	106	40,091

Howrah	2	1,950
24-Pergunnahs	1	10,000
Nuddea	252	1,76,683
Jessore	4	2,250
Moorshedabad	47	42,315
Rajshahye	57	45,664
Julpigoree	20	23,626
Dacca	3	4,634
Mymensingh	3	2,300
Tipperah	1	450
Behar	1	2,000
Sarun	205	99,352
Bhagulpore	1	1,200
Purneah	11	5,961
Pooree	11	1,435
Balasore	1	1,200
Singbhoom	13	3,790
Total		5,00,592

7. The Maharajah of Hutwa has been the most liberal contributor towards these works, 264 works, aggregating Rs. 76,240, having been constructed at his expense, and next to him the Maharajah of Cooch Behar, who has contributed Rs. 23,325 for 25 works. The largest sum, however, for any single work was given by Baboo Jadoo Nath Khan in the Nuddea district, he having paid Rs. 18.000 for excavating a tank at Birnaghur in the above district. The next largest sum was paid by Baboo Jadub Chunder Ghose, Rai Bahadoor, of Sursoona, for the construction of a ghât on Tolly's Nullah in the 24-Pergunnahs district.

8. Rs. 9,336 has been expended by the Maharajah of Hutwa for roads in the Sarun district, of which Rs. 5,563 was spent upon one road. The Maharajah also contributed Rs. 66,147 towards the construction of 239 tanks.

9. The Maharajah of Cooch Behar contributed Rs. 7,379 towards the construction of roads, and Rs. 7,244 upon the construction of six embankments. Five tanks were also partially excavated at an aggregate cost of Rs. 8,216. All these appear to have been works carried out during the late famine as relief works in the Julpigoree district.

10. Baboo Roy Jogendro Narain Roy, zemindar of Lalgola in Dewanserai station, in the Moorshedabad district, expended Rs. 3,668 on eight miles of unmetalled road.

11. Two new roads, eight miles and two miles in length respectively, were constructed at a cost of Rs. 4,200 from funds supplied by Rajah Ram Runjun Chuckerbutty in the Beerbhoom district, and Baboo Rai Kali Narain Chowdhry, Bahadoor, contributed Rs. 2,000 for a similar work in the Dacca district.

12. Embankments were constructed in the Sarun district by Baboo Goruck Nath at a cost of Rs. 1,100, and by Baboo Ajodhea Persaud at a cost of Rs. 1,005.

13. One tank was constructed by Baboo Jadoo Nath Khan in the district of Nuddea at a cost of Rs 18,000.

14. The Maharanee Surnamoyee spent Rs. 8,700 upon two tanks in the Moorshedabad and Rajshahye districts, and Rajah Bisseshur Malia expended Rs. 8,230 on one tank in the Burdwan district.

15. One tank was constructed by Baboo Bamun Dass Mookerjee in the Nuddea district at a cost of Rs. 7,263, and Baboo Rutton Mani Koondu also constructed one in the same district at a cost of Rs. 6,000.

16. Baboo Roy Jogendro Narain Roy, zemindar of Lalgola, in the Moorshedabad district, constructed a tank at a cost of Rs. 5,892, and Mohunt Siswan Gossani also spent Rs. 5,000 on one tank in the Sarun district.

17. Mr. W. Sheriff spent Rs. 4,000 on two tanks in the Nuddea district.

18. Two tanks, with masonry ghâts, were constructed in the Hooghly district by Baboo Gopal Chunder Dey at an aggregate cost of Rs. 4,000.

19. The following persons have expended sums aggregating between Rs. 4,000 and Rs. 8,000, on six tanks:—

Baboo Sreedhur Sahee in the Sarun district, and Baboo Kowar Poresh Narain Roy in the Rajshahye district.

20. Eleven persons have expended between Rs. 3,000 and Rs. 2,000 on tanks in different districts, 86 persons sums varying from Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 1,000, and 200 persons have contributed sums varying between Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 500 towards the same purpose.

21. Baboo Nundololl Misser has expended Rs. 1,200 on the construction of wells in the Bhagulpore district. Various sums under Rs. 1,000 have also been spent on wells by other contributors.

22. Seventeen pucca ghâts to tanks have been built by several persons in various districts at an aggregate cost of Rs. 31,092. Baboo Jadub Chunder Ghose, Rai Bahadoor, of Sursoona in the 24-Pergunnahs district, having built one on Tolly's Nullah, at old Tollygunge, at a cost of Rs. 10,000.

23. Two charitable dispensaries have been built—one at Balasore in the Orissa district, by Baboo Shama Churn Dey, at a cost of Rs. 1,200, and another in the Dacca district, by Khajah Ahsanollah, at a cost of Rs. 1,000.

RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor is much pleased to find that there has been so great an increase both in number and cost of these valuable works.

The Commissioners of divisions have not made any remarks regarding, nor have they assigned any reasons for, the very large increase which has been noticed; but the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that this large liberality has been evoked by the circumstances of the scarcity in 1873-74. His Honor has felt much gratified at finding that in a time of so great distress such a large number of the wealthy and well-to-do came forward to the relief of distress by carrying out works which afforded much-needed employment to the suffering

The usual letters of acknowledgment on the part of the Government in regard to the liberality of those who have executed important works will be issued; and it has afforded His Honor much satisfaction to be able to direct the issue of so many letters, and to be able to notice prominently in this review the names of so many native gentlemen, and the liberality which has been so marked.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, and of the statement, be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions, to the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, to all Superintending Engineers of Public Works Circles in Bengal, and to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution, and of the statement, be forwarded to the Revenue and Judicial Departments of this Government respectively, and to the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department of Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest,	Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest,	Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest,	Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 600 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1875-76, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1877, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 48,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

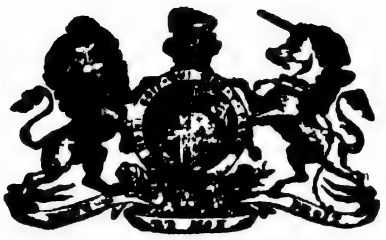
BOARD OF REVENUE, L. P., FORT WILLIAM, the 15th November 1876.



The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1876.

PART II.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by the Government, situated in the districts of Sonthal Pergunnahs, East Indian Railway, Chord Line, will be put up to sale at the Nawadi Staging Bungalow at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, the 13th December 1876, corresponding with 29th Aughrahan 1283, B. S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

3rd.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

DURBHANGA COLLECTORATE, the 3rd November 1876. A. P. MACDONNELL, Offg. Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given, under Section 6, Act XI of 1859, that the undermentioned estates in the district of Midnapore will be put up to public and unreserved sale at the Collector's office of that district on the 28th day of November 1876, corresponding with 14th Ughran 1283 B S. and 15th Ughran 1284 U S., for arrears of revenue and other demands, which, by the Regulations and Acts in force, are directed to be realized in the same manner as arrears of revenue, due on the 28th day of June 1876. The Government share of the estate, 3 annas 8 gundas 3 koras 8½ tils, under Section 10, Act XI of 1859, the sudder jumma of which is Rs. 530-3-5, having been left unpaid to the extent of Rs. 936-7-3 on the last mentioned date, was brought under sale by fixing the date of sale on the 20th of September 1876, and on that date, as no one came forward to bid for it, the sale was postponed for ten days, to allow the other shareholder of the estate to pay the arrears of Government revenue and thus purchase the Government portion, but as he would neither pay the Government due nor purchase it, the whole estate is therefore brought under sale under Section 14 of the Act to be sold on the above-mentioned date.

CALCUTTA GENL. POST OFFICE, the 26th October 1876.

Reduction of Passenger Fares on the Darjeeling Line.

IT has been determined further to reduce the fares upon this line. On and after the 1st December therefore the rates charged will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For an express or special carriage ...	60	0	0
One inside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	30	0	0

The above charges are for the entire journey from Karagola to Silligori or vice versâ.

The mileage charge will be reduced in proportion, i.e. an express carriage will be charged for at the rate of 8 annas a mile, an inside seat in an ordinary, 4 annas a mile, and a seat on the mail-cart 2 annas.

As it has been reported that it was the intension of Government to close this line at once, it is hereby notified that if the monthly returns shew that it is extensively used by the public, it will be kept running until the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE first Part of the "Indian Law Reports," published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, will appear as soon after the 1st January 1876 as can be arranged for. The Reports will appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series. The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

	Without postage.	With postage.
For the Calcutta Series...	Rs. 35	Rs. 40
,, Madras Series ...	,, 8	,, 9
,, Bombay Series...	,, 8	,, 9
,, Allahabad Series	,, 8	,, 9
Complete set	45	,, 50

The Price of each part purchased separately will vary according to the amount of matter it contains, and will be printed on the wrapper. It will, however, never be below the following:—

	Rs.	A.
For a part of the Calcutta Series ..	3	8
,, ,, Madras Series ...	1	0
,, ,, Bombay Series ...	1	0
,, ,, Allahabad Series ...	1	0
Complete set	4	0

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports, should apply to—

Messrs. Thacker, Spink and Co., Calcutta;
,, Thacker, Vining and Co.,
,, Higginbotham and Co, Madras;
The Government Central Book Depôt, Bombay;
The Government Book Depôt, Allahabad.

The publication of the Bengal Law Reports and the Madras, Bombay, and N. W. P. High Court Reports will cease on the completion of the volumes now in course of publication.

Subscribers to the Bengal Law Reports, who have already paid their subscriptions to the end of June 1876, will be supplied with the complete set of Reports for the first half of 1876 in lieu of the volume of the Bengal Law Reports which they would otherwise have received.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations, on the 18th November 1876, and was referred to a Select Committee, who are to report thereon in one month:—

A Bill to amend the Court of Wards' Act, 1870.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Court of Wards' Act, 1870: It is enacted as follows:—

Amendment of sections 1, 6, and 22 of Court of Wards' Act.

1. In sections one, six, and twenty-two of the Court of Wards' Act, 1870, the word "twenty-one" shall be substituted for "eighteen" wherever the latter word occurs.

Amendment of section 2 of Court of Wards' Act.

2. For section two of the Court of Wards' Act, 1870, the following section shall be substituted:—

Estates of disqualified proprietors not subject to sale.

"2. All proprietors of entire estates (other than proprietors who are subject to the jurisdiction as respects infants and lunatics of a High Court) who are, or may be, females not deemed by the court competent to the management of their own estates, or who are, or may be, minors, all sons of such females who are, or may be, minors, all joint proprietors of entire estates held in common tenancy who are, or may be, minors, and all proprietors of entire estates who for the time being are, or may be, of unsound mind, or otherwise incapable of managing their affairs by reason of any disqualifying natural or acquired defect, shall be subject to the superintendence and jurisdiction of the Court of Wards; and all estates, the property of any such disqualified proprietors, when taken charge of by the court of wards, shall, whilst they shall be under the superintendence and jurisdiction of the court, be exempt from sale for arrears of revenue.

Provided, however, that all arrears of revenue shall be the first charge upon the proceeds of such estate in case the same may be sold for any other cause while under such superintendence and jurisdiction."

Proviso to section 45 of Court of Wards' Act.

3. To section forty-five of the Court of Wards' Act, 1870, the following proviso shall be added—

"Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may at any time declare any manager to be no longer subordinate to the Collector, and may order him to be directly subordinate to the Court or to the Board of Revenue."

Addition to section 56 of Court of Wards' Act

4. To section fifty-six of the Court of Wards' Act, 1870, the following words shall be added—

"Except as provided in section thirty-one no guardian shall be appointed in any case in which the court may consider such appointment unnecessary."

5. For sections seventy-two, seventy-four, and seventy-five of the Court of Wards' Act, 1870, the following sections shall be substituted—

Amendment of sections 72, 74, and 75 of Court of Wards' Act.

"72. No suit shall be brought on behalf of any ward unless the same be authorized by some order of the Collector under whose superintendence the estate of such ward may be, or, if the Lieutenant-Governor has, under section forty-five, declared the manager of the estate of such ward to be directly subordinate to the Court or to the Board of Revenue, then by some order of the Court or the Board of Revenue, as the case may be. Provided that nothing herein shall be deemed or taken to apply to any suit instituted or depending in the High Court.

Suits not to be brought on behalf of minors.

"74. No adoption by any ward and no written or verbal permission to adopt given by any ward is to be deemed valid without the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor, obtained either previously or subsequently to such adoption or to the giving of such permission, on application made to him through the Court and Board of Revenue.

Adoption by ward invalid without consent of Lieutenant-Governor.

"75. Farmers and others holding tenures in estates in charge of the Court under the Collector (whether such tenures were created before the estate came under the charge of the Court or by the Collector after the estate came under such charge), shall be subject to the same rules, regulations, and Acts as are applicable to other persons holding similar tenures and interests under Collectors of the land revenue; but when the farm is held from the manager, these rules, regulations, and Acts shall not apply.

Tenures of wards' estates under Collector.

"All arrears of rent due to the Collector from farmers and others holding tenures in estates in charge of the Court which accrued before the estate came under the charge of the Court, shall be deemed to be demands under section 1 of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (an Act to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue), and shall be leviable as such."

6. The Lieutenant-Governor may order that the cost of superintendence of all estates under the charge of the Court shall be defrayed from a general contribution to be levied from such estates in such proportions as the Board of Revenue may direct.

Cost of superintendence of wards' estates.

The cost of superintendence of such estates shall be deemed to be

(a) the cost of any establishments which are entertained by the Collector and the Court for the purposes of such superintendence;

(b) the cost of such portion of the Legal Remembrancer's establishment as may be entertained for the purpose of superintending suits in which the Court is concerned;

and shall include, in the case of wards' estates situated in Behar, the salary of the Deputy Commissioner of wards' estates in Behar.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

SINCE the passing of the Court of Wards' Act (IV of 1870) experience has brought to light a few defects and omissions in the Act, which it is the object of the present Bill to remedy.

It is deemed advisable to extend the operation of the Act by including among disqualified proprietors the minor sons of females subject to the superintendence of the Court, and to enact expressly that all joint proprietors of entire estates held in common tenancy, who are minors, are subject to its superintendence.

At present the Act makes an adoption by a ward invalid without the previous consent of the Lieutenant-Governor, and the same rule applies to an authority to adopt. It has been found desirable that the Lieutenant-Governor should have the power of subsequently validating an adoption, or a permission to adopt, though his previous assent may not have been given, and the Bill accordingly contains an amendment in this sense.

The Act enables the Collector to apply the certificate procedure of Bengal Act VII of 1868 to the recovery of arrears of rent from farmers and others holding tenures in estates in charge of the Court direct from the Collector. As considerable difficulty has arisen from a recent ruling of the High Court limiting the application of the certificate procedure to cases where the Collector himself had created the tenure, a clause has been introduced which will make tenures created before the estate came under the charge of the Collector amenable to the certificate procedure of Act VII of 1868.

Some other amendments of minor importance are dealt with by the Bill. A provision is inserted enabling the Lieutenant-Governor to declare a manager directly subordinate to the Court or to the Board of Revenue. It has been made clear that the appointment of a guardian is optional. And power has been given to the Collector to authorize the institution of suits brought on behalf of a ward, an authority which was previously delegated to the Court alone. At present great inconvenience is caused by the necessity of obtaining the leave of the Court before any suit, however formal or unimportant, can be instituted.

Lastly, the local Government is empowered to levy from estates under the charge of the Court a general contribution to defray the cost of superintendence. This is the present practice, but it is apprehended that a specific provision of the law is necessary to obviate possible difficulty.

The 4th November 1876.

FREDERICK CLARKE,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Legislative Dept.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 18th November 1876, and was referred to a Select Committee, who are to report thereon in one month:—

A Bill to consolidate the Law relating to the Abkaree Revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the laws relating to the manufacture of spirits and the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs, and the collection of the revenue derived therefrom, should be consolidated: It is enacted as follows:— Preamble.

CHAPTER I.

Preliminary.

Short title. 1. This Act may be cited as "The Bengal Abkaree Law Consolidation Act," 1877.

Commencement. 2. It shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

Enactments repealed. 3. The enactments specified in the second schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof.

This repeal shall not revive any office, authority, or thing abolished by any such enactment, or affect the validity of anything done or suffered, or any right, title, obligation, or liability accrued before the commencement of this Act.

And all rules prescribed, appointments made, powers conferred, licenses granted, and notifications published under any such enactment, and all other rules (if any) now in force and relating to the matters hereinafter dealt with, shall (so far as they are consistent with this Act) be deemed to have been respectively prescribed, made, conferred, granted, and published hereunder.

And all references made to any such enactment shall, as far as may be practicable, be deemed to be made to this Act.

And all proceedings now pending, which may have been commenced under any such enactment, shall be deemed to be commenced under this Act.

Interpretation clause. 4. In this Act—unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

"Board." "Board" means the Board of Revenue for the provinces for the time being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

"Collector." "Collector" includes a Deputy Collector, or other Revenue officer in independent charge of a district, and a Superintendent of Abkaree Revenue.

"Commissioner." "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of a Revenue Division.

"Country spirit." "Country spirit" means any spirit made by the native process of distillation.

"Intoxicating drugs." "Intoxicating drugs" includes ganjah, bhang, churrus, and opium, and every preparation and admixture of the same.

"Local Government." "Local Government" means the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the time being, or the person acting in that capacity.

"Section." "Section" means a section of this Act.

"The Suburbs." "The Suburbs" means the Suburbs of Calcutta, as defined by the Lieutenant-Governor by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

"The Town." "The Town" means the Town of Calcutta, and includes all places within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

Extent of Chapters of Act. 5. Chapter II, save as provided in sections 41, 42, and 43, applies only to the Town of Calcutta; Chapter III applies to all the territories for the time being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, other than the Town of Calcutta; and Chapter IV applies to all the territories for the time being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, including the Town of Calcutta.

CHAPTER II.

ABKAREE ADMINISTRATION IN CALCUTTA.

Excise from retail sale of spirits, &c., in Calcutta to be under charge of the Collector of Calcutta. 6. The collection of the revenue arising from the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs within the Town shall be under the charge of the Collector of Calcutta, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control of the Commissioner and the Board, and all proceedings of the Collector held under this Chapter shall be subject, with or without appeal, to their revision.

Collector may appoint abkaree officers. 7. The Collector may appoint constables, darogahs, jemadars, burkundauzes, and other officers, for collection of the said revenue and prevention of smuggling; and the officers so appointed, beside their ordinary respective designations, shall be styled "Abkaree Officers."

Prohibition of unlicensed manufacture or sale of spirits, liquors, or drugs. 8. Every person who shall manufacture, or sell by retail, any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs specified in this Chapter, within the Town, without a license from the Collector, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for every such manufacture or sale; but this enactment shall not apply to the sale by wholesale dealers of such small quantities of beer, wines, or spirits as may appear to the Collector to be used only as samples.

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall affect the arrangements under which taree is supplied to retail vendors, or the sale of such article, or any preparation of the same, when supplied or used for the manufacture of goor or molasses.

9. A sale of English or foreign beer, wines or spirits, in any quantity, not exceeding two gallons, or of Bengal arrack or rum or other country spirit in any quantity, not exceeding two imperial gallons or twelve reputed quart bottles, or of taree in any quantity, not exceeding twelve seers, or of ganjah or bhang or any preparation or admixture of the same, in any quantity, not exceeding one quarter of a seer, or of churrus, opium, chundoo, or muddut, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in any quantity, not exceeding the weight of five tolahs, shall be deemed a retail sale within the meaning of this Chapter.

What to be deemed a retail sale.

10. The sale of Bengal arrack or rum, or other country spirit, or of taree, or of ganjah, or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, or of churrus, opium, chundoo, or muddut, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in quantities larger than those specified for each article in the last preceding section, is prohibited; and every person who shall act in breach of this prohibition shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; but this prohibition does not apply to the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs imported into Calcutta, under passes from the Collector, or other officer duly empowered in that behalf, and supplied by wholesale to licensed retail dealers, or to the sale of Bengal rum under bond for exportation by sea, or to the sale of opium intended for exportation by sea, and covered by a certificate to that effect, issued under the authority of the Board.

Sale of larger quantities than those specified, except by wholesale dealers under a pass to licensed retail dealers, &c., prohibited.

11. The Board shall have authority, at all times, to regulate the form of licenses to be granted under this Chapter, and to alter and add to the conditions thereof.

Board to regulate the form of licenses.

12. Every person taking out a license for the manufacture or sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs as aforesaid, shall execute a counterpart engagement in exact conformity with the tenor of such license.

Licensees to execute a counterpart engagement.

13. Whenever a license shall be granted under this Chapter the Collector shall be authorized to demand, in consideration of the privilege granted, such fee, tax, or duty as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board; or a fee, tax, or duty, adjusted or regulated in such manner and in accordance with such rules as the Board may prescribe; and such fee, tax, or duty shall be specified in the license, and shall be payable in advance or at such periods as the Board may direct.

Fee, tax, or duty payable for license.

14. The Collector may withhold or recall a license, if any such fee, tax, or duty be not duly paid, according to the conditions upon which the license is granted, or in case of a breach of any of the other conditions thereof, or with the sanction of the Commissioner for any other cause, giving one month's notice of such withdrawal; and any person selling, by retail, any spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs above specified, within the Town whilst such license is withheld, or after it is recalled, shall be subject to all the penalties provided by this Chapter for the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs.

License may be withheld or recalled on non-payment of fee, or for any other cause after one month's notice.

15. Any licensed retail dealer may surrender his license on giving fifteen days' previous notice to the Collector, and paying a sum equal to the tax for that time, over and above the sum payable under the license.

License may be surrendered on fifteen days' notice and payment of additional tax for that time.

16. The Collector, after demand made in writing, may levy any arrear of tax or duty, due on account of any license granted under this Chapter, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person from whom the same is due, provided that no such arrear shall be recoverable after the end of two years next after the same shall have become due, or next after an acknowledgment of the same in writing shall have been given by the person by whom the same is payable.

After demand in writing, arrears of tax may be levied by distress and sale, but not after two years.

17. A breach of any of the conditions of a license granted under this Chapter shall, beside entailing forfeiture of the license, be punishable by a fine not exceeding fifty rupees; and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer, notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant or other person in charge of the shop.

Penalty of fifty rupees besides forfeiture for breach of conditions. Dealer responsible for default of his servant.

18. Any person, not being a licensed dealer, having in his possession, and any person carrying within the Town any greater quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs above specified, or any preparation or admixture of the same, except English and foreign beer, wines, and spirits, than the quantity specified for each article in section 9, and not being protected by a pass or permit from the Collector, or other officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable to a fine, not exceeding five hundred rupees, except in the case of opium; and in the case of opium, to a fine to be fixed by the Board of Revenue for every district, not exceeding the selling price of opium in that district, for each seer found in the possession of, or carried by, such person; and if such last-mentioned fine shall not amount to five hundred rupees, such person shall be liable to a further fine, not exceeding such sum as shall make the total fine imposed amount to five hundred rupees.

Penalty of five hundred rupees for possessing a greater than the specified quantity of liquors, &c., without license or pass, except in case of opium, when the penalty may be sixteen rupees per seer.

19. Besides the penalties above specified for the illicit manufacture, sale, possession, and carrying of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, all the materials and implements used, or intended to be used, in the manufacture of the same, and all the liquors or drugs so manufactured, and all such liquors and drugs found in the possession of any offender contrary to the provisions of this Chapter, shall be seized and confiscated; and the vessels, packages, and coverings in which such liquors and drugs are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall also be liable to seizure and confiscation.

Additional penalties for illicit manufacture, sale, or possession of spirits, liquors, or drugs.

20. Any abkaree officer above the rank of a peon or chuprassy may enter and inspect at any time, by day or by night, and any abkaree officer may enter and inspect by day, the house or shop in which any licensed dealer shall carry on the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs.

Powers as to entry and inspection of licensed dealer's house.

21. Every person holding a license for the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, shall keep such license at the house or shop specified in the license, and shall shew the license on the demand of any abkaree officer who shall desire to see the same; and any licensed dealer who shall refuse, or be unable to produce his license, on the demand of any abkaree officer, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty of two hundred rupees not keeping license at the place licensed, or not showing it on demand.

22. Any abkaree or police officer may stop, detain, or arrest any person in whose possession may be found any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs not covered by such a pass as is required by this Chapter, or otherwise liable to confiscation, and may seize the liquors and drugs, with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which the liquors or drugs are found, and the animals and conveyances (if any) used in carrying them.

Power to arrest persons in possession of contraband liquors or drugs, and to seize the same.

23. Whenever the Collector has good reason to believe, either from information given by any person, which shall be taken down in writing, or from his own knowledge, or from the proceedings in any case, that spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs are being unlawfully manufactured or sold in any place, or that any such liquors or drugs which are liable to confiscation under this Chapter are kept or concealed in any place, the Collector may, by warrant under his hand, empower any abkaree officer above the rank of jemadar, by day or by night, but always in the presence of an officer of police not being under the grade of a head constable, to enter into any such place, and to seize and carry away all such liquors or drugs, and all the implements or materials used in the manufacture thereof, and in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, search, seizure, or removal as aforesaid, and to arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in the unlawful manufacture or sale, or in the unlawfully keeping or concealing of such liquors or drugs, whom he shall find on the premises:

Powers of search, seizure, and arrest vested in abkaree officers, under the authority of the Collector, in cases of illicit manufacture, sale, or possession of spirits, liquors, or drugs.

provided that, where there is ground to suspect that such liquors or drugs are unlawfully concealed in any zenana, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall follow, as closely as may be, the rules for the seizure of property so concealed adopted by the High Court.

24. The powers of seizure, search, and arrest given to abkaree officers by the last preceding section, shall also be exercised by any police officers who may be specially selected by the Commissioner of Police for such purpose; and the powers which are conferred upon the Collector by the said section, as regards the issue of warrants directed to abkaree officers, shall also be vested in the Commissioner of Police, in respect of the issue of warrants directed to police officers selected in the manner aforesaid; provided that it shall not be competent to the Collector to issue a warrant directed to a police officer, nor shall it be competent to the Commissioner of Police to issue a warrant directed to an abkaree officer.

Similar powers to be exercised by certain police officers.

25. Whenever any police officer, under the provisions of section 23 or of the last preceding section, shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, he shall carry the person arrested, or the illicit articles seized, or both, as the case may be, with all convenient despatch, to a Magistrate of Police, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Commissioner of Police, and the Commissioner of Police shall at once inform the Collector of the fact of the arrest or seizure, and of the circumstances of the case; and the Magistrate of Police shall proceed to adjudicate the case according to law.

Police officer to carry the person arrested and the articles seized to the Magistrate of Police, and to report to the Commissioner of Police.

Commissioner to inform Collector.

26. All constables and other ministerial officers of the peace are required to help the abkaree officers in the due execution of the provisions of this Chapter upon notice given or request made by any such abkaree officer: and any officer, who, without lawful excuse, shall refuse or neglect to assist as aforesaid on being required to do so, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Ministerial officers of the peace to assist abkaree officers on request.

27. Whenever any abkaree officer, duly authorized under this Chapter, shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, or shall enter any house or shop for the purpose of searching for such illicit articles, he shall carry the person arrested, with the illicit articles seized, with all convenient despatch, to the Collector, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Collector of all the particulars of such arrest, seizure, or search. And the Collector, after such further enquiry as he deems necessary, shall forthwith either release the person arrested, or send him in custody to a Justice of the Peace for the town of Calcutta.

Abkaree officer making arrest or seizure, or searching a house, to carry the person and property to the Collector. Collector may release or send to a Justice.

28. Every person who shall maliciously give false information against any person as being engaged in the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, or as having in his possession, or carrying, or in respect of there being in any house or shop any spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, in contravention of this Chapter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or to im-

Penalty of five hundred rupees or imprisonment for six months, or both, for maliciously giving false information.

prisonment in the common jail for a period not exceeding six months, or to both.

Penalty of five hundred rupees for obstructing any abkaree officer or person aiding him.

29. Every person who shall obstruct or molest any abkaree officer, or any person acting in aid of such officer, in the due execution of the provisions of this Chapter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; and such person shall be further liable, if an affray or breach of the peace shall happen in consequence of his resistance, on conviction of the same before a competent tribunal, to such punishment as is prescribed by law for cases of affray and breach of the peace, in addition to the penalty above prescribed for resistance of process.

Penalty on abkaree or police officer delaying to carry person arrested or articles seized to Collector or Magistrate.

30. Any abkaree officer who shall delay carrying to the Collector, and any Police officer who shall delay carrying to a Magistrate of Police, any person arrested or any illicit articles seized under this Chapter, and any Abkaree or Police officer who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search, within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty on abkaree or police officer for vexatious seizure or arrest.

31. Any Abkaree or Police officer who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for illicit spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, or who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess, not required for the execution of his duty under this Chapter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty of five hundred rupees on abkaree officer for connivance.

32. Any officer employed in the Abkaree Department, who shall unlawfully release or connive at the escape of any person arrested under this Chapter, or connive at the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, without license, or by any licensed dealer, contrary to the terms of such license, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty for the purpose of enabling any person to do any thing, whereby any of the provisions of this Chapter may be evaded or broken, or the abkaree revenue defrauded, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty of five hundred rupees on abkaree officer asking or taking a bribe, or on any person offering the same.

33. Any abkaree officer who shall ask or take any gratuity not authorized by any law or order of the Local Government, or of the Board, in consideration of doing, or of omitting to do any act in his official capacity, and any person, who shall offer a bribe to any such officer, in order to induce such officer to act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, shall be liable, for every such offence, to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Seizure to be determined summarily by Justice, on information exhibited by order of the Collector.

34. Whenever any goods or chattels shall be seized by an abkaree officer, as liable to confiscation under this Chapter, such seizure shall, upon information exhibited by order of the Collector, be heard and determined in a summary way by any Justice of the Peace for the town of Calcutta; and such Justice shall cause the persons to whom such goods and chattels belong to be summoned to appear before him, and upon their appearance or default shall examine into the cause of the seizure thereof and give judgment; and if such judgment shall be for confiscation of the goods or chattels seized, shall issue his warrant to the Collector for the sale or disposal thereof, according to such orders as the Collector may receive from the Board.

If no claimant appear before the Collector within a month after the seizure, Justice may confiscate the goods.

35. Whenever any goods or chattels shall be seized as aforesaid, and within one calendar month, no person shall appear before the Collector to claim the same, the Justice shall examine into the cause of the seizure, at a place and time of which notice shall have been given by the Collector in the Calcutta Gazette, and give judgment for the confiscation of such of the goods and chattels, as, upon such examination, shall appear to him liable to forfeiture; and, upon confiscation thereof, shall issue his warrant for the disposal of them as if the owner had been summoned to attend the said Justice.

Fines, except under section forty-one, to be adjudged by Justice; but not after three months from date of offence.

36. All fines leviable under this Chapter, except under section 98, shall be adjudged by any Justice of the Peace for the town of Calcutta, and the said Justice, upon information exhibited before him by order of the Collector, shall forthwith summon the parties accused, and upon their appearance or default, shall examine into the matter, and upon due proof made thereof, by the voluntary confession of the parties, or by the oath or solemn affirmation, in cases wherein a solemn affirmation is receivable by law instead of an oath, of one or more credible witnesses, shall give judgment accordingly; and in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be liable, by order of the said Justice, to imprisonment in the common jail, for a period not exceeding six months, or until the fine is sooner paid: and no proceedings shall be taken under this section by any Justice of the Peace after the expiration of three calendar months from the date of the offence by which the fine was incurred.

Additional penalty for second or subsequent offence.

37. Whenever any person shall be convicted before any such Justice as aforesaid of an offence against the provisions of this Chapter after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment in the common jail for a period not exceeding six months; and a like punishment of imprisonment, not exceeding six months, shall be incurred, in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence, upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

Disposal of confiscated articles.

38. All articles confiscated under this Chapter, except opium, shall be disposed of by public sale under such rules as the Board may prescribe in that behalf. Confiscated opium shall, after examination by a competent officer, be disposed of as the Board may direct by a special or general order.

39. When any penalty or confiscation shall be adjudged by a Justice of the Peace under this Chapter, the Commissioner and, in his absence, the Board within one month after judgment given, may call for the proceedings of the case (with which requisition the Justice of the Peace shall be bound to comply), and, if he or they shall see cause, may direct that the articles seized, or any part thereof, be restored, and may remit or mitigate any penalty, and discharge the party.

Commissioner may call for the proceedings within one month after judgment, and may give relief.

40. All actions and prosecutions to be commenced against the Collector or any abkaree officer, or any person acting in aid of any such officer, for any thing done in pursuance of the provisions of this Chapter, shall be commenced within three calendar months after the fact committed, and not afterwards; and notice in writing of such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be given to the defendant one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action; and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or if after action brought, a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into court, with costs, by or on behalf of the defendant.

Actions for anything done under this Chapter to be commenced within three months, and one month's notice to be given.

41. Any chemist, druggist, apothecary, or keeper of a dispensary within the Town or the Suburbs or in Howrah, who shall between sunset and sunrise, allow spirituous or fermented liquors, which have not been bonâ fide medicated, to be drunk on his business premises by any person not employed in his business, and any such person who shall, between sunset and sunrise, drink such liquors on such premises, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, in addition to any other penalty to which he may be liable under this Chapter or any other Act; and any abkaree or Police officer above the rank of peon or chuprassee, who may have reason to believe that the provisions of this section are being infringed, may enter upon such premises and seize and carry away such liquors, and, in case of resistance, break open any door, and force and remove any other obstacle to such entry or seizure, and arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the said premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in such unlawful drinking; and upon such seizure or arrest as aforesaid, the abkaree officer and Collector shall deal with such liquors or persons as provided in section 27, and the Police officer and a Magistrate of Police shall deal with them as provided in section 25.

Penalty on chemist, &c., allowing liquors to be drunk on the premises.

Abkaree or Police Officer may arrest persons drinking and seise liquors.

42. No person shall be entitled to maintain any action or suit for, or recover in any court of law, any sum or sums of money, debt, or demand whatsoever, for or on account of any spirituous or fermented liquor, or intoxicating drug not supplied for medicinal purposes, sold within the Town or the Suburbs or in Howrah, unless such debt shall have been bonâ fide contracted at one time, to the amount of ten rupees or upwards; and no item in any account or demand in any such suit for such articles of drink or such drug shall be allowed or maintained in any court of law as aforesaid, where the said articles delivered at one time, and mentioned in such item, shall not amount to the value of at least ten rupees, and that without fraud or collusion; provided that nothing herein contained shall effect any action brought to recover any sums for such spirituous or fermented liquors sold to be consumed elsewhere than on the premises in quantities not less at any one time than a reputed quart; provided also that nothing herein contained shall affect any action brought by a hotel-keeper to recover any sums for any articles of drink consumed by persons who were, at the time when such articles were supplied, residing on the premises.

Petty debts for liquors and drugs not recoverable by action.

43. Any person (whether holding a license or otherwise) selling spirituous or fermented liquor, or intoxicating drugs for other than medicinal purposes, within the Town or the Suburbs or in Howrah, who shall take a pledge from any person by way of security for the payment of any sum of money owing by such person for such liquor or such drugs, shall be liable, upon conviction, to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees; and the person to whom such pledge belongs shall have the same remedy for recovering the same as if it had never been pledged.

Prohibition to take articles in pledge for liquor or drugs.

CHAPTER III.

ABKAREE ADMINISTRATION IN BENGAL.

44. The collection of the revenue arising from the manufacture of spirits, and the sale of spirits and spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs, shall be ordinarily under the charge of the Collectors, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control and direction of the Commissioners and of the Board. But the Government may appoint any other person to be Superintendent of Abkaree Revenue in any district or place; and any person so appointed shall exercise, in such district or place, all the powers and authority vested by this Chapter in the Collector, and such powers and authority shall cease to be exercised in such district or place by the Collector during the continuance of such appointment.

Collectors to have charge of the Abkaree Revenue.

45. The Local Government may also appoint a Commissioner or Commissioners for the control and direction of the officers having charge of the Abkaree revenue in any district or districts; and when such appointment is made, the Commissioner of Abkaree shall exercise within such district or districts the powers and authority vested by this Chapter in Commissioners of Revenue; and the Revenue Commissioner shall cease to exercise such powers and authority in the said district or districts during the continuance of such appointment.

Government may appoint Commissioners of Abkaree.

46. Collectors may appoint darogahs, jemadars, peons, surveyors, gaugers, and other officers, for the collection of the Abkaree revenue and for the prevention of smuggling, and the officers so appointed shall, in addition to their ordinary designations, be styled "Abkaree Officers."

Collectors may appoint Abkaree officers.

Tehsildars may be Abkaree darogahs.

In districts where there are tehsildars and other local officers for the collection of the Land Revenue, the office of Abkaree darogah may be united with that of tehsildar, naibtehsildar, or peshkar; and in such cases, the tehsildar, naib-tehsildar, or peshkar, and the officers subordinate to him, shall be held and deemed to be abkaree officers within the meaning of this Chapter.

Spirituous and fermented liquors not to be sold without license.

47. Spirituous liquors passed from distilleries worked according to the English method, fermented liquors manufactured at a licensed brewery, and spirituous and fermented liquors imported either by land or by sea, shall not be sold except under license from the Collector.

Fee for wholesale license.

48. Persons taking out licenses for the wholesale vend of spirituous and fermented liquors as aforesaid shall pay, for every such license, the sum of sixteen rupees. The license shall be current only during the official year, and in the district in which it is granted. But travelling merchants may obtain a general license, authorizing them to sell by wholesale, in any district which they may visit in the course of their travel, without taking out a fresh license for that district, under such rules and restrictions as may be, from time to time, prescribed by the Board.

Fee, tax, or duty, payable for retail license.

49. Persons taking out licenses for the retail sale of spirituous and fermented liquors as aforesaid shall pay for every such license such fee, tax, or duty as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board, or a fee, tax, or duty, adjusted or regulated in such manner and in accordance with such rules as the Board may prescribe; and such fee, tax, or duty, shall be specified in the license, and shall be payable in advance or at such periods as the Board may direct. Any sale of spirituous or fermented liquors as aforesaid in less quantity than two imperial gallons or one dozen of reputed quart bottles shall be held to be a retail sale.

What to be held a retail sale.

Country spirits, liquors, and drugs not to be sold without license.

50. It shall not be lawful for any person to manufacture spirits after the native process, nor to sell such spirits, or taree, or puchwai, or ganjah, bhang, churrus, opium, or any preparation or admixture of the same, except under license from the Collector.

Taree to be held to be a fermented liquor.

51. All the provisions relating to the sale or possession of fermented liquors contained in the following sections of this Chapter shall be held applicable to the sale or possession of taree, whether in a fermented state or otherwise; and all taree, both fresh and fermented, shall be held to be included in the expression "fermented liquors" as used in the following sections of this Chapter; provided that the Local Government may, on the report of the Board, pass an order suspending the operation of all the provisions relating to taree contained in this Chapter with respect to any district in which the consumption of taree in a fermented state is inconsiderable; and after the passing of any such order, it shall be lawful for taree to be possessed and sold without license in any such district, notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter.

Collectors may establish distilleries for country spirits.

52. The Collector, with the sanction of the Board, may establish, at any place within his jurisdiction, a distillery in which spirits may be manufactured after the native process; and may from time to time fix limits within which no country spirits, except such as are manufactured at the said distillery, shall be introduced or sold without a special pass from the Collector, and within which no stills shall be constructed or worked, or spirits manufactured, except at the said distillery. He may also, with the like sanction, discontinue any distillery so established, whenever its discontinuance may appear to be expedient.

Board may prescribe rules for distilleries.

53. The Board may prescribe such rules relative to the management of distilleries established under the last preceding section, to the conditions on which spirits may be manufactured in the said distilleries, and to the passes to be issued for the conveyance of such spirits to the shops of the vendors, as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Board may prescribe rules to regulate the supply of fermented liquors to licensed vendors, and the cultivation, preparation, storing, possession and transport of intoxicating drugs.

54. The Board may, with the sanction of the Local Government, from time to time prescribe rules consistent with this Act, for regulating the mode in which fermented liquors shall be supplied to licensed vendors of the same;

for subjecting the cultivation of plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, and the preparation of the said drugs, to such restrictions and supervision as may be deemed necessary to secure the duty leviable thereon; and for granting licenses or passes to persons cultivating, preparing, storing, possessing, purchasing, or transporting the said plants or drugs.

All such rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and when so published, shall have effect as if they were contained in this Act.

Every person who refuses, or neglects to obey, or contravenes any rule issued and sanctioned under the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Supply of opium to licensed vendors.

55. Opium shall be supplied to licensed vendors from the Government stores in such manner and at such prices as the Board may direct: and no other description of opium shall be sold by such vendors. Provided that the Local Government may exempt any district or districts from the operation of this section.

Sale of more than specified quantities of country spirits, &c., prohibited.

56. Except for the supply of licensed vendors, country spirits, taree, and puchwai, and intoxicating drugs, shall not be sold in larger quantities than are hereunder specified—namely, country spirits, two imperial gallons or twelve reputed quart bottles; taree or puchwai, twelve seers; ganjah or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, one quarter of a seer; churrus or opium, or any preparation or admixture of the same, five tolahs weight; and the sale of any such quantity as is herein allowed shall be deemed to be a retail sale within the meaning of this Chapter.

Duty on the retail sale of country spirits, &c.

57. Whenever a license for the retail sale of country spirits, taree, or puchwai, or intoxicating drugs, shall be granted under this Chapter, the Collector shall be authorized to demand, in consideration of the privilege granted, such tax or duty or a tax or duty adjusted on such principles, as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board; and such tax or duty shall be specified in the license, and shall be payable at such periods as the Board may direct.

The Collector may grant special licenses for the sale of unfermented taree only, at those periods of the year when the fresh juice is in request: fees may be demanded for such special licenses at a rate not exceeding one rupee for each license; and the vendors shall not be subject to any other tax or duty in respect of such sale.

Licensed retail vendors of country spirits to furnish security.

58. Every person taking out a license for the manufacture of country spirits or for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, shall execute a counterpart engagement in conformity with the tenor of the license, and shall give such security for the performance of his engagement, or make such deposit in lieu of security as the Collector may require.

Duration and renewal of license.

59. Unless otherwise specially authorized by the Board, licenses for retail sale shall be granted for the term of one year, and if continued to the holders thereof, shall be formally renewed from year to year. But it shall be incumbent on every person holding a license, who may intend not to renew it, to give notice of his intention to the Collector fifteen days previously to the expiration of the year; and if such notice be not given, and the license be not recalled by the Collector, the license held, and engagement entered into by every such person, shall remain in force as if the said license and engagement had been formally renewed.

Board to regulate form of license.

60. The Board shall have authority to regulate the form and conditions of all licenses granted under this Chapter.

License may be recalled in certain cases.

61. The Collector may recall or cancel any license granted under this Chapter, if the tax or duty therein specified be not duly paid, or in case of a violation of any other condition thereof, or of the holder being convicted of a breach of the peace or any other criminal offence.

If the Collector desire to recall a license for any cause other than those above specified, he shall give fifteen days' previous notice and remit a sum equal to the tax for fifteen days, or if notice be not given, shall make such further compensation for default of notice as the Commissioner or Board shall direct.

Surrender of license.

62. Any licensed retail vendor may surrender his license on giving fifteen days' previous notice to the Collector, and paying a sum equal to the tax for fifteen days over and above the sum payable under the license.

Recovery of arrears of tax or duty.

63. The Collector may recover any arrear of tax or duty due on account of any license granted under this Chapter, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person from whom the same is due or of his surety, or by any other process which is or may be in force for the recovery of arrears of revenue due from farmers of land or their sureties.

Penalty for refusing to produce license on demand of abkaree officer or for breach of license.

64. Every person licensed to manufacture country spirits or to sell spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, who shall not produce his license on the demand of any abkaree officer, or who shall commit any act in breach of any of the conditions of his license not otherwise provided for in this Chapter, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Penalty for sale in contravention of license.

65. Every licensed retail vendor, who shall sell any larger quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, than is allowed to be sold by retail by the provisions of this Chapter, and every licensed wholesale vendor who shall make a retail sale, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Provided that nothing in this section shall be held to prohibit the grant to the same person of both wholesale and retail licenses, subject to the provisions of this Chapter.

Penalty for permitting drunkenness, &c., in shop.

66. Every person licensed to sell spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, who shall permit drunkenness, riot, or gaming in his shop, or shall permit persons of notoriously bad character to meet or remain therein, or shall receive any wearing apparel or other effects in barter for liquors or drugs, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for conveying country spirits from distillery without pass, &c.

67. Every person who shall convey or attempt to convey any country spirits from a distillery established under section 52 without a pass, or exceeding the quantity for which a pass shall have been granted, or shall introduce or attempt to introduce any country spirits manufactured at another place into the limits fixed for the consumption of spirits manufactured at such distillery, without a special pass from the Collector, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for contravention of rules prescribed by the Board.

68. Every person who shall wilfully contravene any rule prescribed by the Board for the management of a distillery established as aforesaid, otherwise than as provided for in the last preceding section, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Penalty for illicit manufacture or sale of country spirits, &c.

69. Every person other than a licensed manufacturer, who shall manufacture any country spirits, and every person other than a licensed vendor, or a person duly authorized to supply licensed vendors, who shall sell any spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, and every person authorized to supply licensed vendors, who shall sell any such liquors or drugs to any person other than a licensed vendor, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Provided that nothing contained in this section or in section 48, shall apply to the sale by auction of any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer purchased by any person for his private use and so disposed of upon such person quitting a station or after his decease.

Penalty for illegal possession of country spirits, &c.

70. Every person, other than a licensed manufacturer or vendor, or a person duly authorized to supply licensed vendors, who shall have in his possession any larger quantity of country spirits, or taree, or puchwai, or intoxicating drugs, except opium, than may legally be sold by retail under the provisions of section 57, or shall transport by land or by water, or have in his possession, any spirituous liquors made at a distillery worked according to the English method, or any imported spirituous or fermented liquors, in larger quantity than two gallons, without a pass from the Collector or other Officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees; and the liquors and drugs, together with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which they are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

Nothing contained in this section shall apply to any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer, purchased by any person for his private use and not for sale.

Provisions of the two last preceding sections not to apply to the sale or possession of taree used in making sugar; nor to the sale or possession of intoxicating drugs by licensed cultivators.

71. The provisions of the two last preceding sections, so far as they relate to the sale and possession of fermented liquors, do not apply to the sale and possession of taree, the produce of the date tree, when supplied or used for the manufacture of goor or molasses; and the provisions of the said sections relating to the sale and possession of intoxicating drugs, do not apply to the sale or possession of such drugs by any person duly authorized under this Chapter to cultivate the plants which produce these drugs;

Penalty for sale or transfer by cultivators to unlicensed person, or for failure to account for stock of plant in possession.

provided that every such cultivator selling or parting with any such plant, or any preparation made therefrom, to any person other than a licensed vendor, or person duly authorized to purchase the same by pass or license from the Collector, or failing to account for any quantity of such plant, or of any preparation thereof, which shall have been in his possession, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for having in possession a greater quantity of opium than five tolahs weight.

72. Every person, other than a licensed vendor, who shall have in his possession a greater quantity of opium than five tolahs weight, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, unless the opium found in the possession of such person shall exceed the weight of thirty-one seers and a quarter, in which case the fine may be increased at a rate per seer to be fixed by the Board of Revenue for every district, not exceeding the selling price of opium in that district, for all the opium so found in excess of that weight; and the opium, together with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which it is found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying it, shall be liable to confiscation.

Exception in favor of—

73. Nothing contained in the last preceding section shall extend to the persons and circumstances hereinafter specified, namely:—

Opium cultivators;

1. Authorized opium cultivators having newly extracted opium in their possession during the usual period between the full growth of the poppy and the delivery of the produce to the Opium Agent.

Travellers;

2. Travellers and visitants from foreign States or countries having in their possession any quantity of foreign opium not exceeding two seers, the produce of such States and countries, and intended for the private use of such travellers and visitants, or their attendants, and not for sale or traffic.

And horse-dealers.

3. Dealers in horses travelling with strings of horses from beyond the south-west frontier of the territories for the time being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and having in their possession opium, the produce of foreign States or countries, not exceeding in quantity the proportion of ten tolahs weight for each horse.

Penalty for possession of excessive quantity of opium by travellers, &c.

If opium be found in the possession of any traveller or visitant, or any dealer in horses as aforesaid, in excess of the quantities above specified, such excess shall be liable to confiscation, but the persons in whose possession it may be found shall not be subject to any further penalty.

Penalty for sale of adulterated opium, &c., by licensed vendors.

74. Every licensed vendor, who shall sell or offer for sale opium adulterated with any foreign substance, not being a preparation or admixture of opium for the sale of which such vendor may have taken out a license, or, except in districts exempted from the operation of section 55, shall sell or have in his possession any opium other than the opium supplied to him from the Government stores, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and the license held by him shall be withdrawn, and the opium, together with the vessels or packages in which it is found, shall be seized and confiscated.

Penalty for conniving at the illicit manufacture or sale of spirits, &c.

75. Every proprietor, farmer, tehsildar, gomashtah, or other manager of land, who shall authorize or connive at the manufacture of country spirits or the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Power of abkaree officers to inspect shops.

76. Any abkaree officer may enter and inspect at any time by day or by night the shop or premises in which any licensed manufacturer or retail vendor shall carry on the manufacture of country spirits, or the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs.

And to arrest persons carrying spirits, &c., liable to confiscation.

77. Any abkaree officer may stop and detain any person carrying any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Chapter; and may seize the liquors or drugs with the vessels, packages, or coverings in which they are contained, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them; and may also arrest the person in whose possession such liquors or drugs are found.

And to arrest unlicensed distillers, &c.

78. Any abkaree officer superior in rank to a peon may arrest any person having in his possession an unlicensed still, or any spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, liable to confiscation under this Chapter, or engaged in the unlawful sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, and may seize such still with the materials for working it, and all such liquors and drugs.

Power of abkaree officers to search on information of illicit manufacture or possession.

79. Whenever any abkaree officer superior in rank to a peon shall have good reason to believe, from information given by any person, which information shall be taken down in writing, that spirits are unlawfully manufactured, or that any spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Chapter, are kept or concealed in any house, boat, or other place, such officer may, between sunrise and sunset, but always in the presence of a darogah or other officer of Police not being under the grade of a jemadar, enter into any such house, boat, or place, and in case of resistance may break open any door, and force and remove any other obstacle to such entry; and may seize and carry away all stills and materials used in the manufacture of such spirits and all such liquors and drugs; and may also arrest the occupier of the house, boat, or place with all other persons concerned in the manufacture of such spirits, or in the keeping and concealing of such liquors or drugs.

Officers of the Police, Customs, and Revenue Departments may be vested with same powers as abkaree officers.

80. The powers of seizure, search, and arrest given to abkaree officers by the three last preceding sections, shall, in regard to the seizure and search for contraband opium and the arrest of persons found in possession thereof, be vested also in the officers of the Police, Customs, and Revenue Departments according to their respective grades. And the Local Government may invest the officers of those departments, or of any of them, with the like powers with respect to the seizure of, and search for, spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs of every description, and the arrest of persons found in possession of them; and all such officers when so empowered, as well as all Police, Customs, and Revenue officers when acting under the authority conferred by this section for the suppression of illicit dealings in opium, shall be held and deemed to be abkaree officers within the meaning of this Chapter.

Abkaree officer to report every arrest, seizure or search to his official superior, and to take the person arrested to the Magistrate for trial, &c.

81. Whenever an abkaree officer shall arrest any person, or seize any still, or any liquors or drugs liable to confiscation under this Chapter, or enter any house, boat, or place for the purpose of searching for any such illicit articles, he shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report of all the particulars of such arrest, or seizure, or search, to his official superior, and unless acting under the warrant of the Collector, shall carry the person arrested, or the illicit article seized, with all convenient despatch, to the Magistrate for trial or adjudication.

Collector may issue warrant of arrest in certain cases.

82. The Collector may issue his warrant for the arrest of any person whom he may have reason to believe, either from information in writing, or from the proceedings in any other case, to be engaged in the unlawful sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, or to have in his possession any such liquors or drugs liable to confiscation under this Chapter.

Collector may issue search-warrant.

83. The Collector may issue his warrant for the search of any house, boat, or other place, in which, upon any of the grounds mentioned in the last preceding section, he may have reason to believe that spirits are unlawfully manufactured, or that spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, liable to confiscation under this Chapter, are kept or concealed, and such warrant may be executed by any officer above the rank of a jemadar of peons, in the manner prescribed in section 80.

Procedure after arrest or seizure.

84. Whenever any person is arrested, or any articles are seized under the warrant of a Collector, the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, shall send the person arrested or the articles seized to the Magistrate, or shall order the immediate discharge of such person or the release of such articles.

Penalty for obstructing abkaree officers.

85. Every person who shall obstruct or resist any abkaree officer in the due execution of this Chapter, or of any rules prescribed under the authority thereof, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Police officers to assist abkaree officers.

Penalty.

86. All Police officers are required to aid the abkaree officers in the due execution of this Chapter upon notice given or request made by such officers; and any Police officer who, without lawful excuse, shall neglect or refuse to assist as aforesaid, and any darogah or other officer in charge of a Police station, who, on application made by an abkaree officer under section 80, shall fail to attend a search himself, or to depute a subordinate officer, not being below the grade of a jemadar, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for maliciously giving false information.

Penalty for vexatious search or seizure.

88. Any abkaree officer who shall, without reasonable ground of suspicion, search or cause to be searched any house, boat, or other place, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for any spirituous liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Chapter, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, which sum, or any portion thereof, may be paid to the person aggrieved.

Penalty on Abkaree officers for delay in reporting arrest, &c., or in carrying person arrested to Magistrate or Collector.

89. Any abkaree officer who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, or shall delay carrying to the Magistrate or Collector, as the case may be, any person arrested, or any illicit articles seized under this Chapter, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for conniving at escape of persons arrested, &c.

90. Any abkaree officer who shall unlawfully release or connive at the escape of any person arrested under this Chapter, or connive at the manufacture of spirits or the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person, or by any licensed person, contrary to the terms of his license, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, for the purpose of enabling any person to do anything whereby any of the provisions of this Chapter may be evaded or broken, or the Abkaree Revenue defrauded; and any Darogah of Police or other officer invested with local jurisdiction, who shall authorize, or connive at the establishment of any unlicensed shop for the sale of such liquors or drugs as aforesaid in any place subject to his control, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for asking or taking gratuities.

91. Any abkaree officer who shall ask or take any unauthorized gratuity in consideration of doing or omitting to do any act in his official capacity, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Adjudication of penalties and seizures.

92. All penalties prescribed for offences against the provisions of this Chapter, and all seizures of goods declared liable to confiscation under this Chapter, shall be adjudged by the Magistrate on the information of the Collector or any abkaree officer.

Provided that no such information shall be necessary in any case of complaint preferred to a Magistrate under any of the seven last preceding sections or under section 66.

Procedure in cases other than those of persons sent in custody by a Collector or Abkaree officer.

93. In all cases in which complaint or information is preferred to a Magistrate of offences committed against the provisions of this Chapter, not being cases in which persons are sent in custody by a Collector or abkaree officer, the Magistrate shall issue a summons requiring the attendance of the person accused.

Provided that no complaint or information of an offence against the provisions of this Chapter shall be admitted unless it be preferred within the period of six months after the commission of the offence to which the complaint or information refers.

Punishment on second or subsequent conviction.

94. Whenever any person shall be convicted of an offence against the provisions of this Chapter, after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months; and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months shall be incurred, in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence, upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

Imprisonment may be in the civil or criminal jail.

95. Every person who shall be imprisoned under the last preceding section, or on account of the non-payment of any fine levied under this Chapter, if the offence of which he has been convicted be one with respect to which the information of the Collector or an abkaree officer is required by section 92, may be confined either in the civil or in the criminal jail.

Disposal of confiscated articles.

96. All articles confiscated under this Chapter, except opium, shall be disposed of by public sale under such rules as the Board may prescribe in that behalf. Confiscated opium shall, after examination by a competent officer, be disposed of as the Board may direct by a special or general order.

Fines undisposed of to belong to Local Government.

Special rewards to informers.

97. All fines levied under this Chapter, the disposal of which is not specially provided for, shall belong to the Local Government; but the Board may appropriate any portion thereof, not exceeding one-half, for rewarding informers, or for compensating persons subjected to annoyance or injury by any proceedings under this Chapter.

Penalty for contempt of Court.

98. The Collector in respect of the duties to be performed by him under this Act, shall have power to punish any contempt committed in his presence in open court by fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment in the common or civil jail for a period not exceeding one month.

99. The Collector may, with the sanction of the Board, let in farm, for any period not exceeding five years, the duties leviable on the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs, or any description of such liquors or drugs, in any pergunnah or other known division of a district.

Collector with the sanction of the Board may farm out the duties leviable on the sale of spirits, &c., except opium.

100. The Board may prescribe rules for the invitation and acceptance of tenders for such farms, and for the requisition of security for the due fulfilment of the engagements entered into by the farmers. The Board may also regulate the form and conditions of lease; and any breach of those conditions shall render the lease liable to annulment.

Board to regulate invitation and acceptance of tenders for such farm.

101. When the duties leviable on any of the articles above enumerated are let in farm, the farmer shall be at liberty to make his own arrangements with the manufacturers and vendors within the limits of his farm; and all the penalties and forfeitures prescribed by this Chapter for the unlawful manufacture, sale, or possession of any such article, shall be incurred by all persons manufacturing, selling, or possessing the same without license or authority from the farmer.

The farmer to make his own arrangements with the manufacturers and vendors within the limits of his farm.

Provided that every such farmer shall be required to file in the Collector's office a list of all the licenses granted by him in such form as may be prescribed by the Board.

List of licenses granted by farmer to be filed.

Provided also that the Collector may, with the sanction of the Board, before entering into engagements for any such farm, make such reservations or restrictions with respect to the grant of licenses as may be deemed proper and expedient.

Restrictions with respect to grant of licenses.

102. The Collector may, with the sanction of the Board, cancel any lease granted under this Chapter, or, within the period of the lease, impose any new restriction on the farmer. If a lease be cancelled for any cause other than a breach on the part of the farmer of the conditions of the lease, or if any reservation or restriction with respect to the grant of licenses be imposed within the period of the lease, the farmer shall be entitled to receive such compensation for any loss which he may sustain thereby as the Board shall think just and proper.

Lease may be cancelled. Compensation to farmers in certain cases.

103. The provisions of section 63 shall be applicable to any arrear that may be due from any farmer of Abkaree Revenue; and every such farmer shall be authorized and empowered to use the same means and processes for the recovery of any arrear of tax or duty due to him from any authorized vendor, which may be lawfully used by zemindars and farmers of land for the recovery of arrears of rent due to them from their under-tenants.

Recovery of arrears of tax or duty from or by farmers.

104. Within the limits of any Military Cantonment, and within a circle drawn at a distance of two miles, or such other distance as may in any case be prescribed by the Local Government from such limits, licenses for the manufacture of spirits, and for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors shall not be granted, nor shall the duties leviable upon such spirits and liquors be let in farm, otherwise than with the knowledge and consent of the Commanding Officer: and upon the requisition of such Officer, any license which may have been granted, either by the Collector or by a farmer, within such circle or limits, shall be immediately withdrawn.

Rules respecting the manufacture and sale of spirits, &c., in Military Cantonments.

105. In all other respects the foregoing provisions of this Chapter shall have full force and effect within such circle and limits as aforesaid.

Mode of making arrest or search within Military Cantonments.

Provided that, when arrest or search is to be made within the limits of any Cantonment, the Collector or other Officer authorized under this Chapter to make arrest or search shall, whenever it may be practicable, give previous notice to the Commanding Officer, and in all other cases shall report the arrest or search to such Commanding Officer with as little delay as possible.

Provided also that nothing herein contained shall affect or interfere with the provisions of Act XXII of 1864 (an Act to make provision for the Administration of Military Cantonments).

106. In the districts in which the poppy is cultivated on account of Government, the Deputy Opium Agents and Sub-Deputy Agents shall exercise the powers vested by this Chapter in Collectors, so far as the same relate to the suppression of illegal dealings in opium; and the officers of the Opium Department shall exercise the powers vested by this Chapter in abkaree officers for the seizure of illicit opium and the arrest of persons found in possession thereof, and in respect to such seizures and arrests, shall be held and deemed to be abkaree officers within the meaning of this Chapter.

Powers vested in officers of the Opium Department.

107. All the provisions of this Chapter which relate to puchwai, shall apply to any fermented liquor other than those specified in the said Chapter.

Provisions relating to puchwai applicable to fermented liquors not mentioned in the Chapter.

Provided that the Local Government may, within any specified district or tract of country, exempt any fermented liquor from the provisions of this Chapter.

108. It shall not be lawful for any person to cultivate plants, from which intoxicating drugs are produced, without a license from the Collector of the district in which such plants are cultivated; and any person who shall so cultivate, or in any way cause, encourage, or promote such illegal cultivation, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; and the plant so cultivated shall be liable to seizure and confiscation.

Prohibition of unlicensed cultivation of plants producing intoxicating drugs, and of abetment of the same.

CHAPTER IV.

109. It shall not be lawful for any person to construct or work a distillery after the manner in which distilleries are constructed and worked in England, without a license under the signature of the Collector of the district in which such distillery is situated, or in case the distillery is within twenty miles of Calcutta, or such other distance less than twenty miles, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government, under the signature of the Collector of Calcutta.

English distilleries not to be constructed or worked without license.

Board to prescribe rules for regulating English distilleries.

110. The Board, with the sanction of the Local Government, may prescribe such rules relative to the granting of licenses under the last preceding section, to the notices to be given by the proprietor of a licensed distillery when he commences and discontinues work, to the size and description of the stills, to the passing and storing of the spirits, to the inspection and examination of the distillery and warehouses, and of the spirits manufactured and stored therein, and to the furnishing of statements and lists of such spirits, and of the stills, coppers, casks, and other utensils used in the distillery, as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Rate of duty to be levied on spirits.

111. A duty shall be levied on spirits manufactured at distilleries worked according to the English method, at the rate of four rupees the imperial gallon of the strength of London-proof, and the duty shall be rateably increased as the strength exceeds London-proof. No spirit shall be removed from any such distillery, or the warehouses connected therewith, upon which the aforesaid duty has not been paid, or for the duty chargeable on which a bond has not been executed; and for all spirits removed upon payment of duty or under bond, passes shall be issued by the Collector, which shall specify the quantity and strength of the spirit, the place of its destination, the person to whom it is consigned, and whether the duty has been paid or secured by bond.

Drawback on exportation.

112. A drawback of the duty paid as above on spirits manufactured after the English method, and exported by sea in the manner hereinafter prescribed, to any port not subject to the Government of India or to any port in the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, or to the Port of Aden, shall be allowed by the Collector of Customs at the port of exportation. Provided always that the exportation shall be made within one year from the date of the payment of duty under this Chapter, and that the spirits, when brought to the Custom House, shall be accompanied by the pass in which such payment is certified.

Rules to be observed in the exportation of spirits.

113. Spirits brought to the Custom House for exportation by sea shall, previous to shipment, be gauged and proved by an officer of the Customs. The amount of drawback to be allowed upon spirits for which duty has been paid shall be regulated according to the strength and quantity of the said spirits, as ascertained by such proof and gauge; and the quantity of spirits, for which credit is to be given in the settlement of any bond, shall be determined in the same manner. Spirits under bond shall be taken from the distillery direct to the Custom House, under passes to be granted for that purpose by the Collector.

Duty to be recovered on any deficiency in spirits under bond.

114. When spirits are passed from a distillery under bond, duty shall be recoverable upon any difference between the quantity of spirits so passed from the distillery and the quantity ascertained by gauge and proof at the Custom House, less such allowance for ullage and leakage as may be prescribed by the Board.

Spirits intended for exportation may be removed for local consumption.

115. Spirits brought to the Custom House under bond for exportation may nevertheless be removed for local consumption under passes to be granted for that purpose by the Collector of Revenue upon payment of the prescribed duty on the quantity so removed; and credit for such payment shall be given on the settlement of the bond.

Recovery of sums due under bond.

116. Any sum which may remain due to Government upon the settlement of a bond executed according to the provisions of this Chapter, may be recovered by any process which is or may be in force for the recovery of arrears of revenue due from farmers of land or their sureties, or by suit on the bond in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Spirits how to be shipped.

117. No drawback shall be allowed on any duty-paid spirits, nor shall the duty due on any spirits under bond be remitted, unless the spirits shall be shipped from the Custom House, and upon a vessel to which a Custom House officer has been appointed to superintend the receipt of export cargo.

Spirits shipped for exportation not to be relanded.

Spirits shipped for exportation shall not be relanded without a special pass from the Collector of Revenue in addition to the usual order of the Collector of Customs.

No drawback on spirits exported to Indian ports or shipped as stores.

118. No drawback shall be allowed on spirits exported to any port subject to the Government of India, other than the ports mentioned in section 112, or on spirits shipped as stores.

Rum shrub, &c., how to be charged with duty—may be exported under the same rules as spirits.

119. Rum shrub, cordials, and other liquors, prepared in a licensed distillery under the supervision of the surveyor or officer in charge of the distillery, shall be charged with duty according to the quantity of spirit used in the preparation; and all the provisions contained in this Chapter respecting spirits manufactured after the English method, except such as relate to gauge and proof, shall be applicable to such liquors. When any such liquors are removed for exportation without payment of duty, the bonds to be executed by the persons removing them shall be in the form contained in the first schedule to this Act.

Distilleries within twenty miles of Calcutta to be under the Collector of Calcutta.

120. All licensed distilleries, constructed and worked after the English method, and situated within twenty miles of Calcutta, or such other distance less than twenty miles, as may, from time to time, be prescribed by the Local Government, shall be under the superintendence and control of the Collector of Calcutta, who shall exercise, with respect to such distilleries and to the spirits manufactured therein, all the powers vested in Collectors by this Chapter; and the Collectors of districts in which any such distilleries are situated shall have no jurisdiction with respect to such distilleries.

Penalty for constructing or working a distillery or collecting materials without license.

121. Every person who shall construct or work a distillery after the English method, without a license from the Collector, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees; and all spirits manufactured at any such distillery, and all materials and implements collected for the purpose of such manufacture, shall be liable to confiscation.

Penalty for non-observance of rules prescribed by Board of Revenue.

122. Every proprietor or manager of a licensed distillery constructed and worked after the English method, who shall omit to furnish any notice or any statement or list required by the rules prescribed by the Board under section 110, or shall wilfully do anything in contravention of the said rules, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees; and if any such offence be committed a second time with respect to the same distillery, the license granted for the working of such distillery may be withdrawn by the Collector.

Penalty for removing spirituous liquors without payment of duty.

123. Every person who shall remove, or attempt to remove, from any licensed distillery constructed and worked after the English method, any spirituous liquors upon which the duty has not been paid, or for the duty on which a bond has not been executed, or any spirituous liquors for which a pass has not been issued by the Collector, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees; and the liquors, together with the vessels containing the same and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

If it shall appear to the Collector that the offence was committed with the consent or knowledge of the proprietor or manager, the license granted for the construction and working of the distillery from which such liquors have been removed or attempted to be removed may be withdrawn.

Penalty for irregular reland of spirituous liquors.

124. Every person who shall reland, or attempt to reland, any spirituous liquors shipped for exportation, without a special pass from the Collector of Revenue at the place of exportation, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; and the liquors, together with the casks and vessels containing the same, and the carts, boats, and animals employed in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

Spirits from foreign territory subject to duty.

125. Spirituous liquors manufactured at the foreign settlement of Chandernagore, or at any other place in India beyond the limits of British India, shall, on passing the limits of the territories to which this Chapter applied, be charged with the duty prescribed for proof spirits in section 111, and any person who may be found in possession of any such liquors, without a pass from the Collector certifying the payment of such duty, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees; and the liquors, together with the vessels containing the same, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

Construction or working of breweries and manufacture of malt liquor, without license, prohibited.

126. It shall not be lawful for any person to construct or work a brewery, or to manufacture any description of malt liquor, without a license from the Collector of the district. The Board, with the sanction of the Local Government, may prescribe such rules relative to the granting of licenses for constructing and working breweries as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Penalty.

127. Every person who shall construct or work a brewery, or manufacture malt liquor, without a license, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.

128. When any person is sentenced to pay any fine under this Act, the Magistrate shall follow the provisions of sections sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, and seventy of the Indian Penal Code, in awarding a period of imprisonment in default of payment thereof. Any such fine or forfeiture shall be recoverable in the manner prescribed by section three hundred and seven of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Appeals from orders passed under the Act.

129. All orders passed by a Collector under this Act shall be appealable to the Commissioner, and orders passed by the Commissioner shall be appealable to the Board of Revenue, in the usual manner, under the laws and regulations in force, relative to appeals from the orders of Collectors and Commissioners. Provided that it shall be discretional with the Board to receive appeals direct from orders passed by a Collector.

Local Government may assign to any Municipality the granting of licenses.

130. Notwithstanding anything in this or in any other Act contained, the Local Government may, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, assign to the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, or to any other Municipality, such functions and powers as it shall think fit in respect to the granting, withholding, and withdrawal of licenses for the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs (being functions and powers which, but for such assignment, might legally be exercised by any officer of Government), to be exercised by such Corporation or by such Municipality within the limits of their respective jurisdictions under such conditions and subject to such rules as the Local Government may impose; and the Local Government may at any time withdraw and revoke any functions and powers which it has assigned under the provisions of this section.

Provided that such functions and powers shall not be assigned as aforesaid without the consent of the said Corporation or the Municipality concerned:

Provided also that no such conditions or rules shall be imposed by the Local Government after such assignment has taken place without the consent of the said Corporation or the Municipality concerned.

Division of fine or forfeiture among Abkaree and Police officers and others.

131. Whenever any fine or forfeiture is levied from a person convicted of the unlawful manufacture of spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drugs; or of the unlawful sale, purchase, or possession of such liquors or drugs; or of the unlawful cultivation of plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, the Magistrate who adjudicates the case shall direct the amount of fine or forfeiture to be divided in such proportions as he may think fit between any persons (whether they be abkaree or Police officers or otherwise) who were instrumental in the detection of the offence, the seizure of the articles in respect of which the offence was committed, or the capture of the offender. The Magistrate shall also determine the proportions in which the proceeds of the sale of the confiscated articles, except in the case of opium, shall be distributed among the said persons; and in the case of opium confiscated, shall direct that, if such opium be declared fit for use by competent authority, a reward of three rupees for each seer so confiscated shall be similarly distributed.

Procedure when confiscated article is sold for a price which includes duty leviable.

Provided that if any confiscated articles shall have been sold or may be sold by the Collector for a price which includes the duty leviable on the said article, such amount as the Collector may determine to represent such duty shall be deducted from the sale proceeds and credited to Government, and the remainder only of the price realized by the sale shall be deemed to be sale proceeds, to be distributed under the order of the said Magistrate.

Board may lay down rules for prompt payment of rewards.

132. The Board, with the sanction of the Local Government, may lay down rules for the prompt payment of rewards to officers of such Government and others who have been instrumental in the detection of offences, seizure of illicit articles, or capture of offenders under this Act; and any sum which may have been paid to any person under such rules may be taken into account as a part of the whole of the payment which may be awarded by a Magistrate to such person under this section.

Saving of Consolidated Customs Act.

133. Nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to affect the provisions of Act VI of 1863, the Consolidated Customs Act.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

(See Section 119.)

Know all men by these presents, That we are jointly and severally held and firmly bound unto the Secretary of State for India in the sum of rupees to be paid to the said Secretary of State for India; for which payment well and truly to be made, we jointly and severally bind ourselves, and each of us binds himself and each and every one of our respective heirs, administrators, and representatives by these presents.

Sealed with our seals.

Dated this day of 18

Whereas the above-bounden are justly and truly indebted to the Secretary of State for India in the sum of rupees being the amount of duty payable to the Secretary of State for India at the rate of four rupees per imperial gallon, London-proof, for gallons of proof spirit used in the preparation of dozens of bottles or gallons of cordials and liquors as specified in the annexed schedule manufactured at which the said ha been allowed to remove thence for exportation by sea, subject to the provisions of this Act, without having paid the amount of such duty. Now the condition of this obligation is such that, if the above-bounden his or their heirs, executors, administrators, or representatives, or some or one of them, do and shall, at the expiration of four calendar months from the date of this obligation, well and truly pay or cause to be paid to the said Secretary of State for India, duty at the rate of four rupees per imperial gallon of proof spirit for all or any portion of the above-mentioned which shall not have been then exported by sea, subject to the aforesaid provisions (of which exportation, if any, due proof shall be given) or passed for local consumption on payment of duty, then this obligation to be void, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue.

PART I.—ACTS OF THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

Number and year.	Subject.	Extent of repeal.
Act XI of 1849 ...	For securing the Abkaree Revenue of Calcutta	So much as has not been repealed.
Act XXI of 1856 ...	To consolidate and amend Abkaree law in Bengal.	So much as has not been repealed.

PART II.—ACTS OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL IN COUNCIL.

Number and year.	Subject.	Extent of repeal
Act III of 1873 ...	To amend Act XI of 1849 and Act XXI of 1856.	The whole.
Act I of 1874 ...	To amend Act XXI of 1856 and Bengal Act II of 1866.	So far as it relates to Act XXI of 1856
Act II of 1876 ...	To amend Act XI of 1849, Act XXI of 1856, and Bengal Act IV of 1866.	The whole, except section 12.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE law of Abkaree in Bengal is principally contained in two Acts of the Governor-General in Council, Act XI of 1849 and Act XXI of 1856, the former dealing exclusively with the town of Calcutta and the latter applying to the Mofussil, with the exception of some sections which are in force alike in Calcutta and the other territories under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. To these enactments must be added Bengal Act II of 1876, which made some material alterations in Act XI of 1849 and Act XXI of 1856, and also two short Acts of the Bengal Council, Act III of 1873 and Act I of 1874, containing some minor amendments of the same Acts.

The object of the present Bill is to consolidate the five abovementioned Acts into one enactment, and thus to reproduce in a more convenient and accessible form the law as it now stands.

At the same time opportunity has been taken to remedy some defects pointed out by those immediately concerned in the practical working of the law. By Act XI of 1849 Rs. 16 was fixed as the rate of fine for each seer of opium found in illicit possession of any person, probably with reference to the selling price of opium at the time that Act was passed. The selling price now ranges from Rs. 16 to 27, according to different districts, and it is proposed that the rate of fine per seer should be a sum, to be fixed by the Board of Revenue for every district, not exceeding the selling price of opium in that district. A proviso has been inserted empowering the Board of Revenue to receive appeals direct from orders passed by a Collector, the object being to allow of prompt interference by the Board in cases of necessity. The duty levied on spirits manufactured at distilleries worked according to the English method having been recently raised to Rs. 4, a corresponding alteration has been made in the Bill. Further, the amount of the reward distributed to informers in the case of confiscated opium has been raised from Rs. 1-8 per seer to Rs. 3 per seer.

PUBLIC FERRIES.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bell moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the law relating to public ferries. There were, as hon'ble members were aware, two classes of ferries in Bengal—public ferries and private ferries. Public ferries were by Regulation VI of 1819 placed under the exclusive control and management of the Magistrate of the district; while private ferries were owned and managed by the zemindars within whose estates the ferries were situated. With regard to the latter class of ferries, the Bill would in no way interfere. The Bill merely related to public ferries. Now, public ferries might be divided into two classes—first, those which intersected the public roads which were made and repaired from public funds; and there was a second class of public ferries which, though they did not intersect any public road, had nevertheless been declared public, because they were situated in the vicinity of large towns, and it had therefore been thought advisable to place them under the control of the Magistrate for the general convenience of the public. With regard to ferries which intersected public roads, there were three classes. First, ferries on imperial roads. By imperial Mr. Bell meant roads maintained not from local, but from imperial funds. With roads of that description the local funds were in no way concerned; they were in no way mantained by local contributions and were not under the management of the Local Fund Committees, and it was not proposed to disturb the management of the Magistrate with regard to ferries which were situated on these roads. Another class of public ferries were those which were situated within the limits of municipalities, and this class of ferries had already been dealt with by the Council in the Mofussil Municipal Act which was passed during the last session. This description, therefore, of ferries would not be touched by the Bill which he now asked leave to introduce. The Bill would apply to public ferries of the third class, namely, ferries upon district roads which were constructed and maintained by contributions from local cess funds. Hon'ble members would recollect that in 1871 the District Road Cess Act was passed by this Council, and in February 1872 the then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, Sir George Campbell, issued a Resolution by which he assigned to local Committees the whole surplus collection from ferries which were situated on the roads maintained from local funds. But though the surplus income of such ferries was transferred to local Committees, the management of the ferries remained in the hands of the Magistrate where it had been fixed by the Regulation of 1819. The object of the present Bill was not only to give the Local Fund Committees the surplus proceeds of these ferries, but the whole management and control of the ferries as well. In making over the ferries to these Committees, it would be necessary to provide that they should not unduly raise the rates of toll, and he should therefore propose to put a proviso in the Bill, to the effect that the Local Fund Committees should not increase the rate of toll charged at any ferry without the previous sanction of the Local Government. He thought it was absolutely necessary that some provision of this sort should be inserted in the Bill, because the object of these ferries was not to raise a large revenue. That was not the primary object of ferry tolls. The primary object of establishing public ferries was to promote the convenience of the public; and therefore he thought it would be necessary to provide in the Bill that the Local Fund Committees should not be allowed to increase the rate of toll on any ferry without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

Another question which had to be dealt with was this. In case the farmer of a ferry was in arrears, some provision must be made for enabling the Local Fund Committee to realize the arrears. At present, by the Regulation of 1819, the Magistrate was permitted to realize such arrears, under an old Regulation of 1817, in the same way as arrears were realized from persons who had embezzled Government money. It would, perhaps, be thought sufficient by the Select Committee, to whom the Bill would be referred, if it was provided that any arrears due from the farmers of any of these public ferries might be realized by the Collector on the requisition of the Local Fund Committee in the same way as public dues were at present realized under the Act of 1868. The main objects therefore of the Bill were these—first, to allow the Government, wherever it thought proper, to make over these ferries to the management and control of the Local Fund Committees; secondly, to provide that the Committees should not unduly raise the rates of toll; and thirdly, to provide a procedure to enable the Committees to realize with promptness arrears from the lessees of the tolls.

These were the main features of the Bill which he now asked the permission of the Council to introduce.

The motion was agreed to.

COURT OF WARDS.

THE HON'BLE MR. SCHALCH moved that the Bill to award the Court of Wards' Act, 1870, be read in Council. He said that, when he obtained leave to introduce this Bill, he stated briefly the detailed provisions which were proposed to be inserted in it. These were more fully explained in the statement of objects and reasons, and he thought he need not detain the Council further with any remarks upon them

At present, when an estate was first taken charge of by the Court of Wards, it was generally found in a state of considerable embarrassment, and one of the first measures to be adopted to secure its solvency was to borrow money which would be afterwards repaid from the effects of good management. It was therefore thought probable, if power was given under the Act to the Court of Wards to lend money upon the security of mortgages to Wards' estates from other estates where there was a considerable surplus, that it would benefit both the estate to which the money was lent and the estate which advanced it. He would therefore propose that the Select Committee, which he hoped would be appointed to consider the Bill, should be directed to consider that provision, which he had not at once inserted into the Act. He would now move that the Bill be read in Council.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said, while assenting to the principle of the Bill which the Hon'ble Member had introduced, he thought it right to mention that he wished that the scope of the amendments had gone further than was aimed at in the Bill. The first point which struck him was a provision in section 2, which related to the disqualification of female proprietors. That was of course not a new provision; it was contained in Regulation X of 1793, the first Regulation on the subject of the management of Wards' estates. That Regulation made a distinction between male and female proprietors of revenue-paying estates, and that law had come down to them from generation to generation. But he thought that, when the Government considered it desirable to amend some of the provisions of the existing law, the present opportunity might fitly be taken to revise that portion of the law which referred to the disqualification of female proprietors of estates, who were absolutely declared not competent for the management of their estates. There were good reasons for the provision in the Regulation of 1793, for it was then necessary to exercise a vigilant eye on the management of estates by female proprietors for the protection of the revenue. But the changes which had taken place within the last eighty years were such as no longer to cause anxiety to the Government for the security of the revenue, and it was therefore well worthy of consideration whether the time had not arrived for doing away with the invidious distinction made between male and female proprietors in the management of estates. The Hindu law made no distinction of sex in the management of estates; and as the Wards' Act declared only those male proprietors disqualified who might be minors, or who might be of unsound mind or otherwise incapable of managing their affairs, owing to any natural or acquired defects, he thought the same law ought to apply to female proprietors. If inquiries were made, it would be found that in many cases male proprietors were as incompetent to manage estates as female proprietors without the assistance of competent managers. But the legislature had not thought fit to interfere with the exercise of the proprietary right on the part of male proprietors otherwise considered capable of managing their affairs. It was true that the Court of Wards did not always exercise the power with which the law had invested it in the case of female proprietors; but cases had come to his knowledge in which even a will had been set aside because the widow of the testator was considered by the Court of Wards not competent to manage the estate. Suppose that rule were generally applied, what would be the result? Take the case of that enlightened and noble lady, Maharanee Surnomoye, whose beneficence fell in fertilizing showers upon the land. He would appeal to the Council to say whether that virtuous and philanthropic lady would have been able to manage her vast estates without the assistance of her able, skilful, and enlightened manager Baboo Rajiblochun Rai, Rai Bahadoor. Similar cases might be mentioned of female proprietors of estates who were respected by their tenantry for their goodness, liberality, and charity, but the successful management of whose estates was chiefly due to their managers. Now, if a proper person was selected for the management of an estate, it did not matter whether the proprietor was a male or a female, for the estate was generally well managed. And we had seen in many cases that female proprietors did exercise their discretion properly in the selection of managers, and the result in such cases had been generally successful and satisfactory. That being the case, he would invite the Council to consider whether the old provision disqualifying female proprietors without any valid reasons was a sound one.

The next point which he wished to notice was the clause about adoption. Now, to his mind that clause ran counter to a substantive law of the Supreme Legislature—he meant the Indian Majority Act. The provision in this Bill declared that no adoption by a ward should be valid without the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor. Now, the Majority Act, IX of 1875, provided—

"Nothing herein contained shall affect the capacity of any person to act in the following matters, namely, marriage, dower, divorce, and adoption."

So that the Hindu law, as regards adoption, was left intact by that Act of the Supreme Legislature. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill had thought fit to change the period of majority under the Court of Wards' Act in accordance with the provisions of the Majority Act, and BABOO KRISTODAS PAL thought it would be right also to adapt the adoption clause to the substantive provisions of the Majority Act. He had gone over the prior Regulations relating to the Court of Wards, and he did not see any section which required that adoption by a ward should not be considered valid without the consent of the Government. [THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL.—The old Regulations required that the adoption should have the confirmation of the Board of Revenue.] But even if they did, it was inconsistent with the Hindu law; and as the Majority Act declared the right of the Hindu to adopt without the interference of any executive authority, he left it to the Council to consider whether the section should be retained as it stood. [THE ADVOCATE-GENERAL.—It had been held, both here and in England, that even an infant could adopt: the question of adoption was wholly independent of the question of majority.] He was fully alive to that, but the Hindu law did not require that an adoption to be valid should have the consent of any executive authority. It was for the civil court to decide in case of dispute whether an adoption was valid or not.

Then he came to section 3 as amended in the Bill. It provided that "the Lieutenant-Governor might at any time declare any manager to be no longer subordinate to the Collector, and might order him to be directly subordinate to the Court or to the Board of Revenue." The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill was in the best position to say whether a manager should be independent of the Collector. But BABOO KRISTODAS PAL submitted that no one was better qualified to exercise due control over the manager than the Collector, and he therefore doubted whether it would be a move in the right direction to remove the manager from the control of the Collector even in exceptional cases.

He next came to section 6, which sought to legalize the practice already in vogue, he believed, of the payment of the cost of the superintendence of Wards' estates under the charge of the Court of Wards. He fully subscribed to the principle contained in this provision, but he could not understand why the salary of the Deputy Commissioner of Wards' estates in Behar was included in the list of charges. The Collector, the Commissioner, and the Board, each in their own spheres, exercised control over the affairs of Wards' estates, and it was not proposed that they should be paid out of the funds of those estates. The Deputy Commissioner of Wards' estates in Behar, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL believed, occupied the same position as the Collector. It might be that he devoted his whole time to the affairs of Wards' estates, but surely some arrangement might be made to relieve him, and the District Collectors in Behar might be required to exercise the same functions in regard to Wards' estates in that province which the Collectors in the districts of Bengal performed without detriment to their other duties. One thing should be borne in mind, that the Local Government had lately divided the large district of Tirhoot into two districts, which greatly facilitated work. There were now two Collectors available for work which used to be done before by one. Then again the Durbhunga estate, as the largest Wards' estate, was managed by a highly paid establishment, and the work of the Collector with regard to that estate could not be very heavy. So, all things considered, he did not know whether it would be necessary to entertain a special officer as Deputy Commissioner of Wards' estates in Behar. It struck him that when the Collectors in Bengal were not paid, and it was not proposed to pay them out of Wards' estates for the management of those estates, it would not be right and consistent to pay a special officer in Behar out of those estates for similar work.

The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill proposed a new provision for the consideration of the Select Committee, namely, the advance of money from the funds of one Ward's estate to another on mortgage. This was a very important provision, and involved many knotty points, and he hoped the legislature would weigh well the proposition before it gave assent to it. Ordinarily a mortgage not unfrequently led to litigation, and when a proprietor acted on his own discretion he took upon himself the consequences of his own act. But the Court of Wards had only a fiduciary interest in the estate, and BABOO KRISTODAS PAL did not think it would be right and proper if the Court lent money on a security which might thereafter lead to dispute, litigation, and perhaps loss. This point he believed was considered by the Government not long ago, and so far as he was aware, the landed interest were not in favour of the innovation proposed.

He had one suggestion to make with reference to this Bill. Hon'ble Members were aware that under a recent resolution of the Government the funds of Wards' estates were applicable to the improvement of those estates. But there was no limit as to the amount which might be so laid out. He believed the Government had assigned a limit of from three to five per cent. to outlay from the revenues of khas mehals for improvements. Following that principle, he would recommend that a percentage should be fixed for the outlay of funds from Wards' estates for improvements. Otherwise the discretion which was now left to the Manager and the Collector might be, and was, he was informed, sometimes abused, and a ward when he attained majority might find his estate considerably hampered for the execution and maintenance of improvements which might not all be needed.

The HON'BLE MR. SCHALCH said, with reference to the observations which had been made by his hon'ble friend (Baboo Kristodas Pal), he might say that most of them related to matters which would come up before the Select Committee, of which he hoped the Hon'ble Member would be one, and where they would have full opportunity for discussion.

The motion was agreed to, and the Bill was referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble the Advocate-General, the Hon'ble Mr. Bell, the Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal, and the mover, with instructions to report in one month.

ABKAREE REVENUE.

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said that in moving that the Bill to consolidate the law relating to the Abkaree Revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal be read in Council, there was one preliminary point which it was perhaps convenient he should mention. By the rules which governed the legislation of this Council, any measure which affected the abkaree revenue required the previous sanction of the Government of India. Accordingly the draft of this Bill was submitted to the Government of India in September for that purpose. No direct reply had been received to that communication. But he found, on referring to the former papers, that this proposal for consolidating the law relating to abkaree was originally suggested by the Government of India itself in a letter dated the 10th of April 1875, at the time when the amendment of the abkaree laws was under consideration last year. In the 4th paragraph of that letter it was stated that—

"In the opinion of His Excellency the Governor-General it is most desirable that the law, upon a subject in which the public are largely interested, should be clearly arranged, and that accordingly either on the present occasion, or after the amendments of the existing law which are proposed in this Bill have been made, the Acts relating to Abkaree in the Lower Provinces should be consolidated."

He believed Hon'ble Members would agree with him that as this measure had been suggested by the Government of India, and as it was a purely consolidating Bill, it was not necessary that any separate and special sanction should be accorded before the Council was authorized to have this Bill read in Council.

With regard to the measure itself which was before the Council, he should not have to detain members with many remarks, as the Bill was, as he observed when he applied for leave to introduce it, entirely a consolidating measure. No material alteration of the law had been attempted, and the Government was not aware that any considerable alteration of the law was necessary or desirable. The amendment of the abkaree law was very fully discussed last year when the Bill, which had subsequently become Act II of 1876 of this Council, was under consideration, and the present measure simply proposed to consolidate the existing law, including that Act. The second chapter of the Bill before the Council was mainly founded upon the former Act XI of 1849, and related to the abkaree administration of the town of Calcutta. The third chapter of the Bill in the same way was mainly founded upon Act XXI of 1856, and related to the abkaree administration in the mofussil. The fourth chapter applied to all the territories under the Government of Bengal, including Calcutta.

He thought there were only two sections of the Bill to which he need specially ask the attention of the Council, and both of them were mentioned in the statement of objects and reasons. The first of these was section 18, in regard to which it would be observed that by Act XI of 1849 the penalty prescribed for the possession of contraband opium was Rs. 16 per seer. Now that penalty appeared to have been fixed with reference to the selling price of opium at that time. The selling price now having been considerably raised in pursuance of the policy to put all legitimate restrictions upon the consumption of the drug, the price of opium now was from Rs. 16 to Rs. 27 per seer in the various districts. It was clearly desirable that the law should be altered so as to allow the fine to be fixed at a rate so as not to exceed the selling price of opium in the districts in question.

The other section was section 131. Here we had to deal with what appeared to have been an oversight in the passing of Act II of 1876. By the former law, both Acts XI of 1849 and XXI of 1856, a reward was authorized to be given partly to the informer by whose agency the offender was brought to justice, and partly to the person who actually apprehended the offender. The amount of the reward might be Rs. 1-8 per seer of opium confiscated to the informer, and the same to the apprehender. But in passing Act II of 1876, apparently by some oversight, the total sum of Rs. 1-8 per seer was authorized to be given to both the informer and the apprehender. It was now proposed to re-introduce the former law. A communication had been received from the Board of Revenue, calling attention to the fact that the total sum of Rs. 1-8 was too small to supply a sufficient inducement for the detection and punishment of offenders.

With these remarks he had to move that the Bill be read in Council.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal said he had only one remark to make in connection with this Bill. In 1875 a correspondence took place between the British Indian Association and the Bengal Government regarding the Abkaree Bill then before the Council. The Association brought to the notice of the Government the advantage of giving municipalities the power of issuing licenses for the sale of spirituous liquors and intoxicating drugs, and the British Indian Association was informed by the Government that the question was beyond the scope and object of the Bill then before the Council, but that the matter was one which might properly be considered in connection with the Consolidated Bill on the Abkaree laws which it was proposed to introduce hereafter. In conclusion, it was stated that the proposal would be borne in mind and receive the best consideration of the Government. Now that a Bill had been introduced for the consolidation of the Abkaree laws, he hoped this matter would receive the attention of the Select Committee.

The Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds said, although that reply had been sent in the first instance, the matter was afterwards reconsidered, and the provision of law referred to was embodied in section 15 of Act II of 1876, and was now reproduced as section 130 of the present Bill.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter, the Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal, and the mover, with instructions to report in one month.

The Council was adjourned to a day of which notice would be given.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE JAIL DEPARTMENT OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1875.

JAILS.

Calcutta, the 20th November 1876.

READ—

The annual report on the administration of the Jail Department in the Lower Provinces for the year 1875.

Read again—

The report for 1874, with the orders of Government thereon.

In reviewing the jail report for 1874, the Lieutenant-Governor gave prominent expression to his appreciation of the services rendered to the Jail Department by Mr. Heeley, who had been obliged by ill-health to take furlough to Europe; and favourable notice was also taken of the great promise of success in administering the department, which had been shown by Major Bowie, who had succeeded to its charge. Since the close of the past year the Government has had to regret the death of both Mr. Heeley and Major Bowie. By their untimely deaths the Government has been deprived of the services of two distinguished and zealous public servants. Mr. Heeley was an officer of high talent and varied acquirements. Many and great improvements in the general administration of the Bengal prisons were initiated and carried out by him during his tenure of office, and the measures of reform which had been inaugurated by him were ably taken in hand and in many respects completed by his successor. Major Bowie was in charge of the department during nearly the whole of the past year, but owing to failing health, he was unable to draw up the report on his administration before he was compelled to leave the country in July last. Both Mr. Heeley and Major Bowie sacrificed their health to the interests of the department. They may be said to have fallen victims in a great measure to the zeal displayed by them in the discharge of their public duties, and both have deserved more than this tribute to their memory from Government.

2. The present report on the administration of the jails for the past year has been drawn up by Mr. Beverley, who was selected by the Government to succeed Major Bowie as head of the department. Although Mr. Beverley has laboured under the disadvantages incidental on having so recently taken charge of a new office, and in having been personally unacquainted with the events of the year under review, he has succeeded in submitting a very full and interesting report, and in showing that the experience which he has gained in the various appointments which he has hitherto held, has fully qualified him to discharge the duties of his present charge with ability and success.

3. Inspections.—The information given under this head is necessarily meagre. Major Bowie left a memorandum, showing that, during the year under review, he had visited a very large proportion of the jails in these provinces as well as several lock-ups, but the results of the inspections made were not recorded by him. Under the jail rules it is not now necessary that the Inspector-General should in every instance report to Government the observations made by him on visiting a jail: he is required to do so only in case there may be any necessity for the interposition of Government. It is all the more desirable, therefore, that the results of the inspections held by the Inspector-General, the matters prominently noticed by him, and the action which may have been taken in consequence of the instructions issued by him, should be generally stated in all future annual reports.

4. The above remarks refer to inspections made by the Inspector-General himself. It is to be observed, however, that, necessary as it is that there should be an officer at the disposal of Government to exercise under its orders a general control over the department, it would be in vain to look for efficient administration without some machinery to exercise a more constant and vigilant control over each individual jail. This is amply provided for by the jail rules. It is there laid down, among other things, that each jail shall be visited at least once a month by the official visitors. It is further laid down that, in addition to such visits, each jail shall be personally inspected by either the Magistrate or the Joint-Magistrate once every week. The importance of strict attention to these provisions has, the Lieutenant-Governor is aware, been repeatedly impressed upon all officers by his predecessors. He has himself, however, had some reason to doubt whether they are acted up to as strictly as they ought to be, or at least whether the inspections made are of as searching a nature as it is intended that they should be. Attention is drawn to the subject, as no account has been given as to how far the rules in this particular have been carried out. The matter is one of the first importance, and should invariably receive prominent notice in the annual reports.

5. When reviewing the police report for the past year, the Lieutenant-Governor has already commented on the decrease observable in crime, other than that of a petty character, which alone showed an increase as compared with the previous year. The effect of this decrease, as might be expected, is observable in the jail returns as given in the following table:—

Remained on 31st December of preceding year ...	19,748	20,562	20,784
Admitted during the year	68,833	82,207	73,585
Discharged, &c, excluding transfers	68,019	81,985	73,104
Remained on 31st December	20,562	20,784	21,265

Judged by the above statement, the criminality of the past year, while less than that of the previous year, was greater than that of 1873, and this is the inference also to be drawn from the police report. The matter is important as indicating that in a series of years the increase of jail population is continuous and must be provided for. It is in respect to this matter also that statistics of sentences of flogging passed by Magistrates are of value in a jail report, and, with reference to the remarks made by Mr. Beverley in the 30th paragraph of his report on this subject, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Inspector-General will be careful to secure the submission to his department by District Magistrates of complete returns, showing the extent to which recourse has been had to the provisions of the Whipping Act. This Act was passed primarily with a view to relieving Government of part of the increasing burthen of providing additional jail accommodation, and it is important that the head of the Jail Department should have the means of satisfying himself that due recourse is had to the provisions of the Act.

6. It is with the same object that the Inspector-General is required to watch any marked increase or decrease in the number of convictions followed by imprisonment in individual districts. All the details given in the reports for 1874 and previous years are not necessary, though many of the percentages worked out are interesting from a statistical point of view, and might with advantage be shewn periodically in the course of four or five years. The districts shewn in the police report as those in which the greatest increase of crime has occurred are not in every case the districts in which there has been the largest increase in the number of convicts admitted into the jails, and the discrepancy is explained by the fact that much of the increased crime in certain districts has been of a petty nature, which has admitted of sentences of fine or whipping. The report of the one department thus again helps to explain that of the other.

7. Reverting to the table given above, which is abstracted from that given in paragraph 4 of the Inspector-General's report, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that there is some discrepancy in the number of admissions of civil and under-trial prisoners shewn, as compared with the number entered in the tabular statements appended to the report; thus—

	Civil prisoners	Under-trial.	Convicted.	Total.
Admissions shewn in tabular statements Nos. I, XX, and XXI.	1,511	36,092	37,674	75,277
Admissions shewn in paragraph 4 of report	1,481	34,430	37,674	73,585
Difference ...	30	1,662	..	1,692

These discrepancies are doubtless susceptible of explanation, which should have been afforded to facilitate reference. Adding to the larger total given above the 20,784 prisoners who remained in jail at the close of the previous year, the total number of prisoners who were under the charge of the officers of the department during the year was 96,061, and of these 50,893 were convicts.

8. Statement No. II, appended to the report, shews that of this number 48,490 were males and 2,403 females. Of the 37,674 persons convicted and sentenced to imprisonment during the year, 2,109 were females, the corresponding number for the previous year having been 2,263. Of the 48,490 males undergoing imprisonment, 23,063 were agriculturists and 16,710 non-agriculturists; 860 were of independent means; 1,724 were in Government service; 3,802 in private service, and 2,331 of no occupation. As regards the ages of convicts, it is observed that 516 males and 52 females were under 16 years of age, and that 57 of the former and 6 of the latter had been previously convicted. The admissions during the year of convicts not exceeding 16 years of age is shewn by Mr. Beverley in his 11th paragraph to have been 367 males and 46 females. These figures afford ample evidence of the necessity which exists for a reformatory school in these provinces. Orders have already issued for the construction of a building for the purpose at Alipore, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the measures which have been taken will shortly ensure the opening of the institution.

9. Exceptional cases apart, the determination of the class of jail in which a prisoner shall be incarcerated is dependent on the length of his sentence. Central jails are provided for those sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for periods of one year or upwards, and prisoners convicted at sub-divisions, whose sentences do not exceed 15 days, usually pass their terms in the lock-ups. Subject to the above provisions, the district jails are the places where effect is usually given to sentences of imprisonment. Statement No. III is not in sufficient detail to show distinctly how far effect has been given to the measures taken for providing separate places of confinement for long-term and for short-term labouring prisoners respectively. It is therefore very desirable that the matter should receive prominent notice in the body of the report. Central jails have been constructed at very great expense, and it is important to see that the existing accommodation is reserved for those for whom it is specially intended. It is also necessary that Government should be informed whether such long-term prisoners as cannot be provided for in the central jails are imprisoned in such district jails as are suitable for their confinement and where due appliances exist for giving effect to their sentences. In a recent case the Lieutenant-Governor had to comment on some want of attention to these matters.

10. From the figures given in Statement III, it appears that of the 50,893 convicts in confinement, 1,829 only were sentenced to simple imprisonment, 34,079 were undergoing sentences of one year and less, and 15,456 sentences of more than one year. The very large proportion of sentences of six months and under suggests a doubt as to whether sufficient recourse is had to the provisions of the Whipping Act, and as to whether sentences of imprisonment are not sometimes imposed where fine would be sufficient. No statistics are available to shew the number of persons who were punished by fine only. The police report shows, however, that in the course of the year 97,236 persons in all were convicted. Against this 75,277 persons are entered in the present report as sentenced to imprisonment during the year, and 3,665 as having been flogged. The balance of 18,294 persons, who would seem therefore to have been punished by fine only, appears to be comparatively small, considering the very large proportion which is borne by petty to heinous offences. This matter is one which requires the careful attention and scrutiny of District Magistrates, as well as the fact that the number of sentences of flogging passed during 1875 was little more than half the number passed in the previous year.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor has now to notice a more serious matter, which has been brought to light in the report. The legislature has prescribed special penalties in the case of habitual criminals. A fundamental principle of the system of jail administration which has been adopted for these provinces is the segregation of such offenders. The Government, the High Court, and the Heads of Departments concerned have called attention to the matter from time to time. Registers have been prescribed and detailed instructions issued for maintaining them. Less than two years ago the inattention with which previous orders had been regarded attracted the Lieutenant-Governor's notice, and he issued special directions on the subject. Only last year, when reviewing the jail report, the importance of ascertaining the antecedents of all prisoners, with a view to the imposition of adequate sentences in the case of old offenders, was specially dwelt upon, and it was pointed out that it was evident from the statistics furnished from many districts that the matter required far greater attention than it had received. After all this, it is discouraging to find from Mr. Beverley's report that matters have scarcely improved, and that so little apparently has been done to give effect to the explicit orders issued.

12. It is true that the number of re-convictions now returned is largely in excess of what was the case even two years ago. Still it is shown that in many instances which are cited, the fact of previous convictions has been entirely overlooked, or not brought to the notice of judicial officers, and has resulted in the passing of very inadequate sentences, and that, where any detailed inquiry into the matter has been made, the result has been to prove that the number of re-convictions shown is very small as compared with what it should be. In the Mymensingh and Purneah districts, which were referred to last year as having shown a far smaller proportion of re-convictions than could be accepted as correct, matters are just where they were. In other particulars pertaining to the criminal administration of the latter district, there has of late been a marked improvement. As regards the former district, however, the police report gives ground for the conclusion that the administration is far from satisfactory. If the remark made by the Superintendent of the jail of that district and quoted in paragraph 25 of Mr. Beverley's report is correct, that in this large district not more than sixteen names have been entered in the police register of habitual offenders, it is evident that there has been very great neglect and inattention on the part of the district officer in connection with one of his most important and primary duties. The state of affairs reported in Nuddea also is far from what the Lieutenant-Governor would have expected to exist under the administration of the present district officer. The jail returns showed 45 re-convictions only, but a further inquiry directed by Mr. Beverley has resulted in bringing no less than 158 re-convictions to light. While the explanation given by Mr. Beverley, attributing the error in preparing the jail returns to an oversight and to stupidity on the part of a clerk, might be accepted, the information before Government is insufficient to enable the Lieutenant-Governor to judge as to how far Dr. Bensley was himself to blame in the matter, and it should have been explained how the prisoners, whose warrants shewed that they were habitual criminals, were classed on entering the jail.

The whole matter is, however, one in regard to which separate explanations must be called for and separate orders issued.

13. The undue detention of convicted prisoners in lock-ups is another subject which has been repeatedly commented on. The results of the past year have been slightly better than those of previous years in respect to this matter. It only remains for the Inspector-General to check at once any instances in which the rules are not strictly adhered to.

14. The fact that the Inspector-General of Jails is not a medical man, and the growing importance of the subject of sanitation, led the Lieutenant-Governor to arrange that in future the head of the Medical Department should have an opportunity of reviewing the detailed reports on the sanitary condition of the jails and the health of the prisoners, and that his review should be amalgamated with the general jail report as the chapter on sanitation. Due effect has been given to the intentions of Government, and the Lieutenant-Governor has to thank Dr. Beatson for a clear and concise report on the jail administration of the past year viewed in its medical aspect.

15. The total population of the jails during the past year as shewn above was 96,061. The daily average number of prisoners of the several classes confined in jails and lock-ups during the past two years as shewn in statement No. XVII was as follows :—

Class of Prisoners.	1874.		1875.		Total.
	Male.	Female.	Male.	Female.	1874.	1875.
Under-trial	865·63	53·63	740 27	41·26	919·26	781·53
Convicted	18,810·91	735·78	18,837·12	725·91	19,546·69	19,563 03
Civil	125·11	2 35	115·10	1·96	127·46	117·06
Total ...	19,801·65	791·76	19,692·49	769·13	20,593·41	20,461·62

The above figures differ somewhat from those adopted in paragraph 78 of the Surgeon-General's report. Adopting his calculations, however (which are apparently meant to include only convicted prisoners confined in jails in 1874, while they include all prisoners in 1875), the death-rate in the past year was 5 02, against 5·69 in the previous year. As the percentage of deaths in the urban and rural populations of selected circles in these provinces during the past year was only 2·48, the Surgeon-General remarks that the above results are not encouraging, and that " they tend to prove that either the circumstances connected with prison life and discipline exert a very considerable influence on the death-rate, or else that the sanitary condition of our jails must be defective " The percentage of deaths, while somewhat less than that of 1874, was still higher than the average for the six previous years, but considerably lower than that for the 24 years previous to these, when it was 7·88 per cent. With regard to former statistics, the Surgeon-General remarks that the improvement in the health of the jail population since 1868 was no doubt rightly attributed to the greater care and attention bestowed on the general sanitation of the jails and their surroundings, as well as on the diet, water-supply, clothing, &c., of the prisoners. " But," he adds, " it would appear that some insanitary conditions still exist and exert an injurious influence on the health of the prisoners. Such conditions, I am inclined to think (independently of the faulty position or construction of the jails), may be found in certain jails under the heads of overcrowding, defective ventilation, damp, a water-supply of inferior quality, and perhaps an insufficient supply of warm clothing in the cold weather."

16. The above remarks are suggestive of melancholy considerations, if it really is the case that one-half of the deaths which occur annually in the jails, or over 500 in each year, are due to preventable causes. But the Lieutenant-Governor doubts whether our knowledge of the causes and origin of disease is yet sufficiently advanced to justify such a conclusion. He has noticed that the highest death-rate has not always occurred in the most crowded jails, or in those which are considered to be of the most defective construction from a sanitary point of view. Much of the mortality in the jails is beyond doubt attributable to the fact of imprisonment alone. Criminals also in all countries are men of short lives, and many die in jail of diseases, engendered by the dissolute lives which they have led before their conviction. For overcrowding there can now be no excuse, as the orders requiring temporary accommodation to be provided where it occurs are absolute. In the districts where the measure has been reported to be necessary, extra food and extra clothing have been allowed. Damp is inseparable from the climate of Lower Bengal, and the jails are already better in this respect than the huts ordinarily inhabited by the peasantry. Financial exigencies at present prevent the undertaking of many works of even proved necessity, and the Lieutenant-Governor fears that funds will not be available, for some time at least, to carry out the general reform in jail buildings which the Surgeon-General would wish to see.

17. All that is at present possible has been done to remove and remedy undoubted evils where they have existed and to improve the health of the prisoners, and it only remains for the Lieutenant-Governor to impress strongly upon the several District Magistrates and Jail Officers the heavy responsibility which attaches to them in seeing that due effect is given to the orders which have already issued. To see, for instance, that food is issued strictly in accordance with the prescribed scales, that it is impartially distributed, and that it is of good quality. To see that clothing is regularly issued and applied to its proper purpose; that the strong do not oppress the weak, as there is reason to believe is sometimes the case in this matter. To see that due attention is paid to each prisoner's physical health before prescribing the class of labour on which he shall engage; to see that the wards are well ventilated, but not to an extreme, and that overcrowding is duly provided against. On all these subjects definite rules exist, regarding which there can be no mistake.

With reference to the complaint of insufficiency of clothing made as regards the prisoners in several jails, the attention of the Inspector-General is requested to paragraphs 756-57 of the Jail Code, under which he has authority to increase the allowance usually made on the recommendation of the medical authorities.

18. Turning to the statistics of individual jails, the Lieutenant-Governor finds that there were again in the past year seven jails in which the rate of mortality exceeded 10 per cent., as follows :—

	Average strength.	Number of deaths.	Death-rate.	Death-rate in 1874.
Julpigoree	144·66	37	25·57	27·02
Russa	258·98	36	13·90	6·49
Rungpore	486·14	60	12·34	17·68
Baraset	220·11	27	12·26	8·16
Backergunge	339·93	41	12·06	9·15
Gya	343·44	40	11·64	17·13

It will be observed that three of the above, the Julpigoree, Rungpore, and Gya jails, were in the same category in 1874. Compared with that year, however, there has been a marked improvement in the death-rate in the two last-named jails. The Julpigoree jail has lately proved to be so hopelessly unhealthy, (although when visited by the late Lieutenant-Governor in 1872, he considered it to be quite healthy and with excellent accommodation for the number of prisoners confined there,) that orders have issued for its abandonment and for the transfer of all long term prisoners to the jails of neighbouring districts. Short term men have also been removed into camp. Of the 37 deaths in this jail, 11 were from cholera and 21 from dysentery and diarrhœa. The reasons for the great mortality are yet to seek. The remarks made by the Assistant Surgeon in medical charge, and quoted by the Surgeon-General, do not commend themselves to the Lieutenant-Governor as indicating the real causes. The water of the Teesta used by the prisoners for drinking is the best available in the district. Ventilation was quite recently reported to be only too free. Clothing on the Behar scale, the Lieutenant-Governor understood, had already been issued, but it is not clear what scale it is which is considered insufficient. It is idle for the Assistant Surgeon to report that the food supplied was not of uniform quality. He should have stated whether it was sufficient, according to scale, and of good quality, and he should understand that he is held strictly responsible for seeing that it is so.

In the Russa jail 36 deaths occurred, of which 32 were attributable to bowel complaints. The jail is constructed to hold 248 prisoners; and the average number in confinement during the past year was 258. The high death-rate is ascribed by the Superintendent to the overcrowding which, as indicated by the above figures, occurred during the year, as well as to defective ventilation and water of inferior quality. But the Lieutenant-Governor observes that in 1874, when the overcrowding, so far as can be gathered from the returns, was much in excess of what was the case in the past year, the rate of mortality was more than one-half less, and in 1873, when similarly the overcrowding was slightly in excess of last year, the mortality was less than one-fourth of what is now reported. If the ventilation is really deficient, there can be no reason why a matter so easily remedied should not have been looked to, and the admission by the Superintendent, that he has allowed the matter to remain unattended to for a series of years, is not satisfactory. In what way the water-supply of the past year was inferior to that of previous years, or what steps have been taken to remedy it, has not been explained.

In Rungpore the death-rate, though still deplorably high, was much lower than during the previous year. In the opinion of the Surgeon-General "overcrowding, damp, and malaria" may most probably be "accepted as the causes of the high mortality in this jail." A reference to statement XV would seem not only to bear out the statement that the jail was overcrowded, but that it was so to a most frightful extent, as it is shown that an average of 446 prisoners were nightly herded into barracks meant to contain 256 persons only. But the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to think that the positive orders against overcrowding have not been totally disregarded in this way, and that the local officers are only amenable to censure for the careless manner in which their returns have been drawn up. The first consideration which suggests itself is that, if 446·88 was the "average jail population," 441 cannot have been the maximum population in any one day, as shewn in the returns, and that an erroneous system of calculating averages must have been followed through some misapprehension; the next is that as for years past the jail has been returned as capable of containing 256 prisoners, no account can have been taken of the temporary accommodation which has been provided in this jail under the orders of Government to meet overcrowding. The Lieutenant-Governor would now, however, wish to know exactly if any, or what, overcrowding was allowed to occur, and what the correct figures should be.

It is impossible to provide against the malaria which is prevalent throughout this district; but to counteract the effects of it as far as possible, the Lieutenant-Governor has sanctioned extra milk diet being served out experimentally to a certain number of the prisoners. As to damp, the jail is built on as good a site as is available anywhere in the station or near it. The buildings, though old, are well constructed, and in part two-storied, vastly superior in fact to any houses occupied by the poorer natives in the district.

In the Baraset jail 27 deaths occurred; but, used as this jail is as a hospital for the old, infirm, and sick prisoners of other jails, its circumstances are sufficiently peculiar to account for a high percentage of mortality.

In the Backergunge jail the capacity of the barracks was apparently always considerably in excess of requirements, yet 4 females and 37 males died; four of the latter being under-trial prisoners. The jail has long been condemned as being badly constructed and situated, but nothing is said in the report as to what action has been taken towards carrying out the improvements and reconstructions which were long since approved of. The Lieutenant-Governor would now wish to have a report on the subject.

The Gya jail, similarly, has long been condemned as unsuitable. A site has been already selected for a new jail, but want of funds has hitherto prevented any further action being taken for its construction. The Lieutenant-Governor is, however, surprised to observe that insufficient clothing is one of the reasons assigned for the sickness which prevailed in this jail. On the report of the late Commission which enquired into the state of the jails in the Behar districts, authority was given for the issue of all the extra clothing recommended by them. The matter should meet with the immediate attention of the Inspector-General.

19. It is not clear why in Midnapore the mortality in the district jail has been so constantly greater than that in the central jail during the past three years. Whether there is any such difference in the management of these two institutions as to account for this result should be the subject of careful enquiry.

20. Whether it is due to the increased attention the matter has received of late years, or whether it is due to causes yet undiscovered, the marked decrease of mortality in many of the Behar jails is satisfactory. In Chumparun it was 6·95 only against 15·20 in 1874 and 14·74 in 1873. In the Bhagulpore central jail 3·30 only against 12·08 in 1873. In Shahabad and Meetapore there was a similar improvement compared with the same year, but a falling off as compared with 1874. In Purneah the variation in the figures from year to year is very noticeable.

21. As remarked by Sir George Campbell, the statistics showing the amount of sickness among prisoners, apart from those cases ending in death, are not such as can be advantageously dealt with in a general review of the administration of the department. The practice of officers in the matter of sending prisoners to hospital necessarily varies so much that it is difficult to determine what the figures really mean. From the statement given at paragraph 82 of the Surgeon-General's report, however, it appears, as stated generally by him, that the rate of admission, though somewhat higher than in 1873, was lower than in 1874, and considerably lower than during the years 1844 to 1868.

22. Jail Buildings —From paragraph 39 of Mr. Beverley's report it appears that the expenditure on jail buildings incurred by his own department during the past year amounted to Rs. 15,839 only, while that incurred by the Public Works Department amounted to Rs. 2,46,264. With reference to the remark made by the Inspector-General of the waste of strength involved in employing the Public Works Department to execute trifling works and repairs, it is to be observed that the remedy lies in his own hands, as the rules on the subject are understood to be sufficiently elastic to permit of his adjusting the matter in communication with the Chief Engineer.

The absence of information to which the Inspector-General calls attention, as regards the precise work on which prisoners, entered as employed by the Public Works Department, were engaged and the value of their labour, is to be regretted, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad if Mr. Beverley will supply the deficiency in future reports. The central jails at Hazareebagh, Bhagulpore, and Midnapore have now been almost completed, and it only remains to supply a few additional buildings. For the improvement of existing jails large sums were disbursed in Rajshahye, Dinagepore, and Jessore, and Rs. 10,346 were expended towards the construction of the new jail at Mozufferpore.

23. Guards and Escapes.—The number of prisoners who escaped during the year was 121, against 142 in 1874. In reviewing the report for the latter year, the Lieutenant-Governor called attention to the apparent insecurity of many of the sub-divisional lock-ups as indicated by the returns. The details given in the present report show that the matter is one which still requires attention.

24. The question of the relative efficiency of police and warder guards is one which has been long pending decision. The system at present adopted is admittedly faulty. Difficulty has been experienced in enlisting men with the proper qualifications and amenable to discipline. The result has been that many have been dismissed and punished. The Lieutenant-Governor had looked forward to receiving an exposition of the matured views of Major Bowie on the subject in the present report. When Mr. Beverley has had some further acquaintance with the working of the department, the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to receive separately any detailed proposals which he may have to make. In drawing these up, reference should be made to the experience which may have been gained of the working of different systems in force in the several provinces of India.

25. Internal discipline.—The system of classifying prisoners prescribed for adoption in the jails of these provinces is simple. It is fully explained in the Jail Code, and, in the absence of special orders, must be strictly carried out wherever it is possible to do so. The Lieutenant-Governor finds it necessary to impress this upon all concerned, as from Mr. Beverley's report it would seem that certain Jail Superintendents have been at insufficient pains to acquaint themselves with what was required of them. It is also observed that it is stated that the Superintendents do not always obtain the assistance which is necessary to enable them to give proper effect to the rules, owing to the insufficient information which is furnished by some Magistrates as regards the crimes and antecedents of prisoners. The Lieutenant-Governor has already noticed the imperfect manner in which the records of previous convictions have been prepared in certain districts. According to rule, other matters, also, which are ascertainable as regards a prisoner from a reference to the records, are required to be entered in the memorandum which accompanies his warrant. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that all Magistrates will pay stricter attention to this matter. Meanwhile, the Inspector-General should call for periodical reports as to the extent to which the requirements of the rules have been observed in the several jails, and should bring to the notice of Government all cases in which there has been any disregard of the rules.

26. The jails in which arrangements have not yet been made to give effect to the system of classification prescribed are stated to be Burdwan, Maldah, Pubna, Rungpore, Bogra, and Furreedpore. At the two jails last-named the state of affairs is particularly unsatisfactory, and it must be the first care of the Inspector-General to see that in these jails immediate arrangements are made for the segregation of under-trial from convicted prisoners, as well as for giving effect to such further arrangements as may be found practicable for separating the latter according to their proper classes. The remarks made in paragraph 20 of last year's resolution on the provision to be made for A. class prisoners should be borne in mind.

27. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that there has been a marked decrease in the number of cases in which it was found necessary to inflict punishment on prisoners during the past year, the number having been 25,212, as against 32,174 in 1874. The punishments, also, were of a less severe description. The number of cases in which corporal punishment had to be resorted to was 2,973 only, as against 4,143 in 1874 and 4,738 in 1873.

28. The success attending the introduction of the mark system into the jails was brought to notice by Major Bowie in his report for 1874. In the present report Mr. Beverley writes—"Of the mark system nearly all officers speak in terms of high approval. The exceptions are mainly in the case of small jails, where, owing to the small number of prisoners who come under its operation, there are fewer opportunities of observing its benefits." And again,—"There can be no doubt, judging from the reports which lie before me, that when the system is thoroughly understood by the prisoners and faithfully carried out by the Superintendent, it acts as a powerful incentive to industry and good conduct on the part of the former, while placing an additional instrument of reward or punishment in the hand of the latter." The efficacy and advantages of the system have now been fully proved, and whatever may be the individual views of some Magistrates on the subject, as noticed in the report, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that all will now endeavour to give due effect to the rules which have been issued.

The cases where failure to give effect to the rules have occurred are, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe, very exceptional. The great majority of jail officers, and particularly those possessing special qualifications and experience, have gladly adopted the system, and, entering into its spirit, have, in some instances, suggested means for its fuller application. Much of the imperfection in the rules is due to the fact, which had to be regarded in drawing them up, that most jails are in the charge of officers who have other onerous duties to perform and whose time is very limited. For this reason among others, a monthly award of marks only has been prescribed for natives. If at any of the central jails (where there are special officers in charge) it is found that the Superintendent is able with advantage to award marks weekly or even daily, the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to entertain any proposals made with a view to introducing the change into particular jails.

29. As noticed by Mr. Beverley, the standard statements prescribed by the Government of India, and which are intended for general use in all provinces, do not shew the number of prisoners who have come under the mark system and the results. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore approves of the proposal made by the Inspector-General, in paragraph 63 of his report, to call for separate statistics in order to enable him to watch the working of the system in the several jails. A statement, in such form as the Inspector-General may prefer, should in future also be submitted in supplement E of the report showing the number of prisoners in each of the classes A, B, C, and D who have come under the mark system in each jail, the number of prisoners released under the rules, and the amount of remission granted to them. Statement No. XXIII, on the other hand, which is not required, might be omitted in future.

The information given on the above points in the present report is meagre. It is estimated that 12,000 prisoners came under the mark system during the past year, and that of these about 350 were released under the rules before the expiration of their sentences, the longest term of remission granted having been one year ten months and ten days.

30. With a daily average of 20,408 prisoners of all classes, 735, or 3·6 per cent., were employed as prison officers. In the new Jail Code the rules regarding rewarding prisoners for good conduct by such promotion have been revised, and the alterations made will, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts, meet the difficulty which has been hitherto experienced in finding a sufficient number of men qualified to hold these appointments.

Statement No. XII shows that of prisoners undergoing their sentence in jails, 19,353·32 of the daily average present were sentenced to hard labour, of whom 17,990·62 were effectives, the rest being infirm, sick, or convalescent. The effectives are shown to have been employed as follows :—

As prison officers	735·23
Ditto servants	2555·89
Building and repairing jails	3751·11
On jail gardens	904·28
On manufactures	9370·66
Extramural	543·72

Definite rules having been laid down regarding the employment of prisoners on penal labour, hard labour, and light labour, respectively, future reports should invariably state how far effect has been given to them. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that there are not now any jails without sufficient means of providing prisoners with penal labour for the prescribed portions of their sentences. If there are any such, the matter should have the immediate attention of the Inspector-General.

31. The large number of labouring prisoners engaged as prison servants is a matter which should be enquired into. By rule not more than 10 per cent. of the whole number should be so employed. The very large number of prisoners employed on jail building has already attracted the Inspector-General's attention. It should be a matter for enquiry whether all the work on which prisoners were thus engaged was provided for in the budget estimates, and if not, the practice of employing prisoners on unsanctioned works must be put a stop to. The monthly returns submitted to the Inspector-General show the numbers only of the prisoners employed on public works and jail buildings. It is open to him, however, to require explanation as to the sanction under which they are so employed, and to see that a yearly return is rendered of the value of the work done by them in reduction of estimates. Such value not being a cash receipt will only be entered in Statement XIII, firstly, in cases in which prisoners are employed in the erection of central jails under the orders No. 1334, dated 16th March last, of the Public Works Department; and secondly, when prisoners are employed in convict camps under a special Superintendent in accordance with the orders of the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 2581, dated 29th April 1870, which were communicated to the Inspector-General of Jails with this office endorsement No. 2575, dated 30th July 1870. In other cases, though the value of the labour performed will not be entered in the statement, it should be mentioned in the body of the report.

The report shows some improvement as regards the employment of prisoners at sub-divisional lock-ups. The Inspector-General should ascertain why no suitable arrangements have been hitherto made for providing labour for the prisoners in the lock-ups mentioned in his 74th paragraph.

32. The daily average number of prisoners under instruction was 1,431. Much progress in the matter of education is not perhaps to be looked for, still the matter is one in which the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that Superintendents will interest themselves. The grant of extra marks authorized by the rules to convicts teaching others should serve as an incentive in this particular.

33. Financial.—The following table contrasts the expenditure and receipts of the Jail Department during the past three years :—

	1875. Rs	1874. Rs.	1873. Rs.
Supervision	41,417	48,126	41,680
Rations	5,61,832	6,78,228	5,89,346
Establishment	3,10,739	2,98,746	2,42,043
Hospital charges	33,346	31,073	24,576
Clothing	73,743	65,985	63,701
Contingencies	63,751	74,479	58,775
Petty repairs and construction, treadmills, &c.	23,315	18,652	18,193
Police charges	1,58,147	1,64,084	1,80,679
Public Works Department charges ...	2,46,264	3,77,893	3,88,833
Total ...	15,12,554	17,58,166	16,08,726
Charges for manufacture ...	5,52,144	5,41,673	5,15,272
Gross expenditure ...	20,64,698	22,99,839	21,23,998
Manufacturing receipts ...	8,28,302	7,55,902	8,08,413
Net expenditure ...	12,36,396	15,43,937	13,15,585

The figures given above for 1874 are taken from the Inspector-General's present report. They differ somewhat, however, from those submitted by his predecessor.

The decrease, compared with 1874, shown by the above statements to have occurred in the cost of jails, appears chiefly under the heads of "rations" and "public works." This is attributable to the prices of food-grains having fallen since the late scarcity and to restrictions having been placed on expenditure on jail buildings for financial reasons. The increase in the cost of clothing is chiefly due to the adoption of the recommendations of the Commission on the Behar Jails for the issue of a more liberal scale.

34. Excluding manufacturing charges, the following table shows the comparative gross cost per head of each prisoner during the past two years under the several chief heads of charge :—

	1875. Rs. A. P.	1874. Rs. A. P.
Supervision	1 14 11	2 3 5
Rations	26 6 10	31 7 1
Establishment	14 8 6	12 14 3
Hospital, clothing, contingencies, and petty repairs ...	9 1 6	8 13 0
Police charges	7 6 4	7 8 11
Public Works Department charges	11 8 3	17 6 7
Total ...	70 14 4	80 5 3

Excluding public works charges also, the cost of each prisoner was about Rs. 5 a month. The jails which show the largest expenditure per head on account of rations are Hooghly, Jessore, Darjeeling, Julpigoree, and Hazareebagh Central Jail. Indeed the cost on this account in the district last-mentioned is so much in excess, not only of the average, but also of the charges in surrounding districts, as to call for some special explanation. The police charges of some of the smaller jails, such as Maldah and Furreedpore, appear to be abnormal. There should be in future a large decrease under this head as regards the Dehree Convict Camp, now located permanently at Buxar.

The question of the comparative cost of the jails in Bengal and in the other provinces of India has formed the subject of a separate correspondence, and will probably be investigated by the Jail Committee about to assemble.

35. Referring to Table XIII, the following figures are given as showing what are called the "profits" on manufactures :—

	Rs.
Total credits on account of manufactures	11,61,311
Total debits ditto ditto	9,69,746
Excess of credits or profit	1,91,565

This gives a result less by Rs. 1,90,035 than the figures similarly obtained for the previous year. With regard to the great apparent falling off in the profits realized, Mr. Beverley explains that, taking the value of goods sold, as well as of those supplied for public purposes, and setting off against this the cash expenditure on manufactures, the result was a credit balance of Rs. 2,76,158 in 1875, against Rs. 2,14,229 in 1874. The balance in favour of 1875 was thus more than absorbed by the increase of goods supplied to the public departments without cash payment. Taking cash payment into the treasury alone, there was a decrease of Rs. 749 in the receipts of 1875.

36. The continued depression of the jute trade has so much decreased the profits made at the Alipore Jail as fully to account for the difference in the pecuniary results indicated above. The balance of profit shown against this jail was only Rs. 81,300, against Rs. 2,88,000 in the previous year. Taking all other jails and lock-ups, the result was a balance of Rs. 1,10,300, against Rs. 93,600 only in the previous year.

Allusion has been made above to the fact that jails are not credited in all cases with the value of the labour of prisoners employed by the Public Works Department. Similarly, credit is not taken for the work done in the Alipore Jail Press. The work done at the press, however, is estimated, and it appears that in the past year the net value of the outturn of work was Rs. 1,05,404, giving a net profit of Rs. 317 for each prisoner employed in the press.

37. With respect to the question of jail manufactures generally, the Lieutenant-Governor has little to add to the remarks made in last year's resolution. If any great reduction in jail charges is to be effected by means of these manufactures, it is from arrangements to be made in central jails that improvement must chiefly be expected. In these jails only will it be possible to carry on any industry on the scale which is necessary to secure constant profits. The question of supplying machinery to these jails has not yet been satisfactorily settled. Meanwhile, every effort must be made to carry on the usual jail industries to advantage. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, is inclined to think that there is much loss of power in some jails, resulting from carrying on too many different kinds of manufactures, and in making up articles which do not find a ready sale. Superintendence, he considers, would be both cheaper and easier, and probably profits larger, if one particular kind of industry, suitable to the requirements or natural productions of the locality, was selected for the employment of the bulk of the labouring prisoners. Economy also is not apparently sufficiently considered, too many prisoners being employed on jail services or miscellaneous work. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Inspector-General will take these matters into consideration

38. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the favourable mention made of the large number of jail officers named in the margin, and he requests that the acknowledgments of Government may be conveyed to them, as well as to the Superintendents of Jails and other officials, who have been specially mentioned, and whose names are also marginally noted.

The report of the Protector of Emigrants on emigration to British and Foreign Colonies during the year ending 31st March 1876.

Read again—

The report for the previous year, with the orders of Government thereon.

Dr. Grant's report on emigration to the colonies has been submitted this year somewhat earlier than usual. Still, looking to the recent decrease in the amount of work of the department, and to the addition which has been made to the strength of Dr. Grant's office establishment, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that it ought to have been possible to submit the report on an earlier date. The Lieutenant-Governor would have been glad also had the report been somewhat more detailed, and had it contained fuller information on certain points.

2. The prominent feature in the report is the very marked falling off in the number of emigrants recruited and despatched to the several British colonies as compared with previous years. Not only have the indents made by some of these colonies, which have hitherto absorbed the largest amount of labour, been greatly reduced, but in the case of certain other colonies great difficulty has been experienced in obtaining the number of labourers required, and especially of females.

As regards Natal, for which place the returns shew a balance of 3,637 labourers unobtained, the circumstance is explained by the fact of the indent having been received late in the official year. There is no such circumstance to account, however, for the failure which occurred in obtaining little more than half the number of labourers required for Demerara.

The indents made by the French colonies of Guadeloupe and Martinique appear to have been fully satisfied, but there was great difficulty in obtaining females, and the prescribed proportion was not in consequence made up.

3. The following are the principal results abstracted from the returns of the Emigration Department for the past three years :—

Number of emigrants admitted to the depôts ...	29,267	23,393	11,126
Ditto ditto despatched to colonies ...	24,569	20,230	9,251
Ditto ditto returned from ditto ...	2,481	3,534	2,674
Death-rate in depôts	1·14	0·33	0·26
Ditto on outward-bound ships	3·15	1·4	1·74
Ditto on homeward-bound ships	.....	2·2	4·41

4. The chief defect in the returns from which the above figures are extracted is that they do not show the number of intending emigrants actually recruited in the interior, or the districts to which they belonged by birth. The former point was noticed in the Resolution on the report submitted last year, and Dr. Grant's attention was drawn to the omission. He explains that he has not been able to afford the information for the past year, owing to some difficulty in obtaining correct figures from the several emigration agents. It appears, however, to the Lieutenant-Governor that Dr. Grant should in future be able to furnish the requisite figures from the records of his own office. By law Magistrates are required, on registering recruits, to submit to the Protector copies of the entries made by them. These entries should supply all the necessary particulars. It appears, however, that there has been some laxity in carrying out these provisions of the law on the part of Magistrates, and the matter is one which should at once receive attention. The subject is of great importance, as it is only by utilizing the information which these extracts are intended to furnish that the Protector can exercise any efficient check and control over the proceedings of sub-agents and recruiters in the interior.

5. The total number of recruiters licensed was 326 in the past, as compared with 320 in the previous year. Now that much difficulty is experienced in obtaining emigrants, a keen competition among these men is to be expected. Temptations to a recourse to misrepresentation and fraud on their part are consequently much increased, and it is more than ever incumbent on Magistrates to exercise vigilance in the performance of their duties. That the Emigration Department has not been wanting in this respect, would seem to be indicated by the large increase in the number of licenses cancelled, 6·44 per cent. of the whole number having been thus withdrawn, against 2·18 per cent. only in the previous year.

6. The total number of intending emigrants admitted into the Calcutta depôts during the year was 11,126 only, against 23,393 in the previous year. The number of emigrants who absconded after admission to the depôts was 660, or 5·9 per cent. of the total number admitted. Dr. Grant explains that the desertions were due in part to the length of time the emigrants were detained in depôt; in part to their changing their minds; and in part to deliberate fraud, the engagement to emigrate in such cases having been entered into with the view of being brought down to Calcutta at the expense of the emigration agencies. From correspondence which has been separately before him, the Lieutenant-Governor has observed that apparently insufficient measures are adopted by emigration agents to check frauds of the kind alluded to. As for the rest, it behoves the Protector of Emigrants to satisfy himself that the absconding is not due to malpractices on the part of recruiters in the interior, and to misrepresentation and fraud having been used to allure the labourers to Calcutta. The total number of emigrants rejected and released from their engagements was 826, or 7·41 per cent. of the admissions. Of these, 675 or 6 per cent. were rejected by the Medical Inspector, and 151 or 1·35 per cent. were released as unwilling to emigrate, many of them having been dissuaded from emigrating by their friends.

7. The decrease of mortality in the depôts of late years is very satisfactory, and was even less during the past than in the previous year. How frequently, or at what intervals, the depôts were inspected is not stated; the state of the buildings, the accommodation provided, and the arrangements for feeding the emigrants are, however, said to have been good and sufficient in each case. Detentions in depôt beyond the prescribed period have been explained as unavoidable. There were no complaints of any importance.

8. In the following table the number of emigrants admitted to the depôts and despatched to the several colonies during the year under review is shown and contrasted with the corresponding figures for the previous year:—

Colonies	Admitted to depôt.		Embarked.
	1874-75.	1875-76.	1874-75.	1875-76.
Mauritius ..	5,490	929	4,914	739

Total ...	23,393	11,126	20,230	9,251

With reference to the very large decrease in the number of emigrants despatched to the colonies in the past as compared with the two years immediately preceding, Dr. Grant observes that, when there is no famine or serious scarcity, the terms at present offered by the several colonies do not prove sufficiently attractive to secure a supply of recruits equal to the demand. In particular, in the case of Demerara he points out that, although the rate of wages and other advantages offered appear to be sufficiently liberal, the fact of a free return passage not being guaranteed until after ten years residence in the colony operates as a deterrent to emigration.

For the past two years emigration to French and Dutch Guiana has been suspended, owing to the great mortality which has occurred among the Indian labourers in those colonies. It appears that in some instances they have been set to work in the gold mines, a description of labour which was not contemplated in their contracts and which entails much hardship. This is a matter, however, which has been separately represented to the Supreme Government.

While the falling off in the number of emigrants to the British colonies of Mauritius, Trinidad, and Jamaica is very marked, it is to be observed that the indents for labourers made by those colonies have been almost fully met. As regards Mauritius, it would seem that there had been some over-recruitment in past years, as the number of emigrants despatched in the past year was only 739, against 1,782 who returned to this country after completing their period of service.

9. The difficulty of obtaining the requisite number of labourers indented for, and especially from among the female population, is noticeable in the returns, shewing how far the rule requiring the despatch of at least 40 females to 100 males has been complied with. From these, it is observed that the required proportion has been maintained only in the case of emigrants to Natal, Trinidad, and Jamaica. The deficiency of women in the shipments to the French colonies is very marked, and has formed the subject of a separate correspondence. The amount of any deficiency in the proportion of women brought forward from previous years, and the extent to which it was made good in the year under review, has not been stated by Dr. Grant. This omission should be supplied in future reports.

10. Of the 9,251 emigrants despatched, 4,382 are said to have been recruited in the North-West Provinces, 2,306 in Behar, 1,861 in Oude, and 338 only in Bengal Proper and Orissa; the remainder are shewn to have been engaged in other parts of India. It is observable, however, that an increasing number of labourers are reported to have been recruited in Nepal and other Native States. This is a matter which requires attention, and emigration agents should be informed that no recruiter can be permitted to enter a native state for the purpose of engaging emigrants without first obtaining the written permission of the Political Agent in charge.

11. The number of ships which sailed from the port of Calcutta with emigrants during the past year was 20, against 43 in the previous year. It is noteworthy that in no case were steam vessels so employed. Referring to the information given as regards the particulars of the passages made by these vessels, so far as they have been received, it appears that the mortality on board during the past year was 1·74, against 1·4 in the previous year. While there is nothing in these average figures to which exception can be taken, it is observed that in the case of two ships, the Chetah and the Winifred, the death-rate was lamentably high, and amounted to 5·35 and 7·10 respectively. As special reports on these cases have not hitherto been submitted to Government, the causes should have been fully mentioned in the present report.

Generally it is stated that the arrangements on board emigrant ships for promoting the health and comfort of the emigrants on the passage received careful attention during the year, and this statement is borne out by the small percentage of mortality which occurred during the voyages of most of the vessels.

12. Of the 2,674 emigrants who returned to India during the past year, about two-thirds came from Mauritius; British Guiana contributed 443 to the number, and Jamaica 268. The amount of savings reported to have been brought back by the emigrants was Rs. 4,51,120, or nearly precisely the same as in the previous year, when, however, there were 3,534 return emigrants.

As observed in the Resolution on last year's report, the death-rate on board ships bringing back return emigrants is rendered unduly high, owing to the number of those who are placed on board as invalids and who take their chance of regaining their native shore But for this fact the mortality which occurred on board the Chetah (33 per cent.) would be appalling.

13. Dr Grant explains that he has been unable as yet to prepare an account of the financial administration of his department, the absence of which was noticed in connection with the previous report. It should be prepared and submitted, as promised, without further delay, and in future, timely arrangements should be made for its submission with the report.

14. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor has to tender his thanks to Dr. Grant for much assistance rendered in emigration matters during the year under report, and for the generally careful and diligent discharge of his duties as Protector of Emigrants

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. L. MANGLES,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE SECOND QUARTER OF 1876-77.

No. 822B., dated Fort William, the 9th November 1876.

From—W. H. GRIMLEY, Esq, Offg. Secy, to the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

A. MONEY, Esq., C.B.

I AM directed by the Member in charge to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the 2nd quarter of 1876-77, comprising the months of July, August, and September last.

2. The quantity of salt consumed (i. e., the quantity of total clearances of salt of every description) in the quarter under report amounted to 23,73,782 maunds 35 seers, against 16,58,405 maunds 13 seers in the previous quarter, and 26,37,459 maunds 35 seers in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the total amount of duty levied was Rs. 74,18,565-10, against Rs. 51,44,541-2-3 and Rs. 83,55,882-8-11 in the previous and corresponding quarters respectively.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in Cuttack, Balasore, Pooree, and 24-Pergunnahs during the present quarter from the stock of the different season's manufacture, and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter, are shewn in the following table I :—

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 18th November 1876

No.	District, and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div. 1	Burdwan, Nov. 20,* '76	Nil	Prospects of the aman paddy are very good. The price of rice is rising owing to the demand for export. Fever is prevalent.
Burdwan Div. 2	Bankoora, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cool The aman crop is being cut, and the winter rice is excellent. Prices are rising in consequence of exportation
Burdwan Div. 3	Beerbhoom, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops continue excellent. The reaping of the November rice crop is in progress.
Burdwan Div. 4	Midnapore, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and fine, but not so cold as in the last week. The prospects of the crops are good, except in Ghatal and parts of Tumlook.
Burdwan Div. 5	Hooghly, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Bright and cool The rubbee sowings are still going on, and the prospects of aman continue favourable. A good deal of fever, though not of virulent type, is reported along the line of rail in the Serampore sub-division.
Burdwan Div.	Howrah, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops continue to be excellent.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Div. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov 20,†'76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the late rice continue to be favourable. It is being harvested at some places Fever is prevailing in the Barripore, Bussecrhat, and Satkhira sub divisions, and cases of cholera have been reported from Alipore, Satkhira, and Bussecrhat.
Presidency Div. 7	Nuddea, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. Cholera is reported to have broken out in several parts of the district.
Presidency Div. 8	Jessore, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The high land rice in Khoolna is reported to have been injured to the extent of three annas, and in Bagirhat to the extent of four annas, by the late cyclone. The state and prospects of the crops in other parts of the district continue to be favourable. Cholera was prevalent in some parts of the district, and there were a few cases in Jessore town.
Presidency Div. 9	Moorshedabad, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the crops continue to be good. The price of rice is rising generally in the district. There has been a good deal of cholera in the Burwa and Nowada thanas and in Jungypore.
Rajshahye Div. 10	Dinagepore, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—Cold and seasonable. The prospects of the crops continue very good. A little of the rice crop has already been reaped. Fever is still bad.
Rajshahye Div. 11	Maldah, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and bright. State and prospects of the crops are excellent.
Rajshahye Div. 12	Rajshahye, „ 18, „	Nil	The prospects of the dhan crops continue satisfactory The early rice is being reaped The rubbee crops are still being sown. Sugarcane, arhur, and kalai, are looking well. Cholera still continues to be reported from Nattore, Baulesh, Pooteah, Bundaikhara, Tanore, and Burrigong.
Rajshahye Div. 13	Rungpore, „ 17, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The rubbee sowings are going on, and the prospects of aman are good except in the north east of the district.
Rajshahye Div. 14	Bogra, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The crops are in excellent condition, and a bumper season is expected. A few cases of cholera reported.
Rajshahye Div. 15	Pubna, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and fine. The harvest of the early aman is progressing with a good outturn. Cholera is spreading, and medical aid has been sent to Shazadpore. No report from Serajgunge.
Cooch Behar Div. 16	Darjeeling, „ 17, „	Nil	Weather—Alternate mist and sunshine; getting colder daily. The prospects of the crops continue favourable both in the hills and plains of the district.
Cooch Behar Div. 17	Julpigoree, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather.—Fine. All the crops are getting on exceedingly well.
Cooch Behar Div.	Cooch Behar, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and cold. Nothing has happened to injure the prospects of the late rice (hymanti dhan), which promises a very good outturn. Tobacco plants are being transplanted in many places, and the sowing of mustard oil-seed is still going on There are some cases of fever here and there owing to the change of season; but the general health on the whole is good

* Telegram of the 20th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Eastern Districts
Dacca Div. 18	Dacca, Nov. 20,* '76	Nil	Weather.—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops continue favorable. Cholera is still prevalent.
19	Furreedpore, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cool; foggy in the morning and clear in the day. Along the shores of the Megna, which the storm-wave of the 1st November flooded, the rice crop has been lost to the extent of about six annas, a great number of cattle and only six men on land have died, and many houses and trees have been damaged in places. Many boats were sunk and some lives were thus lost. Twenty-seven boats were sunk as high up as Goalundo.
20	Backergunge, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cool. The crops in the north of the district are good. In the south they have been damaged by the storm-wave; and in the lowest parts the water lodging has rotted them. The aghani will in many places give only from two to four annas outturn, and the prospects of the later amun cannot yet be ascertained. Prices are not yet excessively high, and the markets are well supplied. Fever, as usual at this season, is prevalent. It is feared that the dead bodies of men and cattle which overspread many parts of Dowlatkhan, Bowful, and Patuakhali, may bring on pestilence. Several cases of cholera have been already reported.
21	Mymensingh, „ 17, „	Nil.	Weather—Fine and seasonable. The mornings were slightly foggy. The harvest of amun, or late rice, has commenced, and the yield is expected to be remarkably good.
22	Tipperah, „ 17, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and seasonable. The winter rice crop is in pretty good condition, and will be an average fair one all round in spite of the damage done by the late cyclone, which may be put down at about four annas.
Chittagong Div. 23	Chittagong, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Fine after some dull heavy weather, which appeared to promise well. The only real sufferers by the cyclone are the people along the seaface from the Matamorhee northwards. Those further inland will get from four to eight annas crop, and those in the south and east from eight to ten annas. The price of rice in the mofussil ranges from 12 to 15 seers per rupee, and in the town from 10 to 13 seers; but the holders of salt still manage to keep it at as much as three annas a seer in the smaller hâts. In Kootubdea, it is thought, there should be even now a six annas outturn.
24	Noakholly, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—The early mornings were foggy and cold, but the middays and afternoons were warmer than usual at this season. Much of the late rice in the inundated tracts has been destroyed by the salt water. The destruction of peasantry, cattle, and homesteads, has temporarily marred the agricultural prosperity of South Noakholly. It is difficult to gather in the ripe crops that are left. Cholera is raging in the district and station throughout the inundated tracts.
25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 14, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and foggy during the first part of the week, and cloudy during the latter part. Mustard is being sown, and cotton is being gathered in places where the plants are not totally destroyed by the cyclone of the 31st ultimo.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 15, „	Nil	Weather—Dry and cool. State and prospects of the crops are fair.
BEHAR.
Patna Div. 26	Patna, Nov. 20,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The dhan crop is being reaped. Health of the district is good.
27	Gya, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Cool, and the sky was clear. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade was 85·6. The kharreef appears to be very favourable, and the rubbee looks highly promising. Public health is good.
28	Shahabad, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. The aghani crops are being gathered. The rubbee crops are sown, and the prospects at present are generally good.
29	Durbhunga, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cool. The state and prospects of the crops throughout the district are satisfactory.
30	Muzufferpore, „ 17, „	Nil	Weather—Becoming gradually cool. The prospects of the crops are good. The winter crop is almost ready for harvesting, and the rubbee sowing is still going on. Health of the district is good.
31	Sarun, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Bright and clear, but rather warm for the time of the year. The wind is blowing from the west. The aghani rice is fast ripening, and the harvest will shortly commence. The rubbee crops are coming on well, and the prospects are generally very favourable. Fields are still being prepared for indigo. General health is good.
32	Chumparun, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the crops continue excellent.

* Telegrams of the 20th November, received on the same day, show rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
Bhagulpore Divn. 33	Monghyr, Nov. 18, '76	Nil	Weather—Fine and clear. The nights are chilly. The crops promise exceedingly well.
34	Bhagulpore, „ 20,* „	Nil	The prospects of the crops are excellent. The rubbee is coming on nicely. General health is very good.
35	Purneah, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The prospects of the crops are very good. The winter rice is being cut in some places, and the rubbee sowings have generally commenced.
36	Sonthal Pergha. „ 19, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and dry, with heavy dew and getting colder. The high land rice is being cut everywhere, and is very good. The low land rice is a grand crop. The rubbee crops are all looking as well as possible. Some cattle disease is prevalent in Deoghur.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, Nov. 18, '76	Nil	Weather—Cold and clear. The crops are progressing well. Further reports shew that some damage was done to the crops on the sea-coast by the storm-wave of the 31st October, over a limited area and to a very slight degree. Public health is good.
38	Pooree, „ 15, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. Some of the laghu crop is ready for the sickle. The sarad crop is flowering, and in some places has begun to ripen. The people are irrigating the lands where sufficient water does not exist. There are no complaints in the Chilka tracts. Laghu is being reaped in Khoorda. A few sporadic cases of cholera reported.
39	Balasore, „ 17, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The early rice continues to be gathered with a very good outturn, and the prospects of the late rice are excellent. The price of rice is rapidly rising. Public health is good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 17, '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The prospects of the crops continue very favourable.
41	Lohardugga, „ 18, „	Nil	The winter has set in, and the weather is pleasant. The crops all over the district are excellent. Small-pox is still reported from the Palamow sub-division.
42	Singbhoom, „ 17, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The prospects of the crops continue very favourable. Fever is reported to be on the decrease.
43	Manbhoom, „ 18, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The paddy crop on the higher lands is being harvested with a very good outturn. The rubbee crops are promising.

* Telegram of the 20th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 8 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 17. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table,—"Prof. papers on Indian Engineering No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 17 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Clouds.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which shall show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

NOTIFICATION.

Revised application made by the undersigned Municipal Commissioners of Darjeeling for a loan under the Local Public Works Loan Act of 1871.

The loan is required for the following purposes:—

	Rs.
I.—The increase and improvement of water-supply of Darjeeling, which is insufficient for the purposes of the station during the four months of the year, by constructing near the cutcherry a reservoir to contain 55,000 cubic feet of water, according to the revised plan submitted by the Superintending Engineer, Northern Circle, with his letter No. 2814, dated 23rd October 1876, at an estimated cost of	29,293
II.—The extension and improvement of the present drainage, as follows:—
(1) The construction of a covered drain and adjuncts to the Hospital Jhara, as proposed in the first part of Mr. Smith's Appendix E (except last part), at an estimated cost of ...	7,576
(2) The construction of two small drains at the Bazar Jhara, as proposed in the second part of Mr. Smith's Appendix E, at an estimated cost of	500
(3) The improvement of Beechwood Jhara, as proposed in Mr. Smith's Appendix E (third part), at a cost not exceeding ..	2,631

2. The amount of loan now applied for is Rs. 40,000.

3. The security offered for the above loan will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
I.—Proceeds of house tax, estimated to yield ...	5,784	12	0
II.—Horse and pony tax	600	0	0
III.—Rent of locations	4,684	0	0
IV.—Bazar rents	13,000	0	0
V.—Native village rent	1,300	0	0
VI.—Pound fines	500	0	0
Total ...	25,868	12	0

4. The house and horse taxes are levied under Act V of 1876.

The rents of locations, with which those of native villages are to be classed, were first assigned to the use of the sanitarium in 1838. This was confirmed by orders of Government passed in 1854, again in orders No. 217 of the 14th January 1864, and finally in the resolution of the Government of Bengal, dated 27th June 1873

The bazar rents are derived from buildings erected by the municipality out of its revenues, and situated on land made over to it by Government.

The pound fines were made over to the municipality under orders dated 14th October 1862, contained in letter No. 3625, from the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal to the Superintendent of Darjeeling.

5. It is proposed to pay back the loan in 20 years by equal half-yearly instalments of Rs. 1,000, or Rs. 2,000 per annum. In this manner the payments would be made within 20 years, as provided in clause d, Rule X of the rules of the 15th October 1873.

6. It is not possible to give the details required for the three years last preceding, as the limits of the municipality were much reduced in the beginning of the year 1874-75, and the sources of income, as well as the objects of expenditure, were so much affected by this change, that any attempt at comparison with former years would be deceptive.

The following table shows proceeds of the various sources of municipal income in 1874-75 :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
House tax	5,028	8	4
Horse tax	579	0	0
Bazar rents	11,732	4	3
Rent of locations	4,484	8	0
Rent of native village	1,231	11	5
Pound fines	229	13	0
All other sources, viz. hospital subscriptions, sale of garden produce, &c.	4,583	2	7
Total ...	27,868	15	7

The expenditure during the year was Rs. 27,494, out of which Rs. 700 consisted of recoverable advances, and Rs. 1,583 was a contribution to a work outside the new limits of the municipality.

7. The value of bazar buildings, &c., is about Rs. 1,50,000.

8. There are no existing prior charges upon any of the sources of income above enumerated.

The statement of works of public utility constructed by private individuals during the year 1874, and the Resolution on that statement.

REMARKS.—The statement of works of public utility constructed by private individuals during the year 1875 shows that works have been carried out under all of the following heads, viz. roads, bridges, embankments, drainage channels, tanks and wells, masonry ghâts, and school buildings; and the total number of works, with their aggregate cost, as compared with previous years, are given below:—

Years.	No. of works.	Amount.
		Rs.
1871	46	54,800
1872	69	80,600
1873	163	1,69,715
1874	847	5,00,592
1875	121	6,05,034

2. The number of works costing more than Rs. 500 that have been carried out during the year under review, as compared with former years, are as under:—

Years.	No. of works.
1871	24
1872	38
1873	68
1874	348
1875	62

3. In comparison with the previous year, 1874, the number of works costing Rs. 1,000 and upwards being 35 to 117.

4. The number of works below Rs. 500 are only 59, as against the numbers in previous years, viz:—

Years.	No. of works.
1871	22
1872	31
1873	95
1874	499
1875	59

5. The following statement shows the number of works and their aggregate cost that have been expended by private individuals in each district:—

Lohardugga	1	390
Singbhoom	2	1,185
Total ..		6,05,034

6. Rs. 2,40,687 would appear to have been expended on 16 roads, and of this sum Rs. 2,33,008 has been expended upon the earthwork and bridging of the north and south emigration roads in the Bhagulpore district from funds supplied by the estate of the minor Maharajah of Durbhunga, and Rs. 1,763 has been contributed for metalling a road in the town of Durbhunga.

7. The Maharajah of Cooch Behar's estate has in a similar manner expended Rs. 2,351 on eight roads, and the Commissioner remarks that the Maharajah has paid Rs. 10,000 for roads in his estate, of which Rs. 7,649 are in hand.

8. Baboo Isan Chunder Roy, zemindar of Kaitollah, has constructed a road in the Tipperah district at a cost of Rs. 1,800.

9. Twelve bridges have been constructed at an aggregate cost of Rs. 3,03,153. Of this sum, Rs. 3,02,753 has been expended on 11 bridges by the Court of Wards from funds belonging to the estate of the Maharajah of Durbhunga.

10. Five embankments have been constructed at an aggregate cost of Rs. 4,610. Of this sum, A. Hills, Esq., in the Nuddea district, has provided Rs. 1,281; Baboo Nafur Chunder Pal Chowdry, of Natudoba, has contributed Rs. 1,264; Rs. 1,125 has been expended jointly by Messrs. Sherriff and R. de Dombal, and Rs. 950 by other gentlemen.

11. One drainage work was executed in the Nuddea district by several persons conjointly at a cost of Rs. 240, and it is anticipated that by the drainage of a bheel 1,800 beeghas of land will be reclaimed and the crops on about 500 beeghas more rendered safe from loss by excessive rainfall.

12. Rs. 52,767 has been spent upon 84 tanks. Of this sum, Rs. 3,000 was expended by Hajee Mahomed Eshahuk, of the Hooghly district, six persons have each contributed Rs. 2,000 for the construction of tanks in various districts, and ten persons have each contributed sums varying from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 2,000

13. A refreshment room for the boys and teachers of the school at Comillah, in Tipperah, has been constructed at a cost of Rs. 500.

RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor remarks that, although the number of these valuable works of public utility constructed in 1875 is not nearly so great as in the two previous years, the number shows a decided increase over the numbers previous to 1873, during which and the succeeding year the native gentlemen of Bengal contributed so much more than usual in order to mitigate the then unhappily prevailing distress. Making allowance for the large expenditure by the Maharajah of Durbhunga on the emigration roads to Assam, which were commenced as relief works, the amount expended would appear to have been about the same as the expenditure in 1872, and considerably more than that in 1871. His Honor has pleasure in noticing the increased number of works which have been carried out during the year.

Letters acknowledging on the part of the Government the liberality of those gentlemen who have constructed the more important of these works will be issued in the usual manner, and it again affords the Lieutenant-Governor much pleasure to be able prominently to notice the names of many gentlemen in this review.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions, to the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, to all Superintending Engineers of Public Works Circles in Bengal, and to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution, and of the statement, be forwarded to the Revenue and Judicial Departments of this Government respectively, and to the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department of Bengal for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 500 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1875-76, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1877, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 48,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

MINT AND CURRENCY.

The 25th November 1876.

No. 2725.—In exercise of the powers conferred by the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, and the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1871, and of all other powers enabling him in this behalf, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following Rules:—

1. Certificates from the Assay Master under Section 24 of the said Indian Coinage Act, 1870, for the net produce of silver bullion or coin delivered into the mint on and after Monday, the 27th November 1876, shall be payable twenty-one days after the date thereof, if issued by the Assay Master at Calcutta, at the Bank of Bengal, and if issued by the Assay Master at Bombay, at the Bank of Bombay.

2. The holders of certificates granted under Section 14 of the said Indian Paper Currency Act, 1871, shall be entitled to receive the amount of notes or of notes and cash stated therein on demand at the Office of Issue.

3. Persons wishing to obtain, under the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1871, promissory notes of the Government of India in exchange for silver bullion or foreign silver coin, may tender the same to the Mint Master on behalf, in Calcutta, of the Head Commissioner, and in Bombay, of the Commissioner of the Department of Issue, in the Form M hereto annexed.

4. The Mint Master shall give a receipt, in Form N hereto annexed, for all bullion or coin so tendered, and immediately forward copy thereof to the Head Commissioner or Commissioner (as the case may be) of the Department of Issue.

5. The Assay Master shall prepare, in Form O hereto annexed, and countersign a certificate of the value of such bullion or coin calculated at the rate prescribed in Section 11(b) of the said Indian Paper Currency Act. The Head Commissioner or Commissioner (as the case may be) of Issue shall then sign the certificate and deliver it to the person making the tender.

6. No bullion or coin tendered under these Rules shall be withdrawn by the tenderer, unless he is dissatisfied with the assay.

7. The Head Commissioner or Commissioner (as the case may be) shall pay to the Mint Master out of the coin reserve of the Department of Issue one rupee per mille on the standard value of the bullion or coin for which certificates in the said Form O may be issued.

8. Bullion or coin tendered under these Rules shall not be coined, except on the written application of the Head Commissioner or Commissioner (as the case may be) of Issue.

9. When the Mint Master receives any such application, he shall communicate the fact to the Assay Master, who shall thereupon issue a certificate under Section 24 of the said Indian Coinage Act, 1870, in favor of the Head Commissioner or Commissioner, as the case may be, of the Department of Issue, for the net produce of the bullion or coin at the rate of ninety-eight rupees per eighteen thousand grains of standard fineness.

FORM M.

Tender of silver bullion (or foreign silver coin) for promissory notes of the Government of India.

To

THE MINT MASTER.

SIR,

Be pleased to receive on behalf of the Head Commissioner (or Commissioner) of the Department of Issue tolas (tolas) of which (I) hereby tender to the said (Head) Commissioner for promissory notes of the Government of India payable to bearer on demand under the provisions of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1871. (I) request that you will melt or cut the above-mentioned silver at (my) sole risk and for the resulting weight of ingots or cut-pieces, or such portion of them as shall agreeably to the rules of the mint be considered fit for coinage, grant your receipt entitling (me) to receive a certificate signed by the (Head) Commissioner of the Department of Issue as prescribed in Section 14 of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1871.

The bullion (or coin) will be delivered to you by C. D., who is authorised to superintend its melting or cutting on (my) behalf, and who will attend for that purpose at such times as may be appointed.

Yours obediently,

A. B.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by the Government, situated in the districts of Sonthal Pergunnahs, East Indian Railway, Chord Line, will be put up to sale at the Nawadi Staging Bungalow at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, the 13th December 1876, corresponding with 29th Aughrahan 1283, B. S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

3rd.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

BERHAMPORE, the 27th November 1876.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE first Part of the "Indian Law Reports," published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, will appear as soon after the 1st January 1876 as can be arranged for. The Reports will appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series. The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

	Without postage.	With postage.
For the Calcutta Series...	Rs. 35	Rs. 40
,, Madras Series ...	,, 8	,, 9
,, Bombay Series...	,, 8	,, 9
,, Allahabad Series	,, 8	,, 9
Complete set	45	,, 50

The Price of each part purchased separately will vary according to the amount of matter it contains, and will be printed on the wrapper. It will, however, never be below the following:—

	Rs.	A.
For a part of the Calcutta Series ...	3	8
,, ,, Madras Series ...	1	0
,, ,, Bombay Series ...	1	0
,, ,, Allahabad Series ...	1	0
Complete set	4	0

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports, should apply to—

Messrs. Thacker, Spink and Co., Calcutta;
,, Thacker, Vining and Co.,
,, Higginbotham and Co., Madras;
The Government Central Book Depôt, Bombay;
The Government Book Depôt, Allahabad.

The publication of the Bengal Law Reports and the Madras, Bombay, and N. W. P. High Court Reports will cease on the completion of the volumes now in course of publication.

Subscribers to the Bengal Law Reports, who have already paid their subscriptions to the end of June 1876, will be supplied with the complete set of Reports for the first half of 1876 in lieu of the volume of the Bengal Law Reports which they would otherwise have received.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th November 1876, and was referred to a Select Committee, who are to report thereon in one month :—

A Bill to amend the Law relating to Public Ferries.

Preamble.

WHEREAS by Regulation VI of 1819, the superintendence of public ferries is vested in the Magistrates and Joint-Magistrates, and whereas it has been deemed expedient to give power to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to vest the superintendence of certain public ferries in the District Committees constituted under the District Road Cess Act, 1871; It is enacted as follows :—

Lieutenant-Governor may entrust management of public ferries to District Committees under Road Cess Act

1. Notwithstanding anything contained in Regulation VI of 1819 (for rescinding Regulation XIX of 1816, and for enacting other provisions in lieu thereof), or in Bengal Act I of 1866 (to amend certain provisions of Regulation VI of 1819), the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, make over any public ferry to a District Committee constituted under section 49 of "the District Road Cess Act, 1871," to be administered by such Committee until the said Lieutenant-Governor shall otherwise direct.

Duties of Committee in regard to such ferries.

2. Every such ferry, when so made over, shall be maintained by the District Committee, and the profits derivable therefrom, or such part of the profits as the Lieutenant-Governor shall order, shall be carried to the credit of the District Road Fund.

The District Committee shall do all things necessary to provide for the safety and convenience of travellers, and the safety of property to be conveyed in such ferry, and shall administer the same in the manner hereinafter provided.

Rate of tolls to be established and published.

3. When it has been determined to impose tolls on a ferry, the District Committee shall make and publish an order specifying, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, the rates at which such tolls shall be levied.

Such rates may from time to time be varied with the like sanction.

When persons crossing river not liable to toll.

4. No person shall be liable to pay any toll for crossing any river or stream at or near a ferry unless he avails himself of the means provided by the District Committee for crossing such river or stream.

Lease of ferry.

5. The District Committee may grant a lease of a ferry for any period not exceeding three years.

Cancellation of ferry lease, &c.

6. Every lease of a ferry given by the District Committee shall be liable to be cancelled at once, if it shall appear to the District Committee that the lessee has failed to make due provision for the convenience or safety of the public within fifteen days after being required to do so by a notice in writing from the District Committee.

On the cancelment of a lease, the District Committee may take possession of all boats and other appliances which have been used by the lessee in the working of the ferry; and may either retain the same permanently on payment of a fair price to the proprietor, or may retain them for such time as may be necessary, not exceeding three months, until they can make arrangements for such other boats and appliances as may be necessary, in which case the District Committee shall pay a fair price to the owners for the use of the said boats and appliances.

Provided that within a week of taking such possession the District Committee shall be bound to give notice to the said lessee of their intention to retain the said boats and appliances permanently, or of the period during which they intend to retain them, as the case may be.

Toll must be prepaid.

7. Any lessee of a ferry under this Act, or his agent, may refuse to convey any person or goods across a ferry until the proper toll has been paid, and may require any person who refuses to pay the toll to leave the boat and to remove his goods from it.

Penalty.

Any person who refuses to leave a ferry-boat or to remove his goods therefrom when required to do so under this section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees.

Keeping of unauthorized ferry.

8. No person shall keep a ferry boat for the purpose of plying for hire within a distance of two miles above or below any ferry administered by a District Committee under this Act without the previous sanction of such Committee.

Penalty.

9. Whoever keeps a ferry-boat contrary to the provisions of the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding ten rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been required by a notice in writing to desist from such offence.

This section shall not apply to any private ferry which may be in existence at the commencement of this Act.

Table of tolls to be hung up.

10. A table of tolls legibly written in the vernacular of the district shall be hung up in some conspicuous position at each end of every ferry, so as to be easily read by all persons required to pay the toll.

Penalty.

11. Whoever, being a lessee of a ferry under this Act, neglects to hang up a table of tolls as required by the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding ten rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been required by a notice in writing to desist from such offence.

Composition in respect of toll.

12. The District Committee, or the lessee of a ferry under this Act, may compound with any person for a certain sum to be paid by such person for himself or for any vehicles or animals kept by him, in lieu of the ordinary toll payable.

Exemptions.

13. No tolls shall be paid for the passage of troops on the march, or of animals or vehicles employed in the transport of such troops, or of military or Government stores, or the persons in charge of them, or of military or police officers, or of any public or municipal officer on duty, or of any person in their custody, or of any property belonging to them or in their custody, or of any vehicle or animal employed by such persons for the transport of such property, or of conservancy carts or other vehicles or animals belonging to the District Committee, or of the persons in charge of them, and the District Committee or their lessees shall not be bound to allow any person or thing not specified above, to cross a ferry without payment of the prescribed toll;

But the District Committee may exempt any other class of persons or things from payment of the said toll; and in granting a lease of any ferry may stipulate that any servants and property of the Committee and any other persons or things, shall be allowed to cross without payment of the toll.

Police officers to assist.

14. In all cases of resistance to the person authorized to collect tolls, police officers shall assist when required, and for that purpose shall have the same powers as they have in the exercise of their ordinary police duties.

Penalty for taking unauthorised tolls.

15. Whoever being authorized under this Act to collect tolls, demands or takes any higher tolls than the tolls authorised under this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and in default of payment to one month's imprisonment.

Realization of sums due to District Committee.

16. Every amount which may become due to a District Committee under the provisions of this Act in respect of any arrears payable by a lessee of a ferry or otherwise, shall be deemed to be a demand under section 1 of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (an Act to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue), and shall be leviable as such.

Saving of Bengal Municipal Act.

17. Nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to interfere with sections 139 to 146 (both inclusive), or sections 155 to 161 (both inclusive), of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1876.

Commencement of Act.

18. This Act shall commence from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to enable the Lieutenant-Governor to transfer the management of ferries upon district roads to the District Committees constituted under the District Road Cess Act, 1871. At present these ferries are superintended by the Magistrates under the provisions of Regulation VI of 1819. But as the District Road Cess Committees at present enjoy the surplus collections from these ferries, it has been thought advisable to vest the control of the ferries in those local Committees, which have the management of the roads upon which the ferries are situated. With ferries upon roads supported from imperial funds, or with ferries situated within the limits of a municipality, this Bill will in no way interfere. They will remain, as heretofore, under the charge of the Magistrates and the different municipalities. The rules laid down for the management of ferries in the Bengal Municipal Act, 1876, have been adopted, as being the most convenient for the purposes of the present Bill. And a clause has been inserted enabling the District Committees to realise their dues under the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1868.

The 18th November 1876. H. BELL.

FREDERICK CLARKE,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th November 1876, and was referred to a Select Committee, who are to report thereon in two months:—

A Bill for the regulation of the Ghatwali Police in the districts of Bankoora and Manbhoom.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to enact rules for the appointment of ghatwals in the districts of Bankoora and Manbhoom, and also more clearly to determine the duties and liabilities of the said ghatwals; It is enacted as follows:

Extent and commencement of Act.

1. This Act extends to the districts of Bankoora and Manbhoom, and it shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

Interpretation clause.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,

"Sardar."

(i) "Sardar" means the chief ghatwal in each ghat.

"Sadyal."

(ii) "Sadyal" means the next in grade below a sardar.

"Tabedar." "Paik"

(iii) "Tabedar" and "Paik" respectively include all ghatwals not comprised in the two last preceding definitions.

"Ghatwal."

(iv) "Ghatwal" includes all ghatwals defined in the three last preceding clauses.

"Ghat."

(v) "Ghat" means the land held directly or indirectly as service tenure by one sardar or by one or more sardars holding jointly.

"Hereditary Ghatwal."

(vi) "Hereditary Ghatwal" means a ghatwal some member of whose family has been, from the time of the Permanent Settlement, in uninterrupted possession of the same service tenure, and who has performed police service for the same.

Service or possession by a substitute shall be deemed to be service or possession by the family within the meaning of the last preceding definition.

In case of dispute, it shall be presumed that possession has been uninterrupted unless the contrary be proved.

Appointment of ghatwals.

3. The appointment of all ghatwals shall rest with the District Superintendent of Police, subject, in the case of sardars and sadyals, to confirmation by the Magistrate of the district.

Appointment of hereditary ghatwals.

4. If a hereditary ghatwal dies, or becomes, in the opinion of the District Superintendent of Police, physically unfit for the performance of his duties, or resigns with the approval of the District Superintendent of Police, his next male heir shall be appointed in his place. If the next male heir is a minor, or personally unfit, some other male member of the family shall be appointed. If the next male heir is a minor, and there is no other male member of the family personally fit, the District Superintendent of Police may appoint another person, not a member of the family, who shall hold the office until such time as the minor may attain majority, and thereupon the said minor shall, if personally fit, be appointed to the office.

When the next male heir is a minor, and another male member of the family is appointed in his place, the minor shall, in the event of the appointment becoming vacant, be appointed to the office if he has attained majority and is personally fit. If at the time the appointment becomes vacant the said minor has not attained majority, or is personally unfit, his next male heir shall, if he has attained majority and is personally fit, be appointed in his place.

A person who is personally fit or unfit in the opinion of the District Superintendent of Police is personally fit or unfit within the meaning of this section.

Outsider when appointed to receive a portion of the produce of lands.

5. When a person not a member of the family is appointed temporarily in the place of a minor, such person shall not be entitled to possession of the ghatwali lands, but shall receive such portion of the produce of the said lands as may be agreed upon by any private arrangement he may make with the minor's family, or, in the absence of any such arrangement, as may be determined by the District Superintendent of Police.

If ghatwal is dismissed from office, outsider may be appointed

6. If any ghatwal is dismissed from his office by competent authority on account of neglect of duty, or for any offence against the laws for the time being in force, another person not a member of his family may, at the discretion of the District Superintendent of Police, be appointed to the office.

Duties of ghatwals.

7. Every ghatwal shall be subordinate to the officer in charge of the police-station within the limits of which his service tenure is situated He shall be bound, within such limits, to collect and communicate intelligence affecting the public peace, to prevent the commission of offences, to detect and bring offenders to justice, to patrol roads, to escort travellers, to carry official correspondence, and to perform such other police duties as may be assigned to him. He shall be bound at all times to obey the summons of the Magistrate of the district or the District Superintendent of Police, and to perform temporarily such police duties as either of the aforesaid officers may assign to him beyond the limits aforesaid.

The duties of sardars and sadyals shall, in general, be confined to such supervision of their subordinates as may be considered necessary by the District Superintendent of Police.

Every sadyal shall be considered subordinate to the sardar of his ghat, and every tabedar and paik to the sadyal and sardar.

District Superintendent may order ghatwal to reside at certain places.

8. The District Superintendent of Police may, with the consent of the Magistrate of the district, by an order in writing, order any ghatwal to reside permanently at any place on or near any public road, and patrol such road in the manner and at the time specified in the order; provided that such place shall in no case be distant more than five miles from some part of the service tenure of such ghatwal, and that no ghatwal shall be so appointed whose service tenure does not contain cultivated land not less than twenty beeghas in extent.

Ghatwal to receive certificate on appointment.

9. Every ghatwal appointed under this Act shall receive on his appointment a certificate under the seal of the Magistrate of the district. Such certificate shall, whenever practicable, contain a specification of the extent and boundaries of the lands comprised in the service tenure to which he has been appointed, and he shall be entitled to enjoy the profits arising from such lands from the date of his appointment up to the date on which he is dismissed or otherwise removed from it, and no longer. Provided that no ghatwal shall have any mineral rights in his service-tenure.

Ghatwal not to engage in other employment.

10. No ghatwal shall engage in any employment or office whatever other than his duties as prescribed in this Act and the cultivation of his service lands, unless expressly permitted to do so in writing by the District Superintendent of Police.

Removal of non-hereditary ghatwal who becomes physically unfit.

11. If a non-hereditary ghatwal becomes, in the opinion of the District Superintendent of Police, physically unfit for the performance of his duties, he shall be removed from his appointment.

Penalty if ghatwal does not pay quit-rent.

12. Every ghatwal who refuses or neglects to pay the quit-rent due by him to Government or to the persons entitled thereto, shall be liable to be dismissed from his appointment by the Magistrate of the district.

Ghatwal when liable to fine or dismissal.

13. Every ghatwal who shall be guilty of any neglect of duty, or of any wilful disobedience to legal order, or who shall be convicted of any offence, shall be liable to fine or dismissal by the District Superintendent of Police, subject to the confirmation of the Magistrate of the district.

Ghatwal alienating lands liable to fine or imprisonment.

14. Every person who, while a ghatwal, alienates or attempts to alienate any part of the lands held by him as service-tenure, or who having ceased to be a ghatwal, does not forthwith deliver up his certificate and possession of his service lands to the Magistrate of the district, or appropriates or attempts to appropriate any profits arising from such lands, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a period not exceeding six months, or to both. Provided that every ghatwal shall be entitled to any rents due to him by under-tenants at the time of his dismissal or removal, and also to a share in the profits of any crop which may be in the ground at the time aforesaid; such share to be determined by the District Superintendent of Police at such time as the aforesaid crop may come to maturity.

Ghatwal liable to certain penalties.

15. Every ghatwal who is guilty of any neglect of duty or of any violation of any rule, regulation, or order connected with his duties, or who is, in the opinion of the District Superintendent of Police, guilty of cowardice, shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, or to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, for a period not exceeding three months, or to both.

Appeals.

16. An appeal, if presented within three months from the date of the order appealed against, shall lie to the Commissioner of the division against all orders passed under this Act other than those passed in a court of law. The decision of the Commissioner shall be final, subject to the general control of the local Government.

Agreements by ghatwal relating to service lands

17. No agreement made by a ghatwal with an under-tenant, or relating to the produce of his service lands shall be binding on his successor, and every ghatwal on his appointment shall obtain direct possession of the lands included in his tenure.

Right of occupancy.

18. No ryot or under-tenant shall acquire a right of occupancy in ghatwali lands.

Civil Court not to entertain certain suits.

19 No civil court shall entertain a suit for recovery of possession of any service-tenure from which any ghatwal has been dismissed or removed by order of any competent authority, nor any suit to obtain possession of such a tenure on the ground of hereditary title or otherwise.

Local Government may direct survey of all ghatwali lands.

20. The local Government may, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, direct a survey of all ghatwali lands; and such survey shall be conclusive evidence of the boundaries, unless its correctness is disputed in a civil suit within three years from the date of its completion.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE objects and reasons of this Bill are stated in the following minute by the Lieutenant-Governor.

The 4th November 1876. H. BELL.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated 18th August 1876.

I DESIRE to state my views regarding the course which our legislation should take respecting the ghatwalee tenures in the district of Bankoora. I have visited that district in company with the Commissioner, and have carefully consulted the Magistrate, and also the District Judge before whom some important questions have been argued, regarding the application of the existing law to these tenures. All authorities seem to be agreed that some legislation is required

I consider it to be established that the "ghatwals," or "men of the passes," were originally a sort of militia employed by the Rajahs of the Bankoora country to protect the territory from incursions of Mahrattras, of plundering hordes and others; and were chiefly, though perhaps not entirely, stationed on the main lines of communication which might, in a certain sense, be called passes. For this service, lands, either rent-free or on a low quit-rent, were assigned to them; these assignments still exist, probably without much change, and are called "ghatwalee tenures." The theory and practice of the arrangement originally were to the effect that the ghatwalee office and its landed tenures were hereditary. Over the ghatwals there were originally headmen, something like militia officers, some of whom were called "sirdars," and men with this designation and in this position are still found. Besides what would ordinarily be deemed militia duty, these men doubtless performed police duty, although it may have been of an undefined character.

Under British rule the ghatwals with their tenures have been maintained for the most part as a rural police under the Magistrate. But individuals among them have been frequently dismissed for faults or other causes; so much so, that the hereditary character would often appear to be obscured or obliterated. Still in many instances, perhaps in the majority of instances, this character perceptibly survives. The number of the ghatwals is considerable and exceeds 3,000 for the whole district. In many cases, and for long periods, the men have obeyed without question the orders of the Magistrate, not only as regards the most obvious matters of police duty, but also as regards many miscellaneous duties and especially the patrolling of the high roads. In many instances again and at other times (especially the most recent times) they have disputed the authority of the Magistrate to order them to do many things which they have often done before, and the question has been brought before the local courts of justice. The courts have affirmed these men to be liable to many kinds of police work which embrace a large part of the whole duty of a rural policeman. The question remains as to the area over which these duties are to be performed; this question appears to me to be left indeterminate by the judicial decisions. The men themselves understand that they are not according to those decisions bound to do any work away from their own homes and lands. And the Magistrate seems to be under the same apprehension, or, as I believe, misapprehension. The consequence is that the men virtually refuse to do anything, and the Magistrate doubts whether he has the power to apply any compulsion to them. The meaning of the judicial decisions is, I believe, by no means so restricted as the district people suppose; indeed, such a restriction of meaning would be a reductio ad absurdam—for it is manifest that the Government could not permit a body of men to enjoy rent-free or quit-rent tenures at the public expense, on this condition only that they should stand to the defence of their own cottages and fields, and should do nothing for the public safety and welfare. But this meaning is not really deducible from the judicial decisions, and, as I understand, was not actually intended. It must, however, be admitted that it would be difficult to define authoritatively the manner in which the area of each man's duties should be determined; and the judicial decisions do not attempt any such determination.

Such, briefly, is the general aspect of the case as I learn it to be after enquiry on the spot.

The present state of affairs, then, is this—that in a large part of the district where these ghatwalee tenures exist, there is no village police except the ghatwals, who are now doing as little police work as they like, and that little as inefficiently as they choose, and who are disputing the authority of the Magistrate to make them do anything, while the Magistrate himself has doubts as to what his lawful authority is. The expediency of legislation therefore, is manifest.

It has been sometimes proposed to commute the service due from the ghatwals into money payments, from which a fund might be formed for the support of a village police to be separately established. On consideration, however, I am unwilling to undertake an arrangement of this sort, which might lead to various complications.

The desideratum in my opinion is to recognise by law the ghatwals and their tenures as hereditary, on the whole, subject to certain exceptions, and then to define their duties and obligations, and the conditions on which their tenures are to be held. The exceptions might embrace those cases where the Magistrate could prove that a stranger not belonging to the ghatwalee family had been appointed within the last preceding 12 years, that is, the cases already alluded to, where dismissals of the ghatwals had been made and were not disputed at the time. With this view I propose that a Bill be framed for submission to the legislature.

Such a Bill should, I think, provide for the following matters:—

the ascertainment and authoritative determination by the Magistrate of the ghatwalee lands, and the quit-rents; the holding, on existing quit-rents, and with hereditary descent, lineally or collaterally, of these lands by the ghatwals now in possession, with power to the Magistrate to settle the right to such holding in event of dispute;

the description of the police duties to be performed by the ghatwals, such description to be for the most part copied from the Bengal Chowkedaree Act and the General Police Act;

the power of the Magistrate and, under the Magistrate's control, the power of the District Superintendent of Police, to give orders to the ghatwals in regard to the performance of these duties;

the duty of the Magistrate to define the places where, or the area within which, these duties are to be performed;

the authority of the Magistrate, by a regular proceeding appealable to the Commissioner, to dismiss any individual ghatwal from office for neglect of duty or for criminal offence or for proved misconduct, such dismissal to involve forfeiture of holding on the condition that the next-of-kin be appointed to succeed, but the Magistrate to make a fresh appointment in event of vacancy occurring without next-of-kin being found;

if a stranger shall be thus appointed by the Magistrate, or shall have been appointed within the last 12 years, then the holding would not necessarily descend to his heirs, the land would remain appropriated to the support of a ghatwal, but the selection of the man would rest with the discretion of the Magistrate.

If such a law were enacted, it would be desirable that the Magistrate should be careful to keep the ghatwals on duty in or near their own villages or houses, and not to send them to any distance from their homes for any length of time consecutively. Under these circumstances they may be made a very good village police. Among their duties, patrolling the high roads in their own neighbourhood would be one; it certainly must have been an essential part of their work in early times; this they might take by turns for short periods under rules which the Magistrate might easily settle, so that no man need be absent from home too long.

In those portions of the district where the ghatwalee tenures exist (which comprise the greater part of the district) no other village police besides the ghatwals will be needed.

It is to be remembered, however, that there are some portions of the district in which no ghatwalee tenures are found, and in which village police or chowkedars of the ordinary kind exist, numbering in all more than 1,000 men. In the absence of the law which has been introduced into the rest of Bengal, there is but little provision for the paying and organizing of these chowkedars. For this reason it is necessary to exercise the power given by the law to introduce the Chowkedaree Act into the Bankoora district, which will be done accordingly.

„ J. G. W. Sykes, Esq., dated 21st July 1876.
„ Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 1152—38, dated 27th July 1876, and enclosures.
Note by J. Pitt Kennedy, Esq., dated September 1876.

We, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to define and amend the law relating to certain kinds of Specific Relief was referred, have the honour to report that we have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin.

Preliminary.

2. In the interpretation-clause, we have omitted the definition of 'discretion,' the object of the definition being, we think, sufficiently attained by the first clause of section 21. We have amended the definition of 'obligation' so as to preclude the idea that only duties enforceable by the Criminal Courts were intended, and we have struck out the definition of 'agreement,' which does not harmonize with that contained in the Contract Act. To the illustrations of the definition of 'trustee,' we have added one showing that an employé receiving, without his employer's assent, commission on articles purchased for his employer, is a trustee of the commission so received. We have, lastly, declared that all words (such as 'contract') occurring in the Bill, which are defined in the Contract Act, shall have the meanings given them by that Act; and throughout the Bill we have used 'contract' for 'agreement' whenever a valid agreement is intended.

3. In section 4, we have struck out the clause rendering English law inapplicable to the kinds of relief dealt with by the Bill. For some time, at all events, the rules of the Bill will have to be elucidated by reference to the decisions of the English Courts. To the same section we have added a clause saving the Registration Act, which might have been held to have been affected by some of the subsequent provisions of the Bill.

4. To the four kinds of specific relief enumerated in section 5, we have added a fifth—the appointing of a receiver; and, in a subsequent part of the Bill, we have dealt with this matter by reference to the revised Code of Civil Procedure.

Recovering possession of Property.

5. To the three cases mentioned in section 11, in which a person in possession, not as owner, of moveable property may be compelled to deliver it, we have added a fourth, namely, when the possession of the thing claimed has been wrongfully transferred from the claimant. For illustration (b), we have substituted the following:—"Z has got possession of an idol belonging to A's family, and of which A is the proper custodian. Z may be compelled to deliver it to A."

Specific Performance.

6. In section 12, we have struck out the clause relating to an express agreement between the parties to the contract that specific performance thereof may be required by either. It would, we fear, have been always inserted in agreements between money-lenders and land-holders, and might have been treated by the Courts as limiting the discretion which we intend to confer upon them. We have also struck out illustration (e), which goes further than we think desirable in enabling the Courts to compel persons to become partners.

7. Section 13 of the Bill as introduced provides (in strict accordance with English law) that when either party to an agreement is entitled to specific performance, the other party is also entitled to it. The Standing Counsel, Mr. Pitt Kennedy (to whom we are indebted for a valuable Note on the Bill), suggests that this would introduce a principle which found its place in Courts of Equity rather from a desire for symmetry than from its inherent utility. We feel the force of this objection, and we have therefore struck out the section.

8. We have inserted a clause (section 13 of Bill No. II) providing that, notwithstanding anything contained in section 56 of the Indian Contract Act, a contract is not wholly impossible of performance because a portion of its subject-matter existing at its date has ceased to exist at the time of the performance. The illustrations appended to this new clause will sufficiently show its propriety.

9. Section 16 of the Bill as introduced forbids the specific performance of part of a contract except in cases coming under section 14 or section 15. We have also excepted cases where a part of the contract, which, taken by itself, can and ought to be specifically enforced, stands on a separate and independent footing from another part which cannot or ought not to be so enforced: see sections 16 and 17 of Bill No. II.

10. We think the case put first in section 21 of the Bill as introduced (agreements the terms of which the Court cannot find with reasonable certainty) comes more suitably among the cases specified in the previous section (now numbered 21), of agreements not specifically enforceable. We have, accordingly, transposed it. We have extended clause (b) of the latter section to agreements so dependent on the personal qualifications or volition of the parties that the Court cannot enforce specific performance of the material terms, and we have illustrated this by the case of an agreement to marry. Clause (g) of the same section in the Bill as introduced declares that a contract, the performance of which involves the performance of continuous duties over a longer period than five years from its date, shall not be specifically enforced. We have reduced this period to three years. We have forbidden specific performance of a contract of which a material part of the subject-matter, supposed by both parties to exist, has, before it has been entered into, ceased to exist. The rule of the Bill as introduced which precludes specific performance of contracts to refer to arbitration has been considered with reference to the English law and the decision of Phear, J., in Koegler v. The Coringa Oil Company, I. L. R. 1 Calc. 42 (which has been affirmed on appeal) on the one hand, and to the second paragraph of the first Exception to section 28 of the Contract Act and a recent decision of the Madras High Court (8 Mad. 56) on the other. We have come to the conclusion that the rule ought to be maintained; and we have expressly repealed the paragraph in question, embodying, however, in the Bill the provision that if any person who has entered into a contract to refer to arbitration and refuses to perform it, sues in respect of any subject which he has contracted to refer, the existence of the contract shall bar the suit, and saving such remedies as are provided in the Civil Procedure Code.

11. We have extended section 23, clause (c), to cases of compromise of doubtful rights between members of the same family.

12. In section 24, we have altered illustration (b), which the recent decision in Dawson v. Oliver-Massey, 2 Ch. Div. 753, has rendered doubtful, and added an illustration turning on uncertainty of fact.

13. To section 25, we have added an illustration showing that a person entering into a contract in the character of an agent cannot enforce specific performance when he is in reality acting on his own account.

14. Section 26 deals with cases in which the plaintiff seeks specific performance of a contract in writing, to which the defendant sets up a variation. We have added the case in which the object of the parties is to produce a certain legal result which the contract as framed is not calculated to produce.

15. We have inserted a section (30) declaring that the provisions of the Bill as to specific performance of contracts shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to awards and to testamentary directions to execute settlements.

16. Where a decree for specific performance of a contract of sale has been made, we have empowered (section 35) the Court, by order in the suit in which such decree has been passed and not complied with, to rescind the contract, either so far as regards the party in default or altogether, as the justice of the case may require. We have added an illustration of clause (a) of the same section.

Cancellation of Instruments.

17. To the section (39) relating to the cancellation of instruments, we have added a clause empowering the Court, if the instrument has been registered, to cause the fact of the cancellation to be noted in the Registry Office.

Declaratory Decrees.

18. We think that the Courts should be barred from making declaratory decrees only in cases where the plaintiff, being able to seek further relief than a mere declaration of right, omits to do so. We see no sound reason for compelling a man, when others advance a claim to property which he believes to be his own, to wait till his evidence may be lost, to keep his arrangements for his family uncertain, or to suffer from a possibly serious diminution in the value of that property. We have therefore altered accordingly section 42 and illustration (e).

Enforcement of Public Duties.

19. We have, by section 45, confined the exercise of the power to make orders in the nature of a mandamus to the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the Presidency High Courts. We have restricted the power to apply for such orders to cases in which the applicant's property, franchise or personal right would be injured by the act complained of, and in which that act is clearly required by some law for the time being in force. And we have declared that the High Courts shall not make any order expressly excluded by some existing law.

Perpetual Injunctions.

20. We have struck out from section 54 the clause (analogous to that struck out of section 12) which permits the grant of a perpetual injunction where the parties have agreed in writing that, in case of invasion of the plaintiff's property, such injunction shall be granted. We have explained that, for the purpose of section 54, a trademark is property—a matter on which a recent case (Singer Manufacturing Company v. Wilson, 2 Ch. Div. 449) has thrown some doubt.

21. From section 56 we have struck out the clause forbidding the Courts to grant injunctions to prevent libels. Notwithstanding the present Lord Chancellor's decision in Prudential Assurance Company v. Knott, 44 L. J. Ch. 192, we do not see why breach of the obligation not to injure a man's reputation should not be restrained like the breach of any other obligation, and the provision in section 7 will prevent any clashing with the criminal law.

22. We have, lastly, cancelled some of the illustrations and transposed or amended others. We think that the Bill has been so altered as to require republication, and we recommend that it be republished accordingly in the Gazette of India and the local Gazettes.

SCHEDULE.—Enactments repealed.

A Bill to define and amend the Law relating to certain kinds of Specific Relief.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to certain kinds of specific relief obtainable in civil suits; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Specific Relief Act, 1877:"

Local extent.

It extends to the whole of British India, except the Scheduled Districts as defined in Act No. XIV of 1874;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force at once.

Repeal of enactments.

2. The Acts specified in the schedule hereto annexed are repealed to the extent mentioned in its third column.

Interpretation-clause.

3. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,—

'obligation.'

'obligation' includes every duty enforceable by law:

'trust'

'trust' includes every species of express, implied, or constructive fiduciary ownership:

'trustee.'

'trustee' includes every person holding, expressly, by implication, or constructively, a fiduciary character:

Illustrations.

(a). Z bequeaths land to A, 'not doubting that he will pay thereout an annuity of Rs. 1,000 to B for his life.' A is a trustee within the meaning of this Act for B to the extent of the annuity.

(b). A is the legal, medical, or spiritual adviser of B. By availing himself of his situation as such adviser, A gains some pecuniary advantage which might otherwise have accrued to B. A is a trustee for B within the meaning of this Act of such advantage.

(c). A, being B's banker, discloses for his own purposes the state of B's account. A is a trustee within the meaning of this Act of the benefit gained by him by means of such disclosure.

(d). A, the mortgagee of certain leaseholds, renews the lease in his own name. A is a trustee within the meaning of this Act of the renewed lease.

(e). A, one of several partners, is employed to purchase goods for the firm. A, unknown to his co-partners, supplies them, at the market-price, with goods previously bought by himself when the price was lower, and thus makes a considerable profit. A is a trustee within the meaning of this Act of the profit so made.

(f). A, the manager of B's indigo factory, becomes agent for C, a vendor of indigo-seed, and receives, without B's assent, commission on the seed purchased from C for the factory. A is a trustee, within the meaning of this Act, for B, of the commission so received.

(g). A buys certain land with notice that B has already contracted to buy it. A is a trustee, within the meaning of this Act, of the land so bought.

(h). A buys land from B, having notice that C is in occupation of the land. A omits to make any inquiry as to the nature of C's interest therein. A is a trustee, within the meaning of this Act, to the extent of that interest.

'settlement.'

'settlement' means any instrument (other than a will or codicil as defined by the Indian Succession Act) whereby the destination or devolution of moveable or immoveable property is settled or agreed to be settled:

Words defined in Contract Act.

and all words occurring in this Act, which are defined in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively assigned to them by that Act.

Savings.

4. Except where it is herein otherwise expressly enacted, nothing in this Act shall be deemed—

(a) to give any right to relief in respect of any agreement which is not a contract;

(b) to deprive any person of any right to relief, other than specific performance, which he may have under any contract; or

(c) to affect the operation of the Indian Registration Act on documents.

Specific relief how given.

5. Specific relief is given—

(a) by taking possession of certain property and delivering it to a claimant;

(b) by ordering a party to do the very act which he is under an obligation to do;

(c) by preventing a party from doing that which he is under an obligation not to do;

(d) by declaring and determining the rights of parties otherwise than by an award of compensation; or (e) by appointing a Receiver.

6. Specific relief granted under clause (c) of section 5 is called preventive relief.

Preventive relief.

7. Specific relief cannot be granted for the mere purpose of enforcing a penal law.

Purposes for which relief cannot be given.

PART II.

OF SPECIFIC RELIEF.

CHAPTER I.

OF RECOVERING POSSESSION OF PROPERTY.

(a).—Possession of Immoveable Property.

8. A person entitled to the possession of specific immoveable property may recover it in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Recovery of specific immoveable property.

9. If any person is dispossessed without his consent of immoveable property otherwise than in due course of law, he or any person claiming through him may, by suit instituted within six months from the date of the dispossession, recover possession thereof, notwithstanding any other title that may be set up in such suit.

Suit by person dispossessed of immoveable property.

Nothing in this section shall bar any person from suing to establish his title to such property and to recover possession thereof.

No suit under this section shall be brought against the Government.

(b).—Possession of Moveable Property.

10. A person entitled to the possession of specific moveable property may recover the same in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Recovery of specific moveable property.

EXPLANATION 1.—A trustee may sue under this section for the possession of property to the beneficial interest in which another is entitled.

EXPLANATION 2.—A special or temporary right to the present possession of property is sufficient to support a suit under this section.

Illustrations.

(a). A bequeaths land to B for his life, with remainder to C. A dies. B enters on the land, but C, without B's consent, obtains possession of the title-deeds. B may recover them from C.

(b). A pledges certain jewels to B to secure a loan. B disposes of them before he is entitled to do so. A, without having paid or tendered the amount of the loan, sues B for possession of the jewels. The suit should be dismissed, as A is not entitled to their possession, whatever right he may have to secure their safe custody.

(c). A receives a letter addressed to him by B. B gets back the letter without A's consent. A has such a property therein as entitles him to recover it from B.

(d). A deposits books and papers for safe custody with B. B loses them and C finds them, but refuses to deliver them to B when demanded. B may recover them from C, subject to C's right, if any, under section 168 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872.

(e). A, a warehouse-keeper, is charged with the delivery of certain goods to Z, which B takes out of A's possession. A may sue B for the goods.

11. Any person having the possession or control of a particular article of moveable property, of which he is not the owner, may be compelled specifically to deliver it to the person entitled to its immediate possession, in any of the following cases:—

Liability of person in possession, not as owner, to deliver to person entitled to immediate possession.

(a) when the thing claimed is held by the defendant as the agent or trustee of the claimant;

(b) when compensation in money would not afford the claimant adequate relief for the loss of the thing claimed;

(c) when it would be extremely difficult to ascertain the actual damage caused by its loss;

(d) when the possession of the thing claimed has been wrongfully transferred from the claimant.

Illustrations

of clause (a).—A, proceeding to Europe, leaves his furniture in charge of B as his agent during his absence. B, without A's authority, pledges the furniture to C, and C, knowing that B had no right to pledge the furniture, advertises it for sale. C may be compelled to deliver the furniture to A, for he holds it as A's trustee.

of clause (b).—Z has got possession of an idol belonging to A's family, and of which A is the proper custodian. Z may be compelled to deliver it to A.

of clause (c).—A is entitled to a picture by a dead painter and a pair of rare China vases. B has possession of them. The articles are of too special a character to bear an ascertainable market-value. B may be compelled to deliver them to A.

CHAPTER II.

OF THE SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE OF CONTRACTS.

(a). Contracts which may be specifically enforced.

12. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the specific performance of any contract may in the discretion of the Court be enforced—

Cases in which specific performance enforceable.

(a) when the act agreed to be done is in the performance, wholly or partly, of a trust;

(b) when there exists no standard for ascertaining the actual damage caused by the non-performance of the act agreed to be done;

(c) when the act agreed to be done is such that pecuniary compensation for its non-performance would not afford adequate relief; or

(d) when it is probable that pecuniary compensation cannot be got for the non-performance of the act agreed to be done.

EXPLANATION.—Unless and until the contrary is shewn, it is to be presumed that the breach of a contract to transfer immoveable property cannot be adequately relieved by compensation in money, and that the breach of a contract to transfer moveable property can be thus relieved.

Illustrations

of clause (a).—A holds certain stock in trust for B. A wrongfully disposes of the stock. The law creates an obligation on A to restore the same quantity of stock to B, and B may enforce specific performance of this obligation.

A sells 500 tons of iron stacked on his wharf to B, in consideration of a bill accepted by C, and undertakes in writing to deliver the iron to bearer, he (A) having been paid for the same.' B mortgages the iron to D. The bill is dishonoured. A refuses to deliver the iron. A holds the iron as a trustee for D, and D may compel him specifically to perform his contract.

A advances Rs. 10,000 to B, and B contracts to execute a mortgage of certain houses 'with an immediate power of sale' to secure the repayment of the advance. A requires B either to pay off the advance at once or to execute the mortgage. B refuses. A is entitled to have the contract specifically performed.

of clause (b).—A agrees to buy, and B agrees to sell, a picture by a dead painter and two rare China vases. The articles are of too special a character to bear an ascertainable market-value. A may compel B specifically to perform this contract, for it would be extremely difficult to ascertain the actual damage caused by its non-performance.

of clause (c).—A contracts with B to sell him a house for Rs. 1,000. B is entitled to a decree directing A to convey the house to him, he paying the purchase-money.

In consideration of being released from certain obligations imposed on it by its Act of incorporation, a railway company contract with Z to make an archway through their railway to connect lands of Z severed by the railway, to construct a road between certain specified points, to pay a certain annual sum towards the maintenance of this road, and also to construct a siding and a wharf as specified in the contract. Z is entitled to have this contract specifically enforced, for his interest in its performance cannot be adequately compensated for by money; and the Court may appoint a proper person to superintend the construction of the archway, road, siding and wharf.

A contracts to sell, and B contracts to buy, a certain number of railway-shares of a particular description. A refuses to complete the sale. B may compel A specifically to perform this agreement, for the shares are limited in number and not always to be had in the market, and their possession carries with it the status of a shareholder, which cannot otherwise be procured.

A contracts with B to paint a picture for B, who agrees to pay therefor Rs. 1,000. The picture is painted. B is entitled to have it delivered to him on payment or tender of the Rs. 1,000.

of clause (d).—A transfers without endorsement, but for valuable consideration, a promissory note to B. A becomes insolvent, and C is appointed his assignee. B may compel C to endorse the note, for C has succeeded to A's liabilities, and a decree for pecuniary compensation for not endorsing the note would be fruitless.

Contracts of which the subject has partially ceased to exist.

13. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 56 of the Indian Contract Act, a contract is not wholly impossible of performance, because a portion of its subject-matter existing at its date has ceased to exist at the time of the performance.

Illustrations.

(a). A contracts to sell a house to B for a lákh of rupees. The day after the contract is executed, the house is destroyed by a cyclone. B may be compelled to perform his contract by paying the purchase-money.

(b). In consideration of a sum of money payable by B, A contracts to grant an annuity to B for B's life. The day after the contract has been entered into, B is thrown from his horse and killed. B's representative may be compelled to pay the purchase-money.

Specific performance of part of a contract where the part unperformed is small.

14. Where a party to a contract is unable to perform the whole of it, but the part which must be left unperformed bears only a small proportion to the whole in value, and admits of compensation in money, the Court may, at the suit of either party, direct the specific performance of so much of the contract as can be performed, and award compensation in money for the deficiency.

Illustrations.

(a). A contracts to sell B a piece of land consisting of 100 bíghás. It turns out that 98 bíghás of the land belong to A, and the two remaining bíghás to a stranger, who refuses to part with them. The two bíghás are not necessary for the use or enjoyment of the 98 bíghás, nor so important for such use or enjoyment that the loss of them may not be made good in money. A may be directed at the suit of B to convey to B the 98 bíghás and to make compensation to him for not conveying the two remaining bíghás; or B may be directed, at the suit of A, to pay to A on receiving the conveyance and possession of the land, the stipulated purchase-money, less a sum awarded as compensation for the deficiency.

Specific performance of part of a contract where the part unperformed is large.

15. Where a party to a contract is unable to perform the whole of it, and the part which must be left unperformed forms a considerable portion of the whole, or does not admit of compensation in money, the party in default is not entitled to obtain a decree for specific performance. But the Court may, at the suit of the other party, direct the party in default to perform specifically so much of the contract as he can perform, provided that the party seeking specific performance relinquishes all claim to further performance, and all right to compensation, either for the deficiency, or for the loss or damage sustained by him through the default of the other party.

Illustrations.

(a). A contracts to sell to B a piece of land consisting of 100 bíghás. It turns out that 50 bíghás of the land belong to A, and the other 50 bíghás to a stranger, who refuses to part with them. A cannot obtain a decree against B for the specific performance of the contract; but if B is willing to pay the price agreed upon, and to take the 50 bíghás which belong to A, waiving all right to compensation either for the deficiency or for loss sustained by him through A's neglect or default, B is entitled to a decree directing A to convey those 50 bíghás to him on payment of the purchase-money.

(b). A contracts to sell to B an estate with a house and garden for a lákh of rupees. The garden is important for the enjoyment of the house. It turns out that A is unable to convey the garden. A cannot obtain a decree against B for the specific performance of the contract; but if B is willing to pay the price agreed upon, and to take the estate and house without the garden, waiving all right to compensation either for the deficiency or for loss sustained by him through A's neglect or default, B is entitled to a decree, directing A to convey the house to him on payment of the purchase-money.

Specific performance of independent part of a contract.

16. When a part of a contract which, taken by itself, can and ought to be specifically performed, stands on a separate and independent footing from another part of the same contract which cannot or ought not to be specifically performed, the Court may direct specific performance of the former part.

Bar in other cases of specific performance of part of contract.

17. The Court shall not direct the specific performance of a part of a contract except in cases coming under one or other of the three last preceding sections.

Purchaser's rights against vendor with imperfect title.

18. Where a person contracts to sell or let certain property, having only an imperfect title thereto, the purchaser or lessee (except as otherwise provided by this chapter) has the following rights:—

(b) where the concurrence of other persons is necessary to validate the title, and they are bound to convey at the vendor's or lessor's request, the purchaser or lessee may compel him to procure such concurrence;

(c) where the vendor professes to sell unincumbered property, but the property is mortgaged for an amount not exceeding the purchase-money, and the vendor has in fact only a right to redeem it, the purchaser may compel him to redeem the mortgage and obtain a conveyance from the mortgagee;

(d) where the vendor or lessor sues for specific performance of the contract, and the suit is dismissed on the ground of his imperfect title, the defendant has a right to a return of his deposit (if any) with interest thereon, to the costs of the suit, and to a lien for such deposit, interest and costs on the interest of the vendor or lessor in the property agreed to be sold or let.

Power to award compensation in certain cases.

19. Any person suing for the specific performance of a contract, may also ask for compensation for its breach, either in addition to, or in substitution for, such performance.

If in any such suit the Court decides that specific performance ought not to be granted, but that there is a contract between the parties which has been broken by the defendant and that the plaintiff is entitled to compensation for that breach, it shall award him compensation accordingly.

If in any such suit the Court decides that specific performance ought to be granted, but that it is not sufficient to satisfy the justice of the case, and that some compensation for breach of the contract should also be made to the plaintiff, it shall award him such compensation accordingly.

Compensation awarded under this section may be assessed in such manner as the Court may direct.

EXPLANATION.—The circumstance that the contract has become incapable of specific performance, does not preclude the Court from exercising the jurisdiction conferred by this section.

of the second paragraph:—A contracts to sell a hundred maunds of rice to B. B brings a suit to compel A to perform the contract or to pay compensation. The Court is of opinion that A has made a valid contract and has broken it without excuse to the injury of B, but that specific performance is not the proper remedy. It shall award to B such compensation as it deems just.

of the third paragraph:—A agrees with B to sell him a house for Rs. 1,000, the price to be paid and the possession given on the 1st January 1877. A fails to perform his part of the contract, and B brings his suit for specific performance and compensation, which is decided in his favour on the 1st January 1878. The decree may, besides ordering specific performance, award to B compensation for any loss or damage which he has sustained by A's refusal.

of the Explanation:—A, a purchaser, sues B, his vendor, for specific performance of a contract for the sale of a patent. Before the hearing of the suit, the patent expires. The Court may award A compensation for the non-performance of the contract and may, if necessary, amend the plaint for that purpose.

A sues for the specific performance of a resolution passed by the directors of a public company, under which he was entitled to have a certain number of shares allotted to him, and for compensation. All the shares had been allotted before the institution of the suit. The Court may, under this section, award A compensation for the non-performance.

Liquidation of damages not a bar to specific performance.

20. A contract, otherwise proper to be specifically enforced, may be thus enforced, though a sum be named in it as the amount to be paid in case of its breach, and the party in default is willing to pay the same.

Illustration.

A contracts to grant B an underlease of property held by A under C, and that if C refuses to grant a license necessary for that purpose, A will pay B Rs. 10,000. A refuses to apply for the license and offers to pay B the Rs. 10,000. B is nevertheless entitled to have the contract specifically enforced.

(b). Contracts which cannot be specifically enforced.

Contracts not specifically enforceable.

21. The following contracts cannot be specifically enforced:—

(a) a contract for the non-performance of which compensation in money is an adequate relief;

(b) a contract which runs into such minute or numerous details, or which is so dependent on the personal qualifications or volition of the parties, or otherwise from its nature is such, that the Court cannot enforce specific performance of its material terms;

(c) a contract the terms of which the Court cannot find with reasonable certainty;

(d) a contract which is in its nature revocable;

(e) a contract entered into by trustees either in excess of their powers or in breach of their trust;

(f) a contract entered into by or on behalf of a corporation or public company created for special purposes, or by the promoters of such company, which is in excess of its powers;

(g) a contract the performance of which involves the performance of a continuous duty extending over a longer period than three years from its date;

(h) a contract of which a material part of the subject-matter, supposed by both parties, to exist has, before it has been entered into, ceased to exist.

And save as provided by Chapter XXXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure, no contract to refer a controversy to arbitration shall be specifically enforced; but if any person who has entered into such a contract and has refused to perform it, sues in respect of any subject which he has contracted to refer, the existence of such contract shall bar the suit.

to (a).—A contracts to sell, and B contracts to buy, a lákh of rupees in the four per cent. loan of the Government of India.

A contracts to sell, and B contracts to buy, 40 chests of indigo at Rs. 1,000 per chest.

In consideration of certain property having been transferred by A to B, B contracts to open a credit in A's favour to the extent of Rs. 10,000, and to honour A's drafts to that amount.

The above contracts cannot be specifically enforced, for, in the first and the second both A and B, and in the third A would be reimbursed by compensation in money.

to (b).—A contracts to render personal service to B:

A contracts to employ B on personal service:

A, an author, contracts with B, a publisher, to complete a literary work.

B cannot enforce performance of these contracts.

A contracts to buy B's business at the amount of a valuation to be made by two valuers, one to be named by A and the other by B. A and B each name a valuer, but before the valuation is made, A instructs his valuer not to proceed.

By a charter party entered into in Calcutta between A, the owner of a ship, and B, the charterer, it is agreed that the ship shall proceed to Rangoon, and there load a cargo of rice, and thence proceed to London, freight to be paid, one-third on arrival at Rangoon, and two-thirds on delivery of the cargo in London.

A lets land to B and B contracts to cultivate it in a particular manner for three years next after the date of the lease.

A and B contract that, in consideration of annual advances to be made by A, B will for three years next after the date of the contract grow particular crops on the land in his possession and deliver them to A when cut and ready for delivery.

A contracts with B that, in consideration of Rs. 1,000 to be paid to him by B, he will paint a picture for B.

A contracts with B to execute certain works which the Court cannot superintend.

A contracts to supply B with all the goods of a certain class which B may require.

A contracts with B to take from B a lease of a certain house for a specified term, at a specified rent, "if the drawing-room is handsomely decorated," even if it is held to have so much certainty that compensation can be recovered for its breach.

A contracts to marry B.

The above agreements cannot be specifically enforced.

to (c).—A, the owner of a refreshment-room, contracts with B to give him accommodation there for the sale of his goods and to furnish him with the necessary appliances. A refuses to perform his contract. The case is one for compensation and not for specific performance, the amount and nature of the accommodation and appliances being undefined.

to (d).—A and B contract to become partners in a certain business, the contract not specifying the duration of the proposed partnership. This contract cannot be specifically performed, for, if it were so performed, either A or B might at once dissolve the partnership.

to (e).—A is a trustee of land with power to lease it for seven years. He enters into a contract with B to grant a lease of the land for seven years, with a covenant to renew the lease at the expiry of the term. This contract cannot be specifically enforced.

The directors of a company have power to sell the concern with the sanction of a general meeting of the shareholders. They contract to sell it without any such sanction. This contract cannot be specifically enforced.

Two trustees, A and B, empowered to sell trust-property worth a lákh of rupees, contract to sell it to C for Rs. 30,000. The contract is so disadvantageous as to be a breach of trust. C cannot enforce its specific performance.

The promoters of a company for working mines contract that the company, when formed, shall purchase certain mineral property. They take no proper precautions to ascertain the value of such property and in fact agree to pay an extravagant price therefor. They also stipulate that the vendors shall give them a bonus out of the purchase-money. This contract cannot be specifically enforced.

to (f).—A company existing for the sole purpose of making and working a railway, contracts for the purchase of a piece of land for the purpose of erecting a cotton-mill thereon. This contract cannot be specifically enforced.

to (g).—A contracts to let for twenty-one years to B the right to use such part of a certain railway made by A as was upon B's land, and that B should have a right of running carriages over the whole line on certain terms, and might require A to supply the necessary engine-power, and that A should during the term keep the whole railway in good repair. Specific performance of this contract must be refused to B.

to (h).—A contracts to pay an annuity to B for the lives of C and D. It turns out that, at the date of the contract, C, though supposed by A and B to be alive, was dead. The contract cannot be specifically performed.

(c). Of the Discretion of the Court.

22. The jurisdiction to decree specific performance is discretionary, and the Court is not bound to grant such relief merely because it is lawful to do so; but the discretion of the Court is not arbitrary but sound and reasonable, guided by judicial principles and capable of correction by a Court of appeal.

Discretion as to decreeing specific performance.

The following are cases in which the Court may properly exercise a discretion not to decree specific performance:—

I. Where the circumstances under which the contract is made are such as to give the plaintiff an unfair advantage over the defendant, though there may be no fraud or misrepresentation on the plaintiff's part.

Illustrations.

(a). A, a tenant for life of certain property, assigns his interest therein to B. C contracts to buy, and B contracts to sell, that interest. Before the contract is completed, A receives a mortal injury from the effects of which he dies the day after the contract is executed. If B and C were equally ignorant or equally aware of the fact, B is entitled to specific performance. If B knew the fact, and C did not, specific performance should be refused to B.

(b). A contracts to sell to B the interest of C in certain stock-in-trade. It is stipulated that the sale shall stand good, even though it should turn out that C's interest is worth nothing. In fact the value of C's interest depends on the result of certain partnership-accounts, on which he is heavily in debt to his partners. This indebtedness is known to A, but not to B. Specific performance of the contract should be refused to A.

(c). A contracts to sell, and B contracts to buy, certain land. To protect the land from floods, it is necessary for the owner to maintain an expensive embankment. B does not know of this circumstance, and A conceals it from him. Specific performance should be refused to A.

(d). A's property is put up to auction. B requests C, A's attorney, to bid for him. C does this inadvertently and in good faith. The persons present seeing the vendor's attorney bidding, think that he is a mere puffer and cease to compete. The lot is knocked down to B at a low price. Specific performance should be refused to B.

II. Where the performance of the agreement would involve some hardship on the defendant which he did not foresee, whereas no such hardship would fall on the plaintiff if the agreement was not performed.

Illustrations.

(e). A is entitled to some land under his father's will on condition that, if he sells it within twenty-five years, half the purchase-money shall go to B. A, forgetting the condition, contracts, before the expiration of the twenty-five years, to sell the land to C. Here, the enforcement of the contract would operate so harshly on A, that the Court will not compel its specific performance in favour of C.

(f). A and B, trustees, join their beneficiary, C, in a contract to sell the trust-estate to D, and personally agree to exonerate the estate from heavy incumbrances to which it is subject. The purchase-money is not nearly enough to discharge those incumbrances, though, at the date of the contract, the vendors believed it to be sufficient. Specific performance of the contract should be refused to D.

(g). A, the owner of an estate, contracts to sell it to B, and stipulates that he, A, shall not be obliged to define its boundary. The estate really comprises a valuable property not known to either to be part of it. Specific performance of the contract should be refused to B, unless he waives his claim to the unknown property.

(h). A contracts with B to sell him certain land, and to make a road to it from a certain railway-station. It is found afterwards that A cannot make the road without exposing himself to litigation. Specific performance of the part of the contract relating to the road should be refused to B, even though it may be held that he is entitled to specific performance of the rest with compensation for loss of the road.

(i). A, a lessee of mines, contracts with B, his lessor, that at any time during the continuance of the lease B may give notice of his desire to take the machinery and plant used in and about the mines, and that he shall have the articles specified in his notice delivered to him at a valuation on the expiry of the lease. Such a contract might be most injurious to the lessee's business, and specific performance should be refused to B.

(j). A contracts to buy certain land from B. The contract is silent as to access to the land. No right of way to it can be shown to exist. Specific performance of the contract should be refused to B.

(k). A contracts with B to buy from B's manufactory and not elsewhere all the goods of a certain class used by A in his trade. The Court cannot compel B to supply the goods, but if he does not supply them, A may be ruined, unless he is allowed to buy them elsewhere. Specific performance of the agreement should be refused to B.

III. The circumstance that the plaintiff has done substantial acts or suffered losses in consequence of a contract susceptible of specific performance is one which the Court may reasonably consider in exercising its discretion to grant specific performance of such contract.

Illustration.

A sells land to a railway company who contract to execute certain works for his convenience. The company take the land and use it for their railway. Specific performance of the contract to execute the works should be awarded in favour of A.

(d). For whom Contracts may be specifically enforced.

23. Except as otherwise provided by this chapter, the specific performance of a contract may be obtained by—

Who may obtain specific performance.

(a) any party thereto;

(b) the representative in interest, or the principal, of any party thereto: provided that, where the learning, skill, solvency or any personal quality of such party is a material ingredient in the contract, or where the contract provides that his interest shall not be assigned, his representative in interest or his principal shall not be entitled to specific performance of the contract;

(c) where the contract is a settlement on marriage, or a compromise of doubtful rights between members of the same family, any person beneficially entitled thereunder;

(d) where the contract has been entered into by a tenant for life in due exercise of a power, the remainderman;

(e) a reversioner in possession, where the agreement is a covenant entered into with his predecessor in title and the reversioner is entitled to the benefit of such covenant;

(f) a reversioner in remainder, where the agreement is such a covenant, and the reversioner is entitled to the benefit thereof and will sustain material injury by reason of its breach;

(g) when a public company has entered into a contract and subsequently becomes amalgamated with another public company, the new company which arises out of the amalgamation;

(h) when the promoters of a public company have, before its incorporation, entered into a contract for the purposes of the company, and such contract is warranted by the terms of the incorporation, the company.

(e). For whom Contracts cannot be specifically enforced.

24. A contract for the sale or letting of property, whether moveable or immoveable, cannot be specifically enforced in favour of a vendor or lessor—

Contracts to sell property by one who has no title, or who is a voluntary settler.

(a) who, knowing himself not to have any title to the property, has contracted to sell or let the same;

(b) who, though he entered into the contract believing that he had a good title to the property, cannot at the time fixed by the parties or by the Court for the completion of the sale or letting, give the purchaser or lessee a title free from reasonable doubt;

(c) who, previous to entering into the contract, has made a settlement of its subject-matter not founded on a valuable consideration.

EXPLANATION.—Marriage is a valuable consideration within the meaning of this section.

Illustrations.

(a). A, without C's authority, contracts to sell to B an estate which A knows to belong to C. A cannot enforce specific performance of this contract, even though C is willing to confirm it.

(b). A bequeaths his land to trustees, declaring that they may sell it with the consent in writing of B. B gives a general prospective assent in writing to any sale which the trustees may make. The trustees then enter into a contract with C to sell him the land. C refuses to carry out the contract. The trustees cannot specifically enforce this contract, as, in the absence of B's consent to the particular sale to C, the title which they can give C is, as the law stands, not free from reasonable doubt.

(c). A, being in possession of certain land, contracts to sell it to Z. On enquiry it turns out that A claims the land as heir of B, who left the country several years before, and is generally believed to be dead, but of whose death there is no sufficient proof. A cannot compel Z specifically to perform the contract.

(d). A, out of natural love and affection, makes a settlement of certain property on his brothers and their issue, and afterwards enters into a contract to sell the property to a stranger. A cannot enforce specific performance of this contract so as to override the settlement, and thus prejudice the interests of the persons claiming under it.

25. Specific performance of a contract cannot be enforced in favour of a person—

Personal bars to the relief

(a) who could not recover compensation for its breach;

(b) who has become incapable of performing, or violates, any essential term of the contract that on his part remains to be performed; or

(c) who has already chosen his remedy and obtained satisfaction for the alleged breach of contract;

(d) who, previously to entering into the agreement, had notice that a settlement of the subject-matter thereof, not founded on marriage or other valuable consideration, had been made and was then in force.

Illustrations

to clause (a).—A, in the character of agent for B, enters into an agreement with C to buy C's house. A is in reality acting, not as agent for B, but on his own account. A cannot enforce specific performance of this contract.

to clause (b).—A contracts to sell B a house and to become tenant thereof for a term of fourteen years from the date of the sale at a specified yearly rent. A becomes insolvent. Neither he nor his assignee can enforce specific performance of the contract.

A contracts to sell B a house and garden in which there are ornamental trees, a material element in the value of the property as a residence. A, without B's consent, fells the trees. A cannot enforce specific performance of the contract.

A, holding land under a contract with B for a lease, commits waste, or treats the land in an unhusbandlike manner. A cannot enforce specific performance of the contract.

A contracts to let, and B contracts to take, an unfinished house, B contracting to finish the house and the lease to contain covenants on the part of A to keep the house in repair. B finishes the house in a very defective manner: he cannot enforce the contract specifically, though A and B may sue each other for compensation for breach of it.

to clause (c).—A contracts to let, and B contracts to take, a house for a specified term at a specified rent. B refuses to perform the contract. A thereupon sues for, and obtains, compensation for the breach of contract. A cannot obtain specific performance.

(f). For whom Contracts cannot be specifically enforced except with a variation.

Non-enforcement except with variation.

26. Where a plaintiff seeks specific performance of a contract in writing, to which the defendant sets up a variation, the plaintiff cannot obtain the performance sought, except with the variation so set up, in the following cases (namely):—

(a) where by fraud or mistake of fact the contract of which performance is sought is in terms different from that which the defendant supposed it to be when he entered into it;

(b) where by fraud, mistake of fact, or surprise the defendant entered into the contract under a reasonable misapprehension as to its effect as between himself and the plaintiff;

(c) where the defendant, knowing the terms of the contract and understanding its effect, has entered into it relying upon some misrepresentation by the plaintiff, or upon some stipulation on the plaintiff's part, which adds to the contract, but which he refuses to fulfil;

(d) where the object of the parties was to produce a certain legal result, which the contract as framed is not calculated to produce;

(e) where the parties have, subsequently to the execution of the contract, contracted to vary it.

Illustrations.

(a). A, B and C sign a writing by which they purport to contract each to enter into a bond to D for Rs. 1,000. In a suit by D, to make A, B and C separately liable each to the extent of Rs. 1,000, they prove that the word 'each' was inserted by mistake; that the intention was that they should give a joint bond for Rs. 1,000. A can obtain the performance sought only with the variation thus set up.

(b). A sues B to compel specific performance of a contract in writing to buy a dwelling-house. B proves that he assumed that the contract included an adjoining yard, and the contract was so framed as to leave it doubtful whether the yard was so included or not. The Court will refuse to enforce the contract, except with the variation set up by B.

(c). A contracts in writing to let to B a wharf, together with a strip of A's land delineated in a map. Before signing the contract, B proposed orally that he should be at liberty to substitute for the strip mentioned in the contract another strip of A's land of the same dimensions, and to this A expressly assented. B then signed the written contract. A cannot obtain specific performance of the written contract, except with the variation set up by B.

(d). A and B enter into negotiations for the purpose of securing land to B for his life, with remainder to his issue. They execute a contract the terms of which are found to confer an absolute ownership on B. The contract so framed cannot be specifically enforced.

(e). A contracts in writing to let a house to B, for a certain term, at the rent of Rs. 100 per month, putting it first into tenantable repair. The house turns out to be not worth repairing, so, with B's consent, A pulls it down and erects a new house in its place: B contracting orally to pay rent at Rs. 120 per mensem. B then sues to compel specific performance of the contract in writing. He cannot enforce it except with the variations made by the subsequent oral contract.

(g). Against whom Contracts may be specifically enforced.

Relief against parties and persons claiming under them by subsequent title.

27. Except as otherwise provided by this chapter, specific performance of a contract may be enforced against—

(a) either party thereto;

(b) any other person claiming under him by a title arising subsequently to the contract, except a transferee for value, who has paid his money in good faith and without notice of the original contract;

(c) any person claiming under a title which, though prior to the contract, and known to the plaintiff, might have been displaced by the defendant;

(d) when a public company has entered into a contract, and subsequently becomes amalgamated with another public company, the new company which arises out of the amalgamation;

(e) when the promoters of a public company have, before its incorporation, entered into a contract, the company: provided that the company has ratified and adopted the contract and the contract is warranted by the terms of the incorporation.

Illustrations

to clause (b).—A contracts to convey certain land to B by a particular day. A dies intestate before that day without having conveyed the land. B may compel A's heir or other representative in interest to perform the contract specifically.

A contracts to sell certain land to B for Rs. 5,000. A afterwards conveys the land for Rs. 6,000 to C, who has notice of the original contract. B may enforce specific performance of the contract as against C.

A contracts to sell land to B for Rs. 5,000. B takes possession of the land. Afterwards A sells it to C for Rs. 6,000. C makes no enquiry of B relating to his interest in the land. B's possession is sufficient to affect C with notice of his interest, and he may enforce the contract against C.

A contracts in consideration of Rs. 1,000, to bequeath certain of his lands to B. Immediately after the contract A dies intestate, and C takes out administration to his estate. B may enforce the contract against C.

A contracts to sell certain land to B. Before the completion of the contract, A becomes a lunatic and C is appointed his committee. B may specifically enforce the contract against C.

to clause (c).—A, the tenant for life of an estate, with remainder to B, in due exercise of a power conferred by the settlement under which he is tenant for life, contracts to sell the estate to C, who has notice of the settlement. Before the sale is completed, A dies. C may enforce specific performance of the contract against B.

A and B are joint tenants of land, his undivided moiety of which either may alien in his lifetime, but which, subject to that right, devolves on the survivor. A contracts to sell his moiety to C and dies. C may enforce specific performance of the contract against B.

(h). Against whom Contracts cannot be specifically enforced.

28. Specific performance of a contract cannot be enforced against a party thereto in any of the following cases :—

What parties cannot be compelled to perform.

(a) if the consideration to be received by him is so grossly inadequate, with reference to the state of things existing at the date of the contract, as to be either by itself or coupled with other circumstances evidence of fraud or of undue advantage taken by the plaintiff ;

(b) if his assent was obtained by the misrepresentation (whether wilful or innocent), concealment, circumvention, or unfair practices, of any party to whom performance would become due under the contract, or by any promise of such party which has not been substantially fulfilled :

(c) if his assent was given under the influence of mistake of fact, misapprehension or surprise : Provided that, when the contract provides for compensation in case of mistake, compensation may be made for a mistake within the scope of such provision, and the contract may be specifically enforced in other respects if proper to be so enforced.

Illustrations

to clause (c).—A, one of two executors, in the erroneous belief that he had the authority of his co-executor, enters into an agreement for the sale to B of his testator's property. B cannot insist on the sale being completed.

A directs an auctioneer to sell certain land. A afterwards revokes the auctioneer's authority as to 20 bighás of this land, but the auctioneer inadvertently sells the whole to B, who has not notice of the revocation. B cannot enforce specific performance of the agreement.

(i). The Effect of dismissing a Suit for Specific Performance.

29. The dismissal of a suit for specific performance of a contract shall bar the plaintiff's right to sue for the breach of such contract.

Bar of suit for breach after dismissal.

(j). Awards and Directions to execute Settlements.

30. The provisions of this chapter as to contracts shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to awards and to directions in a will or codicil to execute a particular settlement.

Application of preceding sections to awards and testamentary directions to execute settlements.

CHAPTER III.

OF THE RECTIFICATION OF INSTRUMENTS.

31. When, through fraud or a mutual mistake of the parties, a contract or other instrument in writing does not truly express their intention, either party, or his representative in interest, may institute a suit to have the instrument rectified; and if the Court find it clearly proved that there has been fraud or mistake in framing the instrument, and ascertain the real intention of the parties in executing the same, the Court may in its discretion rectify the instrument, so as to express that intention, so far as this can be done without prejudice to rights acquired by third persons, in good faith and for value.

When instrument may be rectified.

Illustrations.

(a). A, intending to sell to B his house and one of three godowns adjacent to it, executes a conveyance prepared by B, in which, through B's fraud, all three godowns are included.

Of the two godowns which were fraudulently included, B gives one to C and lets the other to D for a rent, neither C nor D having any knowledge of the fraud.

The conveyance may, as against B and C, be rectified so as to exclude from it the godown given to C; but it cannot be rectified so as to affect D's lease.

(b). By a marriage-settlement, A, the father of B, the intended wife, covenants with C, the intended husband, to pay to C, his executors, administrators and assigns, during A's life, an annuity of Rs. 5,000. C dies insolvent and the official assignee claims the annuity from A. The Court, on finding it clearly proved that the parties always intended that this annuity should be paid as a provision for B and her children, may rectify the settlement, and decree that the assignee has no right to any part of the annuity.

32. For the purpose of rectifying a contract in writing, the Court must be satisfied that all the parties thereto intended to make an equitable and conscientious agreement.

Presumption as to intent of parties.

33. In rectifying a written instrument, the Court may inquire what the instrument was intended to mean, and what were intended to be its legal consequences, and is not confined to the inquiry what the language of the instrument was intended to be.

Principles of rectification.

34. A contract in writing may be first rectified and then, if the plaintiff has so prayed in his plaint and the Court thinks fit, specifically enforced.

Specific enforcement of rectified contract.

Illustration.

A contracts in writing to pay his attorney, B, a fixed sum in lieu of costs.

The contract contains mistakes as to the name and rights of the client, which, if construed strictly, would exclude B from all rights under it. B is entitled, if the Court thinks fit, to have it rectified, and to an order for payment of the sum, as if at the time of its execution it had expressed the intention of the parties.

CHAPTER IV.

OF THE RESCISSION OF CONTRACTS.

35. Any person interested in a contract in writing may sue to have it rescinded, and such rescission may be adjudged by the Court, in any of the following cases, namely :—

When rescission may be adjudged.

(a) where the contract is voidable or terminable by the plaintiff ;

(b) where the contract is unlawful for causes not apparent on its face, and the defendant is more to blame than the plaintiff ;

(c) where a decree for specific performance of a contract of sale, or of a contract to take a lease, has been made, and the purchaser or lessee makes default in payment of the purchase-money or other sums which the Court has ordered him to pay.

When the purchaser or lessee is in possession of the subject-matter, and the Court finds that such possession is wrongful, the Court may also order him to pay to the vendor or lessor the rents and profits, if any, received by him.

In the same case, the Court may by order in the suit in which the decree has been made and not complied with, rescind the contract either so far as regards the party in default, or altogether, as the justice of the case may require.

Illustrations

to (a).—A sells an estate to B. There is a right of way over the estate of which A has direct personal knowledge, but which he conceals from B. B is entitled to have the contract rescinded.

to (b).—A, an attorney, induces B, his client, to transfer property to him for the purpose of defrauding B's creditors. Here the parties are not equally in fault, and B is entitled to have the instrument of transfer rescinded.

Rescission for mistake.

36. Rescission of a contract in writing cannot be adjudged for mere mistake, unless the party against whom it is adjudged can be restored to substantially the same position as if the contract had not been made.

Alternative prayer for rescission in suit for specific performance.

37. A plaintiff instituting a suit for the specific performance of a contract in writing may pray in the alternative that, if the contract cannot be specifically enforced, it may be rescinded and delivered up to be cancelled; and the Court, if it refuses to enforce the contract specifically, may direct it to be rescinded and delivered up accordingly.

Court may require party rescinding to do equity.

38. On adjudging the rescission of a contract, the Court may require the party to whom such relief is granted to make any compensation to the other which justice may require.

CHAPTER V.

OF THE CANCELLATION OF INSTRUMENTS.

When cancellation may be ordered.

If the instrument has been registered, under the Indian Registration Act, the Court shall also send a copy of its decree to the officer in whose office the instrument has been so registered, and such officer shall note on the copy of the instrument contained in his books the fact of its cancellation.

Illustrations.

(a) A, the owner of a ship, by fraudulently representing her to be seaworthy, induces B, an underwriter, to insure her. B may obtain the cancellation of the policy.

(b). A conveys land to B, who bequeaths it to C and dies. Thereupon, D gets possession of the land, and produces a forged instrument stating that the conveyance was made to B in trust for him. C may obtain the cancellation of the forged instrument.

(c). A, representing that the tenants on his land were all at will, sells it to B, and conveys it to him by an instrument dated the 1st January 1875. Soon after that day, A fraudulently grants to C a lease of part of the lands dated the 1st October 1874, and procures the lease to be registered under the Indian Registration Act. B may obtain the cancellation of this lease.

(d). A agrees to sell and deliver a ship to B, to be paid for by B's acceptances of four bills of exchange, for sums amounting to Rs. 30,000, to be drawn by A on B. The bills are drawn and accepted, but the ship is not delivered according to the agreement. A sues B on one of the bills. B may obtain the cancellation of all the bills.

What instruments may be partially cancelled.

40. Where an instrument is evidence of different rights or different obligations, the Court may, in a proper case, cancel it in part and allow it to stand for the residue.

Illustration.

A draws a bill on B, who endorses it to C, by whom it appears to be endorsed to D, who endorses it to E. C's endorsement is forged. C is entitled to have such endorsement cancelled, leaving the bill to stand in other respects.

Power to require party for whom instrument is cancelled to make compensation

41. On adjudging the cancellation of an instrument, the Court may require the party to whom such relief is granted to make any compensation to the other which justice may require.

CHAPTER VI.

OF DECLARATORY DECREES.

Discretion of Court as to declarations of status or right.

42. Any person entitled to any legal character, or to any right as to any property, may institute a suit against any person denying, or interested to deny, his title to such character or right, and the Court may in its discretion make therein a declaration that he is so entitled, and the plaintiff need not in such suit ask for any further relief.

Bar to such declaration.

Provided that no Court shall make any such declaration where the plaintiff, being able to seek further relief than a mere declaration of right, omits to do so.

EXPLANATION.—A trustee of property is a person interested to deny a title adverse to the title of some one who is not in existence, and for whom, if in existence, he would be a trustee.

Illustrations.

(a). A is lawfully in possession of certain land. The inhabitants of a neighbouring village claim a right of way across the land. A may sue for a declaration that they are not entitled to the right so claimed.

(b). A bequeaths his property to B, C and D, 'to be equally divided amongst all and each of them, if living at the time of my death, then amongst their surviving children.' No such children are in existence. In a suit against A's executor, the Court may declare whether B, C and D took the property absolutely, or only for their lives, and it may also declare the interests of the children before their rights are vested.

(c). A covenants that if he should at any time be entitled to property exceeding one lákh of rupees, he will settle it upon certain trusts. Before any such property accrues, or any persons entitled under the trusts are ascertained, he institutes a suit to obtain a declaration that the covenant is void for uncertainty. The Court may make the declaration.

(d). A alienates to B property in which A has merely a life-interest. The alienation is invalid as against C, who is entitled as reversioner. The Court may in a suit by C against A and B declare that C is so entitled.

(e). The widow of a sonless Hindú alienates part of the property of which she is in possession as such. The person presumptively entitled to possess the property if he survive her, may, in a suit against the alienee, obtain a declaration that the alienation was made without legal necessity and was therefore void beyond the widow's lifetime.

(f). A Hindú widow in possession of property adopts a son to her deceased husband. The person presumptively entitled to possession of the property on her death without a son may, in a suit against the adopted son, obtain a declaration that the adoption was invalid.

(g). A is in possession of certain property. B, alleging that he is the owner of the property, requires A to deliver it to him. A may obtain a declaration of his right to hold the property.

(h). A bequeaths property to B for his life, with remainder to B's wife and her children, if any, by B, but if B die without any wife or children, to C. B has a putative wife, D, and children, but C denies that B and D were ever lawfully married. D and her children may, in B's lifetime, institute a suit against C and obtain therein a declaration that they are truly the wife and children of B.

Effect of declaration.

43. A declaration made under this chapter is binding only on the parties to the suit, persons claiming through them respectively, and, where any of the parties are trustees, on the persons for whom, if in existence at the date of the declaration, such parties would be trustees.

Illustration.

A, a Hindú, in a suit to which B, his alleged wife, and her mother are defendants, seeks a declaration that his marriage was duly solemnized and an order for the restitution of his conjugal rights. The Court makes the declaration and order. C, claiming that B is his wife, then sues A for the recovery of B. The declaration made in the former suit is not binding upon C.

CHAPTER VII.

OF THE APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVERS.

Appointment of receivers discretionary.

44. The appointment of a Receiver pending a suit is a matter resting in the discretion of the Court.

Reference to Code of Civil Procedure.

The mode and effect of his appointment, and his rights, powers, duties and liabilities, are regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF THE ENFORCEMENT OF PUBLIC DUTIES.

Power to order public servants and others to do certain specific acts.

45. Any of the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay may make an order requiring any specific act to be done or forborne, within the local limits of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction, by any person holding a public office, whether of a permanent or a temporary nature, or by any corporation or inferior Court of Judicature: provided—

(a) that an application for such order be made by some person whose property, franchise, or personal right, would be injured by the forbearing or doing (as the case may be) of the said specific act;

(b) that such doing or forbearing is, under any law for the time being in force, clearly incumbent on such person or Court in his or its public character, or on such corporation in its corporate character;

(c) that, in the opinion of the High Court, such doing or forbearing is consonant to right and justice;

(d) that the applicant has no other specific and adequate legal remedy; and (e) that the remedy given by the order applied for will be complete.

Exemptions from such power.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorize any High Court—

(f) to make any order binding on the Secretary of State for India in Council, on the Governor General in Council, on the Governor of Madras in Council, on the Governor of Bombay in Council, or on the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal;

(g) to make any order on any other servant of the Crown, as such, merely to enforce the satisfaction of a claim upon the Crown; or

(h) to make any order which is otherwise expressly excluded by any law for the time being in force.

Application how made.

46. Every application under section 45 must be founded on an affidavit of the person injured, stating his right in the matter in question, his demand of justice and the denial thereof; and the Procedure thereon.

High Court may, in its discretion, either make the order applied for absolute in the first instance, or refuse it and grant a rule to show cause why the order applied for should not be made.

Order in alternative.

If, in the latter case, the person, Court or corporation complained of shows no sufficient cause, the High Court may first make an order in the alternative, either to do or forbear the act mentioned in the order, or to signify some reason to the contrary and make an answer thereto by such day as the High Court fixes in this behalf.

Peremptory order.

47. If the person, Court or corporation to whom or to which such order is directed makes no answer, or makes an insufficient or a false answer, the High Court may then issue a peremptory order to do or forbear the act absolutely.

Execution of, and appeal from, orders.

48. Every order under this chapter shall be executed, and may be appealed from, as if it were a decree made in the exercise of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court.

Costs.

49. The costs of all applications and orders under this chapter shall be in the discretion of the High Court.

Bar to issue of mandamus.

50. Neither the High Court nor any Judge thereof shall hereafter issue any writ of mandamus.

Power to frame rules.

51. Each of the said High Courts shall, as soon as conveniently may be, frame rules to regulate the procedure under this chapter; and until such rules are framed, the practice of such Court as to applications for and grants of writs of mandamus shall apply, so far as may be practicable, to applications and orders under this chapter.

PART III.

OF PREVENTIVE RELIEF.

CHAPTER IX.

OF INJUNCTIONS GENERALLY.

Preventive relief how granted.

52. Preventive relief is granted at the discretion of the Court by injunction, temporary or perpetual.

Temporary injunctions.

53. Temporary injunctions are such as are to continue until a specified time. They may be granted at any period of a suit, and are regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Perpetual injunctions.

A perpetual injunction can only be granted by the decree made at the hearing and upon the merits of the suit: the defendant is thereby perpetually enjoined from the assertion of a right, or from the commission of an act, which would be contrary to the rights of the plaintiff.

CHAPTER X.

OF PERPETUAL INJUNCTIONS.

Perpetual injunctions when granted.

54. Subject to the other provisions contained in, or referred to by, this chapter, a perpetual injunction may be granted to prevent the breach of an obligation existing in favour of the applicant, whether expressly or by implication.

When such obligation arises from contract, the Court shall be guided by the rules and provisions contained in Chapter II of this Act.

When such obligation arises from an actual or threatened invasion by the defendant of the plaintiff's right to, or enjoyment of, property, the Court may grant a perpetual injunction in the following cases (namely)—

(a) where the obligation arises from a trust;

(b) where there exists no standard for ascertaining the actual damage caused, or likely to be caused, by the invasion;

(c) where the invasion is such that pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief;

(d) where it is probable that pecuniary compensation cannot be got for the invasion;

(e) where the injunction is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of judicial proceedings.

EXPLANATION.—For the purpose of this section a trademark is property.

Illustrations.

(a). A lets certain land to B, and B contracts not to dig sand or gravel thereout. A may sue for an injunction to restrain B from digging in violation of his contract.

(b). A trustee threatens a breach of trust. His co-trustees, if any, should, and the beneficial owners may, obtain an injunction to prevent the breach.

(c). The directors of a public company are about to pay a dividend out of capital or borrowed money. Any of the shareholders may obtain an injunction to restrain them.

(d). The directors of a fire and life-insurance company are about to engage in marine insurances. Any of the shareholders may obtain an injunction to restrain them.

(e). A, an executor, through misconduct or insolvency, is bringing the property of the deceased into danger. The Court may grant an injunction to restrain him from getting in the assets.

(f). A, a trustee for B, is about to make an imprudent sale of a small part of the trust-property. B may sue for an injunction to restrain the sale, even though compensation in money would have afforded him adequate relief.

(g). A makes a settlement (not founded on marriage or other valuable consideration) of an estate on B and his children. A then contracts to sell the estate to C. B or any of his children may sue for an injunction to restrain the sale.

(h). In the course of A's employment as a vakíl, certain papers belonging to his client, B, come into his possession. A threatens to make these papers public, or to communicate their contents to a stranger. B may sue for an injunction to restrain A from so doing.

(i). A is B's medical adviser. He demands money of B which B declines to pay. A then threatens to make known the effect of B's communications to him as a patient. This is contrary to A's duty, and B may sue for an injunction to restrain him from so doing.

(j). A, the owner of two adjoining houses, lets one to B and afterwards lets the other to C. A and C begin to make such alterations in the house let to C as will prevent the comfortable enjoyment of the house let to B. B may sue for an injunction to restrain them from doing so.

(k). A lets certain arable lands to B for purposes of husbandry, but without any express contract as to the mode of cultivation. Contrary to the mode of cultivation customary in the district, B threatens to sow the lands with seed injurious thereto and requiring many years to eradicate. A may sue for an injunction to restrain B from sowing the lands in contravention of his implied contract to use them in a husbandlike manner.

(l). A, B and C are partners, the partnership being determinable at will. A threatens to do an act tending to the destruction of the partnership-property. B and C may, without seeking a dissolution of the partnership, sue for an injunction to restrain A from doing the act.

(m). A, a Hindú widow in possession of her deceased husband's property, commits destruction of the property without any cause sufficient to justify her in so doing. The heir-expectant may sue for an injunction to restrain her.

(n). A, B and C are members of an undivided Hindú family. A cuts timber growing on the family-property, and threatens to destroy part of the family-house and to sell some of the family-utensils. B and C may sue for an injunction to restrain him.

(o). A, the owner of certain houses in Calcutta, becomes insolvent. B buys them from the official assignee and enters into possession. A persists in trespassing on and damaging the houses, and B is thereby compelled, at considerable expense, to employ men to protect the possession. B may sue for an injunction to restrain further acts of trespass.

(p). The inhabitants of a village claim a right of way over A's land. In a suit against several of them, A obtains a declaratory decree that his land is subject to no such right. Afterwards each of the other villagers sues A for obstructing his alleged right of way over the land. A may sue for an injunction to restrain them.

(q). A, in an administration-suit to which a creditor, B, is not a party, obtains a decree for the administration of C's assets. B proceeds against C's estate for his debt. A may sue for an injunction to restrain B.

(r). A and B are in possession of contiguous lands and of the mines underneath them. A works his mine so as to extend under B's mine and threatens to remove certain pillars which help to support B's mine. B may sue for an injunction to restrain him from so doing.

(s). A rings bells or makes some other unnecessary noise so near a house as to interfere materially and unreasonably with the physical comfort of the occupier, B. B may sue for an injunction restraining A from making the noise.

(t). A pollutes the air with smoke so as to interfere materially with the physical comfort of B and C, who carry on business in a neighbouring house. B and C may sue for an injunction to restrain the pollution.

(u). A infringes B's patent. If the Court is satisfied that the patent is valid and has been infringed, B may obtain an injunction to restrain the infringement.

(v). A pirates B's copyright. B may obtain an injunction to restrain the piracy, unless the work of which copyright is claimed is libellous or obscene.

(w). A improperly uses the trademark of B. B may obtain an injunction to restrain the user, provided that B's use of the trademark is honest.

(x). A, a tradesman, holds out B as his partner against the wish and without the authority of B. B may sue for an injunction to restrain A from so doing.

(y). A, a very eminent man, writes letters on family-topics to B. After the death of A and B, C, who is B's residuary legatee, proposes to make money by publishing A's letters. D, who is A's executor, has a property in the letters, and may sue for an injunction to restrain C from publishing them.

(z). A carries on a manufactory and B is his assistant. In the course of his business, A imparts to B a secret process of value. B afterwards demands money of A, threatening, in case of refusal, to disclose the process to C, a rival-manufacturer. A may sue for an injunction to restrain B from disclosing the process as being a thing contrary to his duty.

Mandatory injunctions.

55. When, to prevent the breach of an obligation, it is necessary to compel the performance of certain acts which the Court is capable of enforce-ing, the Court may in its discretion grant an injunction to prevent the breach complained of, and also to compel performance of the requisite acts.

Illustrations.

(a). A, by new buildings, obstructs lights to the access and use of which B has acquired a right under the Indian Limitation Act, Part IV, B may obtain an injunction, not only to restrain A from going on with the buildings, but also to pull down so much of them as obstructs B's lights.

(b). A builds a house with eaves projecting over B's land. B may sue for an injunction to pull down so much of the eaves as so project.

(c). In the case put as illustration (i) to section 54, the Court may also order all written communications made by B, as patient, to A, as physician, to be destroyed.

(d). In the case put as illustration (g) to section 54, the Court may also order A's letters to be destroyed.

(e). A threatens to publish statements concerning B which would be punishable under Chapter XXI of the Indian Penal Code. The Court may grant an injunction to restrain the publication, even though it may be shown not to be injurious to B's property.

(f). A, being B's medical adviser, threatens to publish B's communications with him, showing that B has led an immoral life. B may obtain an injunction to restrain the publication.

(g). In the cases put as illustrations (v) and (w) to section 54, and as illustrations (e) and (f) to this section, the Court may also order the copies produced by piracy, and the trademarks, statements and communications therein respectively mentioned, to be given up or destroyed.

Injunction when refused.

56. An injunction cannot be granted—

(a) to stay a judicial proceeding pending at the institution of the suit in which the injunction is sought, unless such restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of proceedings;

(b) to stay proceedings in a Court not subordinate to that from which the injunction is sought;

(c) to restrain persons from applying to any legislative body;

(d) to interfere with the public duties of any department of the Government of India or the Local Government, or with the sovereign acts of a Foreign Government;

(e) to stay proceedings in any criminal matter;

(f) to prevent the breach of an agreement the performance of which would not be specifically enforced;

(g) to prevent, on the ground of nuisance, an act of which it is not reasonably clear that it will be a nuisance;

(h) to prevent a continuing breach in which the applicant has acquiesced;

(i) when equally efficacious relief can certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding, except in case of breach of trust;

(j) when the conduct of the applicant or his agents has been such as to disentitle him to the assistance of the Court;

(k) where the applicant has no personal interest in the matter.

Illustrations.

(a). A seeks an injunction to restrain his partner, B, from receiving the partnership-debts and effects. It appears that A had improperly possessed himself of the books of the firm and refused B access to them. The Court will refuse the injunction.

(b). A manufactures and sells crucibles, designating them as "patent plumbago crucibles," though, in fact, they have never been patented. B pirates the designation. A cannot obtain an injunction to restrain the piracy.

(c). A sells an article called "Mexican Balm," stating that it is compounded of divers rare essences, and has sovereign medicinal qualities. B commences to sell a similar article to which he gives a name and description such as to lead people into the belief that they are buying A's Mexican Balm. A sues B for an injunction to restrain the sale. B shows that A's Mexican Balm consists of nothing but scented hog's lard. A's use of his description is not an honest one and he cannot obtain an injunction.

Injunctions to perform negative agreement.

57. Notwithstanding section 56, clause (f), where a contract comprises an affirmative agreement to do a certain act, coupled with a negative agreement, express or implied, not to do a certain act, the circumstance that the Court is unable to compel specific performance of the affirmative agreement, shall not preclude it from granting an injunction to perform the negative agreement; provided that the applicant has not failed to perform the contract so far as it is binding on him.

Illustrations.

(a). A contracts to sell to B for Rs. 1,000 the good-will of a certain business unconnected with business-premises, and further agrees not to carry on that business in Calcutta. B pays A the Rs. 1,000, but A carries on the business in Calcutta. The Court cannot compel A to send his customers to B, but B may obtain an injunction restraining A from carrying on the business in Calcutta.

(b). A contracts to sell to B the good-will of a business. A then sets up a similar business close by B's shop, and solicits his old customers to deal with him. This is contrary to his implied contract, and B may obtain an injunction to restrain A from soliciting the customers, and from doing any act whereby their good-will may be withdrawn from B.

(c). A contracts with B to sing for twelve months at B's theatre and not to sing in public elsewhere. B cannot obtain specific performance of the contract to sing, but he is entitled to an injunction restraining A from singing at any other place of entertainment.

(d). B contracts with A that he will serve him faithfully for twelve months as a clerk. A is not entitled to a decree for specific performance of this contract. But he is entitled to an injunction restraining B from serving a rival house as clerk.

(e). A contracts with B that, in consideration of Rs. 1,000 to be paid to him by B on a day fixed, he will not set up a certain business within a specified distance. B fails to pay the money. A cannot be restrained from carrying on the business within the specified distance.

NEW MEMBER.

THE HON'BLE MR. PARBURY took his seat in Council.

PUBLIC FERRIES.

THE HON'BLE MR. BELL moved that the Bill to amend the law relating to public ferries be read in Council. In the statement which he had the honor to make last Saturday, he explained to the Council what the object of this Bill was. Its object was simply to enable the Government to transfer to the District Road Cess Committees the ferries which were situated on roads which were maintained out of local funds. In the Mofussil Municipal Bill, which was passed by this Council last session, it was provided that all ferries which were situated within the limits of municipalities might be made over to the control of the municipal bodies within the limits of whose jurisdiction they were situated, and the present Bill merely provided that certain public ferries might similarly be made over to District Road Cess Committees. At present there was this anomaly with regard to such ferries, that the District Committees enjoyed the surplus proceeds arising from them, while the management remained in the hands of the Magistrate of the district, where it was placed by the Regulation of 1819. The simple object of the Bill was to transfer to the District Committees the management of the ferries which were situated on roads which they maintained from contributions which were levied within their districts under the provisions of the Road Cess Act.

In drafting this Bill he had taken as his model the provisions relating to ferries which were contained in the Mofussil Municipal Act, because the provisions which were applicable to municipalities were equally applicable, mutatis mutandis, to District Road Cess Committees; and he thought it was desirable to frame the Bill as much as possible on the model of an Act which had so recently received the sanction and approval of the Council. The Bill was an exceedingly simple one, and he thought that without any further comment he might ask that the Bill be read in Council.

The Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter said he had only one suggestion to make, and that was whether the present opportunity should not be taken advantage of to recast the old Regulation of 1819 on the model of the Bill which had now been framed. That Regulation, so far of course as it related to Bengal, contained many rules and details which could not now well stand in the Statute Book; and there was an amending Act I of 1866 of the Bengal Council, which modified some of its provisions. He thought, therefore, that the present opportunity should be taken to remodel the whole existing law relating to ferries.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal said there was one point in connection with this Bill which he wished to notice. In looking into the Bill he did not see in it any provision for giving compensation to the lessees of ferries which might be taken over by District Committees, or which might be injuriously affected by public ferries. He was of opinion that such a provision would be equitable.

The Hon'ble Mr Bell said, with regard to the observations which had fallen from the hon'ble member opposite (Baboo Kristodas Pal), the reason why the Bill made no provision for granting compensation to the owners of private ferries was simply because the Bill gave Local Committees no power to take over private ferries. But he agreed with the hon'ble member that some provision should be made for taking over private ferries, and in that case compensation would of course be given to the lessees of ferries so taken over. Provision was made in the Mofussil Municipal Act for that object, and he thought that they should make a similar provision in this Bill also.

With regard to the suggestion which had been made by the hon'ble member to the right (Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter), Mr. Bell could at present give him no definite reply. The Bill had been introduced into Council for a particular purpose; but if, when they came to consider the question in Select Committee, they found they could without much difficulty recast the Regulation relating to public ferries, it would then be a question whether they should obtain permission to enlarge the scope of the Bill. At present he merely asked that the Bill might be read in Council, and the suggestion which had been made by the hon'ble member could be more fully considered in Select Committee.

The motion was agreed to, and the Bill was referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Baboo Ram Shunker Sen, the Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter, the Hon'ble Nawab Ashgar Ali, and the mover, with instructions to report in one month.

GHATWALI POLICE.

THE HON'BLE MR. BELL moved that the Bill for the regulation of the ghatwali police in the districts of Bankoora and Manbhoom be read in Council. In the statement which he had the honor to make a fortnight ago in this chamber, he had attempted to explain the origin of these ghatwali tenures and the difficulties which had rendered necessary the present legislation. He did not intend on the present occasion to go over the ground which he had then trod, more particularly as the papers which had been circulated with the Bill would give hon'ble members every needful information. But there were one or two points in connection with those papers to which he should wish very briefly to advert. Among them would be found a memorandum by Mr. Macaulay, who was formerly the District Superintendent of Police in Bankoora, and also a petition from Messrs. Erskine & Co., who were large zemindars in that district. These gentlemen had both stated their opinion that it was perfectly useless to attempt to utilize these ghatwals as a police force. Now, no doubt the opinion of those gentlemen was entitled to very great weight; and he thought it could not be denied that the ghatwals as a body had not hitherto been a very efficient or a very satisfactory body of police. But he could not help thinking that a great deal of this inefficiency might be owing to the circumstance that the duties of these ghatwals as police-officers had never been distinctly determined or defined. Whenever an order was issued by the Magistrate it was open to the ghatwals to dispute the legality of the order, and the civil court was then invoked to determine whether the service which the Magistrate had called upon the ghatwal to render was a service which by custom was attached to the tenure or not. So long as such uncertainty existed with regard to the ghatwals' duties, it was perfectly impossible that there could be any useful or satisfactory service. The Bill which was now submitted to the Council would determine and define the duties which these ghatwals were in future to render; and he hoped that when the ghatwals knew the exact duties expected of them, and the Magistrate knew the exact duties which he might call upon them to perform, the efficiency of the body would be greatly improved. At any rate, MR. BELL did not think that they ought to abandon the task as hopeless until they had attempted to improve the efficiency of the ghatwals by clearly defining their duties and making provision for the enforcement of the performance of those duties.

There was another point in Mr. Macaulay's memorandum to which he thought it necessary to allude for a few moments. Mr. Macaulay had submitted a scheme for commuting the services of the ghatwals. This, however, was a question which was beyond the scope of the present Bill. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor had visited Bankoora in August last, and after fully considering the question in consultation with the local officers he had arrived at the conclusion that it would not be expedient at present to attempt any arrangement of the sort, and MR. BELL thought the Council would fully agree in that conclusion when they reflected that at present the area, the extent, and the boundaries of these lands, were absolutely undefined, and that no proper or correct survey of these lands had been made. It was obvious that no scheme of commutation could possibly take place so long as these elements of uncertainty existed. The Bill provided that it should be lawful for the Government to order a survey of the ghatwali lands, and when such a survey had been completed, and we knew exactly what were the extent and the boundaries and the value of those lands, it would then be time enough to take into consideration the question of commutation. In the Bill which was now laid before the Council, and which had been drafted on the lines of the Bill submitted by the Magistrate of Bankoora, there were two sections—sections 20 and 21—which had crept into the Bill through inadvertence. These sections related to the question of commutation, into which it was not for the present proposed to enter.

There was only one other point to which he wished to allude. In the petition submitted by Messrs. Erskine & Co., who were, as he said before, zemindars of Bankoora, complaint was made that the ghatwals were very remiss in paying their quit-rents. At present the ghatwals who resided within the pergunnah of Bissenpore paid their quit-rent to the Collector, and the Collector credited the zemindar with the amount of the quit-rent in his revenue account; but in other parts of the district, where Messrs. Erskine & Co. held their property, no such arrangement had been made. They had to pay their revenue into the Collectorate whether they collected the quit-rent from these ghatwals or not. The difficulty the zemindar experienced was this. The ghatwal had only a personal interest in his tenure, and the consequence was that the zemindar was unable to sell the tenure for arrears of rent. His only remedy was to proceed against the personal effects of the ghatwal; and to refer the zemindar to the personal effects of the ghatwal was in many cases absolutely delusive. He therefore thought that the Council should provide some easy means by which the zemindars should be able to realize their rents from the ghatwals. The Magistrate, to whom Mr. Bell had sent the petition of the zemindars, proposed that the arrangement which existed in the pergunnah of Bissenpore should also be introduced into the other parts of the district; and if that arrangement were adopted, the ghatwals would pay their rents to the Collector, and he would then credit the zemindar with the amount of the rent in the revenue account. That arrangement would save the zemindars from the expense and trouble of collection, and it seemed to be a perfectly fair and proper arrangement.

With these remarks he begged to move that the Bill be read in Council.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal said it was not his intention to discuss the many important points involved in this Bill: they were questions which would be best considered in Select Committee. But there was one important principle involved in the interpretation clause, regarding the hereditary rights enjoyed by ghatwals, to which he thought it necessary to draw attention. It was stated in clause (vi) of section 2 that in case of dispute regarding the hereditary possession of a ghatwal, it should be presumed that possession had been uninterrupted from the time of the permanent settlement unless the contrary was proved, and that "hereditary ghatwal" meant a ghatwal some member of whose family had been from the time of the permanent settlement in uninterrupted possession of the same service tenure, and who had performed police service for the same. Now it might be, as Baboo Kristodas Pal was informed, that in many cases uninterrupted possession could be proved. But there might be cases in which it might be difficult to prove such possession, but only possession for a number of years. Now, under Act X of 1859 and the Limitation Act, uninterrupted possession for twelve years without payment of rent gave a right of exemption from payment of rent. That constituted a lakhiraj title; and he did not see why the principle of law which applied to ryots holding lands from zemindars should not be applicable to ghatwals who held their lands on condition of service to Government. The condition of service was of course to be enforced; but the fact that possession of the tenure had been held for a certain term of years would, according to the present law, give a prescriptive right, and he thought that the same principle ought to be adopted in respect of ghatwali tenures. He hoped the Select Committee would be good enough to take this point into their consideration.

One other point which the hon'ble mover had noticed, and which called for remark, was the means which the zemindar possessed of recovering the quit-rent from the holders of ghatwali tenures. He fully admitted, as the hon'ble member had observed, that the personal effects of a ghatwali ryot might not in many cases be sufficient to meet the rent. But as it was a question of the recovery of rent, and that question embraced the whole body of zemindars and did not affect only one class of zemindars in one part of a district, Baboo Kristodas Pal thought that such an important question ought to be decided upon broad general grounds. If the personal effects of a ghatwal were not sufficient to satisfy the quit-rent payable to the zemindar, the quit-rent being generally very small, it was much more difficult for a zemindar to recover his ordinary rent; and therefore whatever law the Council might think fit to pass ought to be applicable to all ryots, and not to one section of them only.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bell said he would only make one or two observations in reply to the remarks which had fallen from the hon'ble member opposite (Baboo Kristodas Pal). The circumstances of hereditary ghatwals were entirely different from the circumstances of ordinary ryots. If he understood the facts rightly, the names of all ghatwals were entered in a public register kept in the Magistrate's office, and the Magistrate had merely to refer to this register to know exactly the date from which the family commenced their holding.

Therefore, the reasons which had induced the Legislature to lay down a rule of prescription with reference to ryots would hardly apply to the case of ghatwals. The records of the Bankoora office went as far back, he believed, as the year 1807, and he should be quite willing to agree with the hon'ble member that if any ghatwal could show from the records that he and his family had been in possession from that date they should be considered to have a quasi-hereditary title. MR. BELL proposed to leave that question to be finally decided by the Select Committee. He hoped the Committee would have the advantage of the presence of the Magistrate of Bankoora in settling the details of the Bill, and therefore he thought he might postpone the consideration of that question until then.

With regard to the observations which had been made with reference to the realization of the quit-rent, MR. BELL thought the circumstances of the ghatwals with reference to the landlord were somewhat different to the circumstances of the ordinary ryot with respect to his landlord. The ghatwal had two masters—first, the landlord, and secondly, the Magistrate. If the rent was not paid, the zemindar was unable to sell the tenure. Now an ordinary zemindar, if his rent was not paid, could realize the arrears by the sale of the tenure itself. But the zemindar, in the case of the ghatwal, had not that facility. Therefore MR. BELL thought that if the Council could provide some means for enabling the zemindars justly and fairly to recover their rents, they ought to do so; and if the arrangement which was suggested by the Magistrate were adopted, there would be no difficulty. The zemindar would be relieved of the necessity of collecting the rent from the ghatwals, and without any trouble on their part they would be credited with the amount of rent paid by the ghatwals in their revenue account, and that, as observed to MR. BELL by the learned Advocate-General, was the principle of the Beerbhoom regulations. MR. BELL thought, therefore, that if the Select Committee adopted the suggestion of the Magistrate, the difficulty which had been represented by the zemindars would be very satisfactorily met.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Baboo Ramshunker Sen, the Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter, the Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal, the Hon'ble Moulvie Meer Mahomed Ali, and the mover, with instructions to report in two months.

The Council was adjourned to a day of which notice would be given.

No. 3705, dated Calcutta, the 22nd November 1876.
From—H. J. S. Cotton, Esq, Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—The Secy. to the Govt. of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

In reply to your letter No. 517C, dated 15th November 1876, calling for a full and early report on the late cyclone, I am directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a copy of a Minute recorded by the Lieutenant-Governor on the cyclone and storm-wave in the districts of Backergunge and Noacolly.

2. Sir Richard Temple's account furnishes the latest information available up to the 12th of this month. Reports on the progress of events are still being received from the local officers, and as soon as these have all been received, they will be collated and a final report submitted. A special report by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal is also under preparation, and will be submitted to the Government of India as soon as it is ready.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated 21st November 1876.

Having recently returned from the cyclone-stricken districts, I proceed to record a brief narrative of my expedition, and a sketch of the case as it appeared to me and my party on the spot a week after the occurrence.

I was proceeding to Noacolly on an ordinary tour, having received reports only of a cyclone having occurred at Chittagong and Noacolly. Approaching Noacolly, I heard of the disaster which had happened in the highly cultivated and thickly inhabited islands at the mouth of the Megna, known as the groups of Sundeep, Hattea, and Dukhin Shahbazpore, and on both the coasts of that great river; so I cut short my visit to Noacolly, after inspecting some of the ruined villages in that quarter, and hastened to the points where it seemed probable that the worst stress of the storm must have been.

Thus, besides the coast near Noacolly and the interior as far as that station, I visited the islands of Hattea and Dukhin Shahbazpore in the Megna, near its mouth, and the western coast of the great river within the district of Backergunge. In each of these localities I visited a number of villages, and had the precise mortality in each house ascertained in my own presence on the spot, so as to prevent any possibility of deception. From the authentic data thus obtained I am able to check the local estimates, and to measure the mischief as it actually was. With me there was Mr. Reynolds (Secretary to Government) and Mr. Beverley, whose statistical ability is so well known; also Dr. Weir (temporarily on my staff), and some of the local officers.

Enclosed is an estimate of the probable number of lives lost (all, or nearly all, by drowning), prepared by Mr. Beverley and myself from our own data, compared with local reports, oral and written, and based on the returns of the last census. It will be seen that we apprehend that in an area of some 3,000 square miles out of 1,062,000 persons suddenly thrown into more or less of danger, 215,000 must have perished. This of course is only an estimate; the exact number cannot be known yet a while, perhaps never will be known. We found in some villages 30 per cent. of the inhabitants lost, in others 50 per cent., in some even 70 per cent. The total seems very high; I earnestly hope that it may be found to exceed the truth, and that the facts may not prove to be quite so dreadful. Still such is the estimate at present. At the least there must have been a most shocking loss of human life. And even the urgency of our duty towards the surviving cannot drive from our minds the sorrow for so great a multitude of dead.

There was a severe cyclone in the Bay of Bengal on the night of the 31st October. But it was not the wind which proved so destructive, though that was bad enough; it was the storm-wave, sweeping along to a height from 10 to 20 feet, according to different localities; in some places, where it met with any resistance, it mounted even higher than that. I will endeavour to have meteorological inquiry made as to how and from what direction this inundation came. The Noacolly people think it came from the sea right up the great river (Megna) with salt water; that then the cyclone turned round and rolled the fresh water from the river downwards; that with this refluence there was a piling up, as it were, of fresh and salt water, venting itself by a rush all over the surrounding tracts. I am not sure that this is the true explanation. It is understood that the eastern coast of the Megna and the Sundeep Island, adjacent thereto, caught the inundation from the south-west. But the almost unvarying direction of the rent deflected and up-rooted trees in the islands of Hattea and Dukhin Shahbazpore and the western coast of the Megna convinced us that there the storm broke from the north and north-east.

In the evening the weather was a little windy and hazy, and had been somewhat hot; but the people, a million or thereabouts of souls, retired to rest apprehending nothing. But before eleven o'clock the wind suddenly freshened, and about midnight there arose a cry of "the water is on us," and a great wave burst over the country several feet high; it was followed by another wave, and again by a third, all three rushing rapidly southwards, the air and wind being chilly cold. The people were thus caught up before they had time even to climb on to their roofs, and were lifted to the surface of the water, together with the beams and thatches of their cottages. But the homesteads are surrounded by trees—palms, bamboos, and a large thorny species called Madâr. The people were then borne by the water on to the tops and branches of these trees. Those who were thus stopped were saved; those who were not must have been swept away and were lost. Doubtless there must have been variation in detail in this struggle for life with death. But there is an extraordinary sameness in the general manner in which people were saved or lost. In most cases they would show us the particular tree on which they stuck, and generally the survivors pointed to the severe scratches they received from the prickly branches of the Madâr trees; in reality these thorns and prickles held them tight, as if with natural grappling-hooks, and prevented them from being borne away.

The mode of habitation is in this wise. Each hamlet consists of four to six houses (to each house a family); these are built (thatch and matting) on a slightly raised platform, composed of earth thrown up from the surrounding ditch; they are surrounded by a wall of trees, high and dense. It was this formation, unvarying in kind, though varying in degree, that prevented the loss of life from being universal. Indeed, the trees, in their long stretching arms, held up the poor drowning souls. In those hamlets where the trees grew thickly, many lives were saved; in those hamlets where there happened to be gaps or breaks in the environment of trees, most of the inhabitants were carried off.

The bodies of the lost were carried to considerable distances, where they could not be identified. Most homesteads have dead strangers lying about, washed in from distant villages. The corpses began to putrify before the water cleared off the grounds, so they are left unburied in numbers all over the country (in a Mahomedan population there is no cremation). They are indeed masses of corruption which no one can bear to approach, and they present a sickening spectacle. Mixed with human bodies are the bodies of cattle, all heaped up together. The smell in many places was distressing to us as we walked through the fields from village to village. Weather-tossed seamen in the Bay of Bengal saw many corpses floated out from land with the waves. Corpses from the Sundeep Island were flung on to the seashore at Chittagong; and living persons were borne thither across an arm of the sea, clinging to the roofs or beams of their own houses, as if upon rafts.

As an authenticated instance as described to me by the witness of the suddenness of the onset of the storm-wave, I may mention that Mr. Higgins, an Inspecting Post-master, was in his travelling barge that night, moored in the creek near Noacolly about 10 miles inland from the Megna; he had gone to bed that night at eleven o'clock, without any fear or anxiety whatever; the boatmen were ashore, but his four native servants were on board with him; shortly before midnight he was awakened by a cry of "the waters are up;" jumping up he looked out and saw a high wave, with its crest and curling top gleaming in the starlight, it seemed like a flash; in an instant his boat seemed rising up on high; he fastened on a life-belt; in a few moments another wave came rolling on, and the barge capsized; he paddled about in the water all the rest of that night with the help of the life-belt; the native servants clung to spars—three were saved one was lost; the water felt warm to the body, but the air was bitterly cold to the head or hands above the surface; of some natives lodged on the branches of a tree, one was seen to relax his hold from cold and numbness and sink into the flood.

If this happened at Noacolly, what must have been the emergency in the islands still more exposed to the fury of the storm.

The force of the inundation appears to have lasted in most places from about midnight to 2 A.M., that is for two hours; by daybreak there was much subsidence of flood, and by noon next day the survivors had come down from the trees and regained terra firma. But they must have been foodless and shelterless for the rest of that day and all the next day. After that, however, they began to re-assemble, not indeed at the ruins of their homesteads, which had been carried away entirely, but at the sites and foundations They took out their stores of grain buried in pits, dried those which were wet—the sun having come out in the cleared sky—and cooked such as were undamaged. At every homestead which I visited I found the people engaged in drying their grain. They also made frameworks with broken branches, over which they threw sheets and cloths such as they had about them at the moment, and so made little tent-like habitations. Plantain trees abounded, but the fruit was mostly destroyed. The cocoanuts, however, very frequently stood through the storm, and must have afforded some sustenance. There must have been much trouble about water at first. But either the drinking tanks speedily recovered from the brackishness left by the salt wave, or else the storm-wave must have mainly consisted of fresh water; for the drinking tanks were not brackish when we tasted them a few days afterwards. It was a great relief to find that such was the case. Some tanks and some swamps indeed are full of human corpses and dead cattle and all manner of fœtid matters, and cannot be approached; the streamlets which carry off the accumulated water were flowing black and thick with putrid substances.

No estimate can be made of the number of cattle drowned. They are chiefly bullocks and cows, some few are buffaloes; but the buffaloes are mostly saved, being excellent swimmers. The loss of cows is bad for the people, and the loss of oxen is still worse for agriculture. Fortunately there is no immediate demand for ploughing in the fields, so the loss will not make itself severely felt for some months.

In some places, and for the first two or three days, the people seem to have been often in want of food; they could not get at their stores. In some places they suffered severe hunger, assailing with entreaties for food the Revd. Mr. George Kerry, who was one of the first to appear among them. But this difficulty must have gradually subsided, for when I saw them there was no clamour for food particularly, though there was naturally loud lamentation for their sorrows generally, nor were there any signs of hunger; on the contrary, the noticeable circumstance was the trouble the people were taking to dry their grain. The demeanour of those who really bore the brunt of the storm was marked by that enduring fortitude under suffering which distinguishes the native character.

Nor was there at the time of my visit any sign of epidemic sickness anywhere save around Noacolly. How long this immunity will be vouchsafed to the poor survivors may be a question anxiously asked. We have since learned that cholera has broken out on the Chittagong coast and on the east side of the Megna.

For the first day or two after the catastrophe there were some attempts at plundering and some lawlessness broke out; but all this was promptly suppressed. Gang robbery used to prevail formerly in these tracts, and the robber spirit still survives among the instincts of the people; the fear was that, unless authority could be quickly vindicated, many persons would be tempted to take advantage of the sudden disruption of all social bonds to superadd crime to the many evils already inflicted on the land by a physical visitation. I trust, however, that the difficulty will be found to have been encountered and subdued.

Most of the local native officials were drowned, Deputy Magistrates, Police Inspectors, Native Civil Judges, Notaries, and others. Of those who escaped, some stood by their posts and did their duty well. Some few deserted and fled for their own safety, forgetting their charges; these, however, belonged chiefly to the lowest grade of the police and will be duly punished. Among the police, some behaved so well as to merit reward. There were few resident landlords and few land agents on the spot. The villagers mostly consisted of cultivators with various kinds and degrees of tenures and of sub-proprietors—a substantial yeomanry in fact—and they were the richest peasantry in all Bengal.

When the storm burst there was an abundant rice crop ripening for the harvest—the well known deltaic rice crop which is much beyond the needs of local consumption, and affords quantities (measured by thousands of tons annually) for exportation to distant districts. A part is lost, that in which the plant had not advanced beyond the stage of flowering, and a part is safe still, that in which the grain had formed or begun to form. If even one-third is saved, that would suffice for the population now on the land.

The boats, great and small, which constitute the only carriage in these tracts, and which fill the place of carts, were all lost on the night of the storm, jammed and smashed up together, or wrecked, or disabled, or carried inland and left high and dry. The Noacolly authorities were thus bereft of all resources for moving across the floods. In the case of the Hattea Island this was very hard; by reason of the loss of all boats there were no means of crossing the Megna to reach the island, and for three days at least it was succourless. The people on the mainland knew its danger, but could not cross over to it. The Backergunge authorities were more fortunate; their boats escaped destruction, and they were able to move with all the promptitude that could be desired. The Chittagong authorities had most of their boats temporarily disabled, but, despite their own pressing needs, they managed to send succour to the devastated islands of Sundeep.

Most of the trees, fruit-bearers or others, will recover; except the Areca or betelnut palms. These exist in great numbers, of which very many are broken, snapped off as it were, and much of the betel crop just being gathered was destroyed, though some part was saved. The country here is well wooded, but at present it has lost all verdure and sylvan appearance; it seems to be stricken by a withering winter, and wears a drab color, with bare branches or dead leaves, or trunks contorted as if torn by some superhuman destructive agency. Many trees torn up by the roots were carried away with the flood into the great river, and there remained as sunken trees, known to sailors as "snags," so dangerous to navigation. They virtually barricaded the passage out to sea by the western branch of the Megna, so that we were barred from approaching by water the seaface of the devastated tracts. The "snags," extending over an expanse of water, looked as if they had been set up by an enemy.

The wealth lost was almost entirely agricultural—crops or cattle. To this, however, there is one noteable exception, namely Dowlutkhan, a rich trading town, clean destroyed, with loss of miscellaneous property and valuable records. It had 8,000 inhabitants, one-fourth of whom perished, perhaps more. Approaching the place, we steamed for two miles through a creek, the banks of which all the way were strewn with human bodies, floated up and down by the tide.

I give this outline of the case judging by what I saw of it, and by what I heard from those who were in it. The local authorities did instantly all they possibly could, and some of them managed to do a great deal The immediate obstacle was of course the difficulty of communication. Still, day after day, sometimes hour after hour, officials, non-officials, messengers, guards, supply boats, arrived at some point or other of the wide and scattered scenes of disaster. Since the first few hours of inevitable destruction, not a life, so far as I could learn, had been lost from any preventable cause, nor had any one been in extreme danger Those who perished in that fatal instant of time passed suddenly beyond aid; but those who escaped then are still sustained, or are sustaining themselves sufficiently well. The disaster, big though it be, has yet happened in the midst of plenty and of rural wealth. All around the fated and wasted area there are excellent crops and abundant stores. Those who have lost their agricultural wealth have still some left, and doubtless possess considerable credit. Soon, therefore, will boats come pouring in by the numerous channels from districts teeming with water-carriage; soon will fresh cattle be swum or ferried across the rivers from the overstocked districts of Eastern Bengal; soon will the grain bazars be re-opened, and the rustic marts be filled with the surplus produce of neighbouring tracts.

The local authorities have indeed opened "relief centres," dotted all over the distressed tracts, and they afford relief in some cases; but this is done very sparingly: and though any case or cases of real danger or sickness will be watched for, so that no life can be lost (as we hope , save from incurable sickness, still we trust that very little relief will be really needed. The relief centres are as much for guard as for relief; are established for the purpose of restoring order, of preventing confusion, of keeping rustic society together, of making every responsible person stick to his work, and of ensuring that public confidence without which trade of all sorts cannot quickly be restored. All this is being done with the utmost energy that the local officers can command, and all the staff, both European and Native, that can reasonably be required, has been or is being despatched to the spot. Our object is to let the poor people see that the authorities are thinking, caring, feeling for them in their misery. This knowledge will brace their nerves, raise their spirits, and induce them to return promptly to all their accustomed industries.

There will be some extra police for a month or two, but that will not be much; also some relief expenses. There probably will be hereafter some advances to cultivators for purchasing plough-cattle (to replace the cattle drowned), but these advances will be recoverable, and will be made only on security. Altogether the expenses will probably not be beyond the means of local or provincial funds, and I hope to be spared the necessity of asking the Government of India for any financial aid.

We are prepared, so far as medical aid goes, for the contingency of epidemic sickness. Two parties of native doctors have been already despatched, and more will be kept in readiness.

I hope also that there will be no appreciable loss of revenue. The land revenue forms a small part of the profits of the land in these heretofore flourishing tracts, and is paid by very well-to-do persons. We got in all our land revenue during the infinitely worse case of the famine of 1874 in every district of Bengal and Behar, and I fully intend to enforce the same rule now if possible. Nor is there any considerable loss to be feared under the other heads of revenue.

But although I hope for the best regarding the surviving population, I still remember that things might take a turn for the worse, and that there may be distress of which information has not yet reached us. In that case the numerous temporary stations which have been established, and the many responsible persons who are moving about, have instructions to act with all necessary effectiveness. Sickness and pestilence are the things uppermost in our fears.

The following is the resumé of the instructions which I gave on the spot to the local authorities:—

1*st*.—Throughout the devastated tracts to establish posts of observation at points sufficiently numerous to ensure the condition of the people in every village being thoroughly watched, so that, if there are any cases, or even a single case, of dangerous distress, they or it may be surely discovered.

2*nd*.—To afford relief in any cases where it is necessary to save life; but in all cases short of this extremity, to be very cautious in affording direct assistance of this sort.

3*rd*.—To stop those attempts at plundering or lawlessness which are to be apprehended after a physical catastrophe, such as that which has occurred.

4*th*.—To preserve social order; to urge the people to re-build their cottages quickly; to induce shop-keepers to re-open their shops; to re-establish local bazars and markets; to assure all persons, especially those who bring supplies or livestock from without by river, that their boats and property are safe against any sort of attack or interference.

5*th*.—To encourage and induce all landed proprietors of any grade, superior or inferior, and their agents, to stay in or return to their respective properties, to help their tenants and dependants.

6*th*.—To see that the regular police set a good example, and that the village watchmen stand by their posts.

7*th*.—To ascertain whether any cash advances will probably be necessary to enable cultivators to purchase cattle for agriculture.

8*th*.—To investigate numerically the casualties which actually occurred on the fatal night of the 31st October.

9*th*.—To be prepared to establish medical stations and dispensaries in event of epidemic sickness breaking out.

10*th*.—To incur such expenditure as may be absolutely necessary under the above instructions, but with this reservation, to be very economical in spending money.

11*th*.—To arrange for the taking of a new census, on some date during December next, of the people remaining in the local divisions (thanas) which have suffered from the storm-wave.

12*th*.—To discourage or refuse any applications for remission of land revenue.

13*th*.—To act promptly in any emergency which may arise, not provided for in these instructions.

The Commissioner of Dacca, Mr. F. B. Peacock, proceeded immediately by steamer with assistance to Backergunge and supervised the local arrangements. The Acting Commissioner of Chittagong, Mr. A. Smith, despatched with excellent promptitude assistance to the Sundeep islands, under Mr. Badcock, which we trust arrived in time to prevent disaster. He and a non-official, landholder, Mr. Macalpin, joined my party at Hattea Island. The Magistrate of Backergunge, Mr. E. Barton, was as prompt as possible in sending every sort of help to the scene of distress; his conduct in that trying moment has received my high commendation. The District Superintendent of Police, Mr. H. N. Harris, proceeded at once to Dowlutkhan, the spot of all others where his presence was most needed, and was personally very active and resourceful. The Reverend Mr. G. Kerry (of the Baptist Mission) volunteered to visit some of the tracts where hunger was most feared, and distributed supplies from Government among those who were most in need; he was among the first to appear on the scene of destruction. Mr. R. Porch, the Magistrate of Noacolly, speedily organised relief establishments along the coast line of his district. Mr. R. Harvey, manager of the Paikpara estate, proceeded to the islands to assist the distressed tenantry. The Nawab Abdool Ghunnee, of Dacca, sent his steamer and some large boats, which will be very useful for the conveyance of men and of supplies. Most of the zemindars were non-resident; but on hearing of the disaster, they hurried off agents or went in person to their estates. I am sure that they will be found doing their duty as landlords.

It may be asked, in conclusion, whether any protective means against such calamities in future can be devised—any embankments or the like? This question will be duly considered; but at present I know not how to devise such safeguard, nor have I seen any one who can suggest anything. The area to be protected would be too great to be encompassed with protective works. If embankments became breached in such a storm, they would afterwards do more harm than good, for they would prevent or retard the running off and the subsidence of the waters. Perhaps the people might build perches for themselves on platforms, on stilts, and the like; but the trees which invariably surround the homesteads serve this purpose admirably, and it is to them that the survivors mainly owe their escape.

There is always this consideration, too, that these disasters, though not unfrequent somewhere or other in a less severe form, do not visit the same locality in such intensity, save at long intervals of time. Without specifying the exact date when the last event of such gravity befell the delta of the Megna—one case of this kind happened in 1822—most people say that there has been nothing like the recent cataclysm since the middle of the last century.

No. 173, dated Calcutta, the 24th November 1876.

From—The Hon'ble T. C. Hope, Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Dept. of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Cotton's letter of the 22nd instant, No. 3705, forwarding copy of a Minute recorded by the Lieutenant-Governor on the cyclone and storm-wave which have recently devastated portions of the districts of Backergunge and Noacolly. The President in Council has read with painful interest the account of this terrible calamity, which is contained in Sir Richard Temple's Minute, a calamity which, as regards the number of human lives lost, to say nothing of the destruction of cattle and other animals, is scarcely paralleled in the annals of history. The Lieutenant-Governor estimates that in an area of some 3,000 square miles, out of a population of about a million, some 215,000 persons have perished. The loss of property, and especially of cattle, a very serious matter in an agricultural district, has been of course considerable. The local authorities appear to have done everything that was in their power to afford relief to the survivors in the devastated tract. The Lieutenant-Governor makes special mention of the Commissioner of Dacca, Mr. F. B. Peacock; of the Acting Commissioner of Chittagong, Mr. A. Smith; of the Magistrate of Backergunge, Mr. E. Barton; of the Magistrate of Noacolly, Mr. R. Porch; and of the District Superintendent of Police, Mr. H. N. Harris. The exertions of the Reverend G. Kerry, of the Baptist Mission, and of Mr. R. Harvey, Manager of the Paikpara Estate, are also specially mentioned, as well as those of Nawab Abdool Ghunnee of Dacca, who sent his steamer and some large boats to the scene of the disaster. The President in Council requests that the thanks of the Government of India may be conveyed to all these gentlemen for their services.

2. To His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor who, with his characteristic energy, visited the locality within a week after the occurrence of the cyclone, the Government of India and the public are much indebted for his clear and interesting narrative of the results of his inspection, and for his judicious directions to the local authorities. Sir Richard Temple's presence on the spot so immediately after the catastrophe must have been invaluable as an encouragement to the officials, and as an assurance of the sympathy of the Government with the survivors of the population in the sufferings to which they have been exposed. The Government of India will be glad to receive any further reports and more detailed information that may reach the Government of Bengal.

3. The Government of Bengal have been already informed that Her Majesty the Queen, immediately on hearing what had occurred, was graciously pleased to signify by telegraph her deep concern at the terrible calamity which has thus overwhelmed a large body of Her Majesty's subjects. A similar expression of concern and sympathy has been received from His Excellency the Viceroy.

4. A copy of Mr. Cotton's letter and its enclosure, and of this reply, will be published in the Gazette of India for the information of the public.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 25th November 1876

Presidency Div.	6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov. 27,† '76	0·22	Weather—Seasonable at the beginning of the week, but cloudy from 22nd to 24th instant, and a little rain fell throughout the district. Prospects of the amun rice are good. The public health is generally good.
	7	Nuddea, „ 25, „	0·14	Weather—Gloomy and cool, with drizzling rain. Prospects of the crops are generally good. Cholera is reported to be on the increase in the Meherpore and Chooadanga sub-divisions.
	8	Jessore, „ 25, „	0·80	Weather—Clear and seasonable up to the night of the 22nd instant; since then there have been very slight and almost continual showers of rain. The state and prospects of the crops are good and favourable. During the past week cholera was prevalent in parts of the district, and there was a virulent description of malarious fever in the Gadkhally thana. There were still some cholera cases in Jessore town.
	9	Moorshedabad, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Cloudy since the night of the 23rd instant; wind and drizzling rain on the 25th at daybreak. Prospects of the crops continue to be favourable. The cutting of amun has begun. Prices are steady. Fever and cholera are both very prevalent in Berhampore.
Rajshahye Div.	10	Dinagepore, „ 24, „	Nil	Weather—Bright and cold; north-east wind blowing. The prospects of the crops this year is better than in the two previous years. There is much fever arising from the chills.
	11	Maldah, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—Fair, with occasional clouds and traces of rain on the 25th. Rain threatening The prospects of the crops are good all round the district. Amun and hymust are being reaped in places with large outturn.
	12	Rajshahye, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Cloudy A few drops of rain fell in Beauleah on the 23rd instant, and in Bilmaria on the 22nd. There is nothing further to report beyond what was reported last week. The prospects of the dhan crops continue to be satisfactory, and the rubbee crops are still being sown. Sugarcane, arhur, kalai, and til are thriving. Cholera still continues to be reported from Beauleah, Nattore, Bandaikhara, Burrigong, Bagmara, and Charghat, and fever also from Beauleah, Nattore, and Bagmara.
	13	Rungpore, „ 24, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. The cutting of rice has commenced, and a good outturn is expected.
	14	Bogra, „ 25, „	0·07	Weather—Cloudy and drizzly towards the end of the week; easterly wind blowing Dhan is ripening rapidly, and is being harvested in places. Sugarcane is being cut. Sporadic cases of cholera reported here and there.
	15	Pubna, „ 25 „	0·17	Weather—Cold and cloudy with small showers of rain. The harvesting of amun dhan is going on, and the prospects of sugarcane and turmeric are good. Cholera continues in a sporadic form.

* Telegram of the 27th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

† Report of the 27th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

Cooch Behar Divn.	16	Darjeeling, Nov. 24, '76	·04	Weather—Fair throughout the week. All the crops are progressing very favourably in all parts of the district.
	17	Julpigoree, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Fine. State and prospects of the crops are good in every way. Cattle disease is slightly prevalent in Buxa and Fallacotta.
		Cooch Behar, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Becoming colder, but the mornings are not yet foggy. The late rice or hymanti dhan is being cut. The cultivation of mustard oil-seed and other cold-weather crops is still going on, and their prospects are not bad now. The tobacco plants yet remain to be transplanted. The health of the people is generally good.
		Eastern Districts
Dacca Divn.	18	Dacca, Nov. 27,* '76	1·24	There has been rain since 22nd instant, and cloudy weather, most unusual for this season. State of the crops is still good, but the rain will do some damage.
	19	Furreedpore, „ 25, „	1 56	Weather—Wet since 22nd instant with strong north-east wind in gusts, and low barometer. ·61 of rain is registered at Goalundo. The prospects of the crops are good, save the damage done by the late cyclone. Endemic cholera is reported from some places.
	20	Backergunge, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The Commissioner and Collector have visited all the places affected by the late storm-wave, and estimate the crops in the afflicted thanas as follows:—In Golachipa the early agrahan paddy will be thirteen annas, as also the pous crop; in Dowlutkhan the early agrahan will be ten or twelve annas, but the pous (which is the larger crop) will probably not be more than six annas, though it may develope to eight annas; in Burisuddin both the crops may be marked at about ten annas; in Bowful the pous is by far the larger crop, and will be twelve annas, while the agrahan will be five annas only; in Backergunge the yield all round will be about twelve annas; in Mendigunge the agrahan crop will be ten annas and the pous crop twelve annas; in all the other thanas of the district the crops are reported to have been damaged by the cyclone. All apprehensions therefore about want of food are at an end. The people now fear the ravages of the grub chesna, which is often most destructive to the ripening crops, of which the appearance has not hitherto been anywhere reported. In the distressed tracts the people have lost nearly 90 per cent. of all their plough cattle, in addition to the loss of their moveable property. The general health of the district is very indifferent. Fever to a large extent exists all over it, and cholera is reported to be present in thanas Burrisaul, Backergunge, Jhalokati, Mendigunge, Gournadi, Perozepore, Sharoopkatti, and Dowlutkhan.
	21	Mymensingh, „ 24, „	·04	Weather—Seasonable; cloudy on the 23rd and 24th instant, with changeable wind. State and prospects of the crops are favourable.
	22	Tipperah, „ 24, „	1 57	Weather—Sultry during first half of the week; wet and stormy during the last two days. The winter rice crop promises to be a fair average one.
Chittagong Divn.	23	Chittagong ...	.....	Return not received.
	24	Noakholly,	.....	Return not received.
	25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, Nov. 21, '76	Nil	Weather—Cold and foggy in the morning, and hot at noon throughout the week. Mustard is being sown, and cotton is being gathered in places where the plants are not totally destroyed by the late cyclone.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The damage done by the late cyclone to the rice crop in the plains seems to have been about three annas. The cotton crop in the hills has been also injured. Notwithstanding all this damage the prospects of the crops generally are fair.
BEHAR.
Patna Divn.	26	Patna, Nov. 27,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The rice crops are being reaped with a good outturn, and the prospects of the rubbee crops are favourable. Health of the district is good.
	27	Gya, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Cool, with clear sky. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade reached as high as 82·6. The harvest of khurreef has commenced and the outturn promises to be good. The rubbee sowing is still going on and promises to be favourable.
	28	Shahabad, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. The aghani crops are being reaped, and the rubbee promises well.
	29	Durbhunga, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather Fair and cool. Dhan is being harvested, and the sowing of the rubbee crops is nearly completed.

* Telegrams of the 27th November, received on the same day, show rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

PATNA DIVN.—(Contd.) 30	Mozufferpore, Nov. 25, '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and cold. The prospects of the crops continue good. The rubbee sowings are still in progress. The prices of food-grains are gradually falling off, owing to the favourable prospects of the crops. Public health is good.
31	Sarun, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Bright and clear, but rather warm for the time of the year. The wind is blowing from the west The harvest of aghani has commenced. The rubbee crops are coming on well, and the prospects are generally very favourable. General health is good.
32	Chumparun „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable Prospects of the crops are most favourable.
BHAGULPORE DIVS. 33	Monghyr, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Fine, clear, and cool. The rubbee and urhur crops promise well.
34	Bhagulpore, „ 27,* „	Nil	All the crops are promising. General health is very good.
35	Purneah, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The rubbee sowings are progressing favourably, and the outturn of the winter rice is expected to be sixteen annas. Fever is said to be increasing in Bussuntpore and Ramgunge.
36	Sonthal Pergha. „ 26, „	Nil	Weather—Last two days cloudy; distant hills clear, as before rain; nights warmer. The state and prospects of the crops on all sides are reported to be as good as possible. Cattle disease is stopping in Deoghur.
ORISSA
ORISSA DIVS. 37	Cuttack, „ ...;	.....	Return not received.
38	Pooree, „ 24, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The laghu crop is being reaped. In some places the sarad crop is ready for the sickle, and in others it has begun to ripen. The water in the fields in parts of pergunnah Rahang, Kotrahang, and Serai being insufficient, the ryots are having recourse to irrigation. No complaint is made either from the Khoordah sub-division, or from the tracts bordering the Chilka. Very large quantities of rice are being bought up in this district for export, and consequently those who have no rice for sale are much dissatisfied.
39	Balasore, „ 24, „	·05	Weather—Clear and cool. The harvesting work continues satisfactorily
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 24, '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are very favourable.
41	Lohardugga, „ 25, „	Nil	Weather—Cloudy, and not so cold as in the last week The crops are all that can be desired.
42	Singbhoom, „ 24, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the crops are favourable There is much less fever in the district.
43	Manbhoom, „ 25 „	Nil	The weather during the last two days was little cloudy, but no rain fell. The paddy on the high lands is being cut throughout the district, and the prospects of the crops on the ground are very good.

* Telegram of the 27th November, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

Dated Calcutta, the 25th November 1876.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter from the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta, No. 2005 of 6th November 1876, applying for a loan of Rs 70,000 for the purpose of improving the river frontage from the northern boundary of the Government Dockyard at Kidderpore to 200 feet north of the Commissariat Jetty at Baloo Ghât.

Whereas it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that the loan of Rs. 70,000 applied for ought to be granted to the Port Commissioners, it is hereby ordered that the application be published in the Calcutta Gazette as required by the 5th of the rules made by the Governor-General in Council under the Public Works Loan Act of 1871, and published on the 15th October 1873.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 2005, dated Calcutta, the 6th November 1876.

From—The Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

WE the undersigned Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta do hereby apply to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for a loan to be granted us under the provisions of Act XXIV of 1871, the Public Works Loan Act. The particulars to be set forth in accordance with the rules published under the aforesaid Act are hereto annexed.

(1) The work for the construction or repair of which the loan is required;

The improvement of the river frontage from the northern boundary of the Government Dockyard at Kiderpore to 200 feet north of the Commissariat Jetty at Baloo Ghât.

and an estimate of the cost thereof.

Rupees 70,000.

(2) The amount of loan applied for.

Rupees 70,000.

(3) The funds, cesses, rates, duties, or taxes, and the property, if any, on the security of which it is proposed that the loan shall be made.

The landing and shipping charges, wharf rents, and removal charges levied at the jetties and inland wharves; the jetties, quays, wharves, machinery, &c., &c., belonging to the Port Commissioners; and the Strand Bank lands

(4) The law or laws under which the said funds, cesses, rates, duties, taxes levied or received, and the title on which the said property is held

Act V (B.C.) of 1870.

(5) The period for which the loan is required;

Thirty years.

the number and amount of the instalment, if any, in which it is proposed the loan shall be made,

In one instalment.

dates proposed for receiving such instalments;

When sanctioned.

and the instalments in which it is proposed to repay the loan

In accordance with the provisions of Rule X of the rules published under the Act, modified by clause (d) of the rule, the Commissioners will pay a fixed sum half-yearly, on the 30th June and 31st December, at the rate of Rs. 3,053-5 for each lakh of rupees borrowed. The table showing the proportion in which this half-yearly amount is divided between payment of interest and repayment of principal, which was forwarded with the Commissioners' letter No. 4785, dated 12th January 1874, will show that the terms of the rule above quoted are complied with, and that one-fifth of the amount borrowed will be repaid within ten years, one-half within twenty years, and the whole within thirty years.

(6) The proceeds of each of the funds, cesses, rates, duties, or taxes, and all other incomes received by the Port Commissioners for the purposes of the Act

The ordinary income and expenditure of the Commissioners for 1871-72, 1872-73, 1873-74, 1874-75, and 1875-76, exclusive of repayment of loans:—

NOTIFICATION.

Revised application made by the undersigned Municipal Commissioners of Darjeeling for a loan under the Local Public Works Loan Act of 1871.

The loan is required for the following purposes:—

	Rs.
I.—The increase and improvement of water-supply of Darjeeling, which is insufficient for the purposes of the station during the four months of the year, by constructing near the cutcherry a reservoir to contain 55,000 cubic feet of water, according to the revised plan submitted by the Superintending Engineer, Northern Circle, with his letter No. 2814, dated 23rd October 1876, at an estimated cost of	29,293
II.—The extension and improvement of the present drainage, as follows:—
(1) The construction of a covered drain and adjuncts to the Hospital Jhara, as proposed in the first part of Mr. Smith's Appendix E (except last part), at an estimated cost of ...	7,576
(2) The construction of two small drains at the Bazar Jhara, as proposed in the second part of Mr. Smith's Appendix E, at an estimated cost of	500
(3) The improvement of Beechwood Jhara, as proposed in Mr. Smith's Appendix E (third part), at a cost not exceeding...	2,631

2. The amount of loan now applied for is Rs. 40,000.

3. The security offered for the above loan will be as follows :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
I.—Proceeds of house tax, estimated to yield ...	5,784	12	0
II.—Horse and pony tax	600	0	0
III.—Rent of locations	4,684	0	0
VI.—Pound fines	500	0	0
Total ...	25,868	12	0

4. The house and horse taxes are levied under Act V of 1876.

The rents of locations, with which those of native villages are to be classed, were first assigned to the use of the sanitarium in 1838. This was confirmed by orders of Government passed in 1854, again in orders No. 217 of the 14th January 1864, and finally in the resolution of the Government of Bengal, dated 27th June 1873

The bazar rents are derived from buildings erected by the municipality out of its revenues, and situated on land made over to it by Government.

The pound fines were made over to the municipality under orders dated 14th October 1862, contained in letter No. 3625. from the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal to the Superintendent of Darjeeling.

5. It is proposed to pay back the loan in 20 years by equal half-yearly instalments of Rs. 1,000, or Rs. 2,000 per annum. In this manner the payments would be made within 20 years, as provided in clause d, Rule X of the rules of the 15th October 1873.

6. It is not possible to give the details required for the three years last preceding, as the limits of the municipality were much reduced in the beginning of the year 1874-75, and the sources of income, as well as the objects of expenditure, were so much affected by this change, that any attempt at comparison with former years would be deceptive.

The following table shows proceeds of the various sources of municipal income in 1874-75 :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
House tax	5,028	8	4
Horse tax	579	0	0
Bazar rents	11,732	4	3
Rent of locations	4,484	8	0
Rent of native village	1,231	11	5
Pound fines	229	13	0
All other sources, viz. hospital subscriptions, sale of garden produce, &c.	4,583	2	7
Total ...	27,868	15	7

The expenditure during the year was Rs. 27,494, out of which Rs. 700 consisted of recoverable advances, and Rs. 1,583 was a contribution to a work outside the new limits of the municipality.

7. The value of bazar buildings, &c., is about Rs. 1,50,000.

8. There are no existing prior charges upon any of the sources of income above enumerated.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 800 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1875-76, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1877, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 48,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1876.

PART II.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by the Government, situated in the districts of Sonthal Pergunnahs, East Indian Railway, Chord Line, will be put up to sale at the Nawadi Staging Bungalow at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, the 13th December 1876, corresponding with 29th Aughrahan 1283, B. S.

The purchasers of these plots will be subject to the following conditions:—

1*st*.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

2*nd*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

3*rd*.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

4*th*.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector confirming the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final sanction of the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge should not be accorded to the proceedings.

Chief Clerk's Office, the 5th day of December 1876.

POSTAL NOTICES.

Reduction of Passenger Fares on the Darjeeling Line.

IT has been determined further to reduce the fares upon this line. On and after the 1st December therefore the rates charged will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For an express or special carriage ...	60	0	0
One inside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	30	0	0

The above charges are for the entire journey from Karagola to Silligori or vice versâ.

The mileage charge will be reduced in proportion, i.e. an express carriage will be charged for at the rate of 6 annas a mile, an inside seat in an ordinary, 4 annas a mile, and a seat on the mail-cart 2 annas.

As it has been reported that it was the intention of Government to close this line at once, it is hereby notified that if the monthly returns shew that it is extensively used by the public, it will be kept running until the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION FOR THE YEAR 1875-76.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 5th December 1876.

READ—

The General Report on Public Instruction for the year 1875-76.

THE preparation of this report has been delayed by the lamented death of Mr. H. Woodrow, the Director of Public Instruction. A distinguished scholar, a successful teacher, an energetic Inspector of Schools, and an efficient Director, Mr. Woodrow devoted to the cause of education abilities which were at once stimulated by philanthropy and guided by sound judgment. Earnest and conscientious in his work, he displayed at the same time a kindliness and a sympathy which attracted the confidence of all with whom he was brought into contact; and the natives of Bengal, whose best interests he had deeply at heart, will long remember his name with affection and respect. The report which he left unfinished has been completed by his successor, Mr. Sutcliffe, to whom the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due for a clear and comprehensive review of the educational progress of the year.

2. Excluding unaided indigenous pathsalas, of which no accurate returns can be given, the report of 1874-75 showed a total of 15,584 schools with 464,694 pupils, being an increase of 1,050 schools and of 36,015 pupils over the figures of the previous year. The corresponding figures for 1875-76 give 15,960 schools and 495,585 pupils, or an addition of 376 schools and of 30,891 pupils. The increase is thus smaller than in the previous year, which is so far a matter for regret. As regards the number of schools and scholars in the mass, Sir Richard Temple can never cease to urge on all concerned the principle expressed in his Minute of the 27th April 1875, namely this:—

"The analogy of a constantly widening circle seems to be applicable to this case. That which is now the outer circumference, represented by the lowest standard, will soon be occupied by a better standard, and then the lowest standard will be pushed out to an additional circumference, embracing more thousands of humble scholars. That circumference, again, will hereafter yield to a better standard, and once more the lowest standard will be moved outwards to a new circumference and to more thousands of scholars; and so on, till we get nearer and nearer to our ultimate object, namely, the education of nearly all the poorest classes."

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is therefore glad to be able to agree with the Director in thinking that these statistics show the increasing stability of the present system of education. In 1875-76 there were 82 new pupils added for every new school; whereas in 1874-75 there were only about 34 new pupils for each additional school. At present there is an average of about 30 pupils in each school. If this average could be raised to 50, we should have about 800,000 pupils under systematic instruction—a number doubtless very far short of the actual requirements of the country, but considerably in excess of any results which have hitherto been attained. Still the Lieutenant-Governor would indicate this as a goal to be striven for. The winning of such a goal must greatly depend on the well-directed efforts of the district officers. It is astonishing to note how much an officer in such a position can accomplish. For instance, it is hardly too much to say that, if every district officer in all these provinces could do as much for education as is done by the district officer of Midnapore, the total of 800,000 would not only be reached, but would be greatly exceeded. An example like this convinces the Lieutenant-Governor that he is not demanding the impossible when he calls upon all officers to go on augmenting year by year the area of education.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor can only say that the aim of our district authorities should be to have as great a total of schools and scholars as may be possible, until at last all the youth of the nation of a school-going age shall be at school.

5. Whether our present number can be augmented must mainly depend on financial resources, and it must be admitted that we have nearly reached the limit of existing resources. The schools are already so numerous as to tax severely the powers of the inspecting staff. Our object then must be, with the assistance of the people, to raise more and more the means of establishing schools.

6. Meanwhile we certainly can proceed with the improvement of the very many schools which, happily, the country does possess; to raise the character of the education; and to increase the average number of pupils in each school.

7. The principal educational measures of the year may be summarized as follows. Offers have been made by Government for the establishment of additional colleges and high schools, and these offers have already borne fruit in Cuttack, Chittagong, and Rungpore; technical education has been advanced by the foundation of survey schools in the mofussil, by assistance given to public associations in Calcutta, and by the opening of a Fine Arts gallery in connection with the School of Art; new medical schools have been established at Dacca and Cuttack; an intermediate class of schools between the primary and the middle schools has been founded; the normal school system has been remodelled; rules have been laid down for the course of instruction to be given in madrissas; the inspecting staff has been strengthened and reorganized; orders have been passed to regulate the selection of text-books and the course of study in vernacular schools; scholarships for girls have been established; encouragement has been given to the opening of hostels and lodging-houses in connection with colleges and zillah schools, and measures have been taken, both in Calcutta and the mofussil, for the education of the poorer classes of European and East Indian children.

8. In all these measures it has been the object of the Government to encourage the exertions and supplement the contributions of the people themselves, and to leave, so far as might be possible, the settlement of matters of detail to the discretion of the local committees and of the leading members of the native community. It is satisfactory to find from the report that this policy has thus far met with a liberal response, showing at once the desire of the people for educational improvement, and their confidence in the measures initiated by Government. In 1874-75 the Government expenditure was Rs. 22,59,000, and the total expenditure Rs. 39,27,000, showing the contribution of Rs. 16,68,000 by the public: in the year under review the Government expenditure rose to Rs. 24,03,000, and the total expenditure to Rs. 41,89,000, giving a public contribution of Rs. 17,86,000. It is also to be observed that these figures, which show only the expenditure of the year, do not adequately represent the total contributions of the people, as large sums have been subscribed for investment, especially in Calcutta, Nuddea, Orissa, and Chittagong, and the figures take no account of the numerous private schools which are not aided by Government, and are not included in the returns. This readiness on the part of the people to contribute to the support of national education is specially satisfactory, when it is remembered that financial considerations must prevent the Government from doing much more than it does at present to assist public instruction. What remains to be done must be accomplished principally by the efforts of the people themselves.

9 Paragraphs 16—21 of the report supply some interesting statistics, showing the comparative contributions by Government and by the people to the different classes of schools; the number of boys per thousand of the population known to be at school in each division of the Lower Provinces; the class of instruction reached by the pupils; and the details of this result for each class of schools. The fact that nearly 50,000 children—one-tenth of the whole number returned for Bengal—are known to be at school in the single district in Midnapore, shows what may be done by energetic and judicious management on the part of the district authorities. Behar is still the most backward of all the provinces, but there is a marked improvement in the school attendance in both the Patna and Bhagulpore Divisions. In all schools taken together more than half the pupils (55·4 per cent) are still in the lower section of the primary stage—that is to say, they cannot yet read, write, and understand easy sentences in their own language. It is not altogether satisfactory to find that the proportion of pupils who are still in the elementary stage is somewhat larger than it was last year; but this is explained in the report as a result which necessarily follows from any large increase in the total number under instruction.

10. The returns of primary education show a total of 13,491 schools with 357,233 pupils, being an increase of 346 schools and 27,209 pupils over the figures of last year. The increase is almost entirely in the new or "E" patshalas, the Government schools and the grant-in-aid schools showing a trifling increase, while there is a considerable falling off in the circle schools and the old or "D" patshalas. The Director looks upon this as a proof that the Government system is improving the character of primary instruction, and is transforming the primaries from mere hedge-schools, with eight or ten pupils, into decently attended village schools. This opinion seems to be borne out by the figures, which show that the E patshalas have increased by 514 schools with 28,156 pupils; in other words, that for each additional school there have been 54·8 additional pupils. At the same time there has been a decrease in the average annual cost to Government of each patshala and of each pupil. The total expenditure on primary schools was Rs. 4,35,207; but this does not include the cost of classes for the training of "gurus" or village school-masters, nor of inspection. If these are added, the total expenditure for primary education was about Rs. 4,57,600.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor has said on former occasions that he does not desire to insist upon any rigid or uniform system being adopted in the management of these schools. In the present early stage of popular education, that system is the best which most readily adapts itself to local requirements and is most willingly accepted by the people. In the hands of Mr. Harrison, the able Magistrate of Midnapore, the plan of payment-by-results has been extremely successful, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that a similar system has been introduced in Patna, Bhagulpore, Dacca, and Chittagong. But it would be his wish to leave a large discretion to local officers in the selection of the method which they may judge to be best suited to the condition of their several districts; and he would hold up Midnapore as an example rather of the results which may be attained than of the system which must necessarily be pursued.

12. The payment of fees in primary schools has been more generally enforced during the year, and this is entirely in accordance with the policy which the Government desires to pursue in giving aid to popular education. At the same time, while a moderate payment should be required from all who are able to pay, no one should be excluded from a primary school simply on account of his inability to pay the fee. It is satisfactory to find that the complaint formerly made, that the people withdraw their payments from the gurus or old village school-masters who receive Government aid, is now very seldom heard. The difficulty is said still to be felt in some parts of the Rajshahye, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore Divisions. But the truth appears to be that in these localities the people withhold payment from the guru not because he gets a Government stipend, but because they know his services to be worth very little. If the guru is efficient, he will get a good fee-income in addition to his grant from Government: if he is not efficient, it would be better not to subsidize him with Government money.

13. The results of the primary scholarship examination are shown in a very incomplete form in the report, and no table is given of the total number of candidates who competed and who passed. It appears that no examination was held in Bhagulpore, and the Lieutenant-Governor will by a separate letter enquire why the orders conveyed in the Minute of the 27th April 1875 were not carried out in this district. On the whole, it appears, so far as can be gathered from the report, that there was a large number of competitors, and that about two-fifths of the candidates succeeded in passing the examination; but the standard varied greatly in different districts, and no general comparison is practicable. Without wishing absolutely to prescribe rules for the conduct of an examination which has been so recently established, and which requires to be adapted to very different stages of educational progress, the Lieutenant-Governor considers it desirable that an examination should be held at least in every sub-division of each district; that certificates of competency should be given to all who reach the standard, whether they actually obtain scholarships or not; and that no one who is not qualified to receive a scholarship should be allowed to offer himself for examination. Upon this last point there appears to be much discrepancy of opinion, many officers wishing that all students should be encouraged to compete, and some even desiring that the limit of age for primary scholarships should be altogether abolished. But if the primary scholarship is to be, as the Lieutenant-Governor would wish it to be, a link in the chain of scholarships leading up to the University, it is essential that the limit of age should be enforced, and in this case the examination would be deprived of all significance if boys disqualified by age from obtaining a scholarship were permitted to compete. The standard of the scholarship is intended to be such as may be attained by boys of 11 years of age, and a boy two or three years older should not be considered entitled to a certificate of competency for passing it. It may be added that some restriction of the numbers of the competitors appears necessary to prevent the conduct of the examination being too heavy a burden upon the examiners.

14. Schools of the intermediate standard were established by orders which were not issued till September 1875, and consequently these schools are still only in process of formation. But they will be found, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, to supply a want which has long been felt; they will attract the best and most promising pupils from the pathsalas, who might have hesitated to enter a middle school, but who will imperceptibly be led onwards through the agency of these schools to the higher stages of education. The Director appears to be in some doubt whether these schools should be reckoned as coming under primary or under secondary instruction. He remarks that they are alternatively described as lower vernacular schools, a term which is synonymous with primary, but that they ought properly to rank among secondary schools, especially as it is intended that English shall be taught in some of them. But in this there seems to be some confusion between the appellation of the scholarships connected with these schools, and the designation of the schools themselves. The middle schools compete for vernacular scholarships, and the scholarships of these intermediate schools, the standard of which is lower, are rightly described as lower vernacular scholarships. But it was not intended that the term "lower vernacular" should be applied to schools of the intermediate class. The Lieutenant-Governor would prefer that they should be separately classed as "intermediate," but if the authorized forms of educational statistics do not admit of this, the schools should undoubtedly rank under secondary, and not under primary, instruction.

15. Under the head of secondary instruction are classed all schools of which the standard is higher than that of the primary scholarship, but not higher than that of the University Entrance examination. Excluding intermediate schools, which need not in their present imperfect state of development be further considered, secondary instruction comprehends schools of three classes—middle vernacular, middle English, and higher English. A comparison of these schools for the last two years gives the following results :—

Class of Schools.	1874-75.		1875-76.
	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
Middle vernacular	1,055	51,547	1,037	51,486
Middle English	571	31,757	623	34,072
Higher English	166	30,800	173	32,529
Total ...	1,792	114,104	1,833	118,087

It will be observed that while the average number of pupils in a middle vernacular school is a little less than 50, and in a middle English school 54·6, the average in higher English schools is 188.

16. The figures given above show that while there has been some general increase both of schools and scholars under secondary instruction, the increase has been most considerable in the higher stages. It is also satisfactory to find that the increase has been in aided and private schools and not in Government schools, and the decline of vernacular schools, contrasted with the increase in middle and higher English schools, is an instructive sign of the growing desire for English education. Indeed, in some parts of the country, and especially in some parts of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, the time appears to be at hand when it will no longer be necessary for the Government to regulate or subsidize the higher English schools.

17. The same tendency appears to be indicated by the results of the vernacular and minor scholarship examinations. It is true that the candidates for the vernacular scholarship were more numerous than in the preceding year, but the increase was confined to the comparatively backward provinces of Behar, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore, and the proportion of successful candidates showed a decrease. On the other hand, the minor scholarship examination showed some increase in the number of candidates, and a very considerable increase in the number who passed, the percentage of successful candidates having risen from 66 to 72. The total numbers were—

	Candidates.	No. who passed.	Scholarships awarded.
Vernacular scholarship	4,062	2,521	225
Minor scholarship	1,140	816	112

18. It may be deduced from these figures that an education which includes some acquaintance with English is now more popular, and is on the whole more fruitful in sound instruction than one which is restricted to the study of the vernacular tongue. The Lieutenant-Governor is encouraged to believe that he was right in deciding that the new intermediate class of schools should teach English as well as the vernacular. But the report shows that it is still a general subject of complaint that the English teaching in middle schools is of very inferior quality, and that boys who pass the minor scholarship examination are never found equal to the standard of the second class, and very seldom even of the third class, of a zillah school. It must be remembered that in these schools English is taught as a language, but is not made the medium of instruction in other subjects, history, geography, and mathematics being taught in the vernacular. In the phraseology of the department, the schools are schools teaching English, but not teaching through English. Two of the Inspectors have recommended that this system should be altered, and that the instruction in middle English schools should be assimilated to that given in the third class of a zillah school. But the Lieutenant-Governor is not at present prepared to introduce so great a change as this. He would prefer to see a well-considered attempt made to improve the English teaching in these schools, by insisting that aided schools shall employ competent teachers, on pain of a withdrawal of their grants; by requiring one-third of the marks in the English paper to be gained as a condition of receiving the minor scholarship certificate; and perhaps also by establishing Government middle schools, with efficient masters, at the head-quarters of sub-divisions, in the manner suggested in paragraph 210 of the report.

19. It has already been shown that in higher English schools, by which are meant schools teaching up to the standard of the University Entrance examination, there was an increase during the year of seven schools and of 1,729 pupils. The expenditure upon schools of this class during the last two years has been as follows:—

	1874-75.		1875-76.
	By Government.	Total.	By Government.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Government schools ...	1,22,707	3,58,466	1,17,104	3,63,428
Aided schools ...	51,728	1,89,549	54,087	2,16,484
Total ...	1,74,435	5,55,015	1,71,191	5,79,912

These figures, as is remarked in the report, are very satisfactory. There has been an increase of schools and pupils, and a considerable addition to the total expenditure, but a larger share of the cost is borne by the people. In Government schools the total annual cost per head is about Rs. 30, of which rather less than one-third is paid by the State. In aided schools the cost is Rs. 22, of which the Government pays Rs. 5-10.

20. The educational progress of higher schools is tested by the result of the University Entrance examination, and, tried by this standard, the year under review was greatly below the average. In all, 1,819 candidates were sent up from 175 schools, and of these only 566, or 31 per cent. succeeded in passing the examination. The result was least unfavourable in the Government schools, from which 37·6 per cent. passed; unaided private schools passed 28·1 per cent.; and aided schools only 24·9 per cent. The causes of this apparent decline, and the remedies which should be applied, have been discussed by the Lieutenant-Governor in a separate correspondence with the late Director, and orders have been issued, the effect of which, it is hoped, will be to enforce more careful preparation and ensure more accurate study.

21. The number of Government colleges which teach the entire course up to the B. A. degree was increased to six during the year by the raising of the Kishnaghur and Cuttack colleges to the higher grade. The Sanskrit and Berhampore colleges, and the high schools of Midnapore and Rampore Beauleah, teach up to the standard of the First Arts examination. The high schools of Chittagong and Rungpore were established after the close of the year under review. The total number of under-graduate students in the Government colleges and high schools was 838, showing a decrease of 13 compared with the figures of the previous year; but this was more than made up by the increased numbers in the aided colleges, and the total number in both classes of institutions was 1,249, against 1,213 in 1874-75. The total expenditure upon education of this kind was as follows:—

	Government funds.	Fees and private funds.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Government colleges and high schools...	2,00,075	84,859	2,84,934
Aided colleges	22,795	80,312	1,03,107
Total ...	2,22,870	1,65,171	3,88,041

The expenditure was largest in the Berhampore College, where each student cost a total of Rs. 918, of which Government paid Rs. 849. In the Presidency College the cost per head was Rs. 324, of which Rs. 158 were paid by Government and Rs. 166 from fees and private funds The high schools at Midnapore and Rampore Beauleah are maintained from fees and endowments without any expense to the State.

22. The results of both the First Arts and the B. A. examination were such as to give rise to some doubt whether the high standard of education, for which Bengal has so long been honourably distinguished, is being maintained by the present generation of under-graduate students. For the First Arts examination there were 445 candidates, of whom 112 or 25 per cent. were successful; for the B. A. degree the candidates were 229, and of these only 54 or 23·5 per cent. satisfied the examiners. Various explanations of this want of success are suggested in the report, and these may perhaps have had some share in contributing to the result; but the verdict of the examiners was that the failure was due to a want of careful and accurate preparation, that the students had been contented to trust to their memory without attempting to exercise their intelligence, and had perused the text-books without mastering the subjects. The Lieutenant-Governor has already, in a separate communication, called the attention of the Director to these remarks of the examiners, and he has issued orders which will, he hopes, have the effect of giving a more practical direction to the instruction in the departments of chemistry and botany. He will gladly take any other measures in his power which may be shown to be necessary to effect the required improvement. But the remedy for the evil complained of does not rest with the Government, but with the teachers and students themselves: and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that both these classes will lay this matter seriously to heart, and will strenuously exert themselves, the one to impart, and the other to acquire, that solid and accurate knowledge which at once enriches and disciplines the intellect.

23. The Lieutenant-Governor learns with much satisfaction that the orders which have been given for the encouragement of Sanskrit in normal and zillah schools have had the good effect which was hoped for from them, and that the pedantic and unpractical use of that language, which was justly objected to by his predecessor, has disappeared from our schools. This improvement in the study of Sanskrit is a subject for congratulation in the interests both of philological learning, of national sentiment, and of liberal education. A sound knowledge of Sanskrit is of importance to the maintenance of the purity and originality of the Bengal language, and some degree of acquaintance with it may be considered as essential to the training of an educated Bengali gentleman.

24. In the Resolution upon last year's report the Lieutenant-Governor recorded an expression of his opinion that the paucity of those who take degrees in the University, as compared with those who matriculate, is at present a grave blot in our educational results. In the report now under review, the Director remarks that the proportion of students who finish their educational career with entrance into the University is not very great. Of those who passed the Entrance examination in December 1875, it is said that about 90 per cent. continued their studies in colleges, and that the whole number of those who passed the First Arts examination either joined a third-year class, or were admitted into the Medical College. But the Lieutenant-Governor is compelled to observe that only one-fifth of those who passed the Entrance examination passed the First Arts, and that, of the number who passed the First Arts, only one-half obtained the degree of B.A. In other words, the graduates were only one-tenth of the number who matriculated.

25. In view of these figures, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it necessary to request special attention to what was said on this subject in the Resolution of last year, and to repeat that it is the settled policy of the Government of Bengal that an University degree shall ordinarily be considered a necessary qualification for employment in any of the higher offices of the public service. There can be no doubt that the enforcement of this rule will have a marked effect on the general diffusion of higher education, the success of which may be said to depend, first, on the maintenance of a high and appropriate standard for University degrees and a strict examination; and secondly, on the adoption of the principle that the possession of an University degree shall be insisted on in all candidates for superior appointments in the public service.

26. Under the head of special instruction are included the subjects of law, medicine, and civil engineering; survey schools, industrial schools, and schools of art. The law classes in the five Government colleges in which a separate department for this study is maintained, showed a falling off in numbers during the year, which is attributed to the large proportion of failures in the B. A. examination. In the Presidency College the law classes are entirely supported by fees, and indeed yield a surplus: in the mofussil colleges a Government expenditure of Rs. 1,486 was incurred for these classes. The total number of students was 231, against 289 in the previous year.

27. The medical schools are now five in number; new schools at Dacca and Cuttack having been opened during the year. Except in the English department in the Medical College, the instruction in all these schools is given in the vernacular. The Dacca school is well attended, and promises to be a very useful and popular institution. The Cuttack school was opened towards the close of the year, and is intended to supply a want which has for some time been felt, owing to the distance of Orissa from the higher educational institutions of Bengal. The total number of pupils in the medical schools was 1,255, and the expenditure was Rs. 2,21,863, of which Rs. 1,71,829 were contributed by Government, or a cost of Rs. 137 per head.

28. The civil engineering department of the Presidency College contained 154 pupils, the numbers being very nearly the same as those of last year. There was a reduction of expenditure owing to changes in the instructing staff. The results of the departmental examinations were fairly satisfactory, and four candidates who went up for the University degree of Bachelor in Civil Engineering were all successful. Altogether 44 pupils were sent out from the class during the year with certificates of qualification for employment in the Public Works Department.

29. Four vernacular schools of surveying were established towards the close of the year at Hooghly, Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack. These schools have made a successful beginning with 122 pupils, and it is hoped that they will prove a preliminary step towards the establishment of a system of technical instruction, and that they will be supplemented hereafter by the foundation throughout Bengal of industrial schools for the teaching of handicrafts, and for the improvement of the several forms of manual industry which exist in the country. Industrial and technical schools are at present few in number. There is an artizan school at Dacca attached to the normal school; at Dehree there are artizan classes for European apprentices and native boys under the superintendence of the Executive Engineer; at Rungpore a few boys are taught carpentry and blacksmith's work; there is a carpentry class attached to the model school at Chybassa; and a new artizan school has lately been opened at Ranchee. But, with the exception of the Dehree school, which is under skilled European management, and of the Ranchee school, which is still in its infancy, but from which good results may be hoped for from the efficient superintendence of Herr Herzog of the Berlin Mission, these schools cannot be said to have fulfilled the object with which they were established—that of elevating the standard of skilled labour and introducing improved modes of workmanship. This failure is perhaps to be attributed to want of scientific training in the teachers.

30. If this is the case, it may be hoped that the defect will eventually be supplied by the agency of two institutions lately founded in Calcutta for scientific teaching and technical instruction, viz. the Science Association, and the Technical School of the Indian League. Both of these institutions have been liberally assisted by Government, but they were inaugurated after the close of the year under review, and their operations will more fitly be noticed in future reports. The same may be said of the projected technical school at Bankipore, for which a sum of about two lakhs of rupees has been subscribed by the landholders of Behar.

31. The School of Art in Calcutta had 134 pupils at the close of the year, the number showing a decline in consequence of the fees having been raised. Additional accommodation for the classes has been provided, and an Art Gallery, which has been attached to the school, was formally opened by the Viceroy in April last. On this occasion the work of the art students, of which a number of specimens were exhibited, received warm commendation from His Excellency.

32. On the whole, the progress made with instruction in the practical sciences is so small as to oblige Sir Richard Temple to reiterate all that was said in the last Annual Resolution (dated 12th January 1876) as to this special instruction being amongst the most urgent of the needs of Bengal. He would again remind the youth of Bengal that they are flocking too exclusively to two professions—the law and the public service—that other lucrative professions are fast developing themselves, connected with civil and mechanical engineering, with chemistry, botany, geology,—professions which might well be filled by them if qualified by education and training, but which, if not filled by them, must sooner or later be filled, to their detriment, by others. He is most anxious to assist the people in learning these most useful sciences, and he trusts that their thoughts are being aroused and their eyes turned in this direction. But the result must after all mainly depend on their coming forward in sufficient numbers and with a sufficient determination to succeed.

33. Female education has been encouraged by the foundation of scholarships for girls, and by the appointment of Mrs. M. Wheeler, daughter of the Rev. K. M. Banerjea, as inspectress of female schools and zenana agencies. There was no increase during the year in the number of girls' schools; but the total number of girls in inspected schools rose from 15,654 to 18,425, of whom 10,426 were studying in special schools for girls, and 7,999 were attending boys' schools. The increase is principally due to the larger attendance of girls at the aided primary schools—a circumstance which the Lieutenant-Governor regards as being full of hope and promise. The progress made in the Dacca Division is regarded by the Inspector as very satisfactory, and it is noticed that music and singing have been successfully introduced into the Dacca adult female school as a regular part of the school routine. In four districts of this division there are zenana associations, composed of educated native gentlemen, the object of which is to promote female education at home. The Commissioner thinks that these associations are doing very useful work.

34. An interesting section of the report is devoted to the subject of Mahomedan education. The total number of Mahomedan boys under instruction increased during the year from 87,917 to 91,223—an increase of between 3 and 4 per cent.; but as the total increase among pupils of all creeds was between 7 and 8 per cent., the proportion of Mahomedans under instruction fell from 20 to 19·4 per cent. of the whole number. The proportion of Mahomedans in the native population is 31·5 per cent. The increase obtained during the year was almost entirely confined to elementary schools. On the whole, it may be said that in all parts of the country, except Behar, Mahomedan education hardly ranges beyond the village patshalas and the institutions specially devoted to the instruction of Mahomedan students. For the University Entrance examination only 85 Mahomedans competed, and only 21 passed; for the First Arts examination there were 13 Mahomedan candidates, and only four were successful; for the Bachelor's degree there were ten competitors, but none of them satisfied the examiners. In the law classes there are only five Mahomedans among 231 students; in the civil engineering classes the Mahomedans are only two among 154; in the School of Art they amount to five among 134; but in the survey school at Patna there are 21 Mahomedans among 37 pupils; and in the Temple Medical School at Bankipore, of 165 pupils three-fourths are Mahomedans.

35. The large proportion of Mahomedans under special instruction in Behar is attributed in the report not so much to any special aptitude among Mussulmans for such studies, as to the strong prejudices of the Hindoos of that province against professional and technical education. But other signs are not wanting which show that throughout the country the reluctance of the Mahomedan community to accept the higher education offered by Government is surely, though perhaps slowly, giving way. In the Calcutta Madrissa, including the Collinga Branch School, out of a total of 991 pupils, 653 are learning English. In the Dacca Madrissa a larger infusion of Western learning has been introduced by the desire of the students themselves. The payment from the Mohsin Fund, of a part of the fees of deserving Mahomedan boys in zillah schools, continues to be a very popular and successful measure. The Lieutenant-Governor looks upon these facts as indicating a growing readiness among Mahomedans to avail themselves of the advantages of the Government system of education; and if the progress made during the year has not been very marked, there are at least grounds for encouragement and hopefulness as regards the future.

36. An important reform of the normal school system has been inaugurated by the Lieutenant-Governor's Minute of the 9th September 1875. Stipends given for attendance have been superseded by scholarships given for proficiency; a number of superfluous normal schools of the lower grades, in which expensive establishments were maintained for the training of village school-masters, have been ordered to be closed; provision has been made for constituting the remaining higher grade normal schools examining as well as teaching bodies, and for making a normal school certificate a necessary qualification for masters of middle schools. In this manner it is hoped that the large expenditure on normal schools, which amounted to Rs. 1,47,686 during the year under review, may be reduced by nearly one-half without any sacrifice of efficiency. In the more backward provinces (Behar, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore) normal schools of the second and third grades have for the present been retained.

37. The Director expresses some doubt whether the scheme which has now been put forward makes sufficient provision for all the wants of middle schools, and it appears that this doubt is shared by the Circle Inspectors. Upon this the Lieutenant-Governor would remark that very much must depend upon the system on which the normal school examinations are conducted. Complaints have been made that hitherto normal school training has been too much confined to instructing pupils in the subjects which they would have to teach, and has been deficient in showing them how they ought to teach them. In other words, the subject of pedagogy, or the art of teaching, has not received a sufficient share of attention. It is true that a practising school was generally attached to each normal school, in order to afford experience in this subject; but the training in this branch of study was not in general so careful or systematic as to be of much practical benefit. It would be the Lieutenant-Governor's wish that special attention should be paid to this point in the normal school examinations, and that no intending teacher should receive a certificate of competency until he had satisfied the examiners, by a practical example given in dealing with a class in their presence, that he was really qualified to impart instruction.

38. The number of schools assisted under the Grant-in-aid Rules showed a satisfactory increase during the year. The following table gives the figures for the last two years:—

	1874-75.	1875-76.
	Rs.	Rs.
Number of aided schools and colleges ...	1,793	1,889
Number of pupils	81,162	88,112
Receipts from Government	3,99,116	4,30,128
Total receipts	12,16,271	13,17,286

The largest share of Government expenditure was for middle English schools and for female education. The attention of the Lieutenant-Governor was called during the year to alleged irregularities in the keeping of the accounts of some aided schools, and a Minute was issued on the subject, which it is hoped will have the effect of ensuring due conformity to the rules. In the paragraphs of the report which refer to this question, these irregularities are noticed in terms which appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to convey too general and unqualified a censure. It seems that the inquiries which have been instituted under the orders conveyed in the Minute have not led to the detection of any very serious abuses.

39. The subordinate inspecting agency of the department was reorganized during the year, the number of officers being raised from 171 to 200, and the cost being increased from Rs. 2,30,100 to Rs. 2,54,400. There are now 45 Deputy Inspectors and 155 Sub-Inspectors of Schools. The number of inspected schools being 17,815, the staff is still barely adequate to the due performance of the duties imposed upon its members; but financial considerations render any increase of the number at present impossible. Some officers appear to consider it a hardship that the maximum pay of a Deputy Inspector is lower than that of some head-masters of schools; but the Lieutenant-Governor must remark that it is not the intention of the Government that the subordinate inspecting staff should be considered as a separate branch of the department. No such distinction is maintained in the graded service, in which officers are freely transferred from teaching to inspecting duties, and there seems no reason why an efficient Deputy Inspector should not be placed at the head of a zillah or normal school. It is also made a subject of complaint that the time of Deputy Inspectors is taken up with correspondence and office work to a degree which interferes with the due performance of the duty of inspection; and instances are given in the report which show that in some districts this complaint is well founded. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to call the attention of all Magistrates and District School Committees to the system described in the report as having been adopted at Patna in reference to this matter, and to request that it may be considered whether similar arrangements could not be generally introduced.

40. The education of the children of the poorer classes of European and East Indians both in Calcutta and in the mofussil has received much attention from Government during the year, and assistance has freely been given on the grant-in-aid system, both to the formation of new schools and to the development of previously existing institutions. The particulars of the different grants which have been made are given in the report, and the Lieutenant-Governor believes that these classes now enjoy fully as large a share of Government aid towards the education of their children as the State can reasonably be expected to give for this object. It is no doubt true that much remains to be done. An educational census of European and East Indian families in Calcutta and the suburbs, with incomes not exceeding Rs. 300 a month, which was taken in September 1876 by the Commissioner of Police, showed that between 800 to 900 children belonging to this class of society are being allowed to grow up in ignorance. But it is the opinion of the best authorities that there is school accommodation in Calcutta sufficient for the requirements of all; and that, if children are untaught, it is because their parents are unwilling or unable to send them to school. The Lieutenant-Governor has given such assistance as it was in his power to grant, and what is still wanting must now be supplied by those agencies to which he has already appealed—the societies interested in education, the clergy of the several denominations, and the benevolence of the general European community. As regards education in the interior of the country, schemes are now under consideration for reorganizing and enlarging the schools at Cuttack, Hooghly, and Jamalpore.

41. The establishment of hostels or lodging-houses in connection with Government colleges and higher English schools was discussed by the Lieutenant-Governor in his Minute of the 30th August 1875, and a sum of Rs. 15,000 was set apart in the budget of the current year for aiding these institutions. The scheme appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be one which promises to be of great advantage both to the material health and comfort, and to the moral well-being, of the students. The proposals which the Government were able to make have already met with a fair measure of success, and hostels are now open at all the Government colleges, with the exception of Cuttack, and are either open, or in course of formation, at the Cuttack Medical School, and at several of the zillah schools.

42. On a general review of the condition of public instruction during the past year, the Lieutenant-Governor finds much ground for satisfaction with what has been achieved, and for hopeful augury as regards the future. Little more than four years have elapsed since Sir George Campbell promulgated his Resolution of the 30th September 1872 on the subject of primary schools; but there are now more than 11,000 schools aided and inspected under the scheme then set forth, and above 500 of these were added to the list during the past year. But the important work of the year has largely consisted in improved organization, in more careful inspection, in the better regulation of the standards for the several classes of scholarships, and in the more general recognition of the value of instruction in the practical sciences. The foundation of the intermediate class of schools has bridged over a gulf which formerly deterred many a promising pathsala student, and has facilitated the rise not only of individual scholars, but of schools, from one educational class to another. The munificence with which native gentlemen have subscribed for the endowment of education has been noticed with much satisfaction by the Lieutenant-Governor. Even the comparatively unfavourable result of the University examinations has not been without its benefit, as it has had the effect of prominently calling attention to the special points in which the present system of study requires to be strengthened and improved.

43. Sir Richard Temple has received with much thankfulness various sorts of evidence regarding the good effects on the life and conversation of the scholars produced from the ethical instruction and the moral training imparted by the superior schools. It is to be hoped that similar effects, though perhaps in a lesser degree, are arising in the secondary schools. The people themselves evince anxiety that this important branch of education should be more and more attended to. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that whatever efforts are now made with this view will be persevered in, and if possible enhanced.

44. Subsidiary to this, there is the subject of external discipline, which improves the bearing and demeanour of the boys and young men towards their elders and their superiors, as well as towards their fellows. Complaints are sometimes made on this score, which is a point on which the native community is very justly sensitive. The Lieutenant-Governor fears that our scholastic system is not quite so successful as might be desired or expected in this respect, and he would ask on this behalf the attention of the whole teaching staff throughout the country.

45. The Department of Education suffered severe losses during the year, no less than seven members of the graded service having died, besides the death of Mr. Woodrow, which has already been noticed, and which occurred after the end of the year. Among the above number were the late Director, Mr. Atkinson, Mr. S. Lobb, Mr. W. G. Willson, and Baboo Peary Churn Sircar. The retirement of Dr. Norman Chevers, Principal of the Medical College, deprived the Government of the services of an officer distinguished for extensive research, for high professional reputation, and for aptitude in imparting knowledge to his pupils. Among the new appointments by which these vacancies have been filled may be mentioned that of Mr. Elliott, a gentleman of very high University distinction, and the admission to the graded service of Pundit Mohes Chunder Nyarutna, so well known as a Sanskrit scholar, and of the Rev. Lall Behary Dey, equally well known for a proficiency in English not surpassed by any Native of Bengal.

46. The exertions of the officers of the department in general, in both the graded and the ungraded branches of the service, have been such as to merit the acknowledgments of Government; and the special thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Mr. Sutcliffe, lately the Principal of the Presidency College, and now Director of Public Instruction; to Mr. Croft, lately Inspector of Schools in Behar, and now acting as Principal of the Presidency College; to Mr. Clarke, Inspector of Schools in the Rajshahye Division; to Baboo Bhudeb Mookerjee, who has lately been selected for the important post of Inspector of Schools in the Province of Behar; to Mr. Lethbridge, Principal of the Kishnaghur College; and to Dr. Robson, Inspector of Schools in the Eastern Circle. The Lieutenant-Governor also gladly acknowledges the assistance which has been given to the cause of education by the several Commissioners of Divisions and Magistrates of districts, among whom Mr. Harrison, the Magistrate of Midnapore, deserves special and honorable mention.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 2nd December 1876.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
		Western Districts.
Burdwan Divn.	1	Burdwan, Dec. 4,* '76	Nil	There was no rain in the district except in Cutwa, where 05 fell. The reaping of the amun paddy has begun. The rubbee crops are doing well.
	2	Bankoora, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cold. State and prospects of the crops continue favourable. The rice crop is being rapidly harvested.
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Nearly all the aous rice is cut, and the sowing of the cold-weather crops is progressing.
	4	Midnapore, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are good. Rice is being cut.
	5	Hooghly, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Unusually chill; damp and misty till 26th November; since then bright and cold. The rubbee sowings are still going on in places Potatoes, peas, musari, barley, wheat, and mustard, have germinated. The amun rice is being reaped with prospect of very good outturn. The crop of Bombay potatoes is being gathered. There have been a few cases of cholera in the Municipality of Hooghly.
		Howrah, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Bright and cold. The prospects of the crops continue to be excellent.
		Central Districts.
Presidency Divn.	6	24-Pergunnahs, Dec. 4,†'76	Nil	Weather—Cold The amun, or late rice, is being harvested. Cholera prevails more or less throughout the district.
	7	Nuddea, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Cool, clear, and bright. Prospects of the crops are very good throughout the district. Cholera is still prevalent in the Chooadanga and Meherpore subdivisions.
	8	Jessore, „ 2, „	·12	Weather—Clear and cold with north wind. State and prospects of the crops continue good and favourable. The recent rain has been on the whole beneficial to the rubbee crops. Cholera is still prevalent in many parts of the district and in the town of Jessore.
	9	Moorshedabad, „ 2. „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cold. The harvesting of the amun paddy continues, and a good outturn is expected. Other crops are doing well. The prices have slightly risen. Cholera is still prevalent in Doonigram outpost, and in thanas Gorabazar, Soojagunge, and Manoollabazar.
Rajshahye Divn.	10	Dinagepore, „ 1, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. 05 of rain is registered at Roygunge. Slight rain is also reported from Hemtabad in the west, Putnitola in the south, and Raneegunge in the east of the district.
	11	Maldah, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and cool, but extremely dewy nights. The prospects of the crops are good all round the district. Amun and hymanti are being reaped in places with large outturn.
	12	Rajshahye, „ 2, „	Nil	There was slight rain on the 24th and 25th November throughout the district. The prospects of dhan are satisfactory The Sub-Inspector of Burrigong reports that on account of the damp and overcast weather the kalai crop has been slightly injured by the insects. Mustard has also been slightly damaged in the Burrigong and Godagaree stations. Cholera still continues to be reported from Beauleah, Nattore, Bagmara, Pooteah, Bandaikhara, and Burrigong, and cases of small-pox also are reported from Burrigong.
	13	Rungpore, „ 1, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. The cutting of rice is proceeding. A bumper crop is expected in the north of the district, and the prospects are favourable everywhere.
	14	Bogra, „ 2, „	0·89	Weather—The commencement of the week was wet and cloudy, with occasional wind; the latter part was cool, dry, and bright. The rice harvest has already commenced, and the outturn will far exceed that of any previous season in a long series of years. The mustard crop looks very promising; kalai and sugarcane seem to be doing well.
	15	Pubna, „ 2, „	0 11	Weather—Cold, clear, and fine. State and prospects of the crops are good. Cholera prevails throughout the district.

* Telegram of the 4th December, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

† Report of the 4th December, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

Cooch Behar Divn.	16	Darjeeling, Dec. 1, '76	Nil	Weather—Misty and bleak. The hymanti, or winter crop, is being gathered and a full outturn is expected. The til and kalai crops have turned out well. The ground is being prepared for wheat and barley.
	17	Julpigoree, „ 2, „	Few drops	Weather—Fine. The harvest operations are going on most favourably.
		Cooch Behar, Nov. 30, „	Nil	Weather—Fine; not very cold as yet, but the mornings are foggy. The dhan crop is the best for some years. It is now being cut in places. Tobacco has not done so well, but to the north-west of the State the Deputy Commissioner reports to have seen many fine crops. Mustard seeds are forward in some places. Fever is prevalent as usual at this time of the year.
		Eastern Districts
Dacca Divn.	18	Dacca, Dec. 4,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are very favourable.
	19	Furreedpore. „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cool with northerly wind. The rainfall at Goalundo is ·14, and at Madaripore, on the 23rd, 24th, and 25th November, 2·18. State and prospects of the crops are good, except the damage from the late cyclone and from the rains in the last week. Cholera and fever are prevalent at Madaripore.
	20	Backergunge, Nov. 30, „	Nil	The weather has now ceased to have the cycloney appearance which was so marked till the end of last week. The strong gale on the night of the 23rd November caused much anxiety lest another storm-wave should sweep over Dukhin Shabazpore and other exposed parts of the district. Luckily, however, there was no recurrence of the storm-wave, but the violent wind has still further injured the crops, which were so seriously damaged by the cyclone and storm-wave in the night of the 31st October and the morning of the 1st November. The insect chessa, so destructive to the rice crop, is reported to have appeared in thana Motbaria. There has been and is a great residuum of distress and sickness in consequence of the late calamity. Cholera and fever are present in thanas Backergunge, Jhalokati, Gournadi, Gulshakhali, Mirzagunge, Perosepore, and Dowlutkhan.
	21	Mymensingh, Dec. 1, „	0·33	Weather—Rain on the 24th, 25th, and 26th November throughout the district; since then seasonable. The rice crop is unusually excellent, and the cold-weather crops remain uninjured by the early rain. Cholera is prevalent.
	22	Tipperah, „ 1, „	1·34	Weather—Wet in the beginning of the week, but latterly fine. The late rain has done some slight damage to the crops; otherwise their prospects are fair.
Chittagong Divn.	23	Chittagong, Nov. 30, „	1·56	Weather—Close and cloudy in the beginning of the week; latterly seasonable. The prospects of the crops are gloomy in the parts affected by the cyclone. Cholera continues to rage with virulence, specially in the affected tracts.
	24	Nookholly, „ 30, „	3·45	Weather—Stormy during the first three days of the week. Since 27th November there has been a fall in the temperature, the early mornings and nights being cold. Much of the late rice in the inundated tracts has been destroyed by the salt water inundation. It is difficult to gather in the ripe crops that are in the islands on account of the apathy and despondency of the residents, and the fear of cholera keeping away the labourers, of whom many are dead, who ordinarily used to flock thither for the harvest. Cholera is still prevalent in the station and in the inundated tracts.
	25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 28, '76	2·75	Weather—Cloudy, with slight rain on the 24th, 25th, and 26th November. The last two days of the week were fine. Mustard is being sown. Cotton is being gathered in places where the plants are not totally destroyed by the late cyclone, and some injury has been done to it by the rain during the week.
		Hill Tipperah. „ 29. „	1·89	Weather—Rather warm for this season of the year. State and prospects of the crops are fair.
BEHAR.
Patna Divn.	26	Patna, Dec. 4,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and cold. Prospects of the rubbee crops are favourable. Health of the district is good.
	27	Gya, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and fair. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade was 80·2. The kharcef harvest is going on satisfactorily, and the prospects of the rubbee crops continue favourable.
	28	Shahabad, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The dhan crop is being harvested, and the rubbee crops are promising.

* Telegrams of the 4th December, received on the same day, show rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BEHAR —(Contd.)
Patna Divn.—(Contd.) 29	Durbhunga, Dec. 2, '76	Nil	Weather—Clear and cold. The state and prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
30	Muzufferpore, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and good. Prospects of the crops on all sides of the district are very good. The harvesting of dhan has commenced
31	Sarun „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Bright, clear, and cold; wind blowing from the west. The harvest of the aghani crop is going on, and the rubbee crops are progressing very favourably in all parts of the district. General health is good.
32	Chumparun	.....	Return not received.
Bhagulpore Divn. 33	Monghyr, Dec. 2, '76	Nil	Weather—Fair. The Collector has been over the principal rice tracts of the district, and found the crops everywhere good.
34	Bhagulpore, „ 4.* „	Nil	All the crops are excellent. The highland aghani is being reaped, and the yield is above the average. General health is very good.
35	Purneah, „ 2, „	Nil	Weather—Very cold and clear. 25 of rain fell at Kissengunge. The winter rice crop fully comes up to expectations. Mustard is promising well, and sowings of the cold-weather crops are in progress. Fever is very prevalent, and cholera has made its appearance in the Sudder and Amourkusba police-stations.
36	Sonthal Perghs „ 3, „	Nil	Weather—Getting very cold. Everything is excellent. Cattle disease is ceasing in Deoghur. Cholera reported from Rajmehal.
ORISSA
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, Dec. 2, '76	Nil	Weather—Cold and clear. The crops are progressing admirably, and promise a full harvest Public health is good
38	Pooree, „ 1, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. It was a little stormy on the 23rd November. The laghe crop is being reaped. The sarud crop has begun to ripen throughout the district, and is being harvested in some places The prospects of the other crops are good. Cholera is brought into the district by the pilgrims from the north-west, and some cases were reported from the mofussil.
39	Balasore, „ 1, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and very cool. The harvesting of early rice continues satisfactorily, and the prospects of the late rice are excellent.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Dec 1, '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops continue very favourable
41	Lohardugga, „ 2, „	Traces of rain on the 26th November.	Weather—Cold again. The crops are reported to be splendid in all parts of the district.
42	Singbhoom, „ 1, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the crops are favourable. There is much less fever in the district.
43	Manbhoom. „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The harvesting of dhan is actually going on, and the prospects of the rubbee crops are favourable.

* Telegram of the 4th December, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1875-76, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1877, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 48,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for "the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His "Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests "so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, "and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall "have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of "Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government "by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three "hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to "be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the "intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Monghyr, will be put up to sale at the Monghyr Collectorate on Friday, the 12th January 1877, corresponding with 13th Magh 1284 F.S.

The purchasers of this estate will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

(1) The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, with the revenue fixed upon the estate, in perpetuity.

(2) The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and the purchaser to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

(3) If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

(4) If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE'S OFFICE,
CALCUTTA, 6th December 1876. (1051—1)

POSTAL NOTICES.

Reduction of Passenger Fares on the Darjeeling Line.

IT has been determined further to reduce the fares upon this line. On and after the 1st December therefore the rates charged will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For an express or special carriage ...	60	0	0
One inside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	30	0	0

The mileage charge will be reduced in proportion, i.e. an express carriage will be charged for at the rate of 8 annas a mile, an inside seat in an ordinary, 4 annas a mile, and a seat on the mail-cart 2 annas.

As it has been reported that it was the intention of Government to close this line at once, it is hereby notified that if the monthly returns shew that it is extensively used by the public, it will be kept running until the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

T. W. GRIBBLE, Offg. Post-Master-Genl., Bengal.

Notice.

A BULLOCK train package, originally despatched from Landour to the address of M. Giovannie, Esq., Calcutta, having been refused by the consignee, it is hereby notified that if after the expiration of three months from the date of this advertisement the said package is not removed from the Calcutta bullock train godown, it will be sold by public auction and the proceeds credited to Government.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE first Part of the "Indian Law Reports," published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, will appear as soon after the 1st January 1876 as can be arranged for. The Reports will appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series. The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

	Without postage.	With postage.
For the Calcutta Series...	Rs. 35	Rs. 40
„ Madras Series ...	„ 8	„ 9
„ Bombay Series...	„ 8	„ 9
„ Allahabad Series	„ 8	„ 9

The Price of each part purchased separately will vary according to the amount of matter it contains, and will be printed on the wrapper. It will, however, never be below the following:—

	Rs.	A.
For a part of the Calcutta Series ...	3	8
„ „ Madras Series ...	1	0
„ „ Bombay Series ...	1	0
„ „ Allahabad Series ...	1	0
Complete set ... ... — ...	4	0

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports, should apply to—

Messrs. Thacker, Spink and Co., Calcutta;
„ Thacker, Vining and Co.,
„ Higginbotham and Co, Madras;
The Government Central Book Depôt, Bombay;
The Government Book Depôt, Allahabad.

The publication of the Bengal Law Reports and the Madras, Bombay, and N. W. P. High Court Reports will cease on the completion of the volumes now in course of publication.

Subscribers to the Bengal Law Reports, who have already paid their subscriptions to the end of June 1876, will be supplied with the complete set of Reports for the first half of 1876 in lieu of the volume of the Bengal Law Reports which they would otherwise have received.

MARKET-DUES AND RIVER TOLLS—POLICE AND CONSERVANCY IN FAIRS.

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS moved for leave to introduce a Bill to declare illegal the collection of dues, tolls, or taxes on certain gunges and markets, and from boats in navigable rivers, and to provide for the maintenance of police in, and the conservancy of, public fairs. He said he did not propose to ask the Council to go farther back than the statement made by His Honor the President just two years ago in this chamber with reference to this measure. It was true that the question had been under discussion and deliberation for some time previously: information had been called for from Commissioners of Divisions, a resolution was issued by the Government of Bengal, and the necessity for legislation on the subject had been pressed upon the notice of the Government of India. But the statement which was made by His Honor on the 19th December 1874 was, he believed, the first occasion upon which the matter was distinctly brought to the notice of the legislature. But though he did not propose to go into any details of an earlier date than that, a reference to the papers would be sufficient to show that the measure was not now brought forward without full inquiry and deliberation. The question had been more or less under discussion since January 1872, when Sir George Campbell issued a circular on the subject; and during the two years which had passed since the matter was brought to the notice of the Council, further inquiries had been made, more information had been collected, and the limits within which it was necessary to legislate had been maturely considered; and the result had been that the measure which it was now proposed to bring forward was more limited in its scope and character than at first was thought to be required.

It was within the knowledge of the Council that the levy of sayer duties was prohibited by Regulation XXVII of 1793; and though that Regulation was repealed by Act XXIX of 1871, yet the repeal of the Regulation did not make the levy of these duties any more legal than it was before. The effect of the repeal was merely to take away the power to punish those who levied the duties, but the illegality of levying these duties remained. But it was a fact well known to every one who had any acquaintance with the state of things in the mofussil that the levy of these duties was still very common indeed. Sometimes they were levied under circumstances which might be fairly justified, sometimes they were levied under circumstances which were altogether without justification or excuse; sometimes they were nothing more than an equivalent for rent, but in other cases they operated as a restriction upon trade and upon the free interchange of commodities between one part of the country and another. No doubt in dealing with a question of this kind it was a matter of considerable difficulty to steer the right course between two extremes: on the one hand to avoid anything like interference with the legitimate exercise of rights of property, and on the other hand to protect the just interests and privileges of the general public. This was a matter which had been very carefully considered in framing the Bill; and if he obtained leave to introduce it, he was sanguine it would be found that the difficulty had been overcome, and that the measure carefully avoided any invasion of proprietary rights.

As on this occasion he was only asking leave to introduce this Bill, he did not propose to go into more detail than to state generally that the Bill attempted to deal with three main questions: first, the levy of market dues in towns; secondly, the levy of tolls and mooring dues on navigable rivers; and thirdly, police and conservancy in large periodical fairs. It was not proposed that village hâts and markets should be brought within the scope of the Bill. Such markets were generally held on land the property of the zemindar, who had a right to demand rent either in money or in kind. Some isolated cases might occur in which these demands were unreasonably framed or improperly enforced, but it was believed that such cases were not common; and if such cases did happen, the people, both buyers and sellers, had the remedy in their own hands by resorting to some other market. But the case of markets in towns seemed to be upon a somewhat different footing. These were cases in which the people were comparatively helpless, the market being a necessity of their daily life, and they could not go elsewhere. It was therefore proposed to enact by this measure that no dues should be levied in these markets except the rents which were recognized as legal by the Regulation of 1793.

Next with regard to tolls and mooring-dues on navigable rivers. Information which had been laid before the Government showed that the levy of these dues very frequently operated as a restriction on trade, and as an obstacle to the commercial and agricultural prosperity of the country. In a communication which had been received from the Government of India, the principle had been distinctly laid down that the general public had a right not only to the free use of navigable rivers, but also to the free use of their banks for the purposes of mooring, towing, punting, and other purposes incidental to the right of navigation. It was proposed by the Bill to maintain the public in the exercise of these rights, but to do so without any invasion of the title of the riparian owners.

Lastly with regard to conservancy and police arrangements at large periodical fairs; for example, such fairs as the Baronee Fair at Moonsheegunge in Dacca, and the Nekmurd Fair in Dinagepore. At fairs of this kind it was found necessary that special arrangements should be made for police and conservancy with the object of maintaining order and preventing outbreaks of disease among a large aggregation of people. It appeared reasonable that the expense of these special arrangements should fall not upon the State—that was to say on the general tax-payer, but on the persons who benefited by these fairs, whether they were owners of the land or those who disposed of their goods or who resorted to these fairs as purchasers. These were the persons upon whom it seemed fair that the cost of these sanitary and protective arrangements should fall, and it was proposed to provide a procedure for levying the cost of these arrangements from them. The Bill was still in the hands of the drafter, but it was nearly ready for circulation, and if leave were given MR. REYNOLDS hoped to be able to lay the Bill before the Council on an early date.

The motion was agreed to.

JUTE WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE.

THE HON'BLE MR. BELL moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Jute Warehouse and Fire-brigade Act, 1872, and Bengal Act II of 1875. He said the Bill which he had now the honor to ask the permission of the Council to introduce was one of a very simple nature, and would not very seriously tax the patience of the Council. Its object was merely to introduce certain formal amendments into two Acts of this Council which were passed in 1872 and 1875 regarding jute warehouses and fire-brigades. By those Acts the control of jute warehouses within the limits of the Municipality of Calcutta was vested in the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta. At that time the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta were a corporate body, and were entrusted with the municipal control of the town; but, as the Council was aware, an Act was passed last session which deprived the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta of their corporate capacity, and transferred the administration of the affairs of the Town of Calcutta to the new body constituted by that Act. But when the Municipal Act was passed, no provision was made for taking over the duties under the Jute Warehouse and Fire-brigade Acts of 1872 and 1875. The matter, therefore, at present stood in this way. Those Acts vested the control of jute warehouses in the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta in their corporate capacity; but the Justices for the Town of Calcutta had ceased to exist as a corporate body, and it was therefore necessary now to provide that the duties which the Justices in their corporate capacity performed with regard to jute warehouses should be transferred to the new body which was substituted for them by the recent Municipal Act: and therefore the simple object of the Bill was to transfer to the present Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta the duties formerly performed by the Justices of the Peace.

The motion was agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 16th instant.

SEA-BORNE TRADE OF BENGAL.

BEING A RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL CUSTOMS REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE FOR THE YEAR 1875-76.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—MIS. REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 11th December 1876.

READ—

The Annual Customs Report of the Board of Revenue for the year 1875-76.

OMITTING the salt duty, which appears in the Board's report upon the salt revenue, the customs transactions of the year 1875-76, compared with the results of previous years, may be shown as follows:—

	Receipts from Merchandise at			Total.
	Calcutta.	Chittagong.	Orissa Ports.
	£	£	£	£
1840-41	324,177	991	180	325,348
1850-51	424,453	402	81	424 936
1860-61	1,356,699	4,301	362	1,361,362
1870-71	1,113,924	15,819	1,328	1,131,071
1871-72	1,052,152	17,761	759	1,070,672
1872-73	1,051,000	34,872	510	1,086,382

1874-75	1,057,406	21,581	6,442	1,085,429
1875-76	1,056,293	11,437	5,072	1,072,802

2. The new tariff came into operation on the 5th August 1875, the principal changes being in favour of reduction of value and duty, though there were some articles in regard to which the valuation and rate of duty were raised. The rate payable on a large proportion of articles on the import tariff was reduced from 7½ to 5 per cent.; and on the export side, cotton goods, hides and skins, lac-dye and oils, spices and seeds, were freed from payment of duty. Indigo, lac, and rice, husked and unhusked, alone remain in the list of dutiable articles on the export tariff, and on these duty is paid at the old rates. On the other hand, the duty payable on the import of arms and ammunition, spirits, sparkling wines, and all still wines, except claret and still burgundy, has been raised. Under these circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that, notwithstanding the general lowering of the tariff, the decrease in the net revenues of the past year, as compared with the receipts of the previous year, is only £13,627, or about 1 per cent. The decrease at Calcutta itself is only £1,113. It is at the minor ports of Chittagong and Orissa, especially at the former, where there has been a large falling off in trade, that the decrease is considerable.

3. The total value of trade of the several Bengal ports, including the imports and exports of all merchandise and treasure, both in the trade with foreign countries and in the interportal trade, during the past four years is as follows:—

	Calcutta.	Chittagong.	Orissa Ports.	Total.
	£	£	£	£
1872-73	47,759,862	974,779	259,116	48,993,757
1873-74	47,505,128	1,082,136	589,846	49,177,110
1874-75	52,842,482	777,477	798,206	54,418,165
1875-76	50,304,715	588,969	673,250	51,566,934

NOTE.—It is necessary to explain that in this Resolution, on all occasions where values have been stated in pounds sterling—and for convenience this method of calculation has usually been adopted in dealing with large figures—ten rupees have been accepted as the equivalent of one pound sterling.

4. The details of this trade for the past year are as follows:—

	Exports of merchandise.	Exports of treasure	Total of exports.	Imports of merchandise.	Imports of treasure.	Total of imports.
	£	£	£	£	£	£
Calcutta	28,246,597	1,311,128	29,557,725	19,453,452	1,293,537	20,746,989

5. The total of the trade of Bengal with foreign ports, inclusive of Government stores and treasure, during the past year is:—

Exports.	Imports.	Total.
24,495,302	18,847,719	43,343,021

6. The total of the trade of Bengal with Indian ports is illustrated by the following statement, which shows the share of each presidency in the inter-portal trade:—

	Exports.	Imports.	Total.
Bombay	1,084,556	177,809	1,262,365
Madras	1,014,469	682,556	1,697,025
British Burmah	2,719,870	823,580	3,543,450
Ports within the Bengal Presidency	958,433	755,710	1,714,143
Indian Ports not British	6,495	1,767	8,262
Total ...	5,783,823	2,441,422	8,225,245

7. The abstract tables immediately subjoined have been prepared in order to illustrate the whole sea-borne trade of the Bengal Presidency with foreign countries, showing the principal articles exported from, and imported into, Bengal. In subsequent sections of this Resolution, the foreign trade of the several Bengal marts of Calcutta, of Chittagong, and of the Orissa ports will be considered in detail. Calcutta is so much the most important of the Bengal ports that, for practical purposes, the account of the trade of Calcutta may be accepted as the account of the trade for Bengal. The interportal trade of Bengal, or the trade of the Bengal ports with other ports of British India, both beyond and within the Bengal Presidency, will be examined for each port after the examination of the foreign trade of the port.

11. The amount of treasure imported into Bengal from foreign ports was £1,080,545, against £2,887,728 in 1874-75. The value of Government stores, including Government treasure, imported was £551,477, against £613,325 in 1874-75.

THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

12. Omitting the salt duties, the customs transactions of the port of Calcutta show a decrease in duty of only £1,113, the total receipts being somewhat above the average of the receipts of recent years.

13. The total value of trade, 50¼ millions sterling, shows a decrease of 2½ millions, following on a marked increase during 1874-75 and 1873-74. The decrease is in the imports, which amount in round numbers to 20¾ millions, against 23¾ millions in 1874-75. The decrease is marked from foreign and interportal, but especially from interportal ports. There is a small increase of about half a million sterling in the exports, which have risen from £29,111,453 to 29½ millions. The total value of the exports and imports of Calcutta, including merchandise and treasure, both in the trade with foreign countries and in the interportal trade, during the past four years is as follows:—

	Exports.	Imports.	Total.
1872-73	29,854,060	17,905,802	47,759,862
1873-74	28,792,094	18,713,034	47,505,128
1874-75	29,111,453	23,731,029	52,842,482
1875-76	29,557,725	20,746,990	50,304,715

14. The trade for the two earlier years excludes, and for the two latter years includes, the trade between Calcutta and other ports within the Presidency. This information is not available for previous years.

15. The number and tonnage of vessels employed in both the foreign trade and the coasting trade (including the trade with ports within the Presidency) which entered the port of Calcutta during the past five years are as follow:—

The years 1873-74 and 1874-75 showed an unusual number of steamers entering the port in consequence of the number of steamers employed in importing rice from Burmah and elsewhere. It will be observed that the number of Canal steamers has shown a progressive increase year by year, and that the rate of increase is most rapid in the past year.

16. The following statement shows the number of vessels employed in the foreign trade which entered and cleared at the Port of Calcutta:—

19. There has been an increase in the exports to the United Kingdom in indigo, rice, wheat, lac, oil-seed, tea, and treasure; while there has been a decrease in cotton, hides and skins, jute, saltpetre, silk, and sugar. To France there has been a marked increase in the export of jute. A considerable trade has sprung up with Italy, and it is believed that this trade will continue to increase. South America comprises Demerara, Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Ayres, &c., and a considerable trade has sprung up with these places also. The increase to China is entirely in raw cotton, to the Straits Settlements in opium, to Australia in gunny-bags and gunny-cloth and rice. The decrease to the United States is in hides and skins, caoutchouc, and linseed. There is a large increase in the manufactures of jute, which have been sent to San Francisco in bags for the wheat trade.

20. The following statement shows the exports of the principal articles of trade from Calcutta to places beyond British India during the past four years :—

21. The most important articles of export in order of their value are opium, jute, seeds, indigo, and tea. There have been fluctuations in previous years, when cotton and hides and skins, for instance, have been far more valuable than tea or oil-seeds; but during the past year these five have been the most valuable staples, and the exports of each are above two millions sterling in value.

Opium.

22. The number of chests of opium exported during 1875-76 was 46,768, against 45,704 in 1874-75; and the average price per chest for 1875-76 was Rs. 1,259, against Rs. 1,207 in 1874-75. There was thus a large increase in the total value of opium exported. The whole of this opium was grown in the Behar and Benares Agencies. China takes 4½ millions worth of the opium exported from Calcutta, the Straits take 1¼ millions worth, and Ceylon a small quantity.

23. The subject of opium has been fully treated of elsewhere by the Board of Revenue and Government, and need not therefore be further alluded to in this Resolution.

Jute.

24. The figures of the export of jute for the past five years are as follow :—

	Cwt.	£
1871-72	6,128,545	4,113,943
1872-73	7,061,951	4,127,943
1873-74	6,126,120	3,435,513
1874-75	5,299,788	3,244,994
1875-76	5,206,521	2,805,293

This marked decline in the jute exports is attributable to the increased consumption of jute in this country. Although less raw jute is exported, a larger quantity goes away every year in the manufactured state of bags and cloth. The amount of jute consumed in the jute mills at work in the neighbourhood of Calcutta is estimated to have been about 1,750,000 cwt. during the past year. The jute exported from Bengal is destined principally for the United Kingdom and the United States. The exports to the United Kingdom are consigned to the manufacturers at Dundee. It is known that the diminishing supply of the raw material has seriously affected the condition and prospects of the Dundee manufacture. The exports of raw jute to the United Kingdom have decreased from 5,900,000 cwt. in 1872-73 to 3,900,000 cwt. in 1875-76. These large quantities of jute are derived from the districts in Northern and Eastern and, to a less extent, in central Bengal.

Gunny-bags.

25. The total number of gunny-bags exported from Calcutta has been in—

	To Indian „ ...	13,821,227	26,10,721
	Total	29,288,763	57,38,152

26. The first point that calls for attention in these figures is the fact that the export to foreign ports has steadily increased, while there has been a decrease in the export to Indian ports. The net results show a marked decrease during the three years. But as far as the prosperity of the trade is concerned, the results are satisfactory, in that they indicate an increase of the trade between Calcutta and foreign ports. The mills of Calcutta need never fear competition in regard to the supply of bags throughout India, which will always be supplied more easily from Calcutta than from the mills of other countries. A fluctuation of the exports to Bombay, important though it may seem, is in reality of little consequence to the jute industry, compared with a fluctuation in the exports to Australia or to the United States. The principal destination of gunnies sent to foreign ports is Australia; then come the Straits Settlements and the United States, Egypt and the United Kingdom. The increase during the past year has been most remarkable in the exports to Australia, the United States, and the United Kingdom.

27. As may be supposed, the exports are almost entirely in power-loom bags, the total quantity exported to foreign ports being in 1875-76 17,554,904 power-loom bags, and 1,139,111 hand-loom bags. Almost the whole of the hand-loom bags go to New York and to San Francisco. As regards Indian ports, as many as 4,954,940 hand-loom bags went to Bombay, against 11,651,430 power-loom bags. The value of hand-loom bags is very small, on an average less than two annas a bag, or about half the value of the machine-made article.

28. A less satisfactory subject for comment is the decrease in the average value of gunny-bags exported. The average value of gunny-bags is as follows:—

	1873-74.		1874-75.		1875-76.
	A	P.	A.	P.	A.	P
Average value of gunny bags exported to the United Kingdom	3	11	4	3	3	10½

Australia	3	1½	5	8	4	6½
China	4	0½	2	11	3	2½
To Foreign ports	4	9½	4	7½	3	8½
To Indian ports	3	10½	3	10½	3	0½
General average	4	0½	4	0	3	3½

29. The bags which go to Australia and are used as wool-packs are the most valuable; those that go to the United States are of the least value. The United States' export is mostly to San Francisco, and consists of the quality called Hessians, in the shape of cental (100lb) bags for the wheat trade. Egypt has also been a large purchaser of bags for wheat. The steady diminution in value that is so conspicuous during the year under review is attributable to excessive competition among the several mill-owners to under-sell one another.

31. Besides gunny-bags, gunny-cloth is also exported. Gunny-cloth is stated by the Collector of Customs to be almost a new manufacture, as it is only within the last nine months of the past year (1875-76) that it has become an important staple article of commerce, and certainly for so short a period it has shown signs of being a thriving trade.

Gunny-cloth.

The value of the export of gunny-cloths to foreign ports during 1873-74 was only Rs. 42,168, and in 1874-75 Rs. 59,965; but during the past year the value of the exports amounted to Rs. 4,47,492. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that during 1871-72 the value of the exports amounted to as much as Rs. 6,73,181, so the trade was larger in that year than it is now. The exports are almost entirely in power-loom manufacture, the hand-loom cloth exported during the past year being valued at only Rs. 3,725. The destination of the gunny-cloth is principally to the United Kingdom (Rs. 2,16,504), and to Boston in the United States (Rs. 1,09,707).

Oil-seeds have been free of duty since August 1875, and the removal of the duty, coinciding with a very favourable outturn of crop, has occasioned the large increase in the exports observable under this heading. The export of linseed to the United Kingdom alone shows an increase of half a million sterling in value and of 800,000 cwt. in weight. Mustard-seed and rape-seed are now distinguished in the returns. The increase in the export of rape-seed is very remarkable, advancing from 100,000 to 900,000 cwt. in three years, and is mainly attributable to full harvests in Assam and Eastern Bengal. The linseed exported from Calcutta is mostly derived from Behar and the Upper Provinces of India.

Food-grains.

33. A review of the exports of the year in food-grains is not less satisfactory than the review of the exports in oil-seeds. The figures are as follow:—

	1872-73.	1873-74.	1874-75.	1875-76.
	Cwt.	Cwt.	Cwt.	Cwt.

Gram.

34. Under all the important items of food-grains there is a large increase. Gram finds its way to the Mauritius (36,163 cwt.), to Ceylon (12,855 cwt.), and the Straits Settlements (4,315 cwt.).

Rice and paddy.

The increased exports of rice show that, since the close of the famine, this trade has revived and is returning to its former prosperity. The amount of paddy exported is too small to be taken into consideration; 16,425 cwt. of paddy went during the year from Chittagong to Ceylon, but there were no exports from Calcutta to Ceylon. The whole trade from Calcutta is in husked rice. The export trade in husked rice from Calcutta is very large and widely distributed, but the principal trade is with the colonies. The following statement shows the destination of the Calcutta rice to the most important countries of import during the year in detail:—

	Cwt.		Cwt.
To United Kingdom	680,801	Guadeloupe	16,511
Cape of Good Hope	51,180	Aden	25,709
Mauritius	1,184,668	Muscat	122,541
Natal	16,272	Other ports of Arabia	402,652
Reunion	40,362	Ceylon	402,321
Demerara	487,768	Maldives	29,520
Jamaica	28,640	Persia	40,233
Trinidad	152,876	Straits Settlements	84,363
Barbadoes	18,796	Victoria	111,744

To ports in India, however, rice shows a decrease, having fallen off from 1,212,658 cwt. in 1874-75 to 1,160,869 cwt. in 1875-76. Of the past year's exports, 945,947 cwt. went to Bombay; 44,270 to Madras; and 107,323 to other ports in the Madras Presidency.

Wheat.

35. The most remarkable feature in the export trade in food-grains is the increase in wheat exports. The export of wheat from Calcutta to foreign ports during the past four years is as follows:—

	Cwt.		Cwt.
1872-73	144,411	1874-75	279,280
1873-74	489,443	1875-76	1,330,822

During the past year almost the whole of the exports, amounting to 1,236,253 cwt., went to the United Kingdom; the Mauritius imported 58,762 cwt., and the Straits Settlements 25,606 cwt. The total exports from British India to the United Kingdom amounted in the past year to 2,076,849 cwt., and it will be seen therefore that more than half the supply came from Calcutta. The trade in wheat continues to increase, and, during the first six months of the present year 1876-77, the total exports of wheat from British India have amounted to 2,807,192 cwt., of which 2,090,784 cwt. have gone to the United Kingdom. The total of Calcutta export during the same period is 1,926,835 cwt., of which 1,656,427 cwt. went to the United Kingdom. British India now comes third among the countries of the world that supply Great Britain with wheat. First comes the United States, then Russia, then British India, then Germany and Egypt. The wheat exported from Calcutta is almost entirely the produce of the Upper Provinces. The large trade centre of Cawnpore supplies more wheat to Calcutta than any other place. The districts of the Bhagulpore Division are the principal wheat-producing tracts in Bengal.

Pulses.

36. The pulse exported from Calcutta goes to the Mauritius (47,697 cwt.), to Demerara (11,585 cwt.), and to Ceylon (17,795 cwt.); and other sorts of food-grains, amounting to 60,735 cwt., go almost exclusively to the Mauritius.

Tea.

37. The increase in the export of tea during the past year is again highly satisfactory. During the past four years the total exports of Indian tea from Calcutta to foreign ports have been as follows:—

	lb	£
1872-73	17,628,001	1,566,344
1873-74	19,185,029	1,730,242
1874-75	21,023,939	1,923,486
1875-76	24,220,440	2,150,036

The total of Indian teas exported from Calcutta during the past year is 24,220,440lb. In addition to this, there was a small export of imported China teas, amounting to 4,842lb., most of which went to Ceylon. Almost the whole of the tea exported, amounting to 24,158,320lb., goes to the United Kingdom. A few years ago the value of Chinese tea received in England exceeded by eleven-fold the value of Indian tea; whereas now the value is hardly more than six times as great. The past year's returns seem also to indicate that new markets are opening out, although slowly, for Indian tea: 7,115lb went to the United States, 5,113lb to Ceylon, and 43,274lb to Australia. The Australian ports do not, however, import Indian teas as largely as might have been expected, and consignments of the past year are below the average of previous years. The exports of Indian tea to Australia are as follow:—

	Quantity.	Value.
	lb	£
1870-71	51,960	4,964
1871-72	42 814	4,236
1872-73	68,418	6,307
1873-74	73,420	6,985
1874-75	36,774	3,670
1875-76	43,274	4,332

The Lieutenant-Governor does not attach any undue importance to the stagnation of this trade; but, at the present time, when the merchants of Calcutta are exerting themselves, and, generally speaking, with success, to establish an Australian trade, it is to be regretted that the tea trade with Australia is not making more rapid progress. Australia apparently still receives the bulk of her tea supplies from China with more convenience and cheapness than could be obtained in trade with India.

Hides and skins.

Hides and skins show a decrease: the exports for the past four years are as follow:—

	Hides.	Skins.
	No.	No.
1872-73	7,003,395	2,785,109
1873-74	5,852,215	2,502,704
1874-75	6,510,265	3,118,031
1875-76	5,589,449	2,334,979

The greatest quantity of raw hides was sent during the past year to the United Kingdom and to Mediterranean ports. Marseilles imported 349,152 hides, Genoa 415,992, Trieste 279,558, Leghorn 199,254, Venice 198,942, and Naples 118,487. The exports to the United Kingdom amounted to 3,681,248; to the United States the exports were 276,375 in number. Of raw skins, the bulk of the exports went to the United States—1,527,436 to New York, and 212,170 to Boston; 368,512 to Marseilles; 112,252 to Genoa; and 81,605 to the United Kingdom.

Indigo.

39. Indigo shows a large increase in quantity, and an increase, though not a proportionate increase, in value. There was a bumper season in Tirhoot, but prices did not come up to those of the previous year. The United Kingdom, France, and Austria were the best customers; the United States and Italy took their usual quantity; but Russia only half as much as in the previous year. The total exports were 84,228 cwt., valued at Rs. 2,35,25,774, against 54,428 cwt., valued at Rs. 1,98,16,099 in 1874-75.

Safflower.

40. The safflower export trade appears to be on the decline: the exports during the previous three years have been 13,202, 13,207, 14,220 cwt.; but in 1875-76 the exports are only 4,025 cwt., valued at Rs. 1,63,045. The supply is mostly destined for the United Kingdom, 2,679 cwt., and the remainder finds its way to the United States, China, Japan, and the Straits Settlements. The decline in this trade is a matter of much importance to the cultivation in Eastern Bengal, where safflower is mostly grown. It is said that the demand for safflower dye is falling off, and certainly the crop is not now so much cultivated as it was a few years ago. Safflower is now grown for the sake of the oil as much as for the dye, which, although it affords a brighter and more enduring colour, is undoubtedly giving way before the competition of aniline and other cheaper dyes.

Cotton.

41. The exports of raw cotton from Calcutta to foreign ports during the past two years are as follow :—

Export of Cotton to Foreign Ports.

	1874-75.		1875-76.
	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.
United Kingdom	102,700	22,47,856	54,657	11,27,810

	lb 25,091,128		lb 34,772,270

During the past year China was by far the best customer for Bengal cotton, taking over three-fourths of the whole exports, and that, too, of nearly all of the better quality—"good fair" to "good fine." In fact, the exports to China are 7 per cent. in excess of the whole exports to foreign ports in 1874-75. This has been caused by a partial failure of the crop in China.

42. The bulk of the cotton known as fair Bengal, sent to the United Kingdom, as well as to the Mediterranean ports and Continental Europe, is shipped by foreign houses for their home constituents in Germany; so that, with the exception of a small quantity sent to the Straits Settlements, the bulk of the cotton shipped from Bengal has during the past year been taken by China and Germany. With the one exception (setting China and the Straits aside) of Havre, the exports to every other port are greatly decreased. The reason of this no doubt is that there has been a plentiful supply of American cotton available. This by recent accounts was as low in price (5¼d. per lb) as it ever has been. Even at present prices growers find it more remunerative than many other crops, and consequently the area of cotton cultivation increases annually in America to the detriment of Indian, and in particular Bengal, cotton. So long as a superior article like the American cotton is to be had at the price quoted, it is not probable that Bengal cotton will be used.

Silk.

43. The export trade in raw silk is in a declining condition: it has been steadily and rapidly declining, as will be seen from the following statement :—

	lb	Rs.
1872-73	2,187,535	1,23,68,000
1873-74	2,172,275	1,13,43,000
1874-75	1,631,513	76,21,400
1875-76	1,292,095	41,10,800

The cause of the falling off is said to be due to bad seasons and bad home markets, and diminished cultivation in consequence. Bengal has also been outdone in competition by China and Japan. Many native filatures which formerly reeled for export now reel short-skeined silk for consumption in different parts of India, particularly the Madras Presidency. It must be added, however, that prospects have improved lately in consequence of bad crops in France and Italy. During the present year silk has made an important rise, and, according to recent trade circulars from England, the total advance since the commencement of the movement is fully 70 to 80 per cent. in China silk, in Japan silk 100 per cent., and in Bengal silk about 90 per cent. This great and sustained rise in so important an article as silk had, it was stated, given encouragement to those engaged in the China and East Indian trades, and had, coupled with the simultaneous improvement in the value of silver, done much to create a more hopeful feeling. The principal quantities of silk that left Calcutta during the past year went to Marseilles (19 lakhs), to the United Kingdom (11 lakhs), and to Venice (10½ lakhs of rupees).

Sugar.

44. The total exports of sugar, and the quantities taken by the two principal importing countries, are as follow:—

	Total exports.		The United Kingdom.		Ceylon.
	Cwt.	Value. Rs.	Cwt.	Value. Rs.	Cwt.	Value. Rs.
1872-73 ...	171,031	= 18,28,952	144,387	= 14,53,468	12,785	= 1,76,164
1873-74 ...	135,776	= 13,28,068	114,054	= 10,35,778	13,361	= 1,81,584
1874-75 ..	106,863	= 10,14,040	87,228	= 7,53,903	10,769	= 1,46,011
1875-76	84,117	= 8,11,828	58,262	= 4,76,874	15,034	= 2,11,221

The exports show a steady decline, for which no explanation is furnished. It is possible that an increased local consumption in the country has checked exports; but it is premature to say, as the Collector of Customs suggests, that the manufacture of sugar under European methods cannot be a remunerative industry in India.

Tobacco.

45. The figures for unmanufactured tobacco are—

	lb	Rs.
1872-73	13,349,840	7,16,959
1873-74	15,825,824	9,10,477
1874-75	29,609,248	17,74,684
1875-76	18,885,440	12,04,596

The rapid growth that was being manifested in this trade has received a check during the past year, the decrease being chiefly in exports to the United Kingdom. The value of tobacco exported to the United Kingdom was 9½ lakhs of rupees in 1874-75, against Rs. 4,88,224 in 1875-76. The principal importing places outside the United Kingdom are Trieste, Gibraltar, Marseilles, and the Mauritius. Notwithstanding the decrease in exports during the past year, the tobacco trade of Bengal is still full of promise; and if more care only be taken in the preparation of the raw material, there can be no doubt of the future increase of the trade. The quality of the tobacco is not, and probably never will be, first rate; but there is a large demand in Europe for inferior qualities of tobacco, and this demand is adequately met by the Bengal produce. As will be subsequently seen, large quantities of Bengal tobacco also find their way to Burmah and other Indian ports. The export of cigars is inconsiderable, and does not average more than Rs. 20,000 in value per annum.

Saltpetre.

46. Saltpetre shows a falling off from last year, and the exports are considerably below the average of the past five years. The decrease is to the United Kingdom, America, and China. France took the same quantity as in 1874-75, but that was considerably in excess of the quantity in former years. The quantities of saltpetre exported during the past four years are in—

	Cwt.		Cwt.
1872-73	500,199	1874-75	540,331
1873-74	444,293	1875-76	400,735

More than half of these exports go to the United Kingdom. The tariff value of exported saltpetre fluctuates from eight to ten rupees per cwt.

Lac.

47. The export in lac is principally in shell and button-lac. The export figures of shell-lac are as follow:—

	Cwt.	Rs.
1872-73	50,421	= 14,14,656
1873-74	65,760	= 18,40,641
1874-75	67,642	= 18,93,607
1875-76	79,376	64,65,055

The large increase in quantity, and the enormous increase in value, is a mark of over-trading. Shell-lac is said by the Collector of Customs to have now become a complete drug in the home market, and it is estimated that a surplus supply is on hand which it will be difficult to move off unless at a large reduction on cost price. The trade in lac-dye has declined in value, though not in quantity, and there is said to be a six years' surplus supply now in the United Kingdom. Other kinds of dyes, notably cochineal, have interfered with the use of lac-dye.

Caoutchouc.

48. The export in India-rubber or caoutchouc is steadily decreasing—

	Cwt.	Rs.
1872-73	21,500	= 14,36,900
1873-74	16,250	= 11,57,500
1874-75	13,900	= 9,65,200
1875-76	13,000	= 7,79,900

The supply of India-rubber is derived from the Assam and Burmese forests, and is exported to the United Kingdom and to North America. A great part of the Calcutta India-rubber is derived from Chittagong and Burmah ports.

Oils.

49. Vegetable oils, although they show a decrease from the previous year, are yet still considerably above the average exportation of the past five years. The total value is nearly eighteen lakhs of rupees, against an export of less than six lakhs in 1872-73. The oils shipped are principally mustard, castor, and a small quantity of cocoanut.

Bullion.

50. The exports of bullion to foreign ports are as follow :—

	1874-75.	1875-76.
	Rs.	Rs.
Gold	2,614	6,76,375
Silver	75,79,203	67,83,057
Total ...	75,81,817	74,59,428

The bulk of the gold was exported to the United Kingdom: of silver, as much as 65½ lakhs went to Ceylon, and 2 lakhs to Bourbon.

51. Import Trade.—The value of merchandise and treasure combined, imported from the foreign countries which have the largest trade with British India, has been as follows :—

Countries.	1874-75.	1875-76.	Increase.	Decrease.
	£	£	£	£
United Kingdom	17,823,139	16,403,449	.....	1,419,690

Straits	524,468	430,053	.....	94,415
Australia	191,770	285,285	93,515	.....

52. The grand total value of the traffic imported was £20,257,217 in 1874-75, and £18,847,719 in 1875-76, showing a net decrease in the past year of £1,409,498. The decrease is principally with the United Kingdom, and is very noticeable in treasure (1½ millions), salt (17 lakhs), cotton twist and yarn (15¾ lakhs), cotton piece-goods (11 lakhs), liquors (4 lakhs), paper and railway materials (each about 3½ lakhs), and coal (2½ lakhs). There is an increase in umbrellas, machinery, and candles amounting altogether to nearly eleven lakhs. From France and Italy there has been an increase in most articles of merchandise, but there is a decrease in the importation of liquors and of treasure. From Egypt and the Mauritius the decrease is entirely due to treasure. The increase from Arabia and the decrease from Persia is artificial, and due to a revised system of classification introduced during the past year. From China there was an increase in raw silk (Rs. 70,000), metals (1 lakh), tea and tobacco. The increase from Australia is due to an increase of more than one lakh in the value of horses, and nine lakhs in that of copper, the supply of which was equal to double the quantity of last year.

53. The following statement will show the value of the principal imports into Calcutta from ports beyond British India during the past three years:—

Salt.

54. As in the case of the exports of opium, so the imports of salt are excluded from consideration in this Resolution, as the subject has been specially treated by the Board of Revenue and Government.

Cotton piece-goods.

55. The Resolution on last year's customs report contained a full account of the condition of the import trade in cotton piece-goods. The transactions for that year were unusually large, and in spite of a steady decline in the demand for English goods, there were symptoms of persistent over-trading. The Board of Revenue observe that this unhealthy state of the trade has been legitimately followed by a decline in importations during the year under review both in cotton twist and yarn and in cotton piece-goods Almost the whole of the importations into Bengal come from the United Kingdom, and are consigned to Calcutta.

Woollen piece-goods.

56. The import of woollen piece-goods has recovered, the total value being nearly 34 lakhs, against 26½ lakhs in 1874-75. The bulk of the goods come from the United Kingdom.

Silk manufactures.

57. The trade in silk manufactures is carried on principally with the United Kingdom and France, and has risen to 13 lakhs in the past year from between 10 and 11 lakhs in previous years. This increase is chiefly due to the low-priced French silks known as marceline, which have been largely imported, the low price of the raw material being favourable to this manufacture. This fact, observes the Collector of Customs, combined with a notion that in consequence of the Prince of Wales' visit it was a favourable opportunity for export, induced heavy consignments. A noteworthy feature in this manufacture is the introduction of jute cleverly worked into the real article.

Liquors.

58. The following statement shows the importation of malt liquors, spirits, and wines during the past four years:—

	Ale, beer, and porter.	Spirits.	Wines and liqueurs.	Other sorts.
	£	£	£	£
1872-73	158,168	244,472	235,168	737
1873-74	154,768	205,300	219,165	612
1874-75	150,284	272,239	240,606	1,184
1875-76	125,772	206,084	255,088	1,966

The decline in the importation of malt liquors and spirits is considerable. Probably, as the Board of Revenue observe, the increased rate of duty imposed on spirits in August 1875 is having the effect of discouraging the importation of cheap brandies. Doubtless also the Hill breweries have to some extent supplanted imported ale, and it may be assumed that the increasing consumption of imported liquors has been checked by a depressed exchange. The import of wines from the United Kingdom is stationary, but importations from Gibraltar and Italy have increased.

Metals.

59. Metals are an important item of import, consisting of copper, iron, lead, quicksilver, steel, tin, and zinc. The importation of copper has increased from 43 lakhs to 60 lakhs of rupees; iron, lead, and steel have also increased. The bulk of the copper comes from Australia and from Japan through China. The trade in machines and machinery has largely developed itself in the last six years, chiefly on account of the demand for spinning-mills in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. In 1870-71 the value of the imports were about 19½ lakhs; now it is over 50 lakhs. There is an increase of two lakhs in the past year, said to be principally for cotton-mills.

Machinery.

Coal.

60. Coal shows a small decrease, the quantity imported into Calcutta during the past six years being as follows:—

	Tons.		Tons.
1870-71	63,938	1873-74	81,834
1871-72	89,775	1874-75	62,757
1872-73	48,714	1875-76	60,341

Coal is imported principally from England, but also from Australia, New Zealand, and other countries. There is an importation of coke, amounting to between 2,000 and 3,000 tons per annum, that comes entirely from the United Kingdom. It is satisfactory to find that the import trade into Bengal seems to be held in check by its competition with coal of local production.

Miscellaneous.

61. The value of paper and pasteboard imported has fallen from 14 lakhs to 9½ lakhs, and it is probable that, under the recent order to substitute, where possible, country-made paper for paper of European manufacture, the imports will still further decrease. The value of umbrellas imported has risen rapidly, and now stands at 13 lakhs; but it is said that there are indications of over-trading. The importation of apparel, including haberdashery, shows a steady increase, and now stands at over 21 lakhs of rupees.

Bullion.

62. The imports of bullion from foreign ports are as follow:—

	1874-75. Rs.	1875-76. Rs.
Gold	65,15,405	56,55,289
Silver	2,23,61,876	51,48,462
Total ...	2,88,77,281	1,08,03,751

The decrease is marked, amounting in gold to Rs. 8,60,116, and in silver to Rs. 1,72,13,414. Of gold, the largest imports have been from China, amounting to four-fifths of the whole; Ceylon stands next in order, with Rs. 6,17,270; and Australia with Rs. 2,28,852. The decrease in silver is from the United Kingdom, which sent only Rs. 13,52,585, or about one-twelfth of the amount sent in the previous year. The whole of the imports of bullion into Bengal, with the exception of Rs. 1,700 worth of silver, were sent to Calcutta.

63. Interportal Trade.—The following statement shows the value, inclusive of merchandise and private treasure, of the interportal trade between Calcutta and other British Indian ports during the past two years:—

	Exports.		Imports.
	1874-75. £	1875-76. £	1874-75. £	1875-76. £
Indian produce	3,902,281	2,786,513	2,614,285	1,556,635
Foreign ditto	1,999,079	1,903,613	175,038	156,935

Total ...	6,643,797	5,254,311	3,401,256	1,926,632

64. There is a marked decrease in both imports and exports. The value of the principal exports during the past year is as follows :—

Apparel	116,784	Hard-ware and cutlery ...	246,142
Cotton twist and yarn ...	217,635	Raw silk	202,736
Cotton piece-goods	852,004	Silk manufactures	204,531

Hand-loom	72,839	Tobacco	114,986
Gunny-cloth—		Woollen manufactures ...	70,824
Power-loom	19,205
Hand-loom	43

65. The principal items of Indian produce exported are rice, gunny-bags, silk and its manufactures, betelnuts, sugar, and tobacco. The exports of rice from Calcutta to ports within British India during the past two years are as follow :—

	1874-75. Cwt.	1875-76. Cwt.
British ports in other Presidencies—
Bombay ... { Bombay	1,162,184	945,947

Grand total of all ports ...	1,212,658	1,160,869

66. It will be observed that there is a slight net decrease in 1875-76; but in neither year are the exports equal to more than one-half of the average of previous years. The export of gunny-bags and gunny-cloth has been fully discussed in the earlier part of the Resolution relating to the foreign trade of Calcutta, and need not be again considered. Raw silk is sent principally (£265,055) to Madras, and manufactures of silk (£171,409) are sent to Rangoon. Sugar is sent to Bombay (£217,884), betelnuts to Rangoon (£206,561), tea to Bombay (£22,143) and Madras (£13,290), tobacco almost entirely (£95,111) to Rangoon, and (£12,363) to ports within the Bengal Presidency.

67. The foreign merchandize re-exported from Calcutta consists of articles of apparel, cotton piece-goods, cotton twist and yarn, woollen manufactures, and hardware and cutlery. Of all these items the greater part is consigned to Rangoon and other ports of British Burmah. The following statement has been prepared to illustrate in detail the re-export of European piece-goods and the export of Indian piece-goods from Calcutta to ports within India during the past year :—

About 45 lakhs of European piece-goods were sent to Burmah in the year, and it will be observed that there was a considerable export of almost 24 lakhs to British ports within the Bengal Presidency Both Chittagong and Orissa are dependent on Calcutta for their supplies of Manchester piece-goods.

68. The value of the principal interportal imports during the past year is as follows:—

Caoutchouc	7,099	Hides, raw	90,122
Coffee	8,777	Stick-lac	30,395
Coir, manufactures of	20,560	Oils, vegetable	20,423
Cotton, raw	344,866	Salt	46,383
Twist and yarn	20,471	Seeds	213,554
Grey piece-goods	14,988	Spices	57,055
Fruits	67,661	Sugar	9,640
Rice	61,748	Tea	34,918
Paddy	17,836	Tobacco (cigars)	10,498
Gums and resins	79,346	Teak wood	289,016

69. Caoutchouc comes from Chittagong, and a small quantity from Rangoon; coffee and coir manufactures from Madras; raw cotton is imported principally from Rangoon and also from Madras; twist and yarn and piece-goods from Bombay; fruits from Madras.

70. The total quantity of rice imported amounts to 234,284 cwt., of which 201,305 cwt. came from ports within Bengal: similarly, out of 135,818 cwt. of paddy, 130,041 cwt came from ports within the Presidency. These supplies are all from the Orissa ports. Seeds and spices are mostly imported from minor ports in the Madras Presidency. Gums are imported from Rangoon; raw hides come in almost equal quantities from minor ports in Madras and from ports within the Bengal Presidency; stick-lac was imported from all the presidencies, but principally from Rangoon; oils are imported from minor ports in Madras. Salt is imported from Bombay and from Madras, especially from the latter presidency.

CHITTAGONG PORT.

71. Although Chittagong was declared a port as early as 1822, but little is known of the earlier history of its trade. From the statement below, compiled for the last ten years, it will, however, be seen that of recent years the trade of the port has been considerable, and that from 1866-67 it developed steadily until 1873-74, when the total value of the trade rose to more than one million sterling. Since then the trade of the port has rapidly fallen, and during the past year the value of the trade was little more than one-half of what it was in 1873-74:—

Comparative Statement showing the value of Goods exported and imported during the ten years from 1866-67.

72. The number and tonnage of all classes of vessels that frequented the port of Chittagong during 1874-75 and 1875-76 are exhibited in the table below :—

Particulars.	1874-75.		1875-76.		Increase in tonnage.	Decrease in tonnage.

The decrease in European vessels frequenting the port direct from Europe is owing in a great measure to the large stock of salt remaining on hand which checked importation.

73. The export trade of Chittagong is confined to supplying Ceylon, Mauritius, &c., with rice. There is no direct trade with England, as the only article of merchandize is rice, which is too costly to pay for export to England. The decrease in the rice trade during the year is attributed to the partial failure of the rice crop from heavy rains in July, and also to a dispute at a critical moment between merchants and the grain-sellers whether grain should continue to be sold by measure as heretofore, or should be weighed. The total yearly export of grain from Chittagong since 1871-72 has been as follows :—

	Tons.		Rs.
1871-72	56,601	...	23,38,212
1872-73	103,711	...	41,14,066
1873-74	71,686	...	44,30,218
1874-75	45,072	...	26,43,440
1875-76	26,335	...	15,13,426

There is no doubt that the exports during 1872-73 and 1873-74 were exceptional, and though it may be believed that during the past year the trade was abnormally depressed, there is but little hope of the port becoming again as prosperous as it has been during the years immediately preceding the present time.

74. The following statement shows the total value of the merchandize exported from Chittagong to foreign ports during the year 1875-76 :—

Free of duty	1,460
Subject to duty	131,135
Total ...	132,595

Almost the whole of this export is rice and paddy, as follows :—

	Cwt.	£
Paddy—

„ Maldives	7,300	1,987
„ Straits Settlements	330	90
„ Victoria	11,355	3,804
Total ...	426,353	130,421

Besides rice, there is only to be mentioned a small consignment of 10,500 power-loom gunny-bags to Ceylon, and insignificant despatches of piece-goods to the Maldive Islands.

75. In a similar way the following statement shows the total values of the articles imported into Chittagong from foreign ports during the year 1875-76 :—

Free of duty	768
Subject to duty	26,492
Total ..	27,260

As rice is the only important export, so the only import of any importance is salt, which is received from the United Kingdom. The import of salt is 7742 tons, valued at Rs. 2,10,761. There is a curious import of 2,966,950 shells from the Maldive Islands, valued at only Rs. 630. No other import is worthy of mention, except Rs. 9,486 worth of vegetable oil from Ceylon, and Rs. 7,568 worth of pitch, tar, and dammer from the Straits Settlements.

76. The interportal or coasting exports show a value of £260,429 against £274,950 in 1874-75, the falling off being attributable to the absence of rice exports to Calcutta. The export trade consists chiefly of rice supplied to other presidencies, and of tea, caoutchouc, and hides to Calcutta. The cultivation of tea in Chittagong is rapidly progressing, and the total outturn of Chittagong tea for the past year is estimated at 431,554lb. Large tracts of waste land which abound in the district offer ample field for the development of this industry. The export figures for the past four years are as follow :—

	Chests.	Rs.
1872-73	3,342	2,79,773
1873-74	4,427	3,01,477
1874-75	4,268	3,41,894
1875-76	6,174½	4,29,353

77. The interportal imports are valued at £168,039, against £218,981 in 1874-75. The imports are chiefly from Calcutta, and comprise Manchester piece-goods, gunny-bags, sugar, and brass-ware. It is to be regretted that no information has been furnished showing the value of these imports separately. In future years the Lieutenant-Governor will expect all the details of the import and export trade, both with foreign and with Indian ports, to be fully shown.

ORISSA PORTS.

78. The following statement shows the value of the sea imports and exports of Orissa during the past seven years :—

	Cuttack.		Pooree.		Balasore.		Total of Orissa Ports.
	Imports.	Exports.	Imports.	Exports.	Imports.	Exports.	Imports	Exports.
	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£

1872-73	84,954	82,142	7,496	19,553	25,046	39,920	117,499	141,615
1873-74	114,289	106,043	3,523	31,503	171,315	163,170	289,127	300,716
1874-75	91,168	170,047	5,136	55,225	262,683	213,830	359,284	439,102
1875-76	138,065	127,157	2,025	29,918	207,386	169,995	347,376	327,070

During the past year the total value of imports into Orissa was £347,376, and the total value of exports was £327,070. In 1869-70 the corresponding figures are only £71,562 and £77,703. There has thus been a rapid increase in the Orissa sea-borne trade, although, generally speaking, the trade of 1875-76 shows a falling off as compared with 1874-75, in consequence of the fall in the value of rice owing to abundant harvests in Bengal. The large quantities exported to Calcutta during the famine were the result of an exceptional stimulus. The case may be stated thus: the famine of 1873-74 in Bengal and Behar gave a great and sudden impulse to the export trade of Orissa, which has been in a very considerable degree maintained after the cessation of the famine throughout the year 1875-76, and there has been a nearly corresponding increase in the imports during a short series of years. The large increase that has taken place in imports is perhaps the most trustworthy test of progress in material improvement of the country and people.

79. The following statement shows the total value of the merchandise exported from the Orissa ports to foreign ports during the year 1875-76 :—

	Balasore.	Cuttack.	Pooree.	Total.
	£	£	£	£

80. The greater part of this export is rice and paddy, as follows :—

	Balasore.		Cuttack.		Pooree.		Total.
	Cwt.	£	Cwt.	£	Cwt.	£	Cwt.	£

Total ...	35,154	6,479	91,196	25,966	36,711	12,386	182,061	44,831

Among the other exports there is a small consignment from Cuttack of 2,929 cwt. of rapeseed and 1,507 cwt. of teel to the United Kingdom, and of 4,282 cwt. of rape and 8,795 cwt. of teel seed to Marseilles.

81. The only import from foreign ports into Orissa during the year is a small consignment of 2,100 gunny-bags, valued at Rs. 322, from Ceylon to Balasore.

82. The bulk of the trade of Orissa is, however, interportal, as follows :—

	Balasore.	Cuttack.	Pooree.	Total.
	£	£	£	£
Exports	162,367	90,350	17,425	270,142
Imports	206,484	138,046	2,026	346,556

83. There is a decrease in exports as compared with the trade of last year, principally in rice and oil-seeds, and an increase of imports to Cuttack, for the most part in cotton piece-goods. The quantity of rice exports from Balasore to Calcutta and other Indian ports is 554,454 cwt., valued at Rs. 10,15,573; the value of exports from Cuttack is Rs. 96,931, but the quantity is not stated. The Pooree exports are stated in detail as follows :—

	Cwt.	£
To Madras	43,308	9,148
„ Cochin	22,346	4,631
„ Cananore	8,353	1,705
„ Cuddalore	7,704	1,599

84. There were no exports of rice from Pooree to Calcutta. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot but regret that the information given regarding the trade of the Orissa ports is also meagre and unsatisfactory. In future years full information should be given in tabular statements, showing quantities as well as values; in the case of imports, showing the sources of supply; and in the case of exports, the destination of trade.

85. In concluding this Resolution, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to record his acknowledgments to Mr. Dampier, who was Officiating Member of the Board of Revenue during a great part of the year, and to Mr. Money, the Member of the Board of Revenue in charge, for their administration of the Customs Department; and also to Messrs. Lane, Maclean, and Crawford, who were severally in charge of the office of Collector of Customs during the year.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad also to acknowledge the services of the officers mentioned in the 115th, 127th, and 142nd paragraphs of the report of the Board of Revenue. The Statistical Department of the Custom House has lately suffered in its efficiency from the death of Mr. Cable, who was Superintendent of that department. It is probable that the delay in the publication of the annual trade and navigation returns for the past year, which have not yet been laid before Government, is due in some measure to this cause. The Lieutenant-Governor must request that in future years the trade and navigation volume may invariably be submitted with the report of the Board of Revenue, which is based upon the figures contained in those returns. The Board's report and the volume of trade and navigation returns should always be in the hands of Government by the 15th of September of each year at latest.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT DURING 1875-76.

REGISTRATION.

Calcutta, the 11th December 1876.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Registration Department during the year 1875-76.

Read again—

The Report for the previous year, with the orders of the Government passed thereon.

The office of Inspector-General of Registration was held successively during the year under review by Messrs. Beverley, Hurley, and Hopkins, and then again by Mr. Beverley, who in August last made over charge finally to Mr. Bourdillon, by whom the present report has been prepared. It is explained that the delay in drawing up the annual report of the administration of the department was due to Mr. Beverley having been specially appointed to the task of conducting the census in Calcutta. This duty fully occupied his attention until he was relieved by Mr. Bourdillon, who, being new to the department, laboured under some difficulty in collecting and mastering the details necessary to enable him to prepare the report. The results, however, are very creditable to him. He has presented a clear and concise review of the working of the department for the past year, and has carefully summarized the statistics connected with its administration.

2. The results reported are generally satisfactory. The steady increase observed of late years in the number of registrations effected has been fairly maintained. The number of offices has been considerably increased, and though there has been a falling off in the nett receipts of the department, this is alone attributable to the larger outlay which has been incurred with the view of affording increased facilities for registration.

3. The important experiment of introducing the use of printed forms for the registration of agricultural leases and bonds of small amounts was under trial during the year. The results were not altogether encouraging, but they were such as to justify the continuance and extension of the scheme, the object of which is to effect a considerable saving in the maintenance of registration offices, with a corresponding diminution in the charges levied from the public.

The matter is one to which prominent attention was called last year, and special instructions havesince been separately issued to all District Registrars, impressing on them the importance attached by Government to the experiment, and the necessity of their using their best endeavours to secure its success.

4. Towards the close of the year the passing of the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act placed in the hands of the Inspector-General the supervision of what practically is a new department No action beyond the preparation of the rules and forms for the introduction of the Act was taken during the period under review. Effect has now, however, been given to the provisions of the Act in a large number of districts in Eastern Bengal, and the control and supervision of the new offices which have been opened out will add largely to the labours of the Inspector-General and of the inspecting officers of the department.

5. In previous reviews the necessity of exercising strict supervision over all registration offices has been frequently impressed upon the superior officers of the department. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that in the past year the amount of inspection work undertaken was largely in excess of that in previous years. In all 534 inspections of 266 offices were held. Of these, 250 inspections were made by the Inspector-General and the two inspectors immediately subordinate to him, and the remainder by district, special, and sub-divisional sub-registrars. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, has to notice the remark made by Mr. Bourdillon, that, with a few exceptions, the inspections made by local officers were neither so frequent nor so thorough as they ought to be. Now that their attention has been drawn specially to the matter by the Inspector-General, it is to be hoped that the report for the current year will show an improvement in this respect. The results of the inspections made are stated to have been generally satisfactory. The large increase in the number of offices has inevitably resulted in the appointment of some inefficient and untrustworthy officers. These are being removed, and the rest of the staff are gradually gaining a thorough acquaintance with their work.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied to find that attention has been given to the points noticed in last resolution regarding the time occupied in the registering of documents. As a rule, it is stated that the results have been most unfavourable at sub-divisional offices, where the sub-registrar is also in charge of the sub-division. If it be found in any case that the sub-divisional officer really has not sufficient time to attend to the details of the registration office, steps should be taken to relieve him of the charge and to create a rural office.

7. The number of offices of all kinds under the control of the Inspector-General at the close of the year was 290, against 246 at the opening of the year, thus:—

	1874-75.	1875-76.
Calcutta Registry Office	1	1
District offices in charge of salaried sub-registrars ...	22	24
Ditto ditto ex-officio ditto ...	19	18
Ditto ditto rural ditto ...	1	1
Sub-divisional offices in charge of ex-officio ditto ..	71	69
Ditto ditto Cantonment Magistrate	1	1
Ditto ditto rural sub-registrars ...	11	10
Rural offices in the interior	120	155
Special offices	...	5

The increase observable from the above statement in the number of rural offices is satisfactory. It is clear, however, from the further analysis of the figures as given in paragraph 35 of the report that, though the number of registration offices has been increased from 156 to 290 during the past five years, much remains yet to be done to meet the wants of the people in certain localities. As the advantages of registration become more and more appreciated by the people, many additional offices will have to be opened out, and District Registrars must remember that they are responsible for making proposals for the establishment of new offices whenever they have reason to believe that they are required in any part of their districts.

8. In the second paragraph of his report Mr. Bourdillon gives a comparative statement of the chief results deducible from the statistics of the department for a series of years, commencing with 1865-66. The most noticeable matter is the great increase in the total number of registrations effected. Ten years ago these amounted to only 98,183; five years ago they had increased to 241,713; last year the number was 457,651, or 33,778 more than in the previous year. The gross receipts during the same period have increased from Rs. 3,25,089 in 1865-66 to Rs. 5,56,505 in the past year, while the net receipts were Rs. 99,123 and Rs. 1,39,103 in the same years, respectively. As already noticed, the falling off in the net receipts, as compared with the previous year, when they amounted to Rs. 1,65,372, is attributable to the larger expenditure incurred in opening out new offices. It is to be remarked, however, with reference to the surplus which continues year by year to be claimed as the financial result of the working of the department, that the figures given can only be accepted with some reservation, as it appears that it has not been usual to include expenditure in the Public Works Department on account of office buildings, as an item of charge against the department. An omission of this kind seriously vitiates the returns and renders inferences from the figures contained in them of little value. The Lieutenant-Governor is therefore glad to find that the matter has had the attention of the Inspector-General, and that the statement of the results of the past year has been modified accordingly. The figures cannot, however, even yet be accepted as correct, if, as appears, charges for printing and stationery have been altogether omitted from the accounts. In future the precise sum which may be available as a surplus for meeting the requirements of the department and increasing the facilities for registration should be carefully ascertained and noted.

9. The following comparative table shows the extent to which the facilities at present afforded for registration are taken advantage of in the several provinces under this Government.

Provinces.	Number of offices.		Number of registrations.		Population.	Percentage of increase of registration.
	1874-75.	1875-76.	1874-75.	1875-76.		1874-75	1875-76.
Bengal	168	204	341,914	374,530	34,207,735	39·8	9·5
Behar	59	66	65,967	64,604	19,736,101	8·1	—2·0
Chota Nagpore	10	9	9,345	10,464	3,419,591	2·3	11·9
Orissa	9	11	6,647	8,063	3,034,690	—13·6	21·3

Thus 81 per cent. of the whole number of registrations was effected in Bengal Proper, and while, as compared with the previous year, there was a slight falling off in the number of registrations in Behar, there was a large increase in the number effected in Orissa, where in the previous year, on the other hand, a large decrease had been observable.

10 The following statement shows the number of documents registered under each chief class in the past as compared with the previous year:—

A. Registrations affecting immoveable property in Book I—

	1874-75.	1875-76.
(a) Compulsory	250,340	265,265
(b) Optional	98,970	106,629

B.	Registrations affecting moveable property, Book IV—
	(a) Obligations for the payment of money	57,205	65,610
	(b) Instruments of sale	2,656	2,940
	(c) All other registrations in Book IV ...	13,281	15,604
C.	Wills and authorities to adopt	1,362	1,603

Under the head of compulsory registrations affecting immoveable property, the largest increase has occurred in the number of perpetual leases which have been registered. In the past year these amounted to 109,399, against 100,325 in the previous year. With respect to this increase Mr. Bourdillon remarks that, as usual, these registrations have been effected in the districts of Eastern Bengal. "Jessore" he adds "this year stands first with 24,735 registrations of perpetual leases, and is followed by Backergunge with 21,060, and Chittagong with 19,567." Notwithstanding this very marked result in the returns of the two first named districts, the matter does not appear to have been noticed by the District Registrars. The Registrars of Chittagong and Noakholly, however, throw some fresh light on the subject, and have attributed the practice of granting perpetual leases to the greater facilities which are afforded to the landlords of realizing their rents under the law applicable to the sale of putni tenures. In Chittagong it is stated that fully three-fourths of the area of the estates in that district have been already granted in perpetual leases to middlemen. The remarks made by Mr. Porch, and quoted in paragraph 6 of the report, are particularly worthy of attention, and it will be interesting to observe whether his anticipation proves correct that, with the introduction of the improvements in the rent law which are in contemplation, the practice of giving permanent leases will be considerably restricted. As regards other leases the registration of which is compulsory, that is, leases from year to year or for any period exceeding one year, the Officiating Registrar-General remarks that the increase observable (3,194 documents only) is insignificant. It would indeed be accounted for by the fluctuations in a single district (Chumparun) and, as remarked by Mr. Bourdillon, it would form no basis for any general conclusion. The increase in the number of documents for the sale and mortgage of immoveable property of the value of Rs. 100 and upwards is normal, and is so generally distributed throughout the several districts as to call for no remark. An increase of nearly 100 per cent. in the number of instruments of gift of immoveable property is unexplained. The figures, however, for any one district are small, and this may account for the oversight.

11. The number of short leases for one year or less registered was 2,649, against 2,223 in the previous year. The Officiating Registrar-General observes that these paltry results show either that in the popular estimation instruments of this nature are not worth the trouble or expense of registration, or that they are frequently merely parol engagements.

By far the largest increase under the head of optional registrations is shown to have occurred in the case of bonds. From the figures given by Mr. Bourdillon in his 8th paragraph, it is observable that in the course of the past six years the numbers of these instruments registered has trebled. Last year, in the district of Jessore alone, the number was 31,452, against 22,498 in the previous year. In Dinagepore, Rajshahye, and Bhagulpore, there was some falling off, but taking all districts together, the increase in the past year was represented by 8,461 documents.

The remarks made by Mr. Bourdillon on the small extent to which comparatively speaking recourse is had to registration as regards documents, the registration of which is not compulsory, are to the point. While the advantages afforded by the law cannot fail in time to be duly appreciated, still it would seem as if the expense and inconvenience attendant on registration are held to outweigh them. Sir George Campbell's scheme for increasing the number of registration offices was meant to reduce this inconvenience as far as possible. Much must, however, always depend on the exertions and vigilance of inspecting officers whose chief duty it is to see that no avoidable delay is allowed to occur in the transaction of business in registration offices, and that every facility is at all times afforded to the public. The introduction of printed forms of bonds, which have been drawn up after obtaining the best legal advice available on the subject, and which are now offered for sale at a mere nominal cost, will, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes, tend materially to encourage the registration of these documents.

12. In the table given in his 16th paragraph, Mr. Bourdillon shows that taking documents of all kinds, the net increase in registrations effected in the past, as compared with the previous year, was 36,287 documents, or 8·6 per cent. Fourteen districts show a decrease against eleven in the previous year. In Rajshahye and Bhagulpore this is attributed to the famine having caused an increase in transactions in 1874-75. In Monghyr and Gya the decrease has been equally marked, and no explanation of the fact has been offered. The rapid increase in the number of documents registered, on the other hand, in certain districts of Eastern and Central Bengal is a matter for congratulation. The arrangements made in Jessore exemplify what the Lieutenant-Governor would wish to see carried out eleswhere. Rural offices have been freely opened out in this district, with the result that in the course of three years the number of deeds registered has more than trebled, the increase being very marked in all classes of documents.

13. The increase in the number of registrations effected has necessarily resulted in a large accumulation of records In noticing the difficulty which had hitherto been experienced in meeting demands for improved record-rooms, the Lieutenant-Governor in last year's resolution expressed a hope that provision would be made in the budget for the ensuing year for the execution of the works which were of the most pressing necessity. The present report is deficient in not stating exactly what progress has been made in completing the several buildings which are mentioned as having been taken in hand. The Lieutenant-Governor gathers however that a considerable portion of the liberal budget grant which was allotted remained unspent. In future years steps should be taken to utilize to the utmost the funds which may from time to time be granted. Even pressing requirements have yet to be met in many districts, and, in justice to the public, it is essential that the proper security of the records should be fully provided for.

14. The remarks made by the Officiating Inspector-General on the hardship caused by the imposition of a uniform stamp fee in the case of partitions will be communicated to the Revenue Department of this office for consideration, in the event of any action being taken for the amendment of the Stamp Law.

15. The number of prosecutions instituted for offences under the Registration Act during the year was 33 only. Twenty-nine cases were brought to trial with 79 defendants, of whom 14 were acquitted and 65 convicted. So far as can be gathered from these figures the results are not unsatisfactory, though, considering the nature of the offences which are said to have been established, some of the sentences imposed appear to have been very light. Only seven registered documents were reported as having been discredited by the civil courts during the year; but apparently no prosecutions were instituted in any of these cases. From the remarks made, it would seem that the cases reported were only incidentally brought to the notice of District Registrars, and that others may have occurred of which they received no information. It is important, for the maintenance of the integrity of the Registration Department, that every case of this nature which occurs should be promptly reported, with a view to steps being taken for the institution of criminal prosecutions for forgery, false personation, or other fraud, as the case may be, against the offenders; and the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court will be moved to issue instructions to the officers presiding over the civil courts to bring the matter to the immediate notice of the local District Registrars whenever a document purporting to have been registered is discredited. The attention of all District Registrars should also be drawn to the subject, and the action taken in each case, when brought to their notice, should be fully stated in future reports.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that a compilation of the departmental circulars has been undertaken by Mr. Gillon. This very necessary work, when completed, will, it is hoped, aid in securing regularity in the proceedings of the several local offices.

17. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that an expression of the acknowledgments of Government may be conveyed to the officers who are mentioned in the Inspector-General's paragraphs 51 to 54 and noted in the margin, as having been conspicuous for the interest they have taken in the working of the department, and as having been deserving of praise. To Mr. Beverley and the other officers who presided over the department during the year under review the thanks of Government are also due, as well as to Mr. Bourdillon for the care with which he has prepared the report on the administration of the department for the past year.

ORDER.—Ordered that copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Registration for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. L. MANGLES,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

BENEVOLENCE OF MAHARANEE SURNOMOYEE OF COSSIMBAZAAR.

Calcutta, the 6th December 1876.

From—H. J. S. COTTON, Esq., Junior Secy. to the Government of Bengal,
To—The Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 454, dated 29th November 1876, in which you report that the Maharanee Surnomoyee, of Cossimbazaar, has presented Rs. 3,000 for the relief of those who suffered from the late cyclone and storm-wave in the Backergunge district. As on other occasions so now the Maharanee has shown herself a foremost benefactress of the poor and distressed, and the Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in asking you to convey to her the thanks of Government for this charitable donation.

No. 454, dated Dacca, the 29th November 1876.

From—F. B. PEACOCK, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of Dacca,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I HAVE the honor to bring to the notice of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor that Maharanee Surnomoyee, of Cossimbazaar, has given the very handsome donation of Rs. 3,000 to the relief of those in the district of Backergunge who suffered from the late cyclone and storm-wave. I have communicated to her my thanks for her ready sympathy with the distressed, which is to be appreciated the more because those whom she has aided have no special claim upon her.

AMENDMENT OF THE RENT LAW.

THE following papers relating to the question of the amendment of the law for the determination of rent in Bengal are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 29th August 1876.

IN continuation of my Minute of the 18th April last, regarding the improvement of the substantive law for the determination of rent in Bengal, I desire to record the following observations.

The proposals set forth in that Minute may be summarized thus:—

1*st.*—That a Bill be introduced as supplementary to Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, for the further laying down of principles whereby rents should be decided between the landlords and the occupancy ryots, as defined by the Act.

2*nd.*—That this supplementary legislation be confined to occupancy ryots (who now form a large portion, perhaps the majority of ryots), leaving non-occupancy ryots, or tenants-at-will, to the operation of the existing law.

3*rd.*—That in cases of dispute, the rent of the occupancy ryot should be fixed at rates less by at least 25 per cent. than the rates ordinarily paid by non-occupancy ryots in the neighbourhood or in the district.

4*th.*—That even more favourable rates should be allowed to old occupancy ryots who had (either of themselves or by those from whom they inherited) held their lands 30 years and more.

5*th.*—That the ordinary rates payable by non-occupancy ryots should be ascertained by evidence in the usual way, but that, if from any cause this ascertainment should be found impracticable, then the Collector should be directed to ascertain; or if he failed, then the rent of a non-occupancy ryot should be calculated at one-fifth (20 per cent.) of the value of the gross produce as the basis for determining the rent of an occupancy ryot, the result of which would be that an occupancy ryot's rent, calculated on that basis, and being at least 25 per cent. less, would be 15 per cent. of the value of the gross produce.

2. The points embraced in these proposals are left undetermined in the existing law, though they nearly concern the interests of the people. The proposals were framed after the best consideration which I could give to the respective and relative rights and interests of landlord and tenant. They have been criticised, and will be criticised necessarily, from opposite points of view.

3. The landlords, in so far as they may be supposed to be represented by the British Indian Association, consider the proposals as too favourable to the ryots, and as unduly unfavourable to the zemindars. They are, however, willing that the rent rate of the occupancy ryot should be 25 per cent. less than that of the non-occupancy ryot; but they strongly think that none of the further concessions proposed by me should be made in favour of old ryots of any standing whatsoever. They are willing that, if the rent rate of the non-occupancy ryot cannot be ascertained, in order to form the basis for determining the rent rate of the occupancy ryot, then the rent of the occupancy ryots should be calculated on a proportion of the value of the gross produce; but they think that the proportion should be 25 per cent. instead of the 15 per cent. proposed by me. In short, they adhere to the terms previously put forward by them.

4. It is further urged by the zemindars that if any rule for the future shall be determined by law, it ought not to operate as a ground for the diminution of existing rents, and should not form a ground of application on the part of the occupancy ryots for abatement of rents which they may have been heretofore accustomed to pay. I think that this proviso is reasonable and just under the circumstances, and would therefore adopt it.

5. I find that many of those who are well acquainted with, or have specially ascertained, the views of the ryots, believe that my proposals will be regarded as beneficial to the occupancy ryots, who are probably the majority of the whole body of the ryots. Indeed, there cannot be any doubt that these proposals, if carried through the legislature, would secure the recognition by law of advantages which, whether they be virtually possessed at present or not by the occupancy ryots, have not yet received legal sanction. It seems that in some districts the occupancy ryots would be particularly glad to have their rent rates calculated on a proportion of the value of the gross produce, such as that proposed by me. Also, the further concessions proposed by me in favour of the old ryots of thirty years' standing and upwards are, it is understood, much appreciated.

6. But besides the views of the two principal, and perhaps the opposite, interest in the matter, I have had the advantage of learning the views of many who do not belong to either party, and who are chiefly official, both European and Native.

7. In the first place it is thought by many, perhaps by most authorities, that the concession of more favourable terms to ryots of thirty years' standing and upwards cannot be worked; that it would lead to unsatisfactory litigation, each party trying by right means or wrong to prove or disprove a fact so important as the length of the possession. I am not at all sure that this argument is decisive when weighed against the advantages of making such a concession; though I admit that arguments of this description have special force in a province like Bengal, where the devices of litigation are so much practised. On the whole, though I would still wish to carry this particular proposal, if possible, I fear that I may be reluctantly obliged to abandon it. The abandonment would not, however, affect the remainder of the scheme.

8. In the next place it is thought by many that, in some districts at least, there will be difficulty in ascertaining the rent rates of non-occupancy ryots, as a basis for determining the rents of occupancy ryots; because in those districts the non-occupancy class no longer exists, having become gradually merged in the occupancy class. In such places the authorities recommend that a proportion of the value of the gross produce be adopted as already proposed by me.

9. Some authorities propose that the question as to what ought to be considered (for this purpose of determining the rent of occupancy ryots) the ordinary average rent of a non-occupancy ryot should be referred to a jury. I admit the primâ facie advantages of this, but the objection is that it would leave to the chance decision, perhaps the varying uncertain opinion, of juries at different times and places, the very question for the solving of which we are trying to find the data and to embody them in law.

10. As already seen, I am myself in favour of adopting some particular proportion of the value of the gross produce as a standard, especially, too, as this method has been recommended by the British Indian Association, and is believed to be approved by the ryots in many places, and also by many official authorities. But though there is much consensus as to the principle of fixing some porportion, there is, as might be expected, difference of opinion as to what proportion should be adopted for occupancy ryots. There is a considerable interval between the 25 per cent. proposed by the British Indian Association and the 15 per cent. proposed by me. Some authorities who regard the case of the ryot with special consideration think that 12 per cent. should suffice. Perhaps some intermediate proportion between 15 and 25 per cent. might meet with a sufficient degree of acceptance from all concerned as a sort of compromise. There would probably be difficulty in fixing rigidly one proportion for the whole country, as such proportion would be somewhat lower in Eastern Bengal and somewhat higher in Western Bengal. But it might be enacted that the proportion might be taken at the discretion of the court within certain limits to be fixed by the law, say not more than 20 and not less than 15 per cent.

11. Thus I would still propose that where the non-occupancy rate can be ascertained, the occupancy rate should be fixed at something less than that by a certain percentage; and where that cannot be ascertained, the occupancy rate should be calculated by a certain proportion of the value of the gross produce.

12. In the course of this discussion, it has come out that there is doubt in some districts as to who is an occupancy ryot under Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869. By section 6 of that Act, it is enacted that every ryot who shall have cultivated or held land for 12 years shall have a right of occupancy in that land, but that this shall not apply to subordinate ryots who cultivate land under occupancy ryots. Now, it is represented that in some parts of the country the occupancy ryots are really in the position of sub-proprietors or middlemen, and have considerable holdings, the lands of which they sublet to cultivators, who cultivate continuously from father to son for long periods, and who deserve to be counted as occupancy ryots. It will be desirable to introduce some wording which would make this matter more clear. The result would be the extension of occupancy privileges to some classes of ryots in certain parts of the country, whose claims, though patent enough, are not sufficiently recognized by the existing law.

It would, however, be desirable to leave untouched that part of section 6 which provides that occupancy rights shall not grow up in the particular lands reserved by the zemindar as his own home farm, and called locally "khomar," "nij-jote," and "seer."

13. As is well known, much of the land in Bengal is held by "dependent talookdars" and tenure-holders, who are defined by law (section 16, Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869) to be "persons possessing a permanent and transferable interest in land, intermediate between the proprietor of the estate and the ryot." The rent due by these middlemen to the proprietors is generally determined by special agreement, or by the circumstances of the tenure. But in some instances this is not the case, and in such instances the tenure-holders claim that their rents shall be determined at least as favourably as those of occupancy ryots, and even somewhat more favourably. There would be no difficulty in giving them terms as favourable as those of occupancy ryots; whether the zemindars would agree to conceding terms still more favourable, say by 10 per cent., may be a question; perhaps they might: at all events, the point would be worthy of the consideration of the legislature.

14. I find that many zemindars desire that the right and interest of an occupancy ryot shall be liable to be sold for arrears of rent, or for the amount adjudged to be due from him by a decree of court. At present a zemindar can recover such dues by distraint; he can also obtain a decree from the court for evicting the defaulter. I would not have any objection to making the occupancy right liable to sale for arrears of rent, if the zemindars desire it. This would not be prejudicial to the occupancy ryots, for the consequence must be that the occupancy tenure would have to be declared transferable by private arrangement (as well as heritable, which it already is). It has never yet been by law declared transferable, though it is believed that private transfers of the tenure are frequently made in some parts of the country. The result would be a certain strengthening of the occupancy tenure, which would in some degree be matter for satisfaction.

15. Then the zemindars have very frequently asked for a process more easy and summary than that of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, to enable them to collect, not disputed rents, but rents undisputed or admitted to be due. At present an uncontested case will often cost in litigation as much, or nearly as much, as a really difficult one; and in the end the ryot has to bear the expense of the litigation. It might be possible to substitute in the law a notice of demand for a summons, and if the ryot does not then appear and contest the claim, to allow the landlord to proceed to execution or to realization by process. Every step would be taken through the court or other deciding authority, the Collector or other, so that the process could not possibly be abused. It may be thought that the carrying out of this summary process should be entrusted to the revenue authorities, on the principle that they are best fitted to deal with the realization of uncontested arrears of rent, while the civil courts are left to deal with contested rents and with cases where there are real disputes.

16. I bear in mind that many, perhaps the majority, of the zemindars desire that the jurisdiction in rent suits should be vested in the revenue courts according to the practice which used to prevail in Bengal, and which prevails in the North-Western Provinces. Possibly some of the ryots may have a similar wish, but it is not certain that such is the view of the majority of the ryots. On the whole, there seems to be hardly sufficient reason for proposing this change now that the Bill for preventing agrarian disturbances has passed into law.

17. For all these reasons, then, I propose to introduce into the Legislative Council of Bengal, in November next, or as soon after as may be convenient or practicable, a Bill, being in continuation of, or supplementary to, the existing rent law of Bengal, Acts X of 1859 and VIII (B.C.) of 1869, and providing specifically for the following matters:—

1*st*.—In cases where an occupancy ryot is liable to enhancement of rent under section 18 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, such enhancement is either to be regulated by the principle that his rent shall be less than the ordinary rent of a non-occupancy ryot by a certain percentage from 20 to 25 per cent., or else is to be calculated on a certain proportion of the value of the gross produce from 15 to 25 per cent., provided always that no occupancy ryot shall be entitled to claim under the foregoing rule any abatement from the rent which he has heretofore paid.

2*nd*.—The definition of an occupancy ryot, as given in section 6 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, to be somewhat extended, so as to include ryots cultivating under other ryots in certain classes of cases.

3*rd*.—The right and interest of an occupancy ryot to be rendered liable to sale for default in paying rent, and also transferable by private agreement.

4*th*.—The process for realizing arrears of rent in undisputed cases to be simplified by the court or other deciding authority—Collector or other—being empowered, on application from the landlord, to issue a notice to the ryot, requiring him either to pay or to appear and show cause to the contrary; in the event of the ryot neither paying nor appearing, the court to order attachment and sale of the defaulter's property.

5*th*.—The rents payable by tenure-holders or others possessing a permanent transferable interest in land, intermediate between the proprietor of an estate and the ryot—when not fixed by special agreement or by the circumstances of the tenures—to be determined according to a standard similar to that of the occupancy ryots, but more favourable by 10 per cent.

18. The precise proportion and percentage set down in the foregoing proposals would be much discussed as the Bill passed through the Legislative Council, and would very possibly receive modification. Indeed, if such a Bill is ever to be finally passed, there must be some compromises between opposite views, especially on points of detail. I should be prepared to yield some points for the sake of carrying some enactment which would help to settle the disputes between landlord and tenant, with which some parts of the country have for some time past been threatened. And though I might be unable to carry all that I would wish to see carried, still I think that any measure of the nature proposed—even though shorn of some of its propositions—would be sure to strengthen the just position and the right of the occupancy ryots, while, on the other hand, it afforded the zemindars satisfactory means of determining and realizing their dues.

RICHARD TEMPLE.

No. 762, dated Simla, the 19th October 1876.

From—The Hon'ble T. C. Hope, Offg. Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce,

To—The Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

In reply to your letter No. 2109T of 29th August, I am directed to state that the Government of India concur with the Lieutenant-Governor as to the necessity for laying down rules, more definite than those at present existing in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, for the guidance of the authorities in determining rent disputes between landlords and occupancy ryots. The proposals of the Lieutenant-Governor appear to be in a great measure similar to the law at present in force in Oudh and the Punjab, and to be likely to prove acceptable to both of the classes of persons who are interested in the question.

2. The extension of the definition of an occupancy ryot, and the application to tenure-holders and others of the principle adopted for fixing the rents of occupancy ryots, appear to be salutary measures, and the simplification of the method of realizing arrears of rent which are really undisputed will be advantageous.

3. With regard to the expediency of rendering the right and interest of an occupancy ryot liable to sale for default, and transferable by private agreement, I am desired to state that the President in Council entertains considerable doubts. The absence of restrictions on the liability and the transfer of land which prevails in many provinces of India has been alleged by numerous authorities, whose opinions are entitled to great weight, to have been an efficient agent in the impoverishment of the ryot, and the transfer of the ownership of land to classes not likely to be good landlords as regards either their tenants or the State. The Select Committee on the Civil Procedure Code also, in a report presented to the Council of His Excellency the Governor-General for making Laws and Regulations on the 21st ultimo, have recommended considerable restrictions on the sale of land by civil courts in execution of decrees. Under these circumstances, it appears very questionable whether it is politically expedient to afford any additional facilities for displacing the existing occupants of land.

4. Consequently, while communicating the assent of the President in Council to the preparation of a Bill of the character described in the 1st, 2nd, 4th, and 5th clauses of the 21st paragraph of your letter under reply, I am to suggest that the provision contained in the 3rd clause be omitted.

5. In order that no avoidable delay may take place in formally authorising the introduction of the Bill, the draft of which I am to request that you will be so good as to submit, the Secretary of State has this day been addressed on the subject, and requested to reply by telegraph whether he has any objections to the measure.

Draft of a Bill to amend the Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to amend "the Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869;" It is enacted as follows:—

Section 5 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869 repealed.

1. Section 5 of "The Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869," is hereby repealed, save so far as regards any suit which may be pending at the time of the commencement of this Act.

Amendment of section 6 of Act VIII of 1869.

2. For section 6 of "The Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869," the following section shall be substituted:

Right of occupancy of ryot cultivating or holding land for twelve years.

"6. Every ryot who shall have cultivated or held land for a period of twelve years shall have a right of occupancy in the land so cultivated or held by him, whether it be held under pottah or not, so long as he pays the rent payable on account of the same, but this rule does not apply to khamar, neej-jote, or seer land belonging to the proprietor of the estate or tenure, and let by him on lease for a term or year by year. The holding of the father or other person from whom a ryot inherits shall be deemed to be the holding of the ryot within the meaning of this section."

Ryots having rights of occupancy, but not holding at fixed rates, to receive pottahs.

3. Save as provided in the next succeeding section, ryots having rights of occupancy, but not holding at fixed rates as described in sections 3 and 4 of "The Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869," are entitled to receive pottahs at fair and equitable rates. In case of dispute, the rate previously paid by the ryot shall be deemed to be fair and equitable, unless the contrary be shown in a suit by either party under the provisions of this Act.

Principles on which occupancy ryot's rent is to be enhanced in certain cases.

4. When a ryot having a right of occupancy is liable to an enhancement of the rent previously paid by him on the ground that the value of the produce or the productive powers of the land have been increased otherwise than by the agency or at the expense of the ryot, the Court in which a suit may be brought against the said ryot for an enhancement of rent shall either

(a) enhance his rent to such amount as shall be less by twenty-five per centum than the prevailing rate of rent payable by ryots of the same class not having a right of occupancy for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the places adjacent; or

(b) enhance his rent to such amount as shall not be less than fifteen nor more than twenty-five per centum (according to the discretion of the Court) of the value of the gross produce of the land cultivated by the said ryot, calculated on an average of three years next before the institution of the suit:

Provided that no rent shall be enhanced, under the provisions of this section, by an amount exceeding fifty per centum of the rent previously paid by the defendant in the said suit;

Provided also that no ryot shall be entitled to claim, under the provisions of this section, any abatement of the rent previously paid by him.

Collector may be required to certify rate of rent or value of produce.

5. If the rate mentioned in clause (a), or the value mentioned in clause (b), of the last preceding section cannot be ascertained to the satisfaction of the Court, the Court may call upon the Collector in whose jurisdiction the lands are situate to certify the said rate or value to the Court, and the rate or value so certified shall be deemed to be primâ facie correct, and the burden of proving its incorrectness shall lie upon the party who disputes it.

Value of gross produce how to be calculated.

6. In estimating the value of the gross produce, the calculation shall be made on the ordinary staple crops of the district.

When the land is cultivated with crops of a more valuable description than the ordinary staple crops of the district, it shall be liable to an additional assessment not exceeding twice the maximum enhanced rent which might be fixed by the Court if the land were cultivated with any of the ordinary staple crops of the district.

Illustration.

The land in respect of which the enhancement suit is brought is cultivated with sugarcane. If the same land were cultivated with rice, the annual value of the gross produce, calculated on an average of three years next before the institution of the suit, would be Rs. 100, and the Court, in case of an enhancement suit, might fix the rent at twenty per centum of the said value, viz. Rs. 20. The rent of the land in respect of which the enhancement suit is brought may be fixed by the Court at an amount not exceeding Rs. 40.

Suit for re-enhancement not to lie until expiration of ten years.

7. After a decree has been passed under section four, no suit shall lie against the defendant for re-enhancement of his rent on the ground mentioned in the said section until the expiration of ten years from the date of such decree.

Rate of rent in case of enhancement of rent of tenure-holder.

8. When a suit for enhancement of rent is brought against a dependent talookdar or other person possessing a permanent interest in land intermediate between the proprietor of an estate and the ryot, whose rent is not determined by special agreement or by the circumstances of the tenure, and is not exempted from liability to enhancement under the provisions of sections 16 and 17 of "The Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869," the Court shall enhance the rent to such amount as shall be less by ten per centum than the enhanced rate of rent to which a ryot having a right of occupancy and holding land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the places adjacent would be liable under clause (a) of section four.

If arrears of rent are due, notice may be served through Collector.

9. On the application of the person to whom the rent is payable that arrears of rent are due to him from any ryot, the Collector in whose jurisdiction the lands are situate may cause a notice to be served personally, if practicable, on such ryot, requiring him to pay the arrears due, or to appear before the Collector within a time to be specified in the notice, not exceeding two months from the date of the service thereof. If the ryot shall appear in accordance with the notice and shall dispute the correctness of the demand, the Collector shall, on the ryot depositing the amount claimed, or furnishing adequate security for the satisfaction of the demand, refer the parties to the Civil Court. If the person who has made application to the Collector does not institute a suit for the said arrears in the Civil Court within six months from the date of the reference made by the Collector, the ryot may withdraw the amount deposited, or cancel the security, as the case may be.

If the ryot does not pay the arrears due, nor appear before the Collector within the time specified in the notice, the amount claimed shall be deemed to be due as if a decree for the same had been passed by a Civil Court in a suit in which the ryot was the defendant, and the Collector may issue process of execution in the manner prescribed by The Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869, for the execution of decrees by a Civil Court.

If for any reason the notice cannot be served personally upon the ryot, it shall be affixed at his usual place of residence; or if he have no such place of residence in the district in which the land is situate, the mode of service of such notice shall be by affixing it at the mâl cutcherry of such land or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village chowree or chowpal, or at some other conspicuous place in the village in which the land is situate.

10. This Act shall be read with, and taken as part of, The Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

		Eastern Districts
Dacca Div.	18	Dacca, Dec. 11,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are very favourable.
	19	Furreedpore, „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cold, with a few clouds on the 8th and 9th instant. State and prospects of the crops are good. Cholera and fever are both bad in thanas Bhooshna, Palong, Madaripore, Muksoodpore, and Sudderpore.
	20	Backergunge, „ 7, „	Nil (Previous week 2·32 not Nil.)	Weather—Fine and cool. The cutting of the agrahan crop is now general. The pous crop has, it is feared, been more severely damaged in the plains in the interior of the district than was anticipated last week. There is much sickness over most part of the district. Cholera and fever are prevalent in thanas Burrisaul, Backergunge, Jhallokatty, Mendigunge, Gournadi, Gulshakhali, Mirzagunge, Perozepore, Shorupkati, and Motbaria. The health of the inhabitants of thanas Nulchitty, Bowful, and Borumuddin is reported to be good. There is no disease among the cattle anywhere in the district.
	21	Mymensingh. „ 8, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cold. An excellent harvest of the late rice is expected, and the cold-weather crops are promising.
	22	Tipperah, „ 8, „	Nil	Weather—Fine. There will be an average crop.
Chittagong Div.	23	Chittagong, „ 7, „	Nil	Weather—Bright and clear. The paddy crop is being harvested at some places, but the outturn cannot be expected to be good. There was cholera all over the district, and its ravages were frightful. It is now decidedly abating in all places, except Seetacoond.
	24	Noakholly	.....	Return not received.
	25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, Dec. 5, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and pleasant; foggy in the mornings. Cotton is being gathered everywhere. Mustard is being sown in some places; in others the early sown plants are thriving and have flowered.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 7, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops continue fair.
BEHAR.
Patna Div.	26	Patna, Dec. 11,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The rice crop is being fast reaped, and the prospects of the rubbee crops are favorable. Health of the district is good.
	27	Gya, „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and fair. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade reached as high as 76·0. The harvesting of kharreef is still going on, and rubbee continues good and promising.
	28	Shahabad „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. The paddy crop is still being reaped, and the rubbee crops look healthy.
	29	Durbhunga. „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and cool. Dhan is being harvested, and the prospects of the rubbee crops are good.
	30	Mozufferpore, „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable, though perhaps not quite so cold as usual at this time State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory. The harvest of the rice crop is being carried on. A little rain is required for the rubbee crops. Health of the district is good.
	31	Sarun. „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cold. Wind blowing from the west. State and prospects of the crops continue favorable. The aghani rice is being harvested. General health is good.
	32	Champarun. „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable; nice and cool Prospects of the crops are excellent. The aghani rice crop has commenced to be cut
Bhagulpore Div.	33	Monghyr. „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The prospects of the crops continue good.
	34	Bhagulpore, „ 11,* „	Nil	The prospects of all the crops are good. General health is very good.
	35	Purneah, „ 9, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and seasonable. The late rice is being reaped. The rubbee corps are being cultivated, and their prospects are at present good.
	36	Sonthal Pergha.. „ 10, „	Nil	Weather—Very cold. No change. Everything is as good as possible. Cattle disease has disappeared in Deoghur.
ORISSA.
Orissa Div.	37	Cuttack, Dec. 9, '76	Nil	Weather—Clear and cold. The harvesting of the late rice has commenced, and the cold-weather crops are coming on well.
	38	Pooree, „ 8, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The sarad crop is now ready for the sickle, and is already being harvested in many places. The dearness of rice, owing to exportation, is complained of. The traders are preparing for large shipments from False Point. The state of the other crops is good. Few sporadic cases of cholera were reported.
	39	Balasore. „ 8, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and cool. The harvesting of early rice continues satisfactorily.

* Telegrams of the 11th December, received on the same day, show rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

Dated Calcutta, the 25th November 1876.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter from the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta, No. 2005 of 6th November 1876, applying for a loan of Rs. 70,000 for the purpose of improving the river frontage from the northern boundary of the Government Dockyard at Kidderpore to 200 feet north of the Commissariat Jetty at Baloo Ghât.

Whereas it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal that the loan of Rs. 70,000 applied for ought to be granted to the Port Commissioners, it is hereby ordered that the application be published in the Calcutta Gazette as required by the 5th of the rules made by the Governor-General in Council under the Public Works Loan Act of 1871, and published on the 15th October 1873.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 2005, dated Calcutta, the 6th November 1876.

From—The Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

We the undersigned Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta do hereby apply to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for a loan to be granted us under the provisions of Act XXIV of 1871, the Public Works Loan Act. The particulars to be set forth in accordance with the rules published under the aforesaid Act are hereto annexed.

(1) The work for the construction or repair of which the loan is required;

The improvement of the river frontage from the northern boundary of the Government Dockyard at Kidderpore to 200 feet north of the Commissariat Jetty at Baloo Ghât.

and an estimate of the cost thereof.

Rupees 70,000.

(2) The amount of loan applied for.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1875-76, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1877, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 48,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for "the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His "Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests "so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, "and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall "have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of "Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government "by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three "hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to "be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the "intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

No. 3139*P.*—Fort William, the 15*th December* 1876.—Notifications.—Political.—The following Notification, which appeared in the London Gazette of the 27th October 1876, is republished for general information :—

At the Court at Balmoral, the 23*rd* day of October 1876.

PRESENT :

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas Her Majesty the Queen has power and jurisdiction within the dominions of the King of Siam :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in this behalf by the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, 1843 to 1875, and by the Act of the session of the twentieth and twenty-first years of Her Majesty's reign (chapter 75), "to confirm an Order in Council concerning the exercise of jurisdiction in matters arising within the Kingdom of Siam," or otherwise, in her vested, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows :

1. This order may be cited as the Siam (Foreign Jurisdiction) Order in Council of 1876.
2. Words in this Order have the same meaning as in the Order in Council of the 28th day of July 1856, relative to Her Majesty's power and jurisdiction within the Kingdom of Siam (which Order may be cited as the Siam (Foreign Jurisdiction) Order in Council of 1856).

3. Her Majesty's Consul General at Bangkok shall, on receipt of this Order, cause a printed copy thereof to be affixed and publicly exhibited in his Court, and shall cause a printed copy thereof to remain publicly exhibited there for one calendar month; and on the expiration of that month the following provisions of this Order shall commence and have effect.

4. The Siam (Foreign Jurisdiction) Order in Council of 1856 shall, as regards the exercise of jurisdiction by Her Majesty's Consul-General at Bangkok, but not further, be read and have effect as if, in Article 14 thereof, for the words "twelve months" there were substituted the words "three years."

5. Where a British subject, being a native of Her Majesty's Possession of British Burmah, is charged with the commission of a crime or offence, the cognisance whereof appertains to Her Majesty's Consul, and it is in the opinion of Her Majesty's Consul expedient that the crime or offence be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished, within Her Majesty's Dominions, then, notwithstanding anything in the Siam (Foreign Jurisdiction) Order in Council of 1856, the accused may, under section 4 of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act of 1843, be sent for trial, if the Consul thinks fit, to Her Majesty's Possession of British Burmah.

(2.) The Consul may, by warrant under his hand and official seal, cause the accused to be taken for trial to British Burmah accordingly

(3.) The warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and to carry him to and deliver him up at any place in British Burmah, according to the warrant.

And the Right Honorable the Earl of Derby, and the Most Honorable the Marquis of Salisbury, two of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appertain.

C. L. Peel.

No. 3140*P.*—The Honorable the President in Council is pleased to recognize the appointment of Chevalier G. Gallian as Consul-General for Italy at Calcutta.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Monghyr, will be put up to sale at the Monghyr Collectorate on Friday, the 12th January 1877, corresponding with 13th Magh 1284 F.S.

The purchasers of this estate will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

(1) The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, with the revenue fixed upon the estate, in perpetuity.

(2) The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and the purchaser to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

(3) If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

(4) If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

POSTAL NOTICES.

Reduction of Passenger Fares on the Darjeeling Line.

IT has been determined further to reduce the fares upon this line. On and after the 1st December therefore the rates charged will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For an express or special carriage ...	60	0	0
One inside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	30	0	0

The above charges are for the entire journey from Karagola to Silligori or vice versâ.

The mileage charge will be reduced in proportion, i.e. an express carriage will be charged for at the rate of 8 annas a mile, an inside seat in an ordinary, 4 annas a mile, and a seat on the mail-cart 2 annas.

As it has been reported that it was the intention of Government to close this line at once, it is hereby notified that if the monthly returns shew that it is extensively used by the public, it will be kept running until the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE first Part of the "Indian Law Reports," published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, will appear as soon after the 1st January 1876 as can be arranged for. The Reports will appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series. The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports, should apply to—

Messrs. Thacker, Spink and Co., Calcutta;
„ Thacker, Vining and Co.,
„ Higginbotham and Co., Madras;
The Government Central Book Depôt, Bombay;
The Government Book Depôt, Allahabad.

The publication of the Bengal Law Reports and the Madras, Bombay, and N. W. P. High Court Reports will cease on the completion of the volumes now in course of publication.

Subscribers to the Bengal Law Reports, who have already paid their subscriptions to the end of June 1876, will be supplied with the complete set of Reports for the first half of 1876 in lieu of the volume of the Bengal Law Reports which they would otherwise have received.

☞ The following books may be had from the office of Superintendent, Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street. No orders can be attended to, unless accompanied by a remittance. When postage stamps are forwarded, one anna additional should be sent for every rupee's worth of stamps for discount in exchanging them for cash. Service labels are not received.

Books required on the public service are only supplied when authorized by the Department under whose orders they are published.

PART IV.

Bill of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as amended by them, is, by order of the President, published for general information:—

We, the undersigned members of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to whom the Bill to amend the Court of Wards' Act, 1870, was referred, have the honor to make the following report.

We have received and considered a communication from Baboo Shoshee Booshun Mookerjee, Government Pleader, Bhagulpore.

In the Bill as referred to us the word "minor" was defined to mean a person under the age of twenty-one years, in view of the provisions of the Indian Majority Act, 1875. But as it was apprehended that this change would not enable the Court to take charge of the estate of a proprietor who has already attained majority under the Indian Majority Act, we have now omitted the definition of "minor," and substituted another form of words in those sections of the Court of Wards' Act in which the word "minor" occurs.

We have added to the list of disqualified proprietors—

(1) Proprietors of entire estates declared by the Court on their own application to be disqualified from managing their estates;

(2) Any member of a ward's family who may have an immediate interest in the ward's estate, who is under the age of twenty-one, and has no legal guardian; with the provisoes, in the case of clause (1), that the proprietor cannot compel the Court to give him back his estate until after the expiration of five years, and that the Court shall be bound to give it back to him at the end of five years if he makes an application in that behalf. In the case of clause (2), we have provided that the member of the ward's family therein described is to be removed from the superintendence of the Court as soon as the ward himself ceases to be under its superintendence.

We have deemed it advisable to enact that wards of Court shall not be competent to create any charge upon their property without the sanction of the Court, and that their property shall not be taken in execution of decrees made in respect of contracts entered into by them.

We have provided that wards' estates shall not be leased in putnee by the Court unless such a lease is considered absolutely necessary for the protection of the estate, and receives the express sanction of the Board of Revenue and the Lieutenant-Governor.

We have limited the amount to be expended on improvements of a ward's estate to five per cent. of the surplus remaining after payment of the ward's allowance, the charges of management, the Government revenue, and the outstanding debts. This percentage is only to be exceeded when, in the opinion of the Court, subject to the express sanction of the Board of Revenue and the Lieutenant-Governor, it is absolutely necessary for the protection of the estate to spend a larger sum. When the ward is a widow entitled to the estate for her life only by virtue of the will of her deceased husband or otherwise, the whole of the surplus will be paid to her.

We have allowed suits for arrears of rent to be brought on behalf of a ward if authorized by an order of the manager or sub-manager in charge of the estate.

The Bill as read in Council made arrears of rent, which are due from tenure-holders, and which accrued before the estate came under the charge of the Court, leviable as demands under Bengal Act VII of 1868. We have declared that this provision is not to apply to arrears of rent enhanced after issue of notice under the rent law, but of which the enhancement has not been confirmed by any competent court.

AMENDED BILL.

A Bill to amend the Court of Wards' Act, 1870.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Court of Wards' Act, 1870: It is enacted as follows:—

Definition of minor repealed.

1. So much of section one as relates to the definition of "minor" is hereby repealed.

Amendment of section 2.

2. For section two the following section shall be substituted:—

Estates of disqualified proprietors not subject to sale.

"2. All proprietors of entire estates (other than proprietors who are subject to the jurisdiction as respects infants and lunatics of a High Court) who are, or may be, females not deemed by the court competent to the management of their own estates, or who are, or may be, under the age of twenty-one;

all sons of such females who are, or may be, under the age of twenty-one;

all joint proprietors of entire estates held in common tenancy who are, or may be, under the age of twenty-one;

all proprietors of entire estates who for the time being are, or may be, of unsound mind, or otherwise incapable of managing their affairs by reason of any disqualifying natural or acquired defect or infirmity;

all proprietors of entire estates declared by the Court on their own application to be disqualified from managing their estates;

any member of a ward's family who may have an immediate interest in the ward's estate, who is, or may be, under the age of twenty-one, and who has no legal guardian shall be subject to the superintendence and jurisdiction of the Court of Wards: provided that no estate of a proprietor declared disqualified by the Court on his own application shall, unless the Court shall think fit, be discharged from such superintendence and jurisdiction until after five years from the date of such proprietor becoming a ward of the Court, but at the expiration of the said five years the Court shall be bound, on the application of the proprietor in that behalf, to discharge such estate from its superintendence and jurisdiction: provided also that the Court shall discharge any such member of a ward's family from its superintendence and jurisdiction as soon as the estate of the ward ceases to be under the said superintendence and jurisdiction.

All estates, the property of any such disqualified proprietors, when taken charge of by the Court of Wards, shall, whilst they shall be under the superintendence and jurisdiction of the Court, be exempt from sale for arrears of revenue.

Provided, however, that all arrears of revenue shall be the first charge upon the proceeds of such estates in case the same may be sold for any other cause while under such superintendence and jurisdiction."

New sections after section 5.

3. After section five the following sections shall be inserted:—

Disabilities of proprietors.

"5A. Proprietors whose property is under the charge of the Court shall not be competent to create, without the sanction of the Court, any charge upon, or interest in, such property or any part thereof.

Property of proprietors exempt from being taken in execution of certain decrees.

"5B. No such property shall be liable to be taken in execution of a decree made in respect of any contract entered into by any such person while his property is under the charge of the Court."

Amendment of sections 6, 7, 9, 22, 23, and 31.

4. For sections six, seven, nine, twenty-two, twenty-three, and thirty-one, the following sections shall be substituted:—

Power to refuse to admit ward.

"6. It shall be lawful for the Court, if it shall think fit, by an order under the seal thereof, to refuse to admit any such disqualified proprietor as aforesaid to be a ward thereof, or by like order, and with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, to discharge any estate from the Court's further superintendence and jurisdiction. Provided, however, that no estate, the sole property of a person under the age of twenty-one, or of two or more such persons, and descended to him or them by the regular course of inheritance or by virtue of the will of some deceased owner thereof, shall, until such person or some one or more of such persons shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, be sold for arrears of revenue accruing subsequently to his or their succession to the same: Provided, also, that all arrears of revenue shall be the first charge upon the proceeds of such estate in case the same may be sold while such proprietor is disqualified. But the revenue authorities shall, on an arrear so accruing, be authorized to farm the estate for a period not exceeding ten years, nor exceeding the time when such person or one of such persons shall have attained the age of twenty-one years. Provided, further, that the Court may by a further order rescind any such order and make such disqualified proprietor a ward of the Court. The exemption from sale for arrears of revenue, given by this section, shall only apply to cases where due notice shall have been given to the Collector, and been acknowledged by him before the sale, of the fact that the estate is the sole property of a person under the age of twenty-one years, or the property of two or more such persons.

Application of proceeds of farmed estate.

"7. When an estate shall have been farmed under the provisions of the last preceding section, the proceeds of such farm shall be paid to the Collector, and the Collector, after the deduction of the amount of the claims of the Government for revenue, shall, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, either pay the same to the person authorized to receive it for the ward, or shall dispose of it for the ward's benefit in any of the modes mentioned in section forty-nine.

Power to manage estates

"9. It shall be competent to the Court to manage estates and other lands falling under their charge, either by appointment of a manager, or by giving some or all of the estates and lands in farm, or by adopting such other form of management as may to the said Court seem most expedient. But no lease or farm shall, except under the sanction of the Board of Revenue, be given for a term exceeding ten years, nor exceeding the time when the ward shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and no estate shall be leased in putnee unless, in the opinion of the Court, subject to the express sanction of the Board of Revenue and the Lieutenant-Governor, such a lease is absolutely necessary for the protection of the estate.

"Provided that all leases given by the Court, or by the Collector acting for the Court, or by the manager, shall become null and void on the removal of the estate from the superintendence of the Court for whatever cause, save leases made with such sanction as aforesaid.

Inquiry in case of minors.

"22. If any proprietor who is not subject to the jurisdiction, as respects infants, of a High Court of Judicature, shall be reported to be under the age of twenty-one, the Court shall direct the Collector to proceed to inquire into the age of such proprietor, and for that purpose the Collector shall have power to require the production in person of such proprietor, if a male, and of all documents from which the truth of such matter may appear, and to take evidence of witnesses upon oath or solemn affirmation. The Collector shall record such evidence, and report thereupon, and shall submit such report and all evidence taken by him to the Court. The Court shall thereupon make an order declaring the age of such proprietor, and such order shall be final and conclusive for all the purposes of this Act. The Court shall retain all documentary evidence filed with such report until the proprietor shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, unless, upon an application made thereto, it shall see fit to allow any such document to be restored to the owner thereof.

Production of minor and order for his temporary custody.

"23. The Collector may direct that any person having the unlawful custody or being unlawfully in possession of the person of any ward under the age of twenty-one shall produce him or her before the Collector on a day fixed by him, and may make such order for the temporary custody and protection of such ward as may appear proper. In the event of disobedience to his orders under this section, the Collector may impose a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and a daily fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, until the production of the person of such ward. In the case of a female ward she shall not be brought into Court.

Collector to report particulars of estates of disqualified persons.

"31. Every Collector in charge of a ward shall forthwith report to the Court in charge of such ward the condition of such ward, the particulars of his property, real and personal, so far as the same can be ascertained, and the persons who respectively may appear to be most eligible to be appointed manager and guardian, with the grounds of such opinion. Provided always that when a guardian of a ward under the age of twenty-one shall have been appointed by will, such person shall be appointed guardian by the Court, unless the Board of Revenue, after a report received from the Court, and after calling on the testamentary guardian to show cause, shall consider him disqualified or unfit."

Proviso to section 45.

5. To section forty-five the following proviso shall be added—

"Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may at any time declare any manager to be no longer subordinate to the Collector, and may order him to be directly subordinate to the Court or to the Board of Revenue."

Proviso and clause to section 49.

6. To section forty-nine the following proviso and clause shall be added:—

"Provided that the amount so expended shall not exceed five per centum of the said surplus, unless, in the opinion of the Court, subject to the express sanction of the Board of Revenue and the Lieutenant-Governor, it is absolutely necessary for the protection of the estate to expend an amount exceeding such percentage.

"If the ward is a widow entitled to the estate for her life only by virtue of the will of her deceased husband or otherwise, such surplus shall, if no such debts as aforesaid be outstanding, be paid to such ward."

Addition to section 56.

7. To section fifty-six the following words shall be added—

"Except as provided in section thirty-one, no guardian shall be appointed in any case in which the court may consider such appointment necessary."

Amendment of sections 64, 65, 66, 72, 74, and 75.

8. For sections sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, seventy-two, seventy-four, and seventy-five, the following sections shall be substituted—

Education of wards under the age of twenty-one.

"64. The general superintendence and control of the education of every ward under the age of twenty-one is hereby vested in the Court.

Residence of such wards.

"65. It shall be lawful for the Court to direct that any such ward, if a male, shall reside either with or apart from his guardian at the sudder station of the district or at any other place approved of by the Board of Revenue, and shall attend, for the purposes of education, such school or college as to the Board of Revenue may seem expedient, or be educated either at his own home or elsewhere by a private tutor, and to make such provision as may be necessary for the proper care and suitable maintenance of the said ward whilst attending such school or college.

Expenses of educating such wards.

"66. All charges and expenses which may be incurred on account of any such ward under the provisions of this Act for college or school fees, or for other charges of tuition or education, or by reason of his residence in any place other than his own home, or otherwise, shall be defrayed from the profits of the property.

Suits not to be brought on behalf of minors.

"72. No suit shall be brought on behalf of any ward unless the same be authorized by some order of the Collector under whose superintendence the estate of such ward may be, or, if the Lieutenant-Governor has, under section forty-five, declared the manager of the estate of such ward to be directly subordinate to the Court or to the Board of Revenue, then by some order of the Court or the Board of Revenue as the case may be. Provided that suits for arrears of rent may be brought on behalf of a ward if authorized by an order of the manager or submanager in whose charge the estate may be. Provided also that nothing herein shall be deemed or taken to apply to any suit instituted or depending in the High Court.

"74. No adoption by any ward and no written or verbal permission to adopt given by any ward is to be deemed valid without the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor, obtained either previously or subsequently to such adoption or to the giving of such permission, on application made to him through the Court and Board of Revenue.

Adoption by ward invalid without consent of Lieutenant-Governor.

"75. Farmers and others holding tenures in estates in charge of the Court under the Collector (whether such tenures were created before the estate came under the charge of the Court or by the Collector after the estate came under such charge), shall be subject to the same rules, regulations, and Acts as are applicable to other persons holding similar tenures and interests under Collectors of the land revenue; but when the farm is held from the manager, these rules, regulations, and Acts shall not apply.

Tenures of wards' estates under Collector.

"All arrears of rent due to the Collector from farmers and others holding tenures in estates in charge of the Court which accrued before the estate came under the charge of the Court, shall be deemed to be demands under section 1 of Bengal Act VII of 1868 (an Act to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of land revenue), and shall be leviable as such."

The last preceding clause does not apply to arrears of rent enhanced after issue of notice under section 13 of Act X of 1859, or under section 14 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, but of which the enhancement has not been confirmed by any competent Court.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor may order that the cost of superintendence of all estates under the charge of the Court shall be defrayed from a general contribution to be levied from such estates in such proportions as the Board of Revenue may direct

Cost of superintendence of wards' estates

The cost of superintendence of such estates shall be deemed to be (a) the cost of any establishments which may be entertained by the Collector, the Court, or the Board of Revenue for the purposes of such superintendence;

(b) the cost of any clerks who may be employed in the office of the Legal Remembrancer for the purpose of superintending suits in which the Court is concerned;

and shall include, in the case of wards' estates situated in Behar, the salary of the Deputy Commissioner of wards' estates in Behar.

"Section" defined

10. In this Act "section" means section of the said Court of Wards' Act, 1870.

Commencement of Act.

11. This Act shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

Present

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, presiding,
The Hon'ble V. H. Schalch, C.S.I.,
The Hon'ble G. C. Paul, Acting Advocate-General,
The Hon'ble H. J. Reynolds,
The Hon'ble H. Bell,

The Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter, Rai Bahadoor,
The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal,

The Hon'ble G. Parbury

JUTE WAREHOUSES AND FIRE-BRIGADES.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bell moved that the Bill to amend the Jute Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act, 1872, and Bengal Act II of 1875, be read in Council. He had explained to the Council last Saturday the object of this Bill, which was merely to transfer to the present Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta the duties which, under the Jute Warehouse Acts of 1872 and 1875, had been performed by the Justices of the Peace. This transfer was rendered necessary because the Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta had ceased to exist as a corporate body, and it was necessary that their successors, the present Municipal Commissioners, should now undertake the duties which their predecessors, the Justices, had formerly performed. The Bill was merely a formal one, and he did not think that it called for any further remarks from him.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. BELL applied to the President to suspend the Rules for the conduct of business, to enable him to move that the Bill be passed.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT having suspended the Rules,—

The HON'BLE MR. BELL, in moving that the Bill be passed, observed that he did not think there would be any objection to the passing of a Bill which was so merely formal. It was very necessary that the Bill should be passed at once, because there was no one at present responsible for the duties which had been imposed upon the Justices of the Peace by the Jute Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Acts, and it was therefore very desirable that the Bill should be passed without any unnecessary delay.

The motion was agreed to and the Bill was then passed.

PUBLIC FERRIES.

THE HON'BLE MR. BELL said that before the Council adjourned he would ask permission to mention one subject. On the 20th November last a committee was appointed to consider the Bill to amend the law relating to public ferries, and the committee was instructed to report within one month. In consequence of the approaching holidays, the committee would be unable to present their report within the time appointed, and he would therefore ask that an additional month be granted to the committee.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJUSTMENT OF RENTS.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT was sorry to state that they had not yet been able to introduce the Rent Bill. The Bill had been drafted, but they had not yet received the requisite assent to its introduction from the Secretary of State; but in the meantime the Bill which had been prepared had been submitted for consideration to the best informed local authorities.

The Council was adjourned to a day of which notice would be given.

STATISTICAL ACCOUNT OF BENGAL.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—STATISTICS—No. 4045.

Calcutta, the 19th December 1876.

From—H. J. S COTTON, ESQ., Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—W. W. HUNTER, ESQ., LL.D., Director-General of Statistics to the Govt. of India.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 367, dated 16th November 1876, in which you submit a full report showing the progress that has been made in the compilation of the statistical account of Bengal and of the prospects of the work.

2. You show that the whole of this important literary work has been prepared and will have been sent to press before the expiration of the twenty-three months which were allotted in the Lieutenant-Governor's Minute of the 8th January 1875 for the completion of the work. Twelve volumes have been already printed off, and are either published or ready for publication; five other volumes are printed off in part, and three are now being set up in print. The statistical account of Bengal will be a series of twenty volumes, containing from 7,000 to 8,000 pages of close type. The whole of the labour of compiling this work will have been completed within twenty-three months, and it appears that the cost of compilation will not exceed, but will even be less than the sum of £5,450, which was the limit of expenditure sanctioned in His Honor's Minute.

3. Sir Richard Temple cannot but regard these results with high satisfaction. He regards them as eminently creditable to you. Every volume of the statistical accounts has passed under his own personal supervision, and he is able therefore to testify to the quality of the work. The thanks of the Government of Bengal are emphatically due to you for the vigour and energy with which you have accomplished the collection of such diverse and varied information, and for the ability and literary skill which you have uniformly displayed in dealing with, sifting, analysing, and arranging materials supplied to you from so many quarters.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are also accorded to the assistants who have laboured under your directions in compiling several of the accounts. The names of Mr. J. S. Cotton, late Fellow and Lecturer of Queen's College, Oxford, Mr. H. H. Risley, of the Bengal Civil Service, and Mr. C. A. Dollman, are especially mentioned in your letter. I am to request that you will communicate to each of these gentlemen an expression of the Lieutenant-Governor's thanks and approbation of their work.

5. It only remains that the Lieutenant-Governor should record his further acknowledgments to the district and sub-divisional officers under the Government of Bengal, who, with great personal trouble, have supplied, from their local knowledge and resources, the detailed information on which the whole of the statistical account of Bengal is necessarily based. The active co-operation of all officers in Bengal has, as you fully acknowledge, at all times been cordially extended to you in your enquiries. There is thus, as it were, a peculiar interest already felt in the several Bengal districts in the compilation of your work, and the publication of the remaining volumes, which cannot but enhance this feeling, is anxiously awaited. The Lieutenant-Governor congratulates you and your assistants, and the district officers of Bengal generally, on the successful completion of the statistical account of the Bengal Province.

No. 367, dated Edinburgh, the 16th November 1876.

From—W. W. HUNTER, ESQ., LL.D., Director-General of Statistics to the Govt. of India,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Dept.

I HAVE the honor to report that the compilation of the last district of the statistical account of Bengal was finished on the 14th instant, and that all the twenty volumes are either printed off, or now in the printer's hands.

2. The tabular statement appended shows the precise stage which each volume has reached in the press. It will be observed that, of the twenty volumes, twelve are altogether printed off, and either published or ready for publication; other five volumes are printed off in part; and three remain in process of being printed. Under telegraphic instructions from the Government of India, I continue my establishment in this country while I proceed to India on my tour as Director-General of Statistics; so that the proof-sheets will be revised and forwarded to the Government of Bengal for sanction without interruption or delay. The indices and title-pages, &c., of the remaining volumes will be prepared as soon as complete sets of the sheets can be obtained from the printers.

3. The work thus concluded contains the results of a statistical survey executed district by district throughout the provinces which constitute the Lieutenant-Governorship of Bengal. It deals with a population of 62½ millions, being about one-third of the whole people of British India, and comprising races as varied in character as, and more numerous than, the populations of England, Scotland, Ireland, Norway, Holland, Greece, Turkey in Europe, Roumania, Servia, Australia, Canada, and all the non-Indian colonies or dependencies of the British Crown put together.* I commenced the work under the orders of the Government in 1869, issued six elaborate series of inquiries to the district officers, and obtained the co-operation of the heads of the various departments of the Administration. The collection of the local materials and my personal perambulation of the districts occupied the next five years, 1870-74. During the latter portion of that period I made some progress with the compilation and printing of the district accounts from the materials thus collected. But, in 1874, as the magnitude of the undertaking disclosed itself, the Government of India found that a saving of over £10,000 could be effected by getting the compilation and printing done at the English market rates at home. In 1875 the Government of Bengal also accepted this view. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor decided that I should proceed to England with a view to carrying out the compilation and printing; and, at the same time, he gave me local assistance for the first time in checking, amplifying, and compiling the materials which I had collected. Up to that year I had had no paid local aid whatever in the districts, and my whole establishment consisted of one English and one Native assistant in my house. Under Sir Richard Temple's orders five young civil servants were in 1875 deputed for fifteen months to help me in the districts; and the Bengal Government assumed the responsibility in a more direct manner for the scope and execution of the work. The portions already compiled were revised by His Honor, and, as regards much of the labour, have practically been done over again.

4. Under His Honor's Minute of the 8th January 1875, twenty-three months were assigned for the compilation and printing of the work. This period began to run on the 1st March 1875, and expires on the 31st January 1877. In previous letters I have laid before His Honor, at brief intervals, the progress made; and I had the pleasure, on the 14th of this month, to report that the concluding page of the last district was on that day written. It will be wholly in type some weeks before the end of the twenty-three months. As the sheets of each volume were placed before His Honor, and have passed under the official revision of his Government, it is unnecessary for me to enter upon the contents of the work. I have endeavoured, with the assistance and encouragement which Sir Richard Temple has afforded, to make the account of Bengal a complete official hand-book for the administration of each district and province under His Honor's Government. I have also laboured to render it, so far as my opportunities permitted, a great national record, such as modern enquirers might have wished the English Domesday book to have been, and such as the oriental student would fain have found in the Ain-i-Akbari. If I have obtained any measure of success in this two-fold effort, it is due to the unfailing help which I have derived at every juncture from the Lieutenant-Governor and the officers of the Government of Bengal. In the more immediate compilation of the work, I beg to record the great obligations which I lie under to Mr. J. S. Cotton, late Fellow and Lecturer of Queen's College, Oxford; Mr. H. H. Risley, of the Bengal Civil Service; and Mr. C. A. Dollman. It should be remembered that I have been precluded from any inquiries which might create suspicions of change, or fear of new taxation, in the mind of the people. At the period when my investigations commenced, the popular mind had become morbidly sensitive on these points. I am thankful to state that not one complaint has been made regarding my inquiries, either in the Native or European Press, or, so far as I know, to the Government, or to any of its officers. Much interesting information has necessarily been excluded as unsuitable in a work issued under the direct responsibility of the Government.

5. The finished work will make twenty volumes, containing from 7,000 to 8,000 pages of close type. The accomplishment of this vast mass of printing within the allotted period of twenty-three months has formed a subject of anxious thought. Five separate printing establishments, including some of the largest in Great Britain, have been kept simultaneously at work, and a steady flow of proof-sheets has in this way been maintained. The sheets have first been carefully revised in this office, then forwarded to the Government of Bengal for further revision, and on their return from India, revised by myself a third time before being finally printed off. The delay involved by sending them out to Calcutta has been reduced as much as possible by the promptitude with which the Government revision was effected. But it rendered it necessary to keep a large body of type standing, amounting at times to over 3,500 pages. I am glad to be able to report that neither in the business arrangements, nor in any other part of the undertaking, has a single misunderstanding or dispute of the slightest sort arisen from first to last. The Secretary of State has exercised a strict supervision over the outlay, requiring all rates or contracts to be first submitted to him for sanction, and all expenditure to be checked and audited in the India Office.

6. The cost of finishing the work in India was estimated by the Government of India at £17,000. The cost of finishing it in England, allowing a period of thirty months, was estimated by that Government in 1874 at £7,000, for a work aggregating about 5,000 pages, and bringing down the statistics only as far as 1871-72. Under Sir Richard Temple's orders the period for completing the work in England was curtailed to twenty-three months, and the sum allowed for doing it was reduced to £5,450; the work itself has been increased to about 8,000 pages, and important sections of the materials and statistics have been brought down from 1872 as far as March 1876. The labour of compilation and printing was thus nearly doubled under His Honor's scheme, while the time and money allowed for accomplishing it were both seriously diminished. The accounts cannot be completed until the expiry of the twenty-three months on January 31st; but, so far as I can foresee, His Honor's reduced allowance will not be exceeded. The appended statement of account up to date shows that there will even be a surplus, amounting to about two per cent. on the sanctioned estimates.

* According to the Almanach de Gotha for 1875.

(1). The expenditure under headings (c) and (d) in column 4 shows the actual outlay up to November 15th, with the estimated contingencies from November 16th to November 30th.

(2). The expenditure under headings (c) and (d) in column 5 is estimated upon the telegram lately received from the Government of India, authorising the continuance of my office establishment in England for the purposes of the Imperial Gazetteer The cost of returning the records to India, and of Mr. Dollman's passage back, is therefore not included. These items would have absorbed the saving, so that the original estimates have proved, under the circumstances then contemplated, to be absolutely accurate.

Director-General of Statistics.

ADDITIONAL REMARKS ON THE EFFECT OF THE CYCLONE AND STORM-WAVE IN THE SUNDEEP GROUP OF ISLANDS ON 31st OCTOBER 1876.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 15th December 1876.

THE description of the storm-wave in Backergunge and Noacolly, and its effects, as given in my Minute of the 21st ultimo, referred more particularly to Noacolly proper, to Hattea, and to the Backergunge district, but not so much to the Sundeep group of islands (belonging to Noacolly) which I had not been able to inspect personally. On the 19th of November I deputed Mr. F. H. Pellew, of the Civil Service, to the Sundeep group of islands, he being an officer specially experienced in relief operations elsewhere, and also having formerly served in Eastern Bengal. He has now returned from his deputation, and I wish to record briefly my impressions regarding the Sundeep group of islands after conferring with him.

2. The Sundeep islands differ in some respects from those of the other islands which I described in my Minute of the 21st ultimo. Being of older formation, the ground in Sundeep proper is somewhat higher towards the centre. The habitations, instead of being scattered in little hamlets, are towards the centre collected into large villages well protected by trees, and (what was very important) having large tanks with high banks round them. Consequently, although towards the shores of the islands the people were swept off exactly in the manner I previously described, yet towards the middle they for the most part escaped, as the wave was not relatively quite so high, and the trees were more efficiently protective, apparently checking the rapidity of the wave, and allowing the poor people a few minutes of time, during which they crowded on to the banks of the tanks, and so kept their heads above water. On the outer villages towards the shores the mortality was quite as sad as anything that has been reported. In the inland villages it was fortunately less.

3. On the other hand, the storm-waves here came from the south, that is from seawards, and receding left the tanks and other drinking water brackish (instead of being fresh, as was happily the case in Hattea and in Backergunge), and caused the stagnant water, remaining after the wave had passed, to be fœtid. Thus cholera set in soon after the first disaster. Then on the 23rd November there came a storm of wind and rain (the ghost, as it is called, of the cyclone), suddenly lowering the temperature of the atmosphere and sorely chilling the houseless people. This fresh misfortune aggravated the choleraic plague. Thus Mr. Pellew found the people in a state of deep depression. It seemed as if the survivors of the cyclone-wave would slowly perish by pestilence. Every arrangement which forethought could suggest had been begun by the local authorities, and has been carried out further by Mr. Pellew. Native medical officers with medicines have been stationed at appropriate places. Additional Assistant Surgeons have been despatched from Calcutta. The Sanitary Commissioner, Dr. Coates, was deputed to Chittagong during November; he is already at work on these islands. The cholera is abating in the north part of the islands, but is still bad in the south, and there is no knowing when it will cease there. Wherever the cholera has abated, there the people are rebuilding their houses, and rehabilitating themselves altogether. They have supplies of food, also a fair crop on the ground; but the reaping and harvesting is delayed, because the cultivators are tending their sick and burying their dead. In one part of the island there is a Government estate; in another part an estate under the Court of Wards. There will be no difficulty in making advances to distressed cultivators. These will be needed, as the destruction of the cattle was almost total and absolute. The plundering and other attempts at mischief have been stopped.

4. The estimate now given of mortality in the Sundeep group of islands differs somewhat from that given in my Minute of the 21st November. Out of a population of 87,000, I understood that 40,000 had perished in the catastrophe. Mr. Pellew makes out that not more than 25,000 perished at first, but that several thousands have since died from the effects of the catastrophe, and some thousands are still dying. He fears that, before this sad affair is ended, the mortality will fully equal the higher estimate of 40,000.

5. I here cite a few remarkable facts extracted from Mr. Pellew's notes:—

"The people in the villages on the south-western coast stated that the inundation commenced with a wave at least six feet high, which burst over the land from the south-east. Very shortly after another wave, six feet higher, came from the south-west. These waves came suddenly, just like the bore, mounting up and curling over. The second wave is described as lifting the roofs of the houses, and whirling the contents—human beings with furniture, &c.—violently outside. The mat walls with their wooden posts were swept away, the latter being either broken off short, or wrested out of the ground. All this was done suddenly; people described it to me as occurring in one second of time. Behind each wave the water did not fall again, but remained, so that after the second wave there was twelve feet of water over the land.

"In the centre of the island the water came up less suddenly. The Government Pleader at Hurrishpore was taking refuge from the storm in his new cutcherry. Suddenly an alarm was raised that the water was coming. He got on the wooden dais, but the water immediately covered this. He then went, up to his neck in water, along a raised path, to the bank of his tank, which is about 12 feet high; he told me that the rising of the water did not take longer than two minutes from first to last, and that he was only just in time. The bank of the tank was not more than 10 yards from his cutcherry. I saw the place myself. This was in Hurrishpore, the most central village.

"In the village of Nyamustee one man was the sole survivor of 13; 4 men were the survivors of a household of 25. The women have perished in immense numbers. Most of the men who remain are wifeless.

"In Kangalee Chur (an island of Sundeep) the Sub-Inspector found nothing but two wild buffaloes alive, and the corpses of men, cows, and buffaloes.

"In Chur Moolavee, out of 177 people, 137 died.

"In some villages along the west coast of Sundeep, out of a population of 2,460 people, 784 were drowned."

6. As regards cholera, Mr. Pellew writes—

"The mortality generally in South Sundeep threatens to exceed the mortality from the inundation. The returns for 33 beats (with a population of 10,855 souls) give the deaths by drowning as 1,063, whereas those from cholera in the same tract have already amounted to 764.

"In Gachooa 111 people have died in a population of 1,033. In Dublaphar 83 have died in a population of 236. In Amanulla 84 have died in a population of 692. The greatest mortality from cholera is in the central portions of the islands, where the mortality from the inundation was comparatively trifling."

7. Mr. Pellew expresses himself as unable to suggest any protective works as against storm-waves in future. The old embankments round parts of the island which did exist only made matters worse on this occasion.

8. The thanks of Government are due to Mr. Pellew (who very properly volunteered for the duty) for his exertions in this sadly important case. I am sure that his visit and inspection must have been of great service to the suffering people. He makes a very favorable report regarding the exertions (under trying circumstances) of Baboo Umakanth Doss, Deputy Magistrate, whose services will be duly remembered by me.

RICHARD TEMPLE.

INTRODUCTION OF THE VILLAGE CHOWKEEDAREE ACT INTO CHUMPARUN.

POLICE.—No. 4630.

Calcutta, 18th December 1876.

From—J. CRAWFURD, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 532J. of the 30th ultimo, with its enclosure, from Mr. Hewitt, the Magistrate of Chumparun, submitting his final report on the introduction of the Village Chowkeedaree Act into that district.

2. In reply, I am to state that the Lieutenant-Governor is very much satisfied to observe that the Act has been extended to all the villages in the district which were liable to assessment, and that the results have been most successful. His Honor has desired me to convey his thanks to Mr. Hewitt for the very careful and energetic manner in which he has introduced the Act. A copy of the correspondence will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor has also perused with much interest the excellent circular which has been issued by Mr. Hewitt for the guidance of sub-divisional and police officers in carrying out the provisions and intentions of the Act. A copy of this circular will be forwarded separately to each Magistrate, with directions to promulgate similar orders on the subject.

No. 532J., dated Bankipore, the 30th November 1876.

From—S. C. BAYLEY, Esq., C.S.I., Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

IN continuation of my letter No. 507J. of the 16th instant, I have the honor to forward, for the information of Government, copy of a letter from the Magistrate of Chumparun, No. 1378, dated 24th idem, reporting on the introduction of the Village Chowkeedaree Act in his district.

The Act has, it will be observed, been extended to one and all the villages which were liable to assessment, and the results have been as satisfactory as could be wished.

I commend to the notice of Government the care and energy with which Mr. Hewitt has introduced the Act, and I have no doubt that, with his zealous supervision, the Act will be a success.

No. 1378, dated Motiharee, the 24th November 1876.

From—J. F. K. HEWITT, Esq., Magistrate of Chumparun,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

WITH reference to your No. 326J., dated 16th November 1876, I have the honor to submit a copy of my final report on the introduction of the Village Chowkeedaree Act; with a statement showing the number of villages into which the Act has been introduced, and to state that I do not propose to introduce the Act into any more villages, as it has been introduced everywhere throughout the populous parts of the district, and I do not think it advisable to introduce it in the sparsely inhabited tracts in Ramnuggur and the north-west frontier of the district.

2. In reply to the second paragraph of your letter under reference, I have to inform you that on the whole I believe the chowkeedars have in most cases been regularly paid by the punchayets, as special inquiries are made on that point when the chowkeedars report themselves at the thanas.

3. Complaints of non-payment have been up to date made in 147 instances, and, excepting 25 cases still pending under inquiry, in all the rest there has been no difficulty experienced in getting the money paid.

4. In conclusion, I can only say that the Act works excellently in this district, and is a great improvement upon former arrangements.

No. 625, dated Motiharee, the 25th May 1876.

From—J. F. K. HEWITT, Esq., Magistrate of Chumparun,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I HAVE the honor herewith to forward the following report upon the introduction of the Chowkeedaree Act (Act VI, B.C., of 1870) into this district.

2. Immediately on the receipt of your letter No. 193J., dated 2nd July 1875, containing the Government orders for the introduction of the Act, I prepared an abstract of its provision, which I had printed, and called upon all landholders and ticoadars to furnish me with lists of the persons of punchayets in each village. I had registers of the villages in each thana prepared in the form recommended in Mr. Bayley's letter No. 208J., dated the 19th July 1875.

3. By the beginning of November these registers were completed, the names of the members of punchayets entered, and the other columns filled up, and on the 2nd of that month I started on a tour through the sudder sub-division with the object of introducing the Act. I arranged my camps beforehand, and had the putwarees and punchayets of each village summoned to attend the camp nearest to their villages on the date fixed for my visit.

4. I then went carefully through the columns of the register with each punchayet, and in all cases—and they were many—where I found that the punchayets named only represented one or two tolias out of a village, while there were one or more left unrepresented, or when I found the punchayets too manifestly made up of a caste clique, I inquired from the villagers the persons best fitted to be members, and corrected the lists, serving notices upon those newly appointed to the office, and in no instances have I found members who neglected to act. Every item of the register was tested and, where necessary, corrected by myself, and I believe that the punchayets, as constituted, represent as fairly as possible the best men of the village. Under any circumstances it is impossible to get men who can be relied upon to act fairly, but the men who are most likely to do so have been generally selected, and I have taken care that the wealthy men should be represented, as well as those who owe their superiority chiefly to their caste.

5. After correcting the lists of members of the punchayets, I next proceeded to appoint the chowkeedars as chosen by the punchayets from those who had formerly served, for their number was reduced almost everywhere. It was in the appointment of the chowkeedars that the union difficulty cropped up. There were many villages found which were too small to support a chowkeedar, and it was found frequently necessary to form two or more of these villages into unions. In forming these, care was taken that the villages should be close together, and that local prejudices should be consulted; the objections of the punchayets were heard, and those most likely to pull well together finally united.

6. When settling each village, orders were given to the putwarees and members of the punchayets to file in my office lists of the persons assessed, and the assessment made on each person within one month from the date of the introduction of the Act; and it was when these lists began to come in that I found some of the chief difficulties I have encountered in working the Act.

7. In almost every village I found that the punchayets have only imposed merely nominal rates on themselves and their friends, and had tried to make the chief burden of the tax fall on the labouring population and the numerous class of low-caste ryots who already pay rents double or treble what the better classes do, and only hold land enough to give them a bare subsistence.

8. I accordingly issued strict orders to the following effect, which I had widely circulated throughout the sudder sub-division and Bettiah.

No tax was to be imposed on labourers, or on any ryots who did not cultivate more than three beeghas of land, or upon batayadars who held less than six beeghas. A ryot who cultivated land paying rent in money, and who also held bataya land, was not to be assessed unless he held six beeghas in all.

All merchants, shop-keepers, traders, and money-lenders were to be assessed.

9. These rules produced a large number of appeals, viz. 124, against the decision of the punchayets; but I have now, I think, got all the lists fully revised and the assessments equitably distributed.

10. There has been little or no difficulty found in realizing assessments; in some instances the chowkeedars have complained of not being paid, but the summoning of the punchayets has always resulted in the immediate liquidation of the arrears.

11. The annexed statement will give full information as to the changes introduced by the Act into each thana. From this, it will appear that the average increase per village in each thana of the sudder sub-division is as follows:—

	Rs.		Rs.
Motiharee	22·9	Gobindgunge	12·0
Dhacca	19·7	Adapore	7·8
Modhubon	13·0	Kessuria	[illegible]

12. In Motiharee and Dhacca the large increase is owing to the great size of many of the villages, such as Scogawn, Chupra Babas, Muth Lahiur, Nemoom Kumlars, Hurra Pukuria, Patowia, and others, which contain large numbers of flourishing tolas, with many wealthy inhabitants, and doing a considerable trade. It has been found necessary to only slightly reduce the number of chowkeedars in these villages, and consequently the charges have been considerably increased.

13. In Kessuria, on the other hand, though the number of villages is nearly as large as Dhacca, yet the increase is much less, as the Kessuria villages are much smaller in area, and, with the exception of Kessuria and Mehsi, of less commercial importance than many of those in Dhacca; and as each little village had its chowkeedar, it has been found possible to reduce their numbers to a much greater extent than in the thanas where the villages were larger.

14. In the Adapore thana the small increase is chiefly caused by the high pay given to the chowkeedars under the old system, which amounted to an average of Rs. 20·4 per man against Rs. 17·8 in Kessuria, the highest average in the other thanas. The reason of this is that the Adapore thana contains a large number of Ahirs having large herds of cattle. Many of these are professional thieves, having depôts within the Nepal frontier, and supplementing their honest gains by the profits of cattle-stealing. As the chowkeedars were always chosen from this class, their pay was radically a species of black-mail, supplemented by further profits arising from payments for the recovery of cattle made by those who had lost them. I trust that by degrees we may put a stop to this system, as I have now got a large number of the thieves of this part of the country in prison; but it will be some time before the organized bands, having their head-quarters at Pursowna, Siswa, Joymungulpore, Gurmowsha, Kutkenwa, Kedurkut, and Dostia in this thana, are finally rooted out.

15. Under the old system the greater part of the chowkeedar's profits arose from thefts committed; no one thought it worth while to pay him anything till they lost property; and when they did, as the chowkeedar was in most villages the head of or medium of communication with the thieves, a large theft of cattle, or a good burglary, was a regular harvest to him.

He could make his own terms with both parties—with the loser for rewards for recovering the property, and with the thieves for abstaining from denouncing them—and between the two he generally made a very good thing of it. It was no use turning him out, as, if he was a man with the requisite ability and influences, he would only baffle his successor if chosen from the honest classes, and pursue the same system as before in his private capacity, or else, as was most generally the case, some relative of his would be appointed, and things would go on exactly as before. No complaints were made, for the losers were afraid that complaints would only bring additional losses, and the result was that thieves flourished, and were, by force of custom, respected.

16. Under the new system it will require special watchfulness to prevent the former state of things being perpetrated; but I believe that, if the requisite can be taken, the certainty of the pay now given will make many who would under the old system have sided with the thieves really efficient guardians of property, as they will consider their legal gains worth more than the uncertain profits divided with the professional bad characters, while those whose property has been stolen will be more ready to denounce their chowkeedars than they were before. In order to ensure the requisite supervision, I have issued to the District Superintendent of Police, and to the sub-divisional officer of Bettiah, the annexed circular for communication to their subordinates.

17. The registers ordered in the circular have been prepared and will be carefully inspected by me from time to time.

18. In Bettiah, as the return will show, it has been found necessary to exempt a large number of villages from the Act, specially in the north of the sub-division the villages were quite too small to support a chowkeedar, and too distant from one another to be formed into unions, and it is only in the more populous parts of the sub-division, and in the larger villages, that this Act has been effectually introduced.

19. The greater part of the villages in Bettiah were settled by Mr. Samuells, and only 36 having been left for Mr. Campbell. The same system as I have described above for the the Sudder sub-division was pursued there.

20. I have heard no complaints of the Act, but I shall be better able to judge of its working next year; but from what I have seen hitherto, I consider it likely to effect a very considerable improvement, and though the system of self-government which it introduces is attended with difficulties, I believe that with careful supervision these can be overcome, and the system prove not only beneficial, but popular, owing to the greater number of villages in this district being held by large landowners, and consequently not so accustomed to the constant interference of the zemindars as those in districts where property is minutely sub-divided: the people are already more used to self-government than elsewhere, and more likely to work a system such as that sketched in the Act under report than the people in other districts.

21. In conclusion, I have to apologize for the delay in submitting this report, which has been caused partly by the late arrival of the report from Bettiah, and partly for my wish to test in some degree the working of the system before writing about its results.

CIRCULAR.

Now that the Chowkeedaree Act has been introduced into the district, and punchayets and chowkeedars have been appointed under the Act, it must not be forgotten that only a small portion, and perhaps the least laborious portion, of the work has been accomplished.

2. The new arrangements under the Act involve a great change in the habits of the people, who will now, instead of paying merely a quota of grain to the maintenance of the chowkeedars, have to pay a yearly sum in money; and though this change may and will be of small importance to the wealthy classes, it will, unless its working be carefully watched, be a cause of considerable hardship to the poorer members of the community.

3. In order to avoid any undue pressure upon the poorer classes, it must be at once laid down as a rule that no ryot, cultivating less than three beeghas of land, will pay any tax at all, and that this rule will apply equally to all batayadars and daily labourers, except in the case of batayadars who have a bataya cultivation of six beeghas or upwards. Any ryot, however, who cultivates less than three beeghas of land will be liable, if he also has bataya cultivation to the extent of four beeghas, and any one who is liable to pay as a ryot or batayadar will be liable to be assessed according to his whole income, and his ryotee holding if under three beeghas, or his bataya holding if under four beeghas, will not be exempt in consequence of the smallness of his holdings.

4. All merchants, shop-keepers, ticcadars, and money-lenders will be liable to contribute to the salary of the chowkeedars, even though they hold no land in the village; their contribution to be estimated according to their income as determined by the punchayet.

5. The great object of the Act, which contemplates the substitution of a well-paid and responsible body of policemen for the former body of half thieves and half imbecile, remains still to be considered. In appointing the chowkeedars under the Act, it is to be hoped that a good deal has been done towards improving the efficiency of the force, as those chowkeedars, who by the consent of the members of the punchayets have been determined to be the least efficient, have been turned out, and only those whose efficiency has been unanimously assented to have been retained; but even in this direction I believe a good deal remains still to be done, and it will require some years' careful watching and weeding of the force before it can be considered to be one containing the best local detective ability, and those men who are best fitted to watch over the property of the whole body. It will be necessary for the Police Inspectors when going their rounds to make careful inquiries in the principal villages, and in those where crimes have been reported, as to the efficiency of the chowkeedars, and all cases where neglect or inefficiency seem to have been proved must be reported at once.

6. Whenever any crime requiring police inquiry is committed in any village, the officer inquiring into the case must always make special inquiry as to the conduct of the chowkeedar and embody the results of the inquiry in his report on the case. A register for each thana will be kept at head-quarters in English with the following headings:—

1. Name of villages, or, where there is a union, of villages forming the union.
2. Names of punchayets.
3. Names of chowkeedars as per register prepared.

7. The register for each thana will be translated into the vernacular and forwarded from head-quarters to the thana, where all necessary particulars will be entered as each case occurs, and on receipt of the thana reports the columns of the English register will also be filled up. The English register now prepared will, it is hoped, last for three years, at the end of which time they must be re-written and carefully revised.

In every case in which the officer inquiring into the case reports against the conduct of the chowkeedar, an extract from the register showing the number of cases under each heading which have occurred in the last year within the jurisdiction of the chowkeedar with the number detected and undetected will be submitted to the Magistrate, as also an extract from the column of remarks as to the character of the chowkeedar; but this detailed information need not be sent, unless the Magistrate is absent from head-quarters; while he is present in the station, it will be sufficient if the register be sent.

8. The District Superintendent of Police should inspect the chowkeedaree register at head-quarters at intervals, and satisfy himself that the columns are regularly filled up in accordance with the police reports, and in his inspection of the thanas he should always take the English thana register with him and compare it with the vernacular thana register, so as to satisfy himself that the two agree. The pay of the chowkeedars throughout the district is fixed, and in no case rises above Rs. 3 a month; and it has been found necessary to fix this limit, as a chowkeedar who gets less cannot be expected, when his services are continuously wanted, to devote his whole time to his work, nor can more be given even to those who are generally hard-worked, owing to the poverty of the greater portion of the people, and the absence of any large trading or moneyed class who have property to defend and means to pay those who guard it. It seems to me that the best means of rectifying these inequalities and of rewarding men who do good work according to their deserts will be found in a system of rewards to be given to those chowkeedars who show energy and intelligence in their work. I would therefore give to all chowkeedars, within whose jurisdiction ten or more convicted cases have occurred within the six months, a certain reward proportioned to their share in the detection of the several crimes. The amount of reward to be given to each chowkeedar will be determined by the amount of the grant for rewards allotted to each thana, and the total Government reward will be distributed among the different thanas in proportion to the amount of crime occurring in each. Thus, for instance, the thanas of Dhacca, Kessuria, and Bettiah are probably those where crime is most frequent, and to these in all probability more than half the Government rewards will be allotted. These rewards to chowkeedars for general good conduct must not, however, be held to prevent them from receiving special rewards for specially good service, and from 5 to 10 per cent. of the grant ought to be held in reserve for such rewards when they may be deserved.

9. Before making the allotment for each thana, it is necessary to determine what are the relative proportion of crime, and I must therefore request the District Superintendent of Police to be good enough to prepare and submit to me a report showing for each thana the percentage of crime cognizable by the police, assuming the total amount of crime as 100.

10. Besides giving rewards for especially good conduct, it will also be necessary to see that the chowkeedars receive their pay regularly, and I must therefore request Police Inspectors, at their periodical inspections of the thanas under their charge, to inquire from the chowkeedars whether they have been paid up to date or not, and all cases of complaint should be at once inquired into and reported. The conduct of these cases will require tact, as it will be necessary to guard against false complaints on the part of chowkeedars, as well as against remissness on the part of the punchayets; and the Inspector should always be careful to avoid harassing the latter, and should, whenever possible, arrange for the payment of the chowkeedar without any further intervention of authority. It is only in the last extremity that the law should be called in to force the punchayets to do their duty.

11. The District Superintendent of Police is also requested to make careful enquiries on this point at his inspection, and to report all cases of negligence on the part of the Inspectors in the performance of their duty. It should be remembered by all members of the police force that the chowkeedars by their local knowledge and experience can give them more efficient aid in the performance of their duties than they can obtain from any other quarter, and that, unless they are carefully looked after, their good services acknowledged and rewarded, and their negligence punished, their powers of detection will be almost inevitably baffled. They must therefore recollect that a careful supervision of the chowkeedars in their respective jurisdictions will be one of the most important duties of Sub-Inspectors and Inspectors, and that it is by the performance of these duties that their qualities will be tested and their promotion accelerated or retarded.

J. F. HEWITT,
Magistrate.

PEARL FISHERY.

Notice is hereby given that a Pearl Fishery will take place at Silavatturai, in the Island of Ceylon, on or about the 5th of March 1877, and that the banks to be fished are the South-Eastern Cheval and the Modregam, the former estimated to contain oysters sufficient to employ fifty boats for fifteen days, with average loads of 4,000 oysters each per day, and the latter fifty boats for one day.

It is therefore recommended that such boat-owners and divers as may wish to be employed at the said fishery should be at Silavatturai on or before the 20th February next, and it is notified that the first day's fishery will take place on or about the 5th of March, weather permitting.

The fishery will be conducted on account of Government, and the oysters put up to sale in such lots as may be deemed expedient.

The arrangements of the fishery will be the same as have been usual on similar occasions.

All payments to be made in ready money in Ceylon currency.

Drafts on the banks in Colombo, or bills on the Agents of this Government in India, at ten days' sight, will be taken on letters of credit being produced to warrant the drawing of such drafts or bills.

For the convenience of purchasers, the Treasurer at Colombo and the different Government Agents of provinces will be authorised to receive cash deposits from parties intending to become purchasers, and receipts of these officers will be taken in payment of any sums due on account of the fishery.

No deposit will be received for a less sum than five hundred rupees.

By His Excellency's Command,

COLONIAL SECY.'S OFFICE, COLOMBO,
30th November 1876.

Colonial Secretary.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 16th December 1876.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Divn. 1	Burdwan, Dec 18,* 76	Nil	The amun paddy is being cut. The cold-weather crops—pulses, barley, mustard, and other oil-seeds—are doing well. The price of rice is still rising, owing to great demand for exportation. Fever and some cholera cases reported.
2	Bankoora, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Very cold. The rice crop is being harvested. The rubbee crops are doing well.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The prospects of the crops continue excellent. The reaping of the amun rice is progressing.
4	Midnapore, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and very cold. The cold-weather crops have been sown over a very large area, but in many places the growth is disappointing, as the soil was too moist, owing to the prolonged and heavy rain in October. Nevertheless there will be an average rubbee yield.
5	Hooghly, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and bright. The amun rice is being reaped all over the district. Mustard, kalai, peas, and musari, are in flower. Potatoes are being gathered in places Indigo lands are being ploughed up. General health is fair.
	Howrah, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Rather very cold in the morning. State and prospects of the crops are very good.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn.
18	Dacca, Dec. 18,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are favorable.
19	Furreedpore, „ 17, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cold. State and prospects of the crops are good. Much of the rice crop has been reaped. Mustard, radishes, tobacco, &c., are doing well. There are much cholera and fever in the district. The former prevails in the low-lying thanas, and the latter in the comparatively higher land thanas.
20	Backergunge, „ 14, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The cutting of the Agrahan crop is now general. The Poos crop has, it is feared, been more severely damaged in the plains in the interior of the district than was anticipated before. Cholera is still very prevalent.
21	Mymensingh, „ 15, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cold. New rice is being brought to market in large quantities. Cold-weather crops are promising.
22	Tipperah, „ 15, „	Nil	Weather—Cold. State and prospects of the crops are good. The aman dhan is being cut in several places.
Chittagong Divn.
23	Chittagong, „ 15, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and seasonable. The harvesting of paddy continues. Cholera still prevails at Anwara, Banskhali, Fatickchari, Patea, Roojan, Kumeria, Chittagong town, Sitakoond, and Jaldi. Small-pox reported from the town.
24	Noakholly, „ 14, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The harvest in the north of the district will be very fair. The paddy left in the islands is being reaped. Cholera is still very bad in the inundated tracts, but appears to be abating throughout the district.
25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 12, „	Nil	Weather—Very cold; foggy in the morning. Cotton is already gathered; mustard is sown, and in some places the early sown plants have flowered.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 13, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are good.
BEHAR.
Patna Divn.
26	Patna, Dec. 18,* '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Prospects of the rubbee crops are favorable. Health of the district is good.
27	Gya, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and cool. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade was 77°. State and prospects of the crops are good. The kharef harvest is going on briskly, and the rubbee crops are doing well. Public health is good.
28	Shahabad, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. The aghani crop is still being reaped, and the prospects of the rubbee crops continue promising.
29	Durbhunga, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Fine. The cutting of dhan is nearly completed. The prospects of the rubbee crops are satisfactory. Tobacco and poppy in the south of the district are promising.
30	Mozufferpore, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and cold. Prospects of the crops on all sides are very good. The harvesting of dhan is progressing. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Public health is good.
31	Saran, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cold. Wind blowing from the west. The aghani harvest is still going on. The rubbee crops are coming on well, and the prospect is generally very favorable. The manufacture of sugarcane is in progress. Indigo fields are being prepared for the next year's sowings. Prices are favorable. General health is good.
32	Chumparun	.....	Return not recieved.
Bhagulpore Divn.
33	Monghyr, Dec. 16, '76	Nil	Weather—Fair. Prospects of the crops continue good.
34	Bhagulpore, „ 18,* „	Nil	The winter rice is giving an excellent outturn, and is very cheap in the interior. Oil-seeds have been extensively sown this year, and the mustard promises an abundant yield. Everything is satisfactory, and general health is very good.
35	Purneah, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and clear. The aghani or late rice is being reaped, and is above the average. The rubbee cultivation is progressing.
36	Sonthal Pergha.	.....	Return not received.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn.
37	Cuttack, Dec. 16, '76	Nil	Weather—Fine. The late rice is being reaped, with good outturn. The winter crops are rather backward for want of rain.
38	Pooree, „ 14, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The sarad paddy is now being harvested. The rainy season cotton is also being gathered. The dalua paddy is progressing well, and the rubbee promises a fair outturn. There is clamour both in town and country on account of the dearness of rice caused by exportation.
39	Balasore, „ 15, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. Harvesting and exportation of rice are being briskly carried on. A few cases of cholera reported.

* Telegrams of the 18th December, received on the same day, show rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No	District and date and return.	Rainfall, at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 500 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1875-76, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1877, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 48,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for "the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His "Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests "so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, "and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall "have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of "Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government "by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three "hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to "be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the "intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Monghyr, will be put up to sale at the Monghyr Collectorate on Friday, the 12th January 1877, corresponding with 13th Magh 1284 F.S.

The purchasers of this estate will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

(1) The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, with the revenue fixed upon the estate, in perpetuity.

(2) The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and the purchaser to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

(3) If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

(4) If the amount of purchase money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

POSTAL NOTICES.

Reduction of Passenger Fares on the Darjeeling Line.

IT has been determined further to reduce the fares upon this line. On and after the 1st December therefore the rates charged will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
For an express or special carriage ...	60	0	0
One inside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	30	0	0
One outside seat in the ordinary carriage ...	10	0	0

The above charges are for the entire journey from Karagola to Silligori or vice versâ.

The mileage charge will be reduced in proportion, i.e. an express carriage will be charged for at the rate of 8 annas a mile, an inside seat in an ordinary, 4 annas a mile, and a seat on the mail-cart 2 annas.

As it has been reported that it was the intention of Government to close this line at once, it is hereby notified that if the monthly returns show that it is extensively used by the public, it will be kept running until the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

T. W. GRIBBLE, Offg. Post-Master-Genl, Bengal.

Notice.

A BULLOCK train package, originally despatched from Landour to the address of M. Giovannie, Esq., Calcutta, having been refused by the consignee, it is hereby notified that if after the expiration of three months from the date of this advertisement the said package is not removed from the Calcutta bullock train godown, it will be sold by public auction and the proceeds credited to Government.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN. 1	Burdwan, Dec 25,* 76	Nil	The aman harvest is nearly finished. Sugarcane and rubbee crops are doing well. Rice is still being exported in large quantities. Public health is fair.
2	Bankoora, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonably cold. The rice crop is nearly all harvested. The prospects of the rubbee crops continue favorable.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The late rice is nearly all cut, and the sowing of the winter crop is in progress.
4	Midnapore, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and seasonable. Prospects of the crops continue fair and unchanged. Prices rose very rapidly during the week and then partially declined.
5	Hooghly, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and bright. About two-thirds of the aman crop have been harvested. The spring crops on the ground are doing well. General health is middling.
	Howrah, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—Cold and fair. The state and prospects of the crops continue to be excellent.

* Telegram of the 25th December shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.—(Contd.)
	Central Districts.
Presidency Divn. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Dec. 25, *'76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The amun harvest is progressing, and the cold-weather crops are doing well. Cholera continues to be reported from some parts of the district.
Presidency Divn. 7	Nuddea, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and seasonable; occasionally cloudy. The late rice is turning out very well, and all cold-weather crops except til and chillies are very promising.
Presidency Divn. 8	Jessore, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Clear, dry, and cool. The amun rice continues to be gathered. The prospects of other crops are generally good.
Presidency Divn. 9	Moorshedabad, „ 24, „	Nil	Weather—Cold. The cutting of amun is not yet completed Kalai (vetch) is being gathered at some places. The rubbee crops promise well. Prices are rising owing to demand for exportation. All the railway stations are blocked with grain, for which no carriage is available.
Rajshahye Divn. 10	Dinagepore, Dec. 22, '76	Nil	Weather—Cold; foggy mornings. The state and prospects of the crops continue to be favorable.
Rajshahye Divn. 11	Maldah, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Fair, cool, and very agreeable The crops are all excellent. A little improvement is apparent in cholera cases; 16 deaths against 18 last week.
Rajshahye Divn. 12	Rajshahye, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cool. The harvesting of dhan is going on rapidly with good results. The cold-weather crops are doing well. Cholera has much abated during the week but some cases are still reported from Tanore, Bagmara, Waleah, Nattore, Beauleah, and Bandalkhara.
Rajshahye Divn. 13	Rungpore, „ 22, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The prospects of the crops are good.
Rajshahye Divn. 14	Bogra, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Cold, with northerly wind. Nearly half the amun crop has been harvested. The rubbee crops are thriving well. Cholera is prevailing here and there
Rajshahye Divn. 15	Pubna, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cold. The harvesting of amun dhan is going on. State and prospects of sugarcane, turmeric, and arhar continue good. The rubbee crop seedlings are well on the ground. Cholera prevails.
Cooch Behar Divn. 16	Darjeeling, „ 22, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Cold and frosty on the hills. All the crops throughout the district exhibit good prospects.
Cooch Behar Divn. 17	Julpigoree, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The harvesting of Aymanti dhan is still going on, and the outturn is very good. The prospects of mustard and tobacco are excellent. Cattle disease is still prevalent in Fallacotta.
Cooch Behar Divn.	Cooch Behar, „ 20, „	Nil	Weather—Fair and cold. The Aymanti dhan, or late rice, is still being cut. The prospects of tobacco and mustard are not unfavourable now. Fever cases have not decreased.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn. 18	Dacca, Dec. 25,† '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are favorable.
Dacca Divn. 19	Furreedpore, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Fine, with a few clouds. State and prospects of the crops are good. Cholera and fever are still prevalent.
Dacca Divn. 20	Backergunge, „ 21, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cold. The rice harvest is in progress, and the outturn appears to be fairly good, but the cultivators find great difficulty in procuring labourers for cutting their crops, the usual immigration of reapers from other districts not having taken place this year, owing probably to reports of wholesale destruction of crops by the cyclone having been circulated. Cholera is still prevalent in several thanas.
Dacca Divn. 21	Mymensingh, „ 22, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Nearly all the amun, or late rice, has been harvested, and the yield is an exceptionally good one. The cold-weather crops are promising.
Dacca Divn. 22	Tipperah, „ 22, „	Nil	Weather—Fine. There was a slight threatening of rain, which passed off. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
Chittagong Divn. 23	Chittagong, „ 21, „	Nil	Weather—Cool. The harvesting of amun crop progresses. Caterpillars are reported to have appeared in some places. Cholera continues to be reported from all parts of the district.
Chittagong Divn. 24	Noakholly, „ 21, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The amun crops are being reaped. These crops in the inundated tracts have suffered much from the late disastrous cyclone and flood. Cholera still prevails, especially in the inundated tracts.
Chittagong Divn. 25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 19, „	Nil	Weather—Very cold at night throughout the week; foggy every day from 3 to 8 A.M. Mustard is in flower. The plants are thriving well. Tobacco is now being transplanted; prospects are good.
Chittagong Divn.	Hill Tipperah, „ 20, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The prospects of the crops are good. There are some cases of cholera at various places, but there is no epidemic.

* Report of the 25th December shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding † Telegram of the 25th December shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

Patna Divn.	26	Patna	.....	Telegram not received.
	27	Gya, Dec. 23, '76	Nil	Weather—Fair and cool. The highest reading of the thermometer in the shade was 71·2°. The khurreef harvest is going on briskly, and the rubbee promises well. Public health is good.
	28	Shahabad, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Cool and seasonable. The paddy crop is still being reaped, and the prospects of the rubbee crops continue promising.
	29	Durbhunga, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Fine. The harvesting of dhan is nearly completed. The prospects of the rubbee crops are good. General health is good.
	30	Muzufferpore, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable and cold. Prospects of the crops on all sides continue very good. The harvesting of rice is still in progress. Public health is good.
	31	Sarun, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Clear and cold. Wind blowing from the west. The aghani, or late rice, is still being reaped. The rubbee crops are all coming on well, and the prospect is generally very favorable throughout the district. General health is good.
	32	Chumparun, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable, nice and cool. The late rice is nearly all harvested, and the outturn is estimated at full crop. The prospects of the rubbee crops are excellent.
Bhagulpore Divn.	33	Monghyr, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Fair. The prospects of the crops continue good.
	34	Bhagulpore, „ 26,* „	Nil	The aghani harvest is nearly over. The prospects of the rubbee crops are excellent. General health is very good.
	35	Purneah, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The harvest is as good as was expected. The mustard crop is fair, and the rubbee crops are coming on well.
	36	Sonthal Pergha. „ 24, „	Nil	Weather—Cold and dry. State and prospects of the crops are excellent.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn.	37	Cuttack	.....	Return not received.
	38	Pooree, Dec. 21, '76	Nil	Weather—Fair The sarud paddy is being harvested, and the dalua paddy is progressing well. The rubbee promises a fair outturn. The exportation of rice is on the increase, and consequently the poorer classes are complaining.
	39	Balasore, „ 22, „	Nil	Weather—Fine and cool. The harvesting and exportation of rice are going on briskly. A little small-pox and cholera are prevalent about Jelasore.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
		South-West Frontier Agency
	40	Hazareebagh, Dec. 23, '76	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. Dhan is all harvested. General state of the crops is satisfactory.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather—Bright and cold Prospects of the rubbee crops continue good. General health of the district is good.
	42	Singbhoom, „ 22, „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are favorable. General health is good.
	43	Manbhoom, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—Seasonable. The cutting of dhan is nearly completed. Owing to the transportation of rice by the merchants towards Raneegunge and other places, the price is rapidly rising. The rubbee crops are good.

* Telegram of the 26th December shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 20 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.
